U.S. Steel Boosts Prices $7.50 Ton After Pay Raised Settlement Made 12 Hours After 600,000 Walk Out

Snake Collector Struck by Rattler At Severn Falls

PITTSBURGH (AP)—U.S. Steel Corp., which granted an average 15-cent-an-hour wage boost to its employees to break the back of a country-wide steel strike, is boosting prices about $7.50 a ton.

Big Steel's action came shortly after it ended the shortest walk-out in the industry's history in a compromise agreement with the United Steelworkers (CIO).

Within a few hours after the 12-hour strike ended Friday, all of the industry's "big six" had followed the leader in agreeing to the pay boost. They are Bethlehem Steel Corp., Republic, Jones and Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, and Inland Steel.

The companies indicated they, too, will follow Big Steel in marking up prices.

Clifford F. Hood, U.S. Steel president, said the 38 cent price tag on a ton of basic carbon steel — wasn't entirely the result of the wage increase. Other factors were increased taxes and new construction.

Case Is Solved, Blonde's Blood Came From Fish

WHITBY (CP)—Police today said they have cracked the "mystery of the vanishing blonde." A whodunit story built up by reports of a woman slugged and abducted outside a hotel here.

A blood-stained car occupied only by a "nervous" driver seen at a nearby gas station was also included.

Police said they found the main characters were an angry husband and a successful fisherman. They said the hotel fracas was only a family squabble between a married couple and the blood seen by a service station operator on the back seat of a car was only fish blood.

The car which drove into the gas station to have lights fixed bore Ohio licence plates and was reported similar to that into which the wife husband earlier took his blonde wife.

Police were told Thursday that a girl was buried unconscious in the car and driven away. Departing beverage room patrons told Whitby police the "abduction" occurred after a fight in front of the hotel.

The fight apparently took place after the woman took a visiting swipe at the cap of a visiting baseball player.

COMMONS SPEEDS WARM HOLIDAY ON PUBLIC WORKS

Planned Car Ferry Service Discussed

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons spent a hot Dominion Day on a subject dear to every member's heart—public works.

Discussion of the works department's estimates is the time for members to ask for post offices, wharves and other projects in their ridings and to complain about what they think has been done wrong.

In the 90-degree heat, the House was on the lookout for something light and George Nowlan (PC)—Digby Annapolis Kings provided it—as far as the opposition was concerned, anyway.

Mr. Nowlan regaled the Commons with his version of the events surrounding the planned car ferry service between North Sydney, N.S., and Port aux Basques, Nfld. He termed the whole affair a fiasco.

CAN'T USE HARBOR

The $11,000,000 ferry William Carson has been built to ply between the two ports but it will have to use another Newfoundland harbor, at least for a time, because it can't get into Port aux Basques safely.

Mr. Nowlan said explorer John Cabot had no trouble finding a safe anchorage there. But more than 400 years later federal engineers could not dock a ferry safely.

The trouble, he went on, was that the engineers blasted away natural breakwaters inside the harbor entrance to provide a better channel, only to find that the sea rushed in to make ferry dockings unsafe. The government now would have to replace those blasted out at a cost of millions of dollars.

Works Minister Winters said that William Carson is bigger than any ship that has used Port aux Basques harbor.

He added that the harbor always has been exposed and nothing done by federal engineers has made the situation worse.

GRIMY DETAILS

At the House opening, members marked Canada's 88th birthday by singing O Canada — in French English at the same time — and God Save the Queen.

Later, during the hour set aside for private bills, Erhart Regier (CCF—Burnaby-Coquitlam) warned that his party will read into the Commons "grimy details" of divorce case evidence unless something is done about ridding Parliament of divorce bills.

Evidence in such cases usually is given at closed hearings of the Senate divorce committee. After the bills are passed by the Senate they are sent to the Commons — along with a verbatim report of the evidence — for approval.

Thursday, the House spent the day on defence department estimates.

CCF leader Coldwell said the government, by acceding to Quebec's request that armed forces drivers have provincial licences, has retreated from the stand that it cannot be taxed by the provinces.

He said there is a dangerous precedent in the fact that, starting Dominion Day, the defence department would pay Quebec $2.50 for each — the civilian licence fee — for certificates showing the province has approved the fitness of service drivers. He suggested the party would be referred to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Firemen Seek Cause of Fire In Kingston

KINGSTON (CP)—Firemen probed through the badly-damaged three-story office building in downtown Kingston Friday seeking the cause of a fire which caused $100,000 damage.

Six firemen overcome by smoke required hospital treatment.

Four stores and seven offices were damaged and eight persons were left homeless.

Firemen fought the blaze for more than 18 hours. They said it was one of the longest in Kingston's history. It broke out Thursday at 6 p.m.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Veteran Broadway actress Isabel Bonner died Friday night in the midst of a scene on the stage of the Carthage Circle Theatre.

She was playing a hospital scene with male lead Dan Clark when she suddenly fell forward on the bed where Clark

Canada's 88th Birthday Celebrated Even in Moscow

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Celebration of Canada's 88th birthday extended far beyond her borders; to Germany and Norway and even to Russia.

A dozen Russian leaders, including former premier Georgi Malenkov, Friday marked the anniversary of Confederation by raising glasses in a toast at Moscow with Canadian Ambassador John Watkins.

In the street outside, a crowd of 200 Russians cheered departing guests.

In Canada, highways were crowded from early morning as thousands of holiday trippers drove to cottages, resorts and hotels.

But for the House of Commons it was work as usual. Lee, Prime Minister St. Laurent, members of the Commons opened Friday's session with O Canada and God Save the Queen.

At noon, there was a 21-gun salute from atop Parliament Hill in Ottawa. At noon in Dortmund a similar salute was sounded.

The cruiser Ontario moved into Oslo harbor and its crew stepped ashore as Dominion Day guests of Chester Rønning, Canadian ambassador to Norway.

Newfoundland held a Memorial Day for its dead. A parade of floats moved through a cheering crowd of 25,000 in flag-draped Toronto and, in Quebec City, wreaths were laid marking the 34th anniversary of the city's founding.

Six thousand celebrants sat down to a mammoth chicken barbecue at Truro, N.S., and another big chicken barbecue made the day at Moncton, N.B. There was a skeet shoot at Yarmouth, N.S., and a track and field at Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Amateur golfers in western Canada included highland games in Manitoba and Edmonton and the $10,000-added Canadian Derby, richest stake race in western Canada, at Regina, Sask.

Amateur golf tournament was held at Red Deer.

Social Credit Has 35 Seats With Dozen Still in Doubt

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta's Social Credit government will face in the new legislature the second strongest opposition since it was first voted into office 20 years ago.

Social Credit had 35 of the 61 seats in the legislature today when the complicated vote system still clouded the outcome of another 12 seats. Final result of Wednesday's election won't be known until next Wednesday at the earliest.

The Liberal party, out of office in Alberta since 1921, will form the official opposition with the largest representation it has had since the 1935 Social Credit sweep.

The last tabulation showed 14 opposition members elected. Liberals lead with nine — more than double the strength they had in the last election.

Progressive Conservatives, one Liberal-Progressive Conservative, one Coalitionist and one Independent.

Social Credit was leading in six constituencies, Liberals in two, Progressive Conservative in one, CCF in two and an Independent Social Credit is none.

House standing at dissolution: Social Credit 49; Liberal 4; Progressive Conservative 3; CCF 2; Independent Social Credit 1; vacant 2, total—61.

Use of the transferable vote system delayed decision in 12 single-member ridings. Under the system, two or more counts are necessary if the leading candidate does not have a majority over the combined vote of his opponents on the first count. Second choices on the trailing candidate ballots are distributed to others in the race until there is a majority.

The multi-seat constituencies of Edmonton and Calgary were proportional representation of voting. It took 47 hours and 26 counts to elect all seven Edmonton members and 26 hours and 21 counts to elect six Calgary members.

CCF leader Elmer E. Roper, a member of the legislature for 13 years, was defeated. His seat was won by a Liberal.

Frederic E. Manning, Liberal leader J. Harper Prowse and J. Percy Page, Progressive Conservative leader in the last House, were re-elected.

The fate of two cabinet ministers was still not decided. Provincial Secretary-Treasurer C. E. Gerhardt in Acadia-Coronation but Attorney-General Lucien Maynard in St. Albert. Other cabinet ministers were returned with the exception of Lands and Forests Minister Ivan Casey, who was defeated.

Two-Roomed Stockdale School Burns, With Loss of $25,000

Fire of undetermined origin Thursday afternoon destroyed the two-room brick schoolhouse at Stockdale with loss estimated at approximately $25,000. The school accommodated 70 pupils.

The blaze is believed to have started in the basement of the school and although fire departments from both Trenton and Frankford responded, firemen were unable to check the blaze. Difficulty in obtaining water for their pumps hampered firemen's efforts.

Firemen had to run hose over 1,000 feet to a creek to obtain water.

No other buildings were endangered by the fire although the roof of one house was wetted down to prevent the possibility of sparks catching.

New desks for the school were purchased only last March, while an old burning in the furnace was installed two years ago.

The building was partially covered by insurance but it is estimated it would cost close to $70,000 to replace the two-room school.

When the boat capsized all four were flung into the water. Only one managed to remain on the surface, clinging to the side of the capsized boat. It is believed they splashed about in the cold water for about 40 minutes. A civilian, noticing the boat, went to their

B.C. Crew Loses To Pennsylvania In Henley Final

Russia's Conquerors Beaten By Mere Third of Length

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (CP)—The University of Pennsylvania eight defeated University of British Columbia by a third of a length today to win the Grand Challenge cup, major trophy of the Royal Henley regatta.

The winning time for the one-mile 550-yard course was six minutes, 56 seconds.

The Canadians, who Friday upset the favored Russians in the semi-finals, were bidding to bring home a 550-yard course for the first time.

The husky Vancouver crew made a terrific spurt in the last hundred yards but Pennsylvania rose to the occasion and clung doggedly to its slight lead.

The boats were never more than a few feet apart but from start to finish the Pennsylvanians were slightly in front.

4 Landlubbers Start Raft Trip Across Atlantic

MONTREAL (CP)—Four young landlubbers on a raft are moving at a turtle pace toward the open Atlantic in an adventure they hope will bring fame and money.

Inspired by an ancient Indian legend, they aim to cross the treacherous north Atlantic on the flimsy raft L'Egare (The Lost One), gambling on prevailing westerly winds and the Gulf stream they have yet to reach.

The dream of skipper Henri Beaudou, 28, is similar in some respects to that of Thor Heyerdahl and his crew, who sailed the famed raft Kon-Tiki across the South Pacific in 1947. Beaudou believes at least one American Indian once reached Europe in a canoe.

Today, the Lost One was near the mouth of the St. Lawrence river, which opens into the Gulf of St. Lawrence some 1,000 miles from Montreal, where the voyage began June 11.

Built of cedar logs lashed together by hemp ropes, the 16-by-4-foot raft depends mostly on byes from tug boats to make way downstream.

Beaudou and two of his crew are French immigrants to Canada and have no sea experience. The fourth, Paul Lapointe, 23, Quebec City salesman, once worked for a brief period on a Canadian government fisheries research vessel.

Francis Vanek, 28, draftsman, came to Montreal in 1953 from Lille, France, and Bernard Saurieu, 24, salesman, arrived in Canada in 1953 from France.

Beaudou is the only married man of the quartet and has a small daughter, Chantal. His Parisian wife Jeanne, a pretty, red-haired girl who speaks only French, wept bitterly when her husband left but later insisted she feels confident he will be safe.

She tearfully denied that the sobbed as the raft was leaving: "Ils vont tous mourir—they'll all die."

Transport, Swerving to Miss Car, Hits House, Rolls Over

Ten persons, including three children, were suddenly jarred from their sleep early Friday morning when a highway transport went out of control on West Bridge Street as it swerved to miss a car and crashed into the Ed. Kellaway house on Everett St. carrying away the verandah.

The big Direct Motors transport, laden with 17 tons of mixed freight, rolled onto its side as it crashed into the house and the roof of the demolished verandah came down on top of the truck.

Driver of the transport, Chas. Germain, of Montreal, escaped injury, although he was trapped in his cab by the verandah roof. Rescuers had to smash the windshield of the cab to get him out.

Police said the accident occurred as the transport approached the Everett Street intersection at 7 p.m.

Fire Destroys Two-Roomed Farm Cottage

The hot sun shining on a number of bottles on a back stoop was suggested as the possible cause of a blaze which Friday afternoon completely destroyed a two-roomed farm cottage on the Foxboro-Belleville highway, a mile south of Foxboro.

The cottage was sold and vacated last week by Wayne DeMille and his family who are now residing at 285 Charles Street in Belleville. Loss is estimated at $2,000.

A Belleville motorist on his way to Oak Lake to have a swim, spotted the fire about four o'clock. At the time the blaze was burning on the back stoop and starting to race up the side of the building. The motorist drove to the nearest phone and turned in the alarm.

Belleville firemen raced to the scene with one truck but the initial tank of water was insufficient to bring the fire under control and within minutes the small cottage was beyond saving. Firemen were unable to get near the well at the rear of the property to pump water to fight the blaze.

Tommy Pedder Equals Record In Bay Swim

Tommy Pedder, a 42-year-old former weight lifting champion of this city, yesterday equalled his own record in his annual Bay of Quinte swim.

Tommy, a veteran swimmer of many marathons, left the Trenton dock on the holiday morning at exactly 8:45, heading for Belleville's government dock. His official time was clocked at seven hours and 15 seconds by the five Buova stop watches. The distance in this swim was slightly farther than that of his other Trenton-to-Belleville swims, but his average time worked out to approximately the same.

The next goal in sight for the muscular swimmer is the famed Atlantic City marathon swim some time this month. The distance measures 28 miles through ocean waters. When questioned on his condition this morning, Tommy said: "I feel in great shape and am not worried in the least about the Atlantic swim." He has already conquered these waters before but later on, most likely in September, Tommy hopes to pit his swimming powers against the still unbeatable Juan de Fuca Strait. "All I need is a sponsor to get me there," stated Pedder, "and I'll sure give it a try."

Pedder set a strong pace in yesterday's swim, travelling at about 38 strokes to the minute for part of the way and slowing down to 30 strokes to the minute. He was timed by George H. Carver, sponsor John Bodd, Jerry O'Connor, mayor for this event; Lloyd Doran and Jack Devine.

He spoke on the public relations program the union contemplates for the educating of the general public and union members.

He said that union speakers would address rallies in eastern Ontario centres this summer on the nature, purpose and methods of union activity and on government legislation as it pertains to labor.

He said the summer program would culminate at a labor school at Club White Sands on Lake Couchichewin, near Peterborough, August 26, 28 and 29. A. F. of L. and T.L.C. leaders, as well as economists and financiers would address the summer school conference.

For Parents Only Maple Leaf Is Our Emblem

By NANCY CLEAVER

"The Maple Leaf, our emblem dear,
The Maple Leaf Forever!"
God Save our Queen, and Heaven bless

"The Maple Leaf Forever!"
What better way can families mark July 1st than by singing Alexander Muir's "The Maple Leaf Forever" and by discussing how this distinctive symbol has become the badge of our country?

For a century and a half Canadians have looked on the maple leaf as their national emblem. It is a symbol which has inspired widespread enthusiasm among Canadians of both French and Anglo-Saxon extraction. Sir Arthur Mel-gren, at the Vimy Ridge Memorial on July 3, 1921, said of the soldiers buried there:

"Above them are being planted the maples of Canada, in the thought that her sons will rest better in the shade of the trees they knew so well in life."

Some of the early popularity of the maple may have arisen from its gift of syrup and sugar which the Indians in Eastern Canada made for themselves and used in barter with the first settlers. They in turn, learned how to produce this supplemented their meagre supply
"first crop of the season" with of high-priced imported sugar made from the cane plantations in the south.

WOVEN INTO HISTORY

This maple leaf symbol is woven into our early history. In the Quebec Gazette, in 1805, it was referred to as the emblem of the French Canadians. In 1834 it was adopted as the device of the St.
Jean Baptiste Society. Years later, on June 24th, Denis B. Viger in a speech before this organization, said in a speech in French in Montreal: "The maple is the king of our forest, it is the symbol of the Canadian people."

The maple tree is not only a beautiful shade tree but it plays a vital part in our economy. It is second only to the pine in the hardwood production of Eastern Canada. Maple is extensively used in a wide variety of manufacturing products—furniture, interior finish of houses, agricultural implements, boxes and crates, wooden-ware and fuel.

MISTAKEN MAPLES

There was a furor in Toronto some time ago when it was discovered that 145 red maple trees were red at all. (The word "red" they turned yellow or brown. By mistake, Norway maples had been planted. You likely know Canada's maple in her brilliant autumn colours, but in the summer can you tell which of the many maples is our national emblem?

In the excellent book, "Native Trees of Canada," issued by the Dominion Forest Service, a writer states that there are well over 100 species of maple in the northern hemisphere. Canada's own maple is one of our tallest hardwoods, the sugar or hard maple (Acer Saccharum marsh). The dark green leaf is paler on the under side and is five lobed with open, rounded notches at the bottom and large, irregular wavy teeth.

Because of its artistic design it is no wonder that it is a favorite pattern for brooches and other jewelry. A number of very distinguished guests to our shores from Great Britain have been given it. Queen Elizabeth II frequently wears the exquisite diamond maple leaf pin given to her as a souvenir of her visit here. Of the many gifts received by Marilyn Bell, after she conquered the icy waters of Lake Ontario, one was a maple leaf pin.

SOUND CHOICE

Canadians have been accused of being prosaic but they made an imaginative and sound choice of their national emblem. No one sensitive to beauty can look at a maple at any season of the year but particularly in the autumn, and not be moved. Many of our poets have sung of its beauty.

Elias Carman was especially appreciative of the maple's loveliness. He wrote in "A Vagabond Song": "The scarlet of the maples can shade me like a cry of bugles going by," and in another poem,
"The Grave Tree," he describes a maple as:
"Scarlet when the April vanguard begins up the lagged Spring,
Scarlet when the bannered Autumn
Marches by unwavering."

EXPLOSIVE THREAT

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—A prolonged heat wave here, capped off Monday with a record 90 degrees for any June 27, has brought about the worst drought conditions in the lakeshore district in 20 years and has created an explosive forest fire threat. It was estimated the level of Lake Superior has dropped two feet in the semi-finals of the Wm-

ARBITRATION LAW WRITTEN

ENFVA (AP)—The international law commission has completed a draft law providing for compulsory arbitration of disputes between states over fishing activities on the high seas. It will be sent to governments for their observations, after which a definitive draft will be submitted to the UN General Assembly, probably next year.

Stories of Famous Hymns

By HORACE B. POWELL

WHERE IS MY WANDERING BOY TONIGHT?

Where is my wandering boy tonight—
The boy of my tenderest care,
The boy that was once my joy and light,
The child of my love and prayer?

O where is my boy tonight?
O where is my boy tonight?
My heart o'erflows, for I love him,
he knows:
O where is my boy tonight?

Go for my wandering boy tonight;
Go, search for him where you will;
But bring him to me with all his blight,
And tell him I love him still.

O where is my boy tonight?
O where is my boy tonight?
My heart o'erflows, for I love him,
he knows:
O where is my boy tonight?

A booklet of temperance hymns was being compiled, in 1877, and the Rev. Robert Lowry, popular American Baptist minister, was asked to contribute to the collection. He responded with the hymn,
"Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" writing both words and music for his contribution.

Born in 1836, Mr. Lowry was converted at a church meeting when he was a lad of 17. Soon afterward, he decided to devote his life to Christian service. He studied for the ministry and, following his ordination, he held pastorates in a number of leading American Baptist churches. He became widely known for his preaching—and for his sacred poems and tunes.

His most famous hymn, perhaps, will always be the favorite, "Shall We Gather at the River?" But his "wandering boy" hymn became tremendously popular with church audiences, too, and was widely used. Many are the stories told concerning this hymn and its effectiveness in sending runaway boys back to their homes and parents, and back to the church.

Ira Sankey, the singing half of the famous Moody-Sankey partnership, once told of how, when he and Dr. Moody were about to leave for an evangelistic tour in the west, a Boston mother asked him to look for her missing boy in a certain California city. They began gospel meetings, the evangelist visited row on row of boarding houses and cheap lodgings, and finally found the lad for whom he was searching. The boy was persuaded to attend the revival meeting one night and, as he sat in the audience, Sankey sang Mr. Lowry's "Wandering Boy" hymn. When he had finished the last chorus, he paused to say that he knew a mother back in the east who was praying that night for her boy away from home.

The song and the message which followed it won the lad from Boston. After the service, he came forward to shake hands with the evangelists. Sankey read to him from the Bible and prayed with him. A few days later the boy went back to his home in the east
—a Christian.

A Lift For Living

Security In Height

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

For many years I have been haunted by the prayer of the Psalmist: "Lead me to the rock that is higher than I." This prayer of the Hebrew singer was born out of experiences which most of us sooner or later share.
The Psalmist felt himself in a danger zone and was looking for security.

And who does not feel himself in some danger zone? Some may be in fear of physical danger.
Others may feel a sense of economic insecurity, the fear of what may happen when the pass the deadline of employability. And all thoughtful people are troubled about the perils which threaten the world's peace.

We, like the Psalmist, desire to escape the danger zones of life.
In his day there was security in height. In those early days of Palestine fighting, the high mountain strongholds were the easiest to defend. Modern warfare has seemed to accentuate the advantage of altitude. Aviators know the tactical value of getting above the opponent's plane.

In living as in fighting, one advantage of altitude is security. If we can keep our heads clear, our hearts clean and our bodies secure, we must live above certain danger zones.

ABOVE ENVY

Consider the security given by high thoughts. High thinking lifts us above the attacks of petty insults and irritating slights which bedevil our lower moods. High thoughts give us security from the ravages of little worries which sap our energies. They deliver us from the invasions of envy which frequently destroy our peace of mind.

Some years ago the late
Dr. George W. Truett, great Battist minister of Dallas, was venomously attacked by a rival clergyman. Week after week the preacher poured vitriolic words on Truett. But the saintly old minister took no notice. He never retaliated. And soon his high-mindedness won the admiration of the whole community. Love that thus shows itself invulnerable becomes irresistible.

Think, too, of the security given by high tastes as well as by high thoughts. High tastes preserve us from the lure of the vulgar, the clamor of the cheap, the baubles of Vanity Fair.

Remember also that high standards, like high thoughts and tastes, lift us out of certain danger zones.
Some persons live on a plane of conduct so lofty that the compromises and expediences of others do not affect them. I can well imagine what the businessman lives up against when he tries to maintain high ethical standards in competition with those who will stoop to any trick to turn a deal. And yet
I know of men who have established noble reputations and large enterprises in various professions and businesses primarily because of their high standards.

They have avoided the danger zones of low competition, somewhat as we have helped to lessen traffic accidents by eliminating grade crossings on our highways.
They travel at a different level from those who were moving at cross purposes.

While the Psalmist's petition may have arisen out of the desire for security, it does not end there.
Note it is the prayer of a climber.

VANTAGE POINT
Every attainment becomes a vantage point from which the climber glimpses a higher range of desired achievement, and he is restless to keep climbing.

But this aspiration toward the higher rock does more than increase security and enlarge the vision of life's possibilities. It begins to appear after a time that the elusive ideal helps in the doing of the practical real.

Consider the case of King David, with whom this psalm is linked.
David had four great aims in his royal career. He desired to win his nation's independence, to build his country's capital at Jerusalem, and then to crown that capital with a great temple of God.

He did the first three, but not the fourth. Yet may it not be that he did better the three things he could do because he wanted to do a fourth thing which was beyond his reach? It is, I believe, a law of life that our best work is done when we are haunted by the desire for something beyond our grasp.

Hence the value of dreams. And on this Fourth of July let us remember that America has come thus because ours is the land of dreams. This is a "nation under God." Yes, But also a nation inspired by God.

IVANHOE — Fifty members and guests of the Centre Hasting's F.W.T.A.O. attended the opening meeting which was held Tuesday evening in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, West Huntingdon, with the president, Mrs. Aleatha Woods presiding.

The Rev. M. W. Heslop, of Madoc, in the absence of the local minister, the Rev. W. H. Walker of Stirling, welcomed the group and gave the invocation. Following a delicious banquet, provided by the St. Andrew's Club in the Church parlors, Mrs. Woods proposed the toast to the Queen.

Miss Loretta Connor thanked the Club Ladies who served and Mrs. Harold Thompson responded on behalf of the Ladies.

After the president's welcome to all on behalf of L. W. T. A. O., Miss Barbara McKelejohn led the community singing and accompanied Miss Marilyn Carter who sang two delightful solos.

Mrs. Hilda DeClair introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Miss Mary Lou Tobin, a primary teacher from the Ontario school for the Deaf, Belleville, who gave a very interesting and informative address about the school and its magnificent work. She extended a cordial invitation to any interested persons to visit the school and suggested a visit of the teachers at Convention time.

Mrs. McCoy at the thanked Miss Tobin for her address.

THEY INTERVIEW A CABBAGE

(Editor's Note: A news despatch from New York the other day revealed there was a rush on the cabbage juice market, after doctors declared it was beneficial to those with ulcers.

After reporters George Carver and Harry Mulhall were following to interview cabbage. The following is what they discovered.)

"There," said Mulhall, carefully sidestepping a woodchuck hole—(Last year an over-stuffed worm brought him down with a flying tackle and it was three days before he dug his way to a rabbit burrow and thence to freedom) "is the object which managerial expediency and the foresight and ingenuity of the chief of the editorial department of this great newspaper has sent us to cogitate upon, and extract if possible, the information to the publication of an article which should prove a great boon in the ulcer-southern states and is regarded as a contribution to the archives for posterity."

Carver perused the cuticle of a forefinger, then a toe, and then a cranium where once hair grew in luxuriance, if dandruff profusion, quaffed a slug of over-poor sarsaparilla, and down to the pocket refrigerator, and inquired—

"What is it?"

MONKEY BUSINESS

Mulhall scratched his left arm with his right hand. He leapt into a tree and a chattering noise emanated from the ground which grows at the roots of shrubs in the southern states and regarded as a special tidbit for apes, gorillas, elephants, chimpanzees and other forms of monkey business.

It seems Mulhall when visiting the circus took up a position too close to the cages and came home laden with goobers, the gifts of an advertising public, mostly small boys, who had never seen this form of the genus Aperomyscus Donagelii in captivity.

"That is our cabbage," he grunted, then swung round as a chorus of answering grunts rose happily from a herd of piglets in a nearby hogsty.

When quiet descended once more on the countryside and the future disturbers of the Ontario Hog Marketing Boards, both reporters descended on the vegetable. They found it looking up at them; the men threw each other swift glances, Carver was the better shot and Mulhall went down.

"Me boy," said the older, patronizingly, "let me do the talking. Remember we are addressing a vegetable which might have a beef so there is a lot at stake!"

"We understand sir," said Carver, "that members of New York society now are using the juice of cabbages as a tonic for ulcers. As a representative of the vegetable, have you any comment?"

The vegetable crinkled its face for a moment, then said: "Unaccustomed as I am to placing my own careful analytical opinions upon the market of Common newspaper reading, consumption for the purpose of edifying both masses and bourgeoisie, I now, after considerable deliberation and much straining of both my mental capacity and moral appreciations, am prepared at this stage to confess one thing. That is, and here I must warn you to prepare for an unexpected, and I should think, bitter blow, that my introductory verbiage is just so much garbale. Putting it in common everyday Queen's English when as two representatives of the journalistic profession, you approached me as a natural—born brassica oracea, you were invading the domain of one whose limeal antecedents were the culinary ambrosia of royalty whose delicate palates delighted not in the harsh thirst-producing leafy of sauerkrautian concoctions but because of its fragrance and edibility was often used as an attar."

"What did you say?" yawned Carver.

"You're nuts," Mulhall mopped his brow, put the mop away and uttered: "Well this seems to be a real turkey. What with that and pickled cabbage if things keep stirring this way we're well on the way to cooking up some anghelicality."

"Yeah," growled Carver, "and if you put your foot in it much further we can have Irish stew, your dirty-bird Dubliner."

The vegetable curled its top leaves in disgust, then addressed the scribes. "As gentlemen of the fourth estate and reputedly those who have made a careful study of things agricultural, I must say you are quite eligible for incarceration in one of those national institutions where careful attention is paid to the mentally deranged. For your information I am not of the brassica oracea family but the brassica oracea gemifera. That you suffer from optical illusion is definitely evident due, no doubt, to an extreme astigmatic condition of your optics. My illustrious forebears were not of the Brobdingnagian family of leafy giants but due to being

Chairman of CPR Company Was Once Messenger Boy

By JOE MACSWEEN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — George Walker still figures he did the right thing when he accepted the 75-cent weekly increase and joined the CPR.

He's 75 now, and the money isn't so important, but as a boy he was a messenger boy in the CPR.

"My first adventure in big business was as a cash boy in a dry goods store in the 1890s. I was making $1.25 for a 50-hour week. Fair wages in those days for a boy of 10."

But a chance came with the CPR as a messenger boy, for $2 a week, and I took it. I can't say I've ever been sorry."

GREAT ECONOMIC CHANGE

That was in Toronto, and Mr. Walker now lives in Montreal, only a few hundred miles away, but he travelled far just the same—all the way to the chairmanship of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

"It's not that I'm complaining about my first job," he told a reporter, while his grey eyes twinkled. "But I often think what an economic change there's been in the memory of one man. It was just a little shop, presided over by the proprietor, meeting and serving all his customers."

"Robert Simpson was his name. The store still stands where it did then, in Toronto."

George Abram Walker, QC, DCL, has more time for reminiscences now since he recently retired as CPR chairman, although he still makes daily visits to his office in the big Windsor station.

Succeeded by W. A. Mather, he had been chairman since 1948, after his long career in the legal department of the railway, including 23 years at Calgary.

"SIMPLE BUSINESS"

The six-foot two-inch executive—a fit 181 pounds—is inclined to pooch-pooch any mention of his success story, stating: "There was nothing remarkable about it, but a simple business of following a line of succession. About the only unusual part was that I got all my education after leaving school."

He became an office boy in the railway's law office in Toronto and studied shorthand and typing. In his spare time he studied, took matriculation examinations at the University of Toronto and entered Osgoode Hall—a simpler procedure than today—and graduated in 1906.

This was achieved by "much burning of midnight oil," and CPR solicitor Angus MacMurchy helped by giving him two hours off work daily for classes, which he made up by morning and evening overtime.

Later he was to be honored with a doctorate in law by Bishop's University, Lennoxville, Que., and was also appointed a governor of McGill University. But long before these events he had been posted to CPR's legal office in Calgary, where he became associated with R. B. Bennett, later prime minister of Canada.

During these years he also was closely associated with Sir Edward Beatty, who also became CPR chairman — Beatty and Walker being the only two lawyers ever to attain the position.

"CONFIRMED WESTERNER"

Mr. Walker married Gladys Graves of Elgin, N.B., in Edmonton in 1928, and "we came to regard ourselves as confirmed westerners," he recalls. They have one daughter, now married to George Hobart Jr., of London, Ont.

Mr. Walker shared fully in CPR's enormous part in building the West, especially in the transfer of money into wash basins for farmers co-operatives.

He vividly recalls the rollicking days of Calgary's "first oil boom in 1914, when people tossed their money into wash baskets with abandon, and receipts for oil company shares were transferred like negotiable securities."

In 1934 he returned to the East, working successively through the ranks of general solicitor, vice president and general counsel before his appointment to the chairmanship. He also became associated with some 10 other firms as director.

A mild, quiet-spoken man, he used to enjoy "golf, reading and bridge — now just reading and bridge."

"If there ever was a dull day, I've long since forgotten it," Mr. Walker says.

Centenary

CENTENARY.—School is over and the children have done well in their year's studies. Congratulations to the Grade 8 pupils who are now ready for high school. Donna May, Judy Sargent, Dawn Woods, Helen Hart, Franz Slot, Ruth Slavin, Ronnie Hart, Harry Carter, Gerald Murray, Raymond Laing, Carman Shaw and Morris Douglas.

Through the kindness of the school bus driver Mr. Claude Richmond and the sponsorship of the Mission Band, the Centenary pupils and their mothers, enjoyed a picnic at Senies' Beach, Oak Lake, on Tuesday. Everyone had a grand time on the beach and in the water.

PRESENTATIONS MADE

During the afternoon, Mrs. T. Spafford and Miss Marjorie Bristol, the teachers who are leaving were each presented with a wrought iron coffee table, a floral piece and book-ends. Each child was given an ice cream cone by the teachers. Mr. Richmond is to be thanked for making this wonderful outing possible.

The Rev. R. W. T. Middleton preached his final sermon on Sunday morning, taking as his theme the word "Amen".

Following the service Mr. R. Edmondson presented the minister with a purse of money from the Centenary congregation.

Mrs. Robert Hart spent a week with Miss Marion Brenton in Cranilton while her parents enjoyed a trip.

CIRCUS MAN ESCAPES

OVEN SOUND (CP) — The big top nearly took the life of circus performer James Hile Friday. A truck carrying the 20-ton tent overturned and the 32-year-old Hile, sleeping on top of the folded canvas, fell to the highway. He barely escaped being crushed. The tent, owned by the King Brothers' Circus, was being brought here.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMIESON

LEMON JUICE BENEFITS OILY SKIN

Many victims of oily skin come to the conclusion, after trying one remedy after another unsuccessfully, that their only real weapon is the powder pad. But they are mistaken. Powder may dull the beaming nose for the time being, but that is all. The basic condition is still there.

Let us consider the causes of oily skin. The skin has two sets of glands: one to produce salty excretions called perspiration, the other to create the oil necessary to keep the skin from drying and flaking. The latter—the sebaceous glands—are capable of producing as much as an ounce of lubricant a day. They are more active in adolescence than in later years. The excretions consist of liquids and fats in varying proportions.

It has been determined that a diet low in fats will make the sebaceous glands less active. The girl with oily skin should close her eyes when pastries are served, put less butter on her bread, and pass up the delights of the soda fountain. Gravies and rich sauces must be deleted from her diet. The day should start with orange or tomato juice for the vitamin C content.

Local treatment is helpful. At bedtime there should be a thorough face washing with a bland soap that should be fluffed to a lather and frictioned into the flesh with finger tips. If blackheads are present, hot, moist compresses should be applied.

To contract the pores, follow with a cold rinsing. The reaction of the blood streams will be helpful in normalizing the functions of the skin.

After a gentle drying with a soft towel, leave with strained lemon juice on the most blemished portion of the oil-film complexion. The acid element seems to have a tempering effect upon over-active glands.

YOUR SPEAKING VOICE

The good looks and smart appearance of the American girl is conceded the world over. She has trim ankles, a slender figure; she knows how to dress. Her hairdo is up to the minute, make-up as it should be. But there is one fly in her beauty ointment. She is not so much to look at, but not always nice to listen to. Her voice is not always as pleasing as it should be.

Voice control is a matter of self-control. The woman who has poise and dignity is voice conscious, too. She is calm and serene; so is her conversation. Lack of stability is reflected in tones of the voice. If the notes are tense the fibers of the throat tighten. The voice will be pitched to high, speech may be uneven and lack that fluid quality which makes it smooth and harmonious.

If you wonder what kind of a voice you have, try some reading exercises. Notice the pitch and the expressive qualities—or lack of them. One should avoid sudden emphasis. Monotony is equally deplorable.

Enunciation should be clear. Good training is to say the vowels slowly. Pronouncing each word with precision will impart a beautiful quality to the speaking voice.

One of the most important things to do to improve the speaking voice is to learn to breathe deeply. Several times a day stand before an open window, taking deep breaths, mentally counting ten with each breath. Exhale slowly and evenly, also at the same count. This practice is not only helpful in voice culture, but will also promote good posture, develop a full, high chest and improve the complexion.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

DOES HE REALLY WANT A DIVORCE?

There is one very interesting and curious thing that I have observed about many women whose husbands have been unfaithful.

This is, that they go on tolerating the situation—nothing it, of course, but still putting up with it—until some other man comes along. Then they decide that they had enough of the unfaithful husband and would like to be free of him; sometimes, even, though the new man may have given them little or no reason to consider him as a matrimonial prospect.

Perhaps the man in the case about which I am going to tell you sincerely intends to make himself available as a second husband if the woman who writes to me gets her divorce. Perhaps, on the other hand, he doesn't. At any rate, I gather that she believes he does so intend.

Here's what she says:

"I have been married for over 20 years and have eight children. The whole time I have been married, my husband has always gone his own way, even running around with different women. Two years ago he left me, and even though he wants to come back now, I never intend to take him back because I could never forgive him for going off with another woman and leaving me with eight children."

"Now I would like to get a divorce from him. Do you think that would be a good idea?"

Then she goes on to give the real reason for wanting a divorce at this time, after having put up with constant infidelity on the part of her husband for all these years, plus two years of desertion.

"About five years ago, I met a man who is a lot younger than I am. I liked him very much right away. Then he went into the service for two years, and I thought I would forget him. He wrote to me while he was gone, but finally I told him to stop writing, and he did."

He is now out of service, and I have been seeing him again. In fact, I have fallen in love with him and I think he loves me, too. He told me that when he was in service he met a lot of girls, but he never liked any of them, so he came back to me.

"Do you think I should get a divorce and go out with this man?"

Of course this woman has had plenty of time to consider the matter of divorce, so that perhaps I should not suggest she might be moving on a sudden impulse if she did it now. But I think the first thing she should do is to get it clear in her own mind as to whether she is divorcing her husband because she has finally decided he will never be any different, and she cannot put up with him any longer, or because she hopes to marry this second man. In other words, if no other man had appeared on her horizon, would she divorce her husband?

And to help clear it all up in her mind, she might ask herself a few questions, such as, for instance: Is she sure this chap wants to marry her, or is there a possibility that he might just be looking for a temporary association with her? And what about this matter of his being so much younger than herself: Are they really thoroughly congenial, and of approximately equal maturity, so that the difference in years would never be felt by either of them? Or is her feeling for him rather a maternal one, and could he, on his side, be unconsciously seeking a mother?

Then there is the matter of the eight children. How many of them are still minors that a second husband would have the responsibility of supporting? And could this man be relied upon to take on, and faithfully carry out, the duties of a father toward them?

Finally, suppose the younger man did not really have any intention of marrying her. If that were the case, would she still want to divorce her husband? Or would she rather go on as she has for so many years? And if, by some miracle, her present husband had a change of heart, and honestly wanted to try and make up to her for the hurt he has caused her, would she, perhaps, like to give him just one more chance rather than to start all over and gamble on a brand-new marriage?

Once she has answered these questions to her satisfaction, she will be in a better position to judge just what she wants to do.

Seashore Siren

By TRACY ADRIAN

The mythical sirens of ancient legends were supposed to have a terrific attraction for the gentlemen of those days but we'll bet that they didn't have a thing on the beauties who grace our bathing suits in these modern times. And what's more to the point our girls are for real.

Here's an example of the svelte and colorful styles seen on seashores this season. It is a one-piece swim suit of printed cotton in a tied bandana kerchief design. Cut-out kerchief points form the bra top. Other details are the vertical elastic shirred front with the puckerette back to insure perfect fit.

QUESTION:

We have recently bought a hunting and fishing resort up in the Parry Sound district and I would greatly appreciate it if you would send me any recipes you think suitable for such a clientele and also menus. Thanking you for your interest, signed—Mrs. K. H. D.

ANSWER:

I hope you saw the two recipes for large quantity—Ten Briskets and Parker House Rolls which I gave in response to Mrs. Alice S. They will help you.

FISHING RESORT MENU:

Glazed Corned Beef Brisket
Horseshoe Sauce
Baked Potatoes
Buttered Green Cabbage
French Bread Butter
Orange Sherbet
Chocolate Brownies (see below)
Tea Coffee Milk

GLAZED CORNED BEEF BRISKET

Place corned beef brisket in water to cover. Bring water to a boil and then turn heat low so that water remains at a simmering temperature throughout entire cooking time. Do not boil vigorously. Cover and simmer 3-4 to 5 hours depending on the size of the brisket. Time per pound averages 30 to 32 minutes for smaller briskets, 23 to 25 minutes for larger briskets. Cool briskets 1-2 hours for easier slicing. Some chefs prefer to cut brisket in half for 30 minutes longer than the plate end. Time for whole brisket (10 pounds approx.) is about 45 minutes per pound. For the Glazed Brisket cook above, Thirty minutes before brisket is done, remove from cooking water to a baking pan. Top with the following glaze and bake in moderate oven at 350 deg. Fahr. for 30 minutes or until browned. One-half cup brown sugar, 1-4 cup vinegar blended with 2 teaspoons dry mustard.

To slice cold: Let brisket cool in cooking water, chill and slice very thin.

Another popular menu is—

Glazed Ham with Mustard Sauce
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Buttered Lima Beans
Molded Fruit Salad
Whipped Salad Dressing
Parker House Rolls Butter
Frosted Banana Cake

CHOCOLATE BROWNIES

(Yields 100)
Twelve ounces melted chocolate, unsweetened, 1 pound melted shortening, 18 eggs, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 3 pounds brown sugar, 1 pound cup brown sugar, 1-4 cup baking powder, 1-4 cup salt, 1 pound currants, 1-4 pound walnuts, 1-3 cup hot water. Melt chocolate and shortening. Put brown sugar, eggs and water into mixer and combine at No. 1 speed. Combine melted chocolate and shortening and add to sugar and egg mixture. Add currants, nuts, flour and salt and mix for 3 minutes at No. 2 speed. Add vanilla last. Pour into shallow pan (15 by 21 by 1-4). This pan will hold three forty ounce quarts of batter. Bake for 30 minutes at 325 to 350 deg. Fahr.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

DRINKS AT WEDDING RECEPTION

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am to be best man at a friend's wedding soon, and I'm confused about two questions. (1) Since both the bride's parents and the groom's parents are very strict teetotalers, I believe that no liquor will be served at the reception. If so, what is customarily served for the drink of the toast? (2) Is it the duty of the best man to propose the toast to the bride and groom?

Dave
(1) A non-alcoholic drink will be provided for the toast. . . today this is quite often the procedure, and of course there shouldn't be any self-consciousness about this. Generally, it is a fruit punch that is served. . . and it can be a very delicious fruit punch, and very attractively served. (2) Yes.

CONCERNING KNIVES AND FORKS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

(1) My husband and I have just gone to housekeeping for the first time. I've just finished unpacking our house belongings. I have eight medium-size knives and forks (luncheon knives and forks, I guess they are called), but no dinner knives and forks. Would it be all right for us to use the luncheon knives and forks as dinner knives and forks when we begin to entertain (at long last!) in our own home? (2) Also, may I use my salad forks for desserts such as pastry, cake, and so forth? — Hostess-to-be

(1) You will find those medium-size knives and forks entirely convenient (and they are entirely correct) to use as dinner knives and forks. As a matter of fact, today many hostesses have only the one size, and find this adequate. (2) Yes.

IS ADOPTION OF CHILD ANNOUNCED?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My sister and her husband have just received the papers for the adoption of a baby. Last evening my sister said she is planning to send an announcement of the adoption to the newspaper. My mother insists that this is not correct, and we would like to have your point of view about this.—E.C.L.

It is not correct to announce, in the newspaper, the adoption of a child. When we think about this seriously, the reason for the rule is obvious.

PICKLES AND HOW TO EAT THEM

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When pickles, large or small, are served with meat on the dinner or luncheon plate, what is the correct way to eat them?—Wondering

When pickles are served this way, they should be eaten with a fork. . . or if necessary, for cutting, with the knife and fork. (When pickles are served with a sandwich, they are eaten with the fingers.)

WHEN ARE GIFTS GIVEN TO ATTENDANTS?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Please tell my daughter a n d me when she gives the gifts to

Along Canadian Trails

Canada's Bridge Builders

By LEONARD L. KNOTT

Illustrated by David Ranson

For some reason or another, a great many men grow up with the dream that someday they will build a bridge. Bridge building is the ambition of hundreds of boys and young men who study to become professional engineers. Bridges seem to have a strange fascination for builders.

Many men have realized their ambitions and designed and built bridges. But one of the greatest bridge builders in the world, a man who has devoted his entire life to spanning rivers and ravines, is a Canadian. His home is in Montreal, but he has spent years scanning the rivers and ocean channels of British Columbia and Nova Scotia. He has probably designed or built more bridges than any other man in the world.

Canada's bridge builder is Dr. P. L. Prattey who is now 60 years old. He built the Lion's Gate Bridge and the second Narrows Bridge in Vancouver and the huge Patullo Bridge at New Westminster. He designed the Peace River Bridge on the Alaska Highway and is now working on a bridge across the Okanagan Lake at Kelowna.

CONSULTANT
He was the consultant on the big bridges at Edmonton and he designed the Canadian section of the Blue Water Bridge at Sarnia and the Ambassador Bridge at Windsor. And only a few weeks ago, he attended the opening of the new Angus Macdonald Bridge, in Halifax, one of the most beautiful bridges in the world.

There is hardly a famous bridge in Canada that Prattey's great knowledge. The Ivy Lea Bridge across the Thousand Islands section of the St. Lawrence River, the Jacques Cartier Bridge in Montreal, and the bridge from Quebec City to the Isle of Orleans, are all part of his record. But his fame spreads far beyond the borders of Canada.

Several years ago, when the famous suspension bridge was built at Tacoma in the state of Washington, the Canadian bridge builder saw the designs and warned the builders against building it that way.

BRIDGE COLLAPSED
But the work went on, and a few months after it was completed it started to buckle and sway. Finally, it went down. The United States Government appointed a group of experts to find out what was wrong. It wanted the best advice it could get so that such a disaster could not occur again.

Some of the great bridge designers of the United States were consulted. They were asked, should be appointed to this investigating committee? The answer was, "Ask the bridge builder from Canada, Dr. Prattey." The man who has lived a dream all his life—a dream of beautiful big bridges, graceful and strong, spanning big rivers, and lakes and ocean channels.

Unknown to most Canadians, Dr. Prattey, of Montreal, has left dozens of monuments to his skill and love of beauty. He has brought honor to Canada among members of his profession around the world.

Your Car Fuel Lines, Gas Tank Are Trouble Spots

By EUGENE MILMOE

If a mysterious case of poor carburetion has you baffled, don't hesitate to include the fuel lines and the tank on your list of suspects. A slight air leak in the fuel lines will sometimes starve the carburetor or cause such a lean mixture that engine performance falls far below normal. Similar symptoms may develop if the fuel flow is retarded by kinks or sharp bends in the lines.

Occasionally, tank trouble is to blame when the fuel system acting up. Excess water, dirt or other foreign matter may accumulate in the tank to block the fuel feed or clog the air vent in the filler cap so that little or no fuel is supplied to the pump and carburetor.

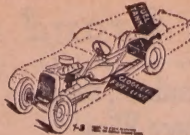

R.R. asks: Would poor compression have anything to do with the way my engine vibrates at high speeds?

(A) Yes, if there is a more-than-normal variation in the cylinder compression pressures, it can be a cause of engine vibration.

LOSING WATER

C.P. writes: My 1949 model seems to be using or losing quite a bit of water. I have repeatedly noticed moisture on one side of the engine but I don't see any leaks at all. I put several new parts in recently and everything works well, but this water loss remains a mystery.

(A) I suggest a really thorough inspection of the cylinder head and the block. Check for loose bolts, faulty gaskets, hairline cracks, warpage or anything which might prevent an airtight fit between the head and the block.

T.Z. asks: Sometimes, but not always, my car has a buzzing sound which seems to come from the direction of the carburetor. It occurs when I step on the accelerator, but not when the engine is idling. What could be causing this?

(A) Often this buzzing in the carburetor is due to nothing more than looseness around the choke shaft, which causes the choke valve to vibrate when you accelerate.

BURNS TOO MUCH OIL

T.S. writes: My car needed new piston rings, so I had them installed, but oil consumption is still high. Valve stems are still good in good shape—why then am I burning so much oil?

(A) Often, in addition to a new ring set, it is necessary to recondition cylinder walls and install new pistons and bearings. New rings alone can raise manifold vacuum so that more oil is sucked up into the combustion chamber.

From I.S.: Recently, I had my car overhauled and a new motor installed. I am using a top quality 10-W high-detergent oil, but wonder if I should change to a heavier oil.

(A) With a new engine, a low viscosity or thin oil, such as 10-W, would be used during the first 500 to 1000 miles. After this break-in period, you may change to the weight recommended for your particular climate and driving conditions.

Mr. James McFarlane and Miss Grace Cox visited Mr. and Mrs. Marylouise at Marysville on Sunday.

Garden Notes

Mums Demand Close Attention

By FLORA M. SAVILLE

A small sharp hoe is the best friend of the hardy chrysanthemum.

Work around chrysanthemums lightly at least once a week to keep a dust mulch of two to three inches deep. In hot dry weather they need one good soaking a week. See that moisture penetrates to a depth of four to five inches. Then they can go on steadily growing toward their fall glory.

During the hot months they do not need plant food, if their early spring development is satisfactory. Lush summer growth is not to be encouraged. However, if the plants are small and weak, and some of the finest blooms come from slow growing plants, they may be fed a balanced diet every two weeks.

That is a chemical food which contains nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, also the minute, but necessary trace elements. When the plants have attained good growth early, withhold feeding until mid-August, use to mid-September. Liquid plant food can do wonders for your plants. It encourages early, withold feeding until mid-August, use to mid-September.

FERTILIZER
One pound of complete fertilizer will feed 100 square feet. Water the area well then broadcast around each plant, a n d water in well. Allow no fertilizer to remain on the leaves. Keep the fertilizer out 10 inches from the plant, where the tips of the feeder roots lie.

Keep pinching out the center of all growing stems to encourage branching. This should be done about three, or four times during the early part of the summer and into mid-August. Then discontinue, as the buds are then beginning to form.

There is still time, up to the end of June, to take greenwood cuttings from the tips of the plants. You may find a local nurseryman who has some potted mums left. When taking cuttings allow the cut end to dry slightly then dip in rootdope to the depth of a half-inch. Now in a small pot, or in a sheltered place in the garden.

RETAIN MOISTURE
Use half soil and half vermiculite to retain moisture either in the pot or open garden row. Do not allow the soil around the cuttings to dry out. Commercial growers set the pots in a flat of spagnum, or peat moss, and keep the moss damp. This keeps the cuttings cool and water and eliminates frequent watering, and danger of drying out.

If your gardening plans are behind time, there is still time this year to divide and transplant established plants. Select plants from the outer portion of the clump, rather than shoots sent up from the heart of the clump. The outer ones will develop stronger plants, while there is good drainage. They must have good drainage over winter, or they will die. And, do not crowd your mums. They need elbow room, and will be much better in open rows, rather than in the perennial border.

In late summer when other plants are nearly spent you can move the blooming chrysanthemums to the front of the border, into your planters, or flank the entrance, and front walk with these plants, or bushes of color.

SOAK WELL
Soak the plants well with water, and take them up with a good ball of soil first having prepared a hole large enough to take the soil and roots and have them at their original level. Soak the soil in the hole before setting in the plant. Firm the soil around the plant and soak the soil again. If the temperature is high and the air dry, continue to water the hose. Handled in this way there will be no wilting, or setback.

When frost has blacked the last bloom, return the plants to their place in the back garden, settle them firmly and cut off the tops. Fill up the soil around them to a depth of three or four inches and they will winter over safely. Dust or spray your plants every two weeks to discourage red spider, aphid, blight, mildew, or rust. Healthy mums are immune to most garden pests. However, occasionally we do have a season in which pests seem more prevalent than usual. The use of an all-around insecticide and fungicide will guard against all pests.

Canadian Oarsmen Defeat Russia In Grand Challenge Cup Semi-Final

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

CHARGE FOR AIR

Imagine a $35,000,000 gate for a heavyweight championship fight. Sounds fantastic, but executives of the International Boxing Club envision such a possibility by 1957.

It's simple. If some 35,000,000 television viewers fall for a proposed gadget attachment to their sets which is to convert the receiver into nothing more than a slot machine.

The people who control the patented slot machine gimmick state that two years from now thirty-six million viewers will have installed the device. It costs the set owner $50 and an extra $30 for installation. For half a buck a baseball, basketball game, horse race or big time fight, all you don't get is the commercials.

The Federal Communications Commission of the United States is seriously considering the matter of subscription television and its findings should have a tremendous effect on sports.

Telecasting of major league baseball games has been a source of tremendous income to major clubs. The Dodgers are said to receive $600,000 a year from television and radio sponsors. The management figures at 50 cents a game via TV subscription some 100,000 would view the games. That ain't hay, brother.

It could lead to a new breed of panhandler. "Buddy, can you spare a half a buck. I wanna see the Dodgers play today."

Minor league baseball officials claim subscription television might be the means of saving their class of the game. They figure that a lot of fans at present watching major league games would refuse to install the gimmick and pay the toll. Instead they would return to the minor league parks.

And don't think you can "chisel" a spotlight fight, game or horse race for free. The telecast is scrambled like six eggs and remains that way until you drop in the half-buck when, presto, it unscrambles itself.

Dan (New York Mirror) Parker is an outspoken critic of the television subscription idea. He writes:

"Sports, which sold most of the 35,000,000 television sets now operating in the United States, will be used next in an attempt to con American televisioners into believing that slot machine entertainment will be the greatest public benefaction and boon to sportsworld since the invention of the cathode ray tube. What this amounts to is telling people who now get their sports and other brands of entertainment for the price of listening to some of the roughest commercials ever dropped from human lips, that it will be to their advantage to drop silver coins in the slot to see a ball game, fight, or other sports events in the future. The principle is the same as taxing the public to build roads and then operating them as toll highways.

"It would be foolish to argue that there is no need to regulate the use of television in certain branches of sports, but regulation is one thing and confiscation of part of the public domain for monopolistic purposes is another. When the I.B.C. chooses to show a fight on a closed theatre circuit, unsponsored by an advertiser, instead of with free sponsored television, it is within its rights. On a closed circuit, there are cable charges and the free air isn't used.

"On the other hand, if the Brooklyn Dodgers decide to go through with their plan to sell the TV rights of their games to the owners of the patented device which would unscramble the purposely scrambled signals to foil set owners who didn't drop their half dollars into the slot, it would be a case of the free air being used for the aggrandizement of a group that had a monopoly which would nullify the Fifth Freedom — Freedom of the Air Waves."

Canadians, at least those in this neck of the woods, will scarcely fall for the gimmick, if it comes into being. Down here we get a major baseball league game once a week, basketball games in the winter and last season, Big Four football. We doubt very much if sports fans hereabout would spend some $85 in order to invest fifty cents to see pastimes, some of which are not worth that amount "live."

Nope. We can suffer a few minutes listening to the "waddle-yawdle" warble; the "three sharps" and the qualities of a face lotion that causes every glimmer gal within reach to rush and buss you. At the worst, you can always turn the darn thing off or go to the kitchen and get another cold one.

College Crew Scores Upset At Royal Henley Regatta; Meet Americans in Final

By ARCH MACKENZIE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

HENLEY—ON—THAMES, Eng.

(CP)—The surprise package of the Royal Henley regatta is a canny

Canadian crew who row a lot faster than they talk.

It was a case of sealed lips and few predictions when the University of British Columbia eight crew took the water against Russia Friday in the grand challenge cup semi-final but the Canadians got home first in the biggest upset of this blue ribbon meeting.

Czech Frank Read's smoothstroking youngsters—also surprise winners at the British Empire

Games last August—came from behind to defeat the highly-rated Soviets by 1 1/4 lengths and wild applause.

They meet University of Pennsilvania in today's all-North America final.

COACH PESSIMISTIC

Few had expected Canada to turn back the sturdy scholars from

Russia's Krasnov Znamia Club and the Vancouver crew didn't beat the big drum about their chances. Russia won the title last year.

Czech Read was frankly pessimistic a week or so before the race

although he did perk up enough

Thursday to say he thought UBC could win.

Friday the gloom dissolved. Russia took an early lead over the one mile, 550-yard course, but the Canadians gradually whittled down the margin, went ahead before the halfway mark and pulled away at the end.

The Vancouver club's win was no fluke. The Canadians had a better technique, and in the last vital third of a mile had more strength.

Their time was seven minutes, 11

ANXIOUS MOMENTS

The defeat cost the Russians possession of the Senior Henley Trophy, the 116-year-old cup won by the Krylia Sovetov Club last year.

U.S.'s spectacular victory was won in a misty drizzle against a slight current of water, and against a moderate headwind. But the conditions suited the crew fine.

The Russians started with a boom and that is what was expected, said Glen Smith, Vancouver's stroke.

"In no time they were a length ahead, but they were striking furiously, chopping the water with hatchet blows and seeming to take no advantage of the run of their boat between strokes.

"We tried to take advantage of our boat's run, and to save strength we could catch up. We did, with a steadier rhythm, but there were anxious moments. Those Russians are strong but they weren't strong enough to win with what we regarded as wrong tactics."

SIGN WITH TICATS

HAMILTON (CP)—Two former

have signed 1955 contracts with

Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football Union.

Harold Newton, an end from

Windsor, and Jack McGee, a guard who was recently traded to Hamilton by Toronto, signed their contracts Friday.

McGee, along with Johnny Fed-off who was also traded by Argos, were holdouts for their former club. They became Tiger-Cats in the deal which saw quarterback

Nobby Winkowski go to Hamilton for Dick Brown.

Sam Sneed's Golf School

THUMB OF RIGHT HAND IS PLACED ON THE SHAFT

club. Remember? Today we add the right hand and show both hands in a completed grip. Simple, isn't it? You maintain the finger particularly with the little

and the thumb and forefinger of the right hand. The right hand is welded to the left hand by the

overlapping the forefinger of the left hand. Then the two hands are further welded together by the heel of the right hand firmly pressing against the thumb of the

Use the two hands work as one.

Use just enough pressure so that the club is firmly held, but no more. Too tight a grip interferes with the rhythm of the swing.

Tribes' Early Wynn Wins Neat 1-0 Victory Over Chisox' Billy Pierce

Indians' Big Chief Scores Third Straight Shutout; Chicago Beaten, Yankees Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Considered a last Cleveland Indians seven games behind in the American League race, where do you suppose they'd be without Early Wynn?

With the tribe's once fearsome Big Four of the pitching staff incapable of chilling anyone these days, the 35-year-old Wynn has become the big guy. He responded to the call again Friday night, gaining his 11 victory with a 1-0 whitewash of the waning White Sox.

Wynn won it big. It was his third straight shutout and he allowed just six hits, fanning four and walking only one. Larry Doby supplied the run with a fifth-inning homer off Billy Pierce, who went all the way for his fifth defeat.

The victory brought Cleveland to within half a game of the second place Sox, who now have lost six straight. And it gave Indians a big jump with six crucial games remaining between the two clubs in the next nine days that could make or break either of the contenders.

With Chicago beaten again, New York Yankees moved to their largest lead in the year—4½ games—by defeating Washington 7-2. Boston beat Baltimore 4-1 in 13 innings and Kansas City upset four-place Detroit by sweeping a two-nighter, 3-2 and 7-1.

In the National, Pittsburgh edged first-place Brooklyn 3-2; Chicago regained second place by beating St. Louis 11-7; Milwaukee lost to Cincinnati 14-2; Philadelphia beat New York 9-3.

Activity was limited in the majors Thursday. In the American, Detroit edged Boston 4-3 and Washington nipped Boston 3-2. In the National, Brooklyn defeated New York 6-5 in 11 innings and Milwaukee edged Chicago 7-4.

New York's home run was hit by Boston Friday, after Leo Kiely and Ellis Kinder had granted Baltimore a 3-0 lead.

Foxboro Bows To Cannifton

When Cannifton did it again last night when they whipped Foxboro on their home diamond by a score of 10-1 in a seven-inning game.

Oliver, pitching for Cannifton, came up with five strikeouts, one walk and three hits, but Mann for the losers did his best, for a single in the second, but an error in the fourth only got him a double with Glass getting his double in the fourth, to bring in Mann for the only run in the game for their team.

Vern Law, pitching in for Cannifton for Foxboro, he ended the first three innings with a total of four strikeouts, one walk, six hits and five runs. Foxboro decided on a replacement in the fourth, substituting Mann for Oliver, and this follow came up with five strikeouts, nine hits and gave up five runs, two in the sixth and three more in the seventh. Moore, Marner, MacDonald and Sheffield were the double hitters for Cannifton, plus stolen bases and errors, to score a worthy ten runs.

At the end of the game the total men left on bases were 11 for Cannifton, while Foxboro had three only.

"A GOOD PLACE TO DEAL"

NEW YORK (AP)—John D. Chick of Windsor, Ont., has been re-elected president of the American Hockey League, which concluded its summer meeting at Pocono Manor, Pa., Thursday.

The league decided to open its 1955-56 season Oct. 8 and close March 25. Each team will play 64 games.

Solar Notes

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT.
(Noted Sportsman, Author and Creator of Solar Notes Tables.)

Western conservationists are becoming increasingly alarmed over the shrinkage of duck habitat because of the drainage of marshes and pot holes for the purpose of converting this land into farming country. Nowadays the stopping places along the great Pacific flyway are becoming scarcer by the year.

After all, few of us can find it in our hearts to blame the owners of such lands for converting them into farm lands. Reclaimed marshland brings as much as $100 an acre when leased time, as byproduct farming. This is the rental for just one year—$100 an acre. Moreover, it is paid in advance, cash on the barrel head, before a single crop is planted.

However, good news, which may very well serve as an able weapon to combat this drainage trend, comes from Syracuse University's department of plant sciences, under the able direction of Dr. Ernest Reed.

CATTAIL RESEARCH
This department has established a cattail research center. That's right—cattails, the sort that you find in almost any marshy area. Under the leadership of Dr. Leland C. Marsh, this research group comes out with the statement that cattails will produce ten times as much edible tubers as do potatoes, and at the same time, as byproduct, supply enormous amounts of fiber and fluff, all valuable commercially.

He has many names—cougar, panther, painter, catamount, puma, mountain lion and American lion. While he is more or less common in the northwestern states, some of the biologists tell us that he is extinct in eastern North America. This opinion should be subject to some revision.

In 1928 I saw two of these animals in Florida. One of them was in the wooded area on the edge of the St. Johns River marshes and one in a swamp not 20 miles from Daytona. These cats were alive and active. Two others were shot and brought into Orlando, Fla., that same year. I saw the bodies of these, too.

NEVER EXTINGUISHED
It is my humble opinion that the cougar has never been extinct in the eastern states. So far as I know, none have been killed recently in the eastern states north of Florida, but too many reports come in of these animals being sighted to allow us to believe that all of them are flights of fancy.

About 30 miles from my home in central Pennsylvania a mountain lion was seen by two young men. The big cat was bounding after a half-grown cow in the hillside pasture of their farm. Their shouts saved the little cow from unpleasant eventualities, as the big cat turned and vanished into the woods.

Now, these boys keep "varmint dogs" and each winter they account for their share of wild cats. They know the animals of our woods and when they see a big, black cat, they know it's a cougar.

No doubt about it, the big-dog boys certainly give up without putting up a good fight. By this time you surely are familiar with the project of which the proposed Echo Park dam is a part. Since its first defeat in Congress, the plan has taken on new names but it is basically the same as always—The Upper Colorado River Development Project.

The Bureau of Reclamation, in its over-all scheme for this area, proposes to build therein 10 huge dams and 30 or more smaller ones. Dam, large or small, cost money and, my friends, will pick up the tab for most or all of the bill. As time goes on, an increasingly hoarse smoke screen is being thrown up as propaganda for this ambitious program. Some very able men are lined up on both sides of the question. Basically, however, there are some things about the plan that do not appeal to me.

Independent engineers, not in the employ of Reclamation, tell us that the sites of some of these dams, particularly the Echo Park dam, are badly and expensively chosen. There are far better sites elsewhere. About that we must be content to accept the word of those who know about such things.

But, aside from the tremendous cost (not to mention the fact that these dams will generate government-subsidized hydro-electric power) it does go against the grain to see the sanctity of one of our national monuments invaded by the dam builders. It establishes a precedent that will be difficult to combat in future years.

THE COUGAR

This king-size cat, the largest of the North American felines, has for some years been reputed to be extinct in the eastern United States. At least, that is what Webster's Dictionary and the encyclopedia tell us.

He has many names—cougar, panther, painter, catamount, puma, mountain lion and American lion. While he is more or less common in the northwestern states, some of the biologists tell us that he is extinct in eastern North America. This opinion should be subject to some revision.

In 1928 I saw two of these animals in Florida. One of them was in the wooded area on the edge of the St. Johns River marshes and one in a swamp not 20 miles from Daytona. These cats were alive and active. Two others were shot and brought into Orlando, Fla., that same year. I saw the bodies of these, too.

NEVER EXTINGUISHED
It is my humble opinion that the cougar has never been extinct in the eastern states. So far as I know, none have been killed recently in the eastern states north of Florida, but too many reports come in of these animals being sighted to allow us to believe that all of them are flights of fancy.

About 30 miles from my home in central Pennsylvania a mountain lion was seen by two young men. The big cat was bounding after a half-grown cow in the hillside pasture of their farm. Their shouts saved the little cow from unpleasant eventualities, as the big cat turned and vanished into the woods.

Now, these boys keep "varmint dogs" and each winter they account for their share of wild cats. They know the animals of our woods and when they see a big, black cat, they know it's a cougar.

American Beats Bob Rosburg Russ Chess Champ Heads For Tournay Win

MOSCOW (AP)—Samuel Reshevsky, No. 1 United States player from New York, turned in one of the greatest upsets in chess history Friday when he defeated Mikhail Botvinnik, Russia's world champion.

The game was a continuation of their first-round contest which was adjourned Wednesday. Friday the American drew with Botvinnik. They will meet two more times in the U.S.-Soviet series.

tawny cat with a long tail, there is no possibility of any confusion in identification.

Last month we received word of a mountain lion being sighted in Missouri, this time by a conservation agent who spends all his days in the open. Visibility was good and the animal was well seen, 50 feet from the warden. No question of mistaken identity.

All too many of our native species, particularly birds, have been allowed to become extinct. While an animal the size of a mountain lion must make heavy demands on the game supply, there are not enough of them to do any great damage. I, for one, hope that these big beasts continue to be seen now and then. I can think of nothing that would enliven a day in the outdoors more than a chance view of a mountain lion.

SEAR FISHING

Some time ago you may have seen a news story by this department having to do with the depredations of the spear fishermen—the skin divers—in Florida water. Last March a petition was being circulated, and was signed, appealing to the law makers to make this subaqueous sport illegal in Monroe County, Florida. The county that includes the Florida Keys.

Evidently enough public indignation has been aroused in south Florida to convince those who participated in this wasteful pastime that the conservationists really mean business. Accordingly, the Florida Skin Divers Association has sent a resolution to the State legislature, requesting regulatory legislation which will curb the depredations of some of these fellows who seem to want to kill anything that comes within range.

Skin-diving is solely in need of regulation. The directors of the association should be commended upon this far-sighted move.

FISH SHELTERS IN LAKES

The Wisconsin Conservation Commission, a live-and-let-live outfit, sends a report showing how fish shelters are functioning in their waters. No longer is the installation of log and brush shelters as a matter of guess work as to efficiency. Now we know just what goes on.

Department men, in skin-diving suits, went down to see just what was happening. At one shelter in 10 feet of water they counted 123 fish of various species—bass, crappies, rock bass and bluegills. Another shelter in 14 feet of water held 78 fish of the same species.

As a matter of comparison, a natural concentration spot was checked. This held only 22 fish. Now the Wisconsin anglers should have an easier time of it in locating the good fishing areas.

Plans for Color TV Slowed By Black and White Sales

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—A boom in sales of black and white sets is completely overshadowing color television, which appears to be stuck on dead centre.

Set makers estimate retail sales may well equal or surpass 1954's record 7,300,000 sets. But the Radio-Electronics-Television Manufacturers Association reports a prevailing view among set makers that only 35,000 color sets will be sold this year—less than one-half of one per cent of the total.

The booming business in black and white sets, incidentally, is the real upshot on the slowness of the spread of color TV among viewers. As long as customers snap up black and white sets readily, there's no great incentive among manufacturers to push color—and only a handful have made an effort to do so.

However, NBC and CBS will step up their color programming in the fall after a summer lull, and a few of the manufacturers will resume their push on color sets. NBC is expected to have some color on the air every day.

SHOWS LACKING

The high prices of color sets—$800 up—has been pictured as the big drawback to the spread of color. Color sets at $800 are hardly mass market items but there are many families who could afford them at that price if they felt there were enough tinted telecasts to warrant the higher cost. Meanwhile, one big trend in set buying is the purchase of a second set. Another is replacement of obsolete, small screen sets. Thus many sales are being made to the estimated 71 per cent of American homes that already have TV.

One authoritative source estimates that five per cent of TV homes had second sets at the start of the year and the number will rise to seven per cent by next Jan. 1. That factor, plus considerable junking of old sets now being replaced, means that set sales figures no longer indicate corresponding increases in homes with TV.

Incidentally, NBC's latest estimate is that 36,100,000 sets were in use June 1.

SAD BUT TRUE

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — This is the sad but true story of the golfer who tallied a hole in one, yet ended a five for his score on the hole.

Deputy state auditor Joseph Sargent performed the feat Thursday on the 173-yard ninth hole at the local course.

Sargent's tee shot went out of bounds and he teed off again for a penalty stroke. His second tee shot also went out of bounds. He teed up again, taking another penalty.

Shooting five, Sargent dropped the ball into the cup with a brass-ware enough tinted telecasts to

It looks as if defence bidders must do a lot of guessing in the higher bidding levels. But the fact is that they can reach game or slam as easily as the opening side. Sometimes easier.

Up jump the deal you see here:

♣	K 9 7

The bidding went like this:

South	West	North	East
1 Pass	2 ♥	6 Pass	4 No-T.
5 ♥	5 ♥	6 Pass	6 ♥

The west bid of two hearts was a jump overcall. It promised a re-ridable suit and eight tricks. With five tricks and very good support for a re-ridable suit, east saw slam as likely.

His four no-trump bid is the signal for asking partner about his total aces. The west five heart bid in reply is the Gordon convention for showing only one ace and one king.

North made a desperate attempt to take a sacrifice here. But east simply went to the small slam in hearts he was headed for all the time. Expecting to defeat it, south let it rest there.

When west showed only one ace and one king, was it practical for east to see a re-ridable suit? Take stock of what he now knows and you will see that his decision made sense.

The west jump overcall promises eight tricks. With only one ace and one king, where are his other six tricks? Some may be in queens. But he must have short-ages in at least two suits. So, the missing ace and two kings are not the menaces they might be.

As you can see the slam was easy to make with proper play. After pulling opponent's trumps, west cashes dummy's club ace and leads a club toward his own queen. The only trick lost is to the south club king.

Some hands do not need a blue-print.

Leafs, Royals Divide Wins; Bisons Triumph

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first four teams of the International League are just plain tuckered out. After battling each other for nearly 12 hours Friday, Toronto, Montreal, Havana and Columbus are just where they were when the long afternoon began.

Ed Blake had it in the clutch as he went the route in Toronto's 2-1 extra-inning contest after Columbus had outlasted the champs 10-9 in the opener, Montreal and Havana also had a pair of one-run affairs. Sugar Kings winning the opener 5-4 and dropping the second game 4-3.

Sugar Kings are third in the standings, but they are the champions as far as versatility is concerned. Manager Rezie Otero has had his pitchers shuttle to first base and the outfield, catchers Joe Montalvo and Oscar Sierra playing first and third, first basemen moving to the outfield, and outfielders coming in to play the infield.

FIFTH STRAIGHT WIN

Gene Mickens, who rescued starter Glenn Cox in the third inning, pitched one-hit ball to win his fifth triumph without a setback, making him the top pitcher in the league percentage-wise.

Toronto's Blake now is the loop's biggest winner as he notched his 11th victory in 13 decisions, spacing nine hits over eight frames.

The finest individual performance was turned in by Jim Bunning, who pitched Buffalo Bisons to Thrills Galore!

"Sabaka," the exciting color film (print by Technicolor) which opens at the Capitol Theatre Monday, probably has more excitement per foot than any film ever made. For example here are some of the thrills caught by the color cameras: a hand-to-hand fight between a boy and a leopard; a tremendous animal stampede involving more than 5,000 beasts; 100,000 followers of the fire-worship cult performing their mystic rites; 30,000 turbaned troops on dress parade.

"Black Tuesday"

In "Black Tuesday," United Artists release which opens Monday at the Capitol Theatre, Edward G. Robinson is starred as a gangster who engineers a violent and bloody jail-break. Garred with him in the Leonard Goldstein production are Jean Parker and Peter Graves.

A hard-hitting story of a killer who holds an entire city police force at bay while barricading himself and several hostages. "Black Tuesday" was produced by Robert Goldstein and directed by Hugo Fregonese.

Both attractions are first Belleville showings.

"His Majesty O'Keefe"

Set drifting during a mutiny, Bert Lancaster, a sea captain, lands on the South Pacific island of Yap, where a native medicine man befriends him. Lancaster returns to Hong Kong to line up a Chinese junk for a trading expedition. During the voyage he re-encounters his medicine-man friend and, capitalizing on the natives' worship of great stone idols, is on his way to great wealth through a barter system, trading stones for copra. He takes time out to wed Joan Rice, a half-caste, then pits his strength against Charles Horvath, a terrorizing pirate. Overthrowing Horvath, he is viewed by the Yap natives as a king; his rule is marked by bloodshed, and Lancaster — sketched by the intrigue and violence — plans to leave, but the warring natives urde and insist that he and his bride remain.

a 4-1 victory over Richmond. It was the 14th consecutive defeat for last-place Richmond.

In the other contest, Syracuse downed Rochester 4-3 in another tight affair behind the seven-hit pitching of Jim Owens, who went the route for his fourth victory.

Claudette Colbert Enjoying Making First Western Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You probably never expected to see Claudette Colbert galloping through the sage brush in a movie western. But that's what she's doing these days. What's more, she's having the time of her life.

The French-born sophisticate is starring in "Texas Lady," her first Hollywood film in four years. "This is not a western," she corrected as she exited from a tense scene with Barry Sullivan. "This is a good drama against a western background."

Okay, so it isn't a western. Anyway, it's got a lot of horses and guns and a bad guy trying to run the stranger (Sullivan) out of town. Miss Colbert is an innocent bystander, having inherited the hamlet's newspaper.

REALIZES AMBITION

Why is she doing the western? "Because I've always wanted to do one," she replied. "All the men get to do it. Jimmy (Stewart) and Gary (Cooper) and even Spence (Tracy). Why should they have all the fun?"

Claudette admitted she wasn't so sure it was going to be fun when she had to ride horseback in a corset.

"I hadn't ridden a horse for about 12 years," she said. "That was bad enough—but to have to ride in one of these straightblack-ets! When I started to get on, I told them I wasn't so sure I was going to make it. But I did."

Now she's in the swing of things and happy to be back in pictures after a year of television.

For Sunday, July 3, 1953
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Very benefic aspects today, except for your own Mars cautions against unkind remarks, over-aggressiveness, carelessness of health.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—An unusually good planetary set-up favoring events aiding church, charity, children's activities, camps and the like. Attend your church; enjoy some healthy recreation, a hobby.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—A chance for you to aid programs in which you are interested but don't have time for during the week. Stimulating aspects should bring you new spiritual and temporal credits.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Your Moon, Jupiter and other planets, in benefic positions favor good deeds, wholesome entertainment, sports, etc. Assist church, charity affairs; keep your soul nourished with prayer.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Splendid indications for a happy, productive day. It really depends on how you plan and execute your schedule. Don't neglect your soul; help your family and lonely ones to enjoy the day.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—This day holds promise for unusual and delightful interests, favors money projects to aid good causes, the lonely and ill, and children's activities. Enjoy religious services, too.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Strictly selfish intentions won't succeed but you will find hearty response to generous motives, activated by thought of God and His wishes. A fine day for essential work, too.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Travel, investigations, aeronautics, necessary business and work highly favored. This can be an intriguing, happy and fruitful day depending upon your actions and disposition.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—You have good prospects now. Start the day right by going to church and see that your family is cared for, and happy.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—You can garner benefits through working with the right people and prospects. You have several favorably aspected planets now. Think of your many blessings and of Him Who gave them! Be grateful.

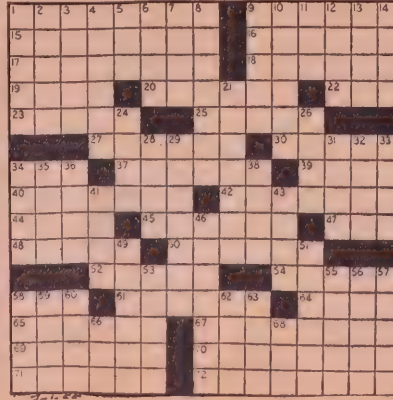

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Your natal planet Uranus is in an encouraging position. A pleasant and usefully spent day will be yours if you tend to spiritual and family duties cheerfully.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—In most benefic position is your close neighbor planet Uranus, which should bring you fresh advantages, good openings. Also favored: artistic and scientific professions, new projects, friendships.

You born today are natural home-makers, good neighbors, generous, loving parents and lifemates. You have great talent and many assets for making a success of your life. You may have unusual literary ability, could be a top-notch actor, lawyer, public speaker, and conscientious statesman. You have a persuasive, winning personality, are sincere, clean-minded and like wholesome things, high principles. Curb any tendency to moodiness, over-sensitiveness, argumentativeness. Birthdate: Henry Grattan, Irish statesman; Louis XI, King of France.

Pat Maracle Beats Bobby Hunter

In Airtight Softball Mound Duel

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Failure to touch home plate by John Batchelor with two out in the bottom of the ninth and his team one run behind was the deciding factor in by far the tightest, most evenly fought pitchers' duel of the season on Thursday evening as the runners-up Point Anne Cementmen shaded the league-leading Orfuns 2-1 at the C.N.R.A.A. Park.

For the Orfuns it was their second straight defeat after winning their first eight games while the Pointers now boast a 6-3 record for a solid second place.

Veteran Patter Maracle of the Cementmen and his ex-student, Bobby Hunter, put on one of the best displays of twin pitching witnessed in these parts for some time. The pair traded inning after inning of perfect pitching, each allowing the usual power-hitting opposition but three hits. Maracle had an edge in the strike-out department, striking five or strikes, while Hunter claimed two. The winner, walked but one while Hunter was worked for three free passes. It was Maracle's fifth win against one setback.

Both teams came up with brilliant plays in the field, the Orfuns cutting off two potential rallies with double plays, but the great pitching overshadowed this. The Orfuns were a hitting team, the first pitch most of the night and at one time Maracle retired six straight men on seven pitches, all six batters popping or flying out.

Point Anne went down in order to open the game and after Maracle fanned the first two batters he faced, a walk and error loomed as trouble, but Bobby Hull lined a sharp single to right-center for the third out. Lefty Moff's nine plated both their markers in the second frame when, with one out, Goyer walked. Wade popped out but Bobby Hull lined a sharp single to right-center and took second as Jones momentarily, bobbled the ball.
Hunter then showed a crack in his armour for the only time the game by wild pitching both runners home.

Meanwhile Maracle gave up a single to Jack Wardhaugh in the third and both pitchers had one-hitters going in the fourth inning. Two errors put the Orfuns in trouble in the fifth but a double played ended the damage and in the sixth a pair of walks to Goyer and Wade again brought in a twin-killing.

Bill Spafford's club came back with one run in the eighth after a long argument. Claude Carr pulled a double to right field with one out and advanced to third on Bromley's infield out and Hunter lifted a foul pop back of first base. Bennett and Goyer came over and the ball glided off the first-sacker's glove. Goyer getting it just before it struck the ground. Meanwhile Carr had tag-

Fleitz Meets

Brough In

Tennis Final

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—
Mrs. Beverly Baker Fleitz of Santa Monica, Calif., who plays tennis only when she can get a baby sitter, meets steady Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., today for the Wimbledon women's tennis title.

The two American girls move on to the same centre court where Davis Cupper Tony Trabert of Cincinnati captured the men's championship Friday with a 6-3, 7-5, 6-1 victory over Denmark's Kurt Nielsen.

If she whips Miss Brough, Mrs.
Fleitz will become the first married woman to win the title without having taken it as a single girl.

Trabert disposed of Nielsen in 75 minutes.

The unseeded Nielsen, who two years ago lost to Vic Seixas of Philadelphia in the finals, broke top-seeded Trabert's service only once—in the second set.

Trabert handled Nielsen's power-<

Winnipeg Boy Posthumously Awarded Scout's Bronze Cross

OTTAWA (CP)—A 14-year-old Winnipeg boy who died while trying vainly to save his brother from drowning has been posthumously awarded the Boy Scouts' Bronze Cross.

The name of Ted Neil Thrasher was the list of awards to scouts and cubs announced today by Governor-General Massey, Canada's chief scout.

Ted and his seven-year-old brother, David, both were drowned in the fast-moving waters of the Assiniboine river last July 23. David fell from a mile wharfed boat to the river bank at Winnipeg. Ted plunged in and was drowned in a gallant attempt to save his younger brother.

OTHER AWARDS

The Silver Cross for "gallantry with considerable risk" was awarded to Maxwell Dyke, 17, of St. John's, Nfld., and the Gilt Cross for "gallantry with moderate risk" to Jack Burton Gorman, 12, of North Bay, Ont.

The Silver Acorn for distinguished service to scouting was won by four veteran scout leaders: F. S. Fry, Calgary; C. R. Lennan, Regina; C. S. Matkin, McGrath, Alta.; and Dr. J. J. Ower, Edmonton. Two other adults, Louis-Maurice Serre, Montreal, and James L. Scobie, Delta, Ont., won certificates of merit for good service to scouting.

Among younger recipients, John Peter, 8, of New Westminster, B.C., is awarded a medal for meritorious conduct. Certificates of meritorious conduct go to William Henry Galtens, 14, Ottawa, and William Renden, 12, of Edmonton. Robert Frank Reynolds, 9, of Sarnia, Ont., receives a letter of commendation for meritorious conduct.

"QUICK THINKING"

Maxwell Dyke won his Silver Cross by rescuing 27-year-old Harold Bolger of St. John's from the upper Humber river after their canoe capsized near Gales Bottom, Nfld., last July 10. The award commended Dyke for his "quick thinking and presence of mind" in rescuing a non-swimmer.

Dyke, crippled, had his right arm supported in a leather case at the time.

Gorman won his Gilt Cross for the rescue last Aug. 15 of 12-year-old Michael Vezina from Lake Nipissing near their North Bay home. While the boys were swimming, Michael suddenly had a severe cramp in his left leg and was in danger of drowning in the rough water. Gorman dragged his companion to safety.

John Peter, a cub, was awarded his medal for meritorious conduct for saving his four-year-old brother Teddy, from serious burns. Teddy threw stove oil on a fire in the outdoor fireplace behind their New Westminster home on April 20, 1954. His clothes took fire, but John quickly rolled his younger brother in sand and saved him from serious burns.

RESCUED INFANT

Galtens last July 1 rescued 24-year-old Patsy Henderson of Ottawa from the Ottawa river at nearby Crown Point, Ont., when a log she was holding carried the child beyond her depth.

Renden last July 25 rescued Sheran Long, 7, of Winnipeg from the waters of Gonzales bay, Victoria, B.C. when she fell from a log on which she was playing.

Reynolds received a letter of commendation for meritorious conduct for his "cheerfulness, concern for his fellow patients and his continued interest in the activities of his pack despite the fact that he was confined to bed with poliomyelitis" from July 29, 1954, to Jan. 21, 1955.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Monday, July 4, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—This day's influences are not entirely auspicious for business or personal interests. However, your practical and economic sense should help greatly in solving problems which may arise. Be amenable.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—You may have to use all your "know-how" and profit by past experience to get ahead today.

Don't rely on that "everything will be okay" theory. Be smart, cautious; work for your goals.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—This should not be disturbing but should give you cause for serious thought. There may be some trying circumstances but they can be resolved if you handle them properly.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Check situations carefully in the a.m. The afternoon aspects are encouraging for important matters and usual daily affairs.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Take time to study and analyze problems and plan moves you are going to make carefully. Stars indicate some contention. Be prepared and quietly confident but don't worry.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—There may be some trying conditions, difficult objectives to reach—but not for long. Mark time, be alert, ready to act when better openings appear. Be cheerful, have faith, relax some.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—At first glance this day may seem dull. But look sharply; there are hidden advantages which you can find and use to bring unexpected gain. Romance highly favored.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Industry interests, stocks, bonds, advance in business highly favored. Good news likely; also unexpected help from a relative or friend. A progressive day.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Things may break well and opportunity come when least expected. Help yourself to honest advantage. Financial and professional matters sponsored. Heart interests favor.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Similar tendencies to Sagittarius today; you should be hopeful, acquire. Many favorable influences. Romance tops.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—The influence of Uranus, slightly restrictive, warns against carelessness and unhealthy restlessness. Care urged in air travel, handling liquids. Otherwise, the day is encouraging, profitable—if you put forth your best efforts.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Things should run agreeably if you do not go to extremes or be reckless with time, money, property. It can be a happy period if you are conscientious and purposeful.

You born today are sympathetic, intuitive, highly talented. Interesting. A tendency to worry needlessly are not good for you, your family or friends. Moodiness deters progress; clear thinking aids it. You are more capable when hopeful in mind. The end of 1955 has fine opportunities open to you. Control restlessness and don't become easily dissatisfied. When feeling "down", read something cheerful. Visit friends, pray. Alfred Barklett Found Drowned

Off Yacht Club

Police Saturday afternoon hauled the body of Alfred Barklett, 62, city resident from the waters of Belleville harbor, off the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club.

Barklett, who came to Canada from England about 35 years ago, lived in a shack behind 211 Coleman Street, and had worked in city restaurants. At the time of his death he was employed by the Dixie Inn Barbecue on West Bridge.

His body was found about 2:40 p.m., floating in the water between the club grounds by a young couple, canoeing in the waters. Their yells attracted Bob White, carrying Place, employed by the club, who was raking the lawn behind the clubhouse.

Mr. White dashed to the end of the lawn and saw the dead man floating on the water "just about 12 feet away from the point."

Mr. White's hurried alarm was first answered by city police inspector Clair Hayes, who dragged the dead man from the water after he had been pushed inshore by the canoeist. As soon as Inspector Hayes gripped the body, the canoe and its occupants made off. A city fire emergency unit, rushed to the scene, found it unnecessary to render any services.

Hurried police investigation followed the finding, when the body yielded no identification.

Mrs. Maurine Holley, resident of 211 Coleman Street, recalled Barklett, "a quiet, friendly man" had been her neighbor for about two years.

"I saw him yesterday (Friday) about five o'clock when he was coming in. He looked fine then," she said.

Inspector Hayes said later there would be no inquest.

Cornwall Man Arrested After Hit-Run Crash

Good police work on the part of Constable G. A. Oliver of the Ontario Provincial Police was responsible Sunday evening for landing a Cornwall motorist in jail on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

About 10:30 Miles Poliak, of Toronto, reported to police that while driving near Shawanaga his car had been sideswiped by another vehicle. During his investigation Constable Oliver found a car in the ditch about three miles east of where the accident had occurred.

The vehicle compared with the description given of the one involved in the accident and following a hunt that two men seen walking along the highway may have been involved, the officer turned back and found the men eating at a highway stand east of Milltown.

As result of questioning John McLeod of Cornwall, was apprehended. Police said McLeod had been operating his car without a driver's licence.

Police Blotter

Two American families touring through Ontario had their journey delayed early Sunday when their cars collided on Dundas street causing approximately $400 damage to each vehicle.

Frank Stacey of Springfield, N.Y., was eastbound on Dundas, when as he attempted to make a left turn into a service station, his vehicle was in collision with a westbound car driven by Walker C. Raiford, of Nashville, Tenn.

A Ritchie avenue man, Kenneth Ramey, reported that his 17-year-old wife, Margaret, was missing from home. The young woman was described as being 5 feet, 6 inches in height, weighing 135 lbs., with blonde hair and gray eyes.

Visit to Shakespeare Festival Is Gay, Wholly Fascinating

By ROBERT TANNER

Stratford, Ontario, and the Shakespeare Festival have become so nearly synonymous to most of us, that it is hard to believe that this is only its third season. The wildly rash and daring of two years ago, teetering precariously on the brink of financial crisis has become a solidly established and internationally renowned event of great artistic importance, not only to Canada, but the world theatre at large.

And now, with this year's exciting program of concerts, which opens next Saturday, the Festival broadens its scope to include a later act. Already, too, painting, sculpture and literature are represented by exhibitions well patronized by visitors to what is, however, still primarily a drama festival.

Judge by two of this year's three productions, the 1955 season will certainly do nothing to lower the reputation already achieved by the Festival. The production of "Julius Caesar" provides good contrast, somewhat heightened by the fact that while the former is directed by Dr. Tyrone Guthrie, the latter is in the hands of Michael Langham, who has produced a number of Shakespeare's plays in England, notably for the Old Vic Company.

WHOLLY FASCINATING

Dr. Tyrone Guthrie's production of "Julius Caesar" is a fascinating experience. Much has been written about the meaning of this play and many controversies have raged over it. Dr. Guthrie seems to interpret the play as a tragedy of a confident assertion that there is good and evil in every man, regardless of race, color or creed.

Even the character of Shylock, which at the crisis of the play appears to have no redeeming feature, is portrayed in such a way that as he is driven, ruined, from the court house, all our sympathies are on his side. It is, perhaps, a most striking tribute to his interpretation that Dr. Guthrie has been asked to direct this same play next fall for the Habima players of Israel.

As in former years, much credit for the play's attractiveness must go to Tanya Moiseiwitch for her really spectacular directing. Taking many liberties with the accepted rules of color combination, this talented designer uses the characters to paint a continually changing yet ever delightful picture. The costumes, too, are of a high quality, and Bassano's white coat with gold embroidery, the open sleeves of which hang nearly to the ground, linger particularly in the mind.

By now we have come to expect good acting from the entire Stratford cast, and again we were not disappointed. It is a measure of how far we have come in these days that the world's foremost dramatic critics now assemble at Stratford not to give this venture an encouraging pat on the back, but rather to judge their performances by the highest possible standards, and in comparison with the great figures of the theatre.

The performances of this year's "Importations" — Frederick Valk as Shylock and Helen Burt as Portia — are of a high quality. Michael Langham's wife, as Nerissa, are both in their very different ways, outstanding. Mr. Valk plays the money-lender with a controlled power and dynamic range which dominates the play. Miss Burns, on the other hand, who can say more with one blink than her large innocent eyes, then in a whole, gives a truly delightful performance as Portia's maid.

PORTIA IS CHARMING

Francis Hyland makes an unusual Portia, so charming that it is no wonder that she has so many varied suitors, but rather less credible in the court scene, where she makes far too beautiful a boy. However, her demeanor there, and her delivery of the famous lines, leaves nothing to be desired and shows her to be a very fine actress indeed.

Other notable performances include that of Frederick Valk as Shylock, who is haunted throughout the play as much by the prospect of losing Bassano's friendship as by the dire peril in which this friendship involves him. Donald Harron's Bassano shows warmth and variety, while in a beautiful cameo performance as the Prince of Morocco, Eric Hogg provides a sober contrast to Eric House's delightfully humorous portrayal of the Prince of Arragon, Fortia's third suit.

If there is a weakness in this presentation of "The Merchant" it is a certain slowness in the first half which could be helped by the removal or drastic cutting of the scenes of the most important scenes. This was a remedy which Dr. Guthrie did not hesitate to adopt in his revitalized production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" in 1953.

STRONG DIRECTION

There are parts of Michael Langham's production of "Julius Caesar" which reach the heights of the first season's "Richard III", regarded by many as still the peak of Stratford endeavor. In emphasizing the weaknesses, both of body and character, of Caesar himself, Mr. Langham has presented his four principal actors with a very difficult, perhaps an impossible, task.

Robert Christie, with physique and profile beautifully suited to the part, is made to portray a Caesar almost senile, and so readily swayed by flattery that there seems to be no reason for Brutus' love for him, Cassius' fear of him and Anthony's praise of him. Thus only Donald Davis, in a superb part, makes the same character, manages to be entirely convincing. His delivery of the funeral oration, so well known as to be almost hackneyed, is a real masterpiece, rare in the same way, the most difficult and more compelling by Michael Langham's wonderful handling of the mob, which spreading throughout the whole festival tent, produces such a large, solid sound as to give this familiar scene a force and reality it may never have had before.

Lorne Greene's Brutus never quite loses the hand of the producer's interpretation and while adequate by most standards, fails to reveal why Brutus was held in such high esteem in Rome. As the wretched Cassius, Evonmora, provides a rather consistently in the same key to be credited with a well-rounded performance.

VIVID PERFORMANCE

Yet, when these criticisms have been made, there remains a most exciting and vivid performance, the pace of which seldom flags, and which seldom fails to attract attention. All the crowd and battle scenes, the latter arranged by Douglas Campbell, are superb and the acting of the minor roles is more than adequate. Even the most minor parts, nearly 60 in all, it would be invidious to pick out a few names for special mention, but Douglas Campbell as Caesar stands out for sheer mastery of speech, action and mime.

The third production, which I hope to visit later in the season, is a repeat of last year's "Oedipus Rex," which Douglas Campbell replaces James Mason in the title role, with Eleanor Stuart and Robert Goodier in the other two chief parts.

In the exhibitions already mentioned, of the visiting the Festival read the plays beforehand. This year, as an experiment, I ignored Portia's dictum "It's a good divine that follows his own practice," so does true appreciation of a Shakespeare play.

THE Richard Southern exhibition of pictures and drawing illustrating the history of the theatre is augmented this year by a series of interesting and well-chosen theatrical productions. Unrelated to the theatre but of considerable interest are the paintings and drawing from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Band, by such famous Canadian artists as A. Y. Jackson, Emily Carr and F. H. Varley.

In conclusion, may I repeat this advice to anyone visiting the Festival read the plays beforehand. This year, as an experiment, I ignored Portia's dictum "It's a good divine that follows his own practice," so does true appreciation of a Shakespeare play.

Terrific Heat Wave Drives
City Dwellers to Water Resorts

Death riding in the wake of a terrific heat wave marked the holiday "long" week-end.

Some 93 Canadians met death by drowning, fatal fatalities and other causes, and the late Joseph MacDonald, and lived all her life in that community.

She is survived by her father, her husband, W.O. Gordon K. Casseleman, who is serving with the RCAF in Germany; one son, Kenneth, and four daughters: Gail, Sharon, Elida and Carol, all at home.

She was a member of St. John's Anglican Church, Point Anne. The deceased is resting at the Belleville Funeral Home. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

OVERFLOW QUOTAS AT RESORTS

The eighty-five degree heat drove city residents to the comparative coolness of lake, river, and other water-tempers resorts. Wellington, the Sandbanks, the Outlet, not to mention the many spots in the northern areas of Hastings County, held, in some cases, overflow quotas.

Residents, who remained in the city thronged the bay bridge, the parks or the coolness of lawns and verandahs.

There were no vehicular traffic accidents reported in the city up to an early hour this morning.

Anglers dotted the haunts of the elusive bass and flunge, for the season's official opening on July 1. There were no reports of any exceptional hauls.

MANY ON BAY

The bay in this area saw a large number of boats with occupants seeking the wily bass, while Muscote Bay, reputed home of the muskie had a large quota.

Hot weather golfers took to the links in goodly numbers, while some picnic tables were well patronized. Cottages and cabins bordering watering spots and other places were holiday spots for those who preferred good old-fashioned summer pleasures.

What cool breezes were apparent on the bay proper were taken advantage of by yachtsmen and other boat owners. Small boys and other swimmers splashed in the bay at various points.

But the holiday fun was over this morning. Another day dawned and with it the jobs, and what not, also the heat. And the weather man gives no respite tomorrow. Says he, it will be hot, sunny and humid.

Train's Spark
Blamed for Fire

A spark from a passing train was believed responsible for a blaze shortly before midnight Saturday night which burned a wood pile and chicken house at 59 Frank Street.

Firemen said there were no chickens in the building which was almost completely destroyed.

Early Sunday morning firemen were called back to the same address, this time for a fire in an auto owned by F. Goodfellow. A carelessly dropped cigarette was believed to have been responsible for the blaze which burned the cushions of the car.

EDINBURGH (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth, in flowing green mantle and white-plumed hat, today presided over the installation of two new knights of the Order of the Thistle, Scotland's ancient order of chivalry.

The medieval ceremony took place in the tiny Thistle chapel within the Cathedral of St. Giles here. The new knights are the Earl of Crawford and Balcarres and Lord ...

The Queen walked in procession with her 11 Thistle knights down the long central aisle of the cathedral. A double line of her Scottish bodyguards—the Royal Company of Archers—carrying long bows stood on duty from the cathedral's west door to the chapel entrance.

Heretics in ancient tabards of blue and gold led the slow procession. Last of the knights was the Duke of Edinburgh who walked immediately in front of the Queen.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

There will be no swimming classes for Scouts at the YMCA until September 10th. June was quite a busy month. Scout Dave Mitchell of the 2nd, Dick Fule (1st); Norman Jamieson (2nd) and Gordon James (4th) passed the Scout test. Cubs Jim Muir (1st); John Goslin (8th); Billy Buddle (8th) and Wayne Gough (8th) won the Cub swimming badge. During this year 38 boys won badges made up as follows: 4th, ten; 1st and 8th, five each; 2nd, 3rd and 9th, four each; 10th, three; 6th, two; 12th, one.

This is the third year the YMCA have donated their pool for Scouts, and nearly 250 boys have passed tests in this time. Most of them were non-swimmers. We have been fortunate in having good instructors who will be with us again next September.

The need is for more boys who cannot swim. Our staff of competent instructors is anxious to do their "good turn" by teaching every boy in Belleville how to look after himself in the water. If your boy is not a Scout send him to the YMCA where he will be well looked after. We urge all leaders and parents to send their boys to the classes. In scouting the badge is not important, but the fact he wears it proves that the boy has passed every qualifying test. Our objective is to teach a boy to swim, not to fill his arm with badges. The growing list of drowning fatalities is the challenge all are facing.

Let us in Belleville set an example and lessen the terrible toll taken each year because of carelessness and lack of water safety knowledge.

The Quinte Amateur Radio Club invited a unit of Boy Scouts to take part in their annual field day. The purpose of this event is to contact as many other amateur radio stations as possible, in all parts of the world, using their own emergency power. In the event of essential services failing, communication would be carried on by these amateurs. It is a volunteer group and although they don't publicize themselves they are doing a mighty fine job in the interests of other people. A real public service.

According to Howard E. Fralick, the chairman, our boys did remarkably well. They erected tents, cooked supper and showed a keen interest in the whole affair. Mr. Fralick tells us that the boys had a good time in the bush talking to each other, equipped with Walkie Talkies.

The boys who were there were Rover Scouts Roger Wilkins, Bob Owen, Gerry Putman and Scouts Larry Gerow and Paul Bergand. Knowing these boys we can readily believe that the Walkie Talkies would appeal to them. Rover Skipper Murray Johnston was in charge on Saturday and DSM Ken Moore took over for Sunday.

Irving Gregson, CNR Brakeman, Retires Saturday

TRENTON (Special) — Irving Gregson, 65, brakeman of the Canadian National Railways for 35 years, made his last run on Saturday, officially retiring around midnight when train 445 pulled into Belleville station and the amiable brakeman stepped down from it for the last time.

Mr. Gregson had completed 20 years of service out of Belleville. Earlier he had "braked" on the Trenton-Maynooth run for 13 years. Yesterday, here at the Gregson residence on Metcalfe Street, railroad friends and their wives from Trenton, Belleville and the district visited the retired brakeman and members of his family at home on the occasion of Mr. Gregson's 65th birthday.

In three and a half decades Mr. Gregson has noted many steps of progress in railroading. He considers the conversion to diesel as the greatest of them.

"There are no cinders blowing in your eyes anymore," he observed.

He recalled that when he started in the service top pay was $51.2 a day while that rate is more than $100 now.

Brakeman Gregson was a crew member with engineer Joe Rock, conductor Bobby Muir and trainman B. Doyle, all of Belleville. He said that he had been able to find lots of time to concentrate on woodworking, his favorite hobby. He displays one of his best efforts in his living room, a beautiful lamp in different colored pieces of wood.

A resident of Trenton 46 years, Mr. Gregson raised two daughters, Mrs. Kitchener (Margaret) Lowe; Mrs. Frank (Helen) Hewitt, living in Trenton, and a son, Gordon Gregson of Creemore.

Damage to the front of the car was estimated at $50 and an identical amount to the building.

Charge Woman With Murder After Fatal Fire

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) — Marjorie Somerville, 35, today was remanded to July 12 on a charge of murder in connection with the death Friday night of Caroline May Simmonds, 26, of Echo Bay.

The charred body of Miss Simmonds was found in the remains of a fire-swept shack 17 miles north of here where the two women lived with Donald Berry, 54, and his son Clifford, aged nine.

Police said the two women went with Berry to a hotel beverage room nine miles north of their home after an argument. Miss Somerville insisted on walking home barefoot.

Berry and Miss Simmonds passed her in a truck and she refused a ride home. Police alleged that when she got there she set fire to the shack with a can of gasoline.

SAV BODY IN FLAMES

Berry told police he was cutting wood in the bush when he saw the flames and rushed to the house fearing his son was trapped inside.

He told police Miss Somerville said there was no one in the burning building but neighbors watching the blaze said they saw the body of Miss Simmonds in the flames when a wall collapsed.

Police discovered the charred remains of a rifle in the burned-out shack but they said today it had no connection with Miss Simmonds' death.

QUEEN SEES QUEEN

PROPOSED NEW DELORO SMELTING PLANT

DELORO SMELTING Economic Omens Show 1955 "Biggest Ever" For Business

Mr. Walsh laid rest to any fears that the new plant east of Belleville will have any detrimental effect on nearby residential or other commercial property.

"There will be no objectionable odors from the plant and electric furnaces will do away with any possible chance of smoke nuisance," he said.

Primary product of the new plant will be a heat resistant alloy manufactured under the trade name of "Stellite" which has the characteristics necessary to withstand great wear, heat or corrosion is present.

The alloy is extremely hard and will retain almost 100 per cent strength under temperatures of up to 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

One of the applications for the use of "Stellite" is in the construction of jet aircraft engines where rotor blades subject to the highest temperatures are of this alloy.

NO OBJECTIONABLE ODORS

"Stellite" is also used for the manufacture of valves and valves known as lost wax process enables castings to an accuracy of within 3/1,000th of an inch and eliminates costly machine work time on complicated shape castings.

Mr. Walsh noted that the nature of the plant's operations were such that the type of finished product was seldom of any great weight or size. The entire process requires electric melting furnaces and no objectionable odors would be present.

Raw materials for "Stellite" consist of 65 per cent cobalt, which is manufactured at the Deloro plant from ores brought in from Northern Ontario and French Morocco. This is added to a combination of chromium, molybdenum, tungsten and other elements in lesser quantities.

Machinery for the new plant was expected to be installed late this year with commencement of production early next year.

Thurlow township reeve Cecil B. Ketcheson, in whose municipality the new plant is being erected, together with township clerk Earl Dapoe has co-operated with officials of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company in selecting the site for the factory.

Piano Marathon Ends

AYLMER (CP)—Nineteen-year-old Guy Bastien gave up his piano marathon at 1:25 a.m. Sunday after 41 hours and 25 minutes of continuous playing.

He was promptly taken to hospital. His legs were badly swollen from fatigue but late Sunday officials said he was resting and would be discharged today.

Bastien, who comes from Buckingham, Que., and is a former air-trafficman at RCAF station Aylmer, began his marathon at 8 a.m. Friday.

He was out to break the record of 30 hours held by Joe Mathe of Achute, Que.

Economic Omens Show 1955 "Biggest Ever" For Business

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—As Washington reads the economic omens, 1955 will easily be the "biggest ever" year for business and consumers, unmarred by either severe joblessness or menacing inflation.

At mid-year, officials and economists of the Eisenhower administration report no sign of a second-half slump which, six months ago, some of them thought might occur.

Instead they find production and income at all-time highs, and evidence still gaining altitude. They have virtually stopped worrying about a possible autumn sag in automobiles or housing production, figuring that by now down-drafts in some industries can be offset by up-drafts in others.

Industrial developments last month erased one potential blight on the general optimism, but added another. The new wage agreements in automobiles allayed fears of a crippling wave of strikes, but made some businessmen jittery over theyear.

possibility of wage-inflation. One White House adviser estimates unofficially that the total national output hit a rate equal to roughly $377,000,000,000 annually in the quarter just ended. That is $7,000,000,000 above the January-March quarter, which matched the peak of the best previous year, 1953.

A balanced budget, cherished goal of President Eisenhower's policy, is at last in sight. Officials hope to pare down the estimated $2,400,000,000 deficit for the 1956 fiscal year, now beginning, and to wipe out the red ink entirely in the '57 budget, which Eisenhower presents in January.

The budget picture makes it almost certain that Congress will approve tax cuts next session. Rising corporation profits and individual incomes have improved tax collections markedly in recent months and, on the political side, both parties are anxious to give the voters a tax break in an election year.

Countess of Mayo Spent 2 Months In Huge Cave

LONDON (AP)—The Countess of Mayo, once famed as a Mayfair hostess, is back in circulation after spending two months in a Himalayan cave.

The 51-year-old countess, who returned to London this weekend, told reporters she had gone to Rishikesh, northern India, to study the mystic Swami sect whose members dwell in caves.

She said she was the only woman in the whole colony.

"My cave was somewhat simpler than the 23-room house I kept up before the war," she said. "There was no furniture and I had a boulder and some wire netting to keep out monkeys."

"All I had to eat was fruit and potatoes. The Swamis offered me curries, but it was too hot."

She said she passed time in her cave practising yoga.

"Very good for the stomach muscles as well as the mind," she said.

The countess, who founded the Church of Active Truth at Edinburgh 11 years ago, was married to the ninth Earl of Mayo in 1937. They now live apart.

Pretty Brunette From Yukon Is Miss Canada

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A pretty brunette from Canada's far north Saturday night became Miss Canada for 1955.

Blue-eyed Delyce Gail Smith, 23, of Whitehorse, Yukon, won the crown here over 20 other attractive Canadian girls in the 10th annual selection.

A panel of eight judges from Canada and the United States chose Miss Smith after two preliminary nights of adjudication at London's Queen Park grandstand. Runners-up were Marilyn Lorraine Shipley, 21, of London and 22-year-old Valerie Lane of Winnipeg.

The Miss Canada pageant, brought here in conjunction with London centennial celebrations, is held each year to choose a girl to represent Canada at the Miss Atlantic City, Ga.

Miss Smith's prizes included a $1,000 scholarship cheque and an expense paid trip to Atlantic City. Wearing the blue Miss Canada gown, she was crowned by last year's queen, Barbara Joan Markham of Cornwall, before an estimated 2,000 people.

The Yukon beauty gave her height as five feet, 4 1/2 inches and her measurements as 34-23-34.

Two girls, Anne McCahey, an 18-year-old pianist from Montreal and Barbara Joan Alcorn, 22, an opera singer from Moncton, N.B., tied for the grand talent award.

Miss Smith, who is a department head in a drygoods store in Whitehorse, plans to stay in London for the next week to take part in Ontario centennial celebrations which will continue until Saturday.

After that she will make personal appearances on radio and television on a coast-to-coast tour of Canada and the United States.

Guardian Now 100 Years Old

MANCHESTER, England (Reuters)—The Manchester Guardian, one of the world's most influential newspapers and Britain's leading Liberal daily, celebrated its centenary as a daily newspaper Saturday.

Started as a weekly in 1821, the Guardian throughout its history has been noted for steadfast integrity and fearless championing of causes, however unpopular, which it believed to be right.

These factors, plus top coverage of the world's news hot spots by the paper's own far-flung network of correspondents, has given the Guardian an influence far out of proportion to its pitiful 150,000 daily circulation.

Always considered the "conscience" of the British press, the newspaper today is as vigilant against "tainted" news as it was under its great editor, C. P. Scott, who ran it from 1871 until 1923.

The creed of a newspaper was set down in a classic article by Scott in 1921. He wrote:

"Its primary office is the gathering of news. At the peril of its soul it must see that the supply is not tainted. Neither in what it gives nor in what it does not give, nor in the mode of presentation must the unclouded face of truth suffer wrong. Comment is free, but facts are sacred."

Harris Talks To 4,000 Czechs On Communism

TORONTO (CP)—Finance Minister Harris told 4,000 Czechs and Slovaks assembled here Sunday they "must strive to regain freedom" for Soviet-subjugated Czechoslovakia.

Communist rule in Czechoslovakia would end were a free election held, the minister said at the annual Czechoslovak Day and Sokol Festival.

The festival was led by Dr. Alex Masaryk, daughter of Czechoslovakia's famed first president, Thomas Masaryk.

Mr. Harris said in a speech at Sudbury Friday communism must be recognized as a godless, reactionary and destructive force.

In a speech read on his behalf by D. R. Mitchell, Liberal member of Parliament for Sudbury riding, the finance minister told the annual eastern Canada convention of the Ukrainian National Federation of Youth that Canada must be ready to meet force with force.

Northern B.C. Ports Without Shipping Service

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Queen Charlotte Islands and a number of small northern British Columbia ports were without regular shipping service today as the Seafarers' International Union (AFL-TUC) struck Union Steamships Ltd.

The strike, involving about 350 agents, began at noon Sunday and caught one of the company's six passenger vessels and seven freighters berthed in Vancouver. Another three arrived late Sunday night.

Noirm Cunningham, SIU port agent, said union members would bring vessels back to Vancouver before joining picket lines.

A prolonged strike would hit hard at a number of coastal communities and the 2,200 inhabitants of the Queen Charlotte Islands who depend upon the steamship company for movement of heavy freight and much of their fresh foodstuffs.

The strike followed failure of company and union representatives to reach agreement on a new contract, which had been under discussion since last March.

Oedipus Rex Highly Praised By Atkinson

NEW YORK (CP)—Brooks Atkinson, New York Times drama critic, says the play "Oedipus Rex" at the Stratford Shakespeare Festival "made a profound impression on everyone who saw it."

Reviewing the play which opened Tuesday night, Atkinson says in The Times Sunday edition that everything in it "has been orchestrated in an epic style."

"The masks, designed like graven images by Miss (Tanya) Moisevitch and Jacqueline Cundall, are extraordinarily vivid, and Miss Moisevitch's costumes are solem and imposing," the reviewer says.

"But it is the staging that places this 'Oedipus' on a heroic level—the groupings, the tempo, the ominous pauses, the passionate intonations, the measured movement, the contrasts in posture and style of walking."

"Everything has been orchestrated in an epic style. Although the acting is impersonal it is bursting with moral vitality. It ought to awaken the imagination of modern writers concerned over the moral degradation of the world today."

Shipwreck Ends Moonlight Cruise

AYLMER, Que. (CP)—A moonlight cruise of Lake Deschene ended in "shipwreck" for 80 passengers early Sunday when she struck and ran hard around on a rocky crib protecting the water in takes of this lakeside town.

A rescue brigade of rowboats was quickly organized from shore to remove her passengers after their efforts to "rock" her off by running back and forth on her decks failed to budge her. All were removed safely and no one was hurt.

Tory Daily Mail And Pravda Agree Dulles Is Wrong

LONDON (Reuters)—The Soviet Communist newspaper Pravda and London's Conservative Daily Mail find themselves surprisingly agreed today that Secretary of State Dulles had misinterpreted Soviet policy on Germany.

In editorials, the two widely-distributed newspapers declared that Dulles was wrong in saying at a press conference last week that Russia seems to have lost interest in German reunification.

Pravda says: "We cannot remain indifferent when men in position of authority in the Western governments seek to misinterpret Soviet foreign policy."

Pravda declares the true position was stated by Soviet Prime Minister Nikolai Bulganin May 21 when he said the establishment of a united Germany was a basic principle of Russian foreign policy.

The Daily Mail, in its editorial statement "one of the most startling diplomatic remarks for years."

"A solid neutral bloc in central Europe would be of enormous advantage to Russia," The Mail says. "But a solid bloc which was not neutral could be an enormous peril."

"For that reason we do not believe she is anything but intensely interested in the question."

Expect Segni Will Be Able To Form Govt.

ROME (AP)—Premier-designate Antonio Segni today embarked on the final phase of his week-long efforts to form a government for crisis-ridden Italy. His chances of success were termed good.

Told by President Giovanni Gronchi to report by Tuesday whether he can pick a cabinet to succeed Premier Mario Scelba's government which collapsed 12 days ago, Segni arranged meetings with Liberal party leaders to bargain for their backing.

The Liberals have posed the main threat to the 64-year-old, left-of-centre Christian Democrat's efforts to organize a four-party cabinet.

Segni may try to form a cabinet without the Liberals if they refuse their support. He would include Christian Democrats, Social Democrats and Republicans.

TORONTO (CP)—More than 800 employees of York Knitting Mills Ltd. today resumed work after weekend negotiations here ended a brief strike.

A company official said agreement was reached to continue with the same contract until Jan. 2, 1958. "There was some picketing at Woodstock during the weekend," he added.

The company announced Wednesday a 5 1/2-cent hourly wage cut would be asked but the union held a strike vote Thursday which endorsed its refusal to accept a reduction.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BECKMAN

ON GIFT TO FRIENDS' AUNT

Dear Mrs. Beckman: We're having quite a discussion in our house. My boy friend lives with his aunt and her parents are dead in a nearby suburb and the other day his aunt telephoned to me to invite me to come with my boy friend to Sunday mid-day dinner, week after next. I'm thrilled! I'd like very much to take his aunt something, perhaps a box of candy or handkerchiefs or some flowers. My father objects to this, saying it would look as if I were trying too hard to make an impression, but my mother thinks if I take a simple present, it would be quite all right. What do you think? — Anne K.

I think it just wouldn't be possible that your boy friend's aunt wouldn't be delighted at your kind thought of her. I'm a happy believer in that good custom of always taking a present, no matter how simple, to the hostess of a house on one's first visit to that house. (You might even mention that custom, as you have your aunt to her.) I suggest a box of candy or flowers, but not a handkerchief, which might be a bit too personal for the first visit. Your thought will 'I'm sure, make a charming (not a forced) first impression. And I'm sure too that your boy friend will be proud of your generous idea.

SHOWER FOR REMARRING COUPLE?

Dear Mrs. Beckman: A very dear friend of mine was divorced four years ago, but several months ago they talked over the situation, decided it was 'all a mistake,' and they are to be remarried the early part of next month. Before her first marriage several of us gave her showers, and we all gave her important wedding presents. The repeat ceremony is to be in the chapel of our church with only the two of them present, and the two attendants. But there is to be a reception for the relatives and friends. Should those of us who gave showers before, give showers again? And our group of friends are wondering whether or not we should give wedding presents this time? — Nancy R.

In these circumstances it would be inappropriate to give a shower. And presents would not be necessary, or shouldn't be expected.

HOW TO CLOSE THE LETTER

Dear Mrs. Beckman: I know that "Yours truly" or "Very truly yours" are correct forms for the close of a business letter, and also for most professional letters. But when letters are not exactly business in idea, are social but to a mere acquaintance or to someone you do not know well or possibly not at all, what form of close is correct?

2. My cousin uses "as ever," as a close to practically all her regular letters. Do you like this form of close? — Alma O.

1. "Sincerely," or perhaps better, "Sincerely yours" is without doubt the most convenient all-purpose close for letters to acquaintances and other not-quite-personal letters. It is the conventional close and is, appropriately, somewhat of the formal side.

2. No... I've never been enthusiastic about "As ever" as a close to a letter. It's certainly more than a bit on the vague and noncommittal side.

POSITION OF SOUP SPOON

Dear Mrs. Beckman: When soup is served in a soup plate, with the usual plate under the soup plate, should I leave the spoon in the soup plate or on the side of the under plate? — Reader

Leave the spoon in the soup plate... handle to the right, somewhat over the edge of the plate, and parallel to the edge of the table.

LOOK ALIKES

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

The long torso line is not for adults alone. Designers of fashions for little 'uns have adopted the silhouette, too, and with success. For proof we show you a nice mother and daughter who dress both featuring this styling. The fabric, amethyst frosted cotton, is diagonally tucked on the bodice and the hip-line cuff. The skirt, gathered from the hip yoke, has its own built-in petticoat. Mother's dress is collarless and sleeveless while small daughter goes in for a V collar and has little pearl buttons down the bodice front.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMIESON

COSMETICS FOR GADABOUTS

Vacation days are here! And you can add to the comfort of yours by packing lightly. When getting your trappings together, pause and take note. Are you overlooking any item you will need to keep your self looking pretty while you're away?

Have you taken a bird's eye view of the new offerings at cosmetic counters? There are special tabloid ones for travelers. No more jumbles of bottles, jars and boxes in your suitcase! You can blow your self to a toasty case that will carry everything you need, and which will be compact and handy for little extras—like your passport if you are going abroad.

A cleansing cream is indispensable. Wind and strong sunlight ravage the complexion and make-up is more easily removed with a lubricant than with soap suds.

You will not overlook rouge, lip stick and powder pads, of course. But, unless your eyebrows are as black as the raven's wing, you will need a brown crayon to accent them. And a bit of mascara on the lashes won't do a bit of harm.

Perfumes come in the tiniest vials now, and you might as well leave the toilet water at home; a cologne stick will take its place.

You'll probably have no time for professional manicures, so take along your own manicuring instruments. A broken finger nail can ruin one's day. And, if sight-seeing is on your holiday schedule, you won't go wrong if you include a foot powder.

BROWNS TWO CHILDREN

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

GIVE HER ANOTHER CHANCE: YOU'LL FIND OUT IF SHE REALLY CARES

Dear Miss Fairfax: Four months ago, I fell in love with a girl I met through a friend. For a time, everything went fine. I would call her a few times every day and we would see each other two or three times a week. I wanted to marry her, but she wouldn't become serious. A few weeks ago, she began acting indifferent toward me. I would have to call her three or four times before I could hear her. Finally, one day, I told her I would not call her any more, but that some time when she was not so busy, if she cared to see me, she could let me know.

The other night she called me. I made no date with her, but I am thinking about it. Should I see her again? Does she only want to see me for a few times and then brush me off again? How can I be sure she has changed her attitude toward me? — Tom S.

Dear Tom: There is no way you can be sure your girl has changed her attitude without trying her out again. Maybe, as you suggest, her interest is only very mild, and she might brush you off again after a short time. It is perfectly possible that when you stopped trying to date her, she wanted to see if he could get you back again, not so much because she was deeply interested in you, but merely out of feminine curiosity and vanity.

On the other hand, she may have discovered, when you ignored her, that she cared more about you than she thought, and really didn't want to lose you. Why not give her another chance? That's the only way you can find out.

DON'T TRY TO PUSH THIS CHAP

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am 19, and have been going out with a fellow who has just started college.

I have grown very fond of him, and would like to marry him, but he doesn't even want to think about marriage, as he says his education must come first. He suggests I go out with other fellows, and says that if I should meet someone else I like, all well and good. He would feel badly at first, he says, but he would get over it. If he really loved me, or if he even very fond of me, as he insists he is, do you think he would be willing to have me go out with others and take the chance of losing me?

I would gladly give him what he asked me to. Do you think I should let him know this, and don't you think he is being a little too practical? — Margaret

Dear Margaret: Yes, I think this boy is rather more practical than he would be if his feelings were deeply involved. I think that it is very wise of him to get his education, but there is no reason why, if he wished to do so, he could not ask you to wait until he is in a position to marry you. I don't see how you can gracefully agree to the fact that you are willing to wait, however, because if he wanted to find out about this point, he would ask you.

I think you would be sensible to do as he suggests and go out with others, treating him as just "one of the boys." Perhaps, as time goes on, he will find out that he has more interest in you than he now realizes, and be more definite about it. But it would be a mistake to try and push him into doing so now.

ANOTHER "GENERAL" KILLED

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—A terrorist leader, the self-styled "General" Rigathi, was killed Friday by Kikuyu guards in South Nyeri. Security forces killed 12 terrorists and captured seven others in the last 24 hours, they reported. Four surrendered, making 831 surrenders under amnesty terms due to expire July 10.

Salad Days

By Mary Moore

Dear Mary: Some people you just can't discourage. When the conversation (or the column) comes to an end, most guests retire gracefully. But the Hangers-on continue to expound, and thus I have my salad theories.

The other day I told you I pigeonhole salads into three very general categories. The "tossed" green salad; the salad plate; and the salad dish, a term of my own which loosely describes a sort of salad casserole.

Although I sometimes think it's actually more work than a hot meal, there's nothing quite so rewarding at the end of a warm day, as sitting down to regard the chilly work of art which is the salad plate. Color any artist can envy—bold combinations of red with rosy ham, clear red tomatoes, scarlet radishes and cerise beets. There's gold in hard-boiled eggs, silver in onions, ivory in potatoes and coral in tinned salmon. For green in this masterpiece, we rely on cabbage, lettuce, cucumber, peas and green peppers.

This flight of fancy is wild impressionism. To get down to basic facts, let's discuss the very basic potato salad. A potato salad can be very bland and uninspiring, or it can bring the folks back for more, in spite of diets. Once-upon-a-time, I used to cook new potatoes in their jackets, peel and cutting them after they were cold. Then I discovered they didn't absorb and blend the flavors of the other ingredients. So now, I always peel or scrape them before cooking, cut them very small, boil furiously in salted water, and shake them well after pouring off the water, till they are mealy and white.

Four large potatoes prepared in this way, four hard-boiled eggs and a large onion, chopped fine, stirred well together with lots of boiled dressing and chilled in the refrigerator for at least an hour will make a very good salad with character. Sometimes, just for fun, I add bread and butter pickles, or slices of stuffed olives. Or the other vegetables I use to garnish my salad plate and believe me, the Picasso in our kitchen gets some rare effects. Let color be your guide, and the taste will take care of itself.

The salad dish is another matter altogether. My very favorite salad dish is called, rather obviously "Tuna Crunch." It contains shredded cabbage, chopped onions, celery and green pepper and tinned tuna fish stirred together with a rather sweet dressing. Just before serving, stir in the "crunch"—a package of potato chips. I like to take "Tuna Crunch" along on picnics but it's a good lunch at home too. I serve it then with tomatoes, stuffed with egg salad, and hot tea biscuits. (Try adding grated cheese to your biscuit mix, and using new potatoes for liquid. Tasty, indeed!)

I'll be back next week with my last salad offering.

Love

Andy.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

UNHAPPY!

Several varying stories have originated in Kingston recently about the status of the Goodyears senior "B" Hockey Club and of "spills" that threatened to cause a break-up.

Reg. Walton, president of the Frontenac Hockey Club, which sponsors the Goodyears and who heads the city minor hockey association, held a radio-press conference the other day, which threw some light on the subject.

There is no reason to doubt the most of Mr. Walton's statements, but he has been grossly misinformed on matters pertaining to other clubs of the group.

According to a news story from Kingston, Walton admits the present executive of the club is "split up the middle."

It is divided, Walton says, on whether to continue to operate the franchise, and claims the reason for the disagreement is the verbal abuse levelled at the executive by some of the players at a recent meeting. The story goes on:

"Mr. Walton indicated in his statement that the 1954-55 operation of the team produced a small loss and intimidated that it was not the feeling of the executive that it should dip into the reserve fund, amassed during the highly successful 1952-53 championship season, in order to give the players a bonus.

"It is understood that the argument presented by the players was that they felt they were promised a bonus if they won the championship. The executive's answer to this supposed is that the players were to get a split if there was any money left after the obligations of the past season were met.

"The club president indicated last night that the big reason the Kingston operation ended in a deficit was that it was the only team to contribute more to the 15 per cent kitty than it got back at the end of the year.

"The contribution, based on attendance figures, saw the Frontenac Hockey Club deposit over $9,000 with the league and draw back a figure slightly less than $2,000. The other clubs, Peterborough, Whitby, Belleville, Brockville, Cornwall and Clinton, each contributed less than they received under this arrangement."

We readily believe the Goodies tossed some $9,000 into the group melon. But Walton is definitely in error in stating the rest of the clubs extracted more than they donated. This may be true of the Petes, Whitby, Clinton and Brockville. We do not know what Cornwall donated but we do know the Belleville Melons contributed $2,900 and drew back something over $1,800.

Walton, in an official statement to the press and radio boys, said the Goodies operated at a loss. This will come as something of a surprise to the rest of the clubs. It was stated they donated $9,000 to the group melon, representing 15% of the take. Figure it out. That means a season take of $60,000. Of course the cost of operation was not divulged.

A former report out of Kingston intimated the Goodies played to a nightly average of 3,000.

Here is Mr. Walton's statement verbatim. It speaks for itself:

"Two weeks ago several players were delegated by the Goodyears hockey team to meet with the executive to demand a split. It was shown to them that we operated at a loss this past season and could therefore not give them a bonus. The meeting broke up with personalities being hurled at the members of the executive.

"As a result several members of the executive felt that since they do not receive anything from hockey whatsoever, they should not take this abuse and so should fold up the Frontenac Hockey Club (which operates the Goodyears).

"At this moment the executive is split down the middle. Some members wish to return monies collected in 1952 to the original donors. However, speaking for myself, I believe this money was given to us to promote hockey in Kingston and that the fans who donated it are still interested in hockey and would prefer to have it remain where it is to serve the same purpose.

"The players were paid a weekly salary for a full season including the playoffs at a rate about the average senior B scale. The executive feels under the circumstances that this should be sufficient.

"I sincerely hope that those members of the executive who are thinking of folding will seriously reconsider so that we again can come up with a winning team in '55-56."

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (CP)—The upstart career of the University of British Columbia eight ended in defeat but an enthusiastic crowd and a friendly press assured the Thunderbirds that their performance at the Henley Regatta will not soon be forgotten.

Beaten by one-third of a length Saturday by the crack University of Pennsylvania crew in the final for the grand challenge cup after outslung Russia's Krasnoe Znamia Club in the semi-finals, several members of the Canadian entry announced that they were through with rowing.

The same crew upset the favored Thames Rowing Club of London at the British Empire Games in Vancouver last summer and there had been hopes that the same eight men might represent Canada in next year's Olympics at Melbourne. But to UBC in the big semi-final, Glen Smith of Grand Forks, B.C., the Thunderbird stroke, and No. 1 man Herman Zlotkovits announced their retirement after Saturday's race and Zlotkovits added that Mike Harris and Tom Toynbee also were likely to quit.

The race, in which the Canadians started at 4:40 underdogs, probably was decided in the first few seconds. The Thunderbirds were unable to get their stroking rate down fast enough, and thereby sapped their strength for the final sprint.

Brooks Barely Cling to Lead Losing Three of Four to Bucs; Bronx Bombers Retain Margin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the old 4th of July bromide still holds true, it will be Dodgers and Yankees in the world series at Yankee Stadium, Wednesday, Sept. 23.

Brooklyn hardly looked like a pennant winner during the week-end, losing three of four to the Pirates. In fact, it appeared the Brooks were going to drop their first double-header of the season until Gil Hodges hit a three-run homer to pull out the second game.

Pittsburgh made it three straight over Brooklyn on Ronnie Kline's fine relief pitching in the 7-5 first game but Hodges' homer and the combination of pitchers Billy Loes and Clem Labine salvaged the second for Dodgers 3-1.

Chicago remained 11½ games behind the leaders by splitting a double with St. Louis. Cards took the opener 8-2 on Floyd Woolfride's five-hitter but Jim Killebrew hit a three-run homer and DeFoe's hit homers for a 10-5 Cub victory in the second.

WILD PITCH HELPED

Milwaukee outslugged Cincinnati 7-3 with home-run punch by Bobby Thomson, Eddie Mathews and Del Crandall. New York Giants nipped Philadelphia 4-3 when reliever Jack Meyer uncorked a wild pitch with the bases loaded in the seventh.

Although New York Yankees bowed to Washington 7-0, the five-hit pitching of veteran Johnny Smitz, they clung to their 6½-game lead over runner-up Chicago White Sox, who bowed to Cleveland 14-9.

Frank Sullivan won his 11th as Boston Red Sox handed Baltimore its 12th straight defeat 7-2 and Vic Power's second home run of the 14th gave Kansas City a 9-8 decision over Detroit, for Athletics' fifth consecutive victory.

Dodgers Carl Furillo made his first error of the National League season Saturday and it led to a 7-6 victory for Pirates. Furillo muffed Dick Groat's fly ball in the 10th inning for two bases and Johnny O'Brien promptly singled Groat home with the winning run.

Homers by Randy Jackson and Walker Cooper in a three-run eighth inning gave Cubs a 4-3 win over Cardinals. The Cards got two in the ninth on a pinch homer by Pete Whisnand.

Willie Mays, definitely out of his slump, hit his 21st homer of the season along with circuit clouts by Stan Gordon and Hank Aaron for a 6-1 Giants' victory over Phils.

Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati first baseman, hit his 25th homer as Redlegs defeated Milwaukee 10-5.

LOSE 11 STRAIGHT

In the American League, George Susce tossed a four-hitter for Red Sox, who handed Orioles their 11th straight defeat, 6-1.

Tommy Byrne tossed a three-hitter as Yankees defeated Washington Senators 12-0. Jack Harshman also pitched a three-hitter and, like Byrne, honored as White Sox defeated Cleveland 2-1. An 11th-inning homer by Joe Demaestri gave Kansas City an 11-10 win over Detroit.

That doubleheader at Brooklyn stirred shocking memories of last Labor Day until Hodges saved the day. If you remember, it was the Pirates who chided Brooks' last pennant hopes in 1954 by taking two on Labor Day and dumping them into third place.

Kline, winning on relief for the second day in a row, retired the last 16 Dodgers batters in succession. After a halting start, Pirates finally tied the score and forged ahead on a pair of triples by Roberto Clemente, who was drafted off a Dodger farm club last winter.

Frank Thomas and Gene Freese hit homers for Pittsburgh, Furillo for Brooklyn.

Cubs split was their eighth in 12 doubleheaders with Sam Jones winning his ninth after bobbing in and out of trouble. Manager Harry Walker of the Cards, appearing in his first National League game since 1950, came through with a pinch single and scored a run.

Warren Spahn was touched up for Kluszewski's 28th homer, but the Wall's Post's 18th hit went the route for Milwaukee to whip Joe Nuxhall.

SOMETHING WENT WRONG

Leo Durocher of Giants and Mayo Smith of Phils engaged in a duel of managerial strategy in the seventh inning at Philadelphia. Leo sent up Sid Gordon to bat for Hank Thompson and Smith had Meyer, a right-hander, replace the left-handed Ron Mrozinski against the right-handed pinch hitter. When Durocher yanked Gordon and sent up Dusty Rhodes, a lefty, Smith ordered Rhodes pitched intentionally. Meyer then wild pitched to upset the master minding.

Mickey Vernon's three-run homer gave Schmitz more than he needed at Yankee Stadium as the 34-year-old lefthander boosted his life-time record against New York to 5-3, stopped home in front of Detroit.

The struggling Senators, who had lost 24 of their last 26 starts, lost to Ed on Ed Lopot and his successors the winner over George Zuverink.

Leafs Hold Three-Game Lead Over Royals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

According to an old baseball adage, the team that is in first place on July 4 should win the pennant. If it holds true, the Toronto Maple Leafs will be the top team in the International League.

The Maple Leafs, with more than half their schedule gone, hold a three-game lead over the second place Montreal Royals, and show no sign of weakening. Toronto swept the last three games in a doubleheader Sunday 11-4 and 2-1, while the Royals split a twin-bill with the Rochester Red Wings.

Montreal scored three times in the ninth to take the opener 6-3, but the Red Wings, behind righthander Gary Blaylock, stopped the Royals in the ninth game.

In other games, the Syracuse Chiefs came up with seven runs in the seventh inning against Columbus to take the second game of a rain plagued doubleheader 9-7 after the Jets won the opener 4-3. The Havana Sugar Kings knocked off Richmond Virginians 7-2.

SPOILED SHUT-OUT

The Bisons were limited to two runs on eight hits in three games. The Maple Leafs hit a home run in the seventh inning against Crimian, who scored his ninth triumph, was deprived of a shutout when rookie Paul Lepley hit a home run in the third inning.

The Leafs disposed of starter Jim Stump in the first inning of the opener when they scored five times. The Maple Leafs smacked out rookie Jerry Davis with a four-run barrage in the fourth and Lou Limmer sent in the final pair with his 12th homer in the seventh.

Blaylock gave up 11 Montreal hits but struck out six and walked none to earn his first league decision. The Red Wings took a 5-0 lead in the first inning, off Ken Lebeck, who was drafted off Kline's double and Johnny Bucha's single broke a 3-3 tie in the ninth to give the Royals the opener.

Bob Bowman's Chiefs seven-run outburst in the second game, the Jets had taken a 6-2 lead on Al Lake-man's three-run homer in the fifth. Charley Haag and Bob Trice followed starter Buck Wheat to the mound in the final game with Haag getting the loss. Jack Spring who pitched six innings was credited with the victory.

Two out, two-run single by Paul Burris in the eighth nipped the Chiefs in the opener.

Jose Brack allowed eight hits and struck out seven in the opener and victory for the Sugar Kings. Havana broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning with a four-run uprising featured by Angel Scull's two-run single.

In Saturday's games, Toronto defeated Columbus 6-5, Rochester edged Syracuse 3-2 and Richmond downed Buffalo 4-3.

for 12 hits, snapping a five-game Yankee winning streak.

Cleveland broke loose with 13 hits, including a homer by Al Smith, to take the series from Chicago, two games out of three. The Tribe remained in third place but moved to within half a game of second place.

The streaking Red Sox, who have won 11 of their last 27, had little trouble subduing Baltimore. Ted Williams, returning to action for the first time in nine days, contributed one infield single in four trips. He also was sidelined by muscle spasms in his back.

Despite Al Kaline's two homers and two singles, Kansas City finally struggled home in front of Detroit.

Power's second homer, Lou Lopot's first, and the fifth A's pitcher, who had lost 24 starts, lost to Ed on Ed Lopot and his successors the winner over George Zuverink.

Russ-Canadians Sports Relations Touch Record Warmth at Henley

By ARCH MACKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
HENLEY-ON-TAMES, ENGLAND (CP)—Russian-Canadian sports relations probably touched record warmth at the 1955 Royal Henley Regatta.

Contact was free and friendly between the University of British Columbia eight crew knocked off the club Krasnoyarsk in the upset of the regatta.

After that, they were even more so.

It isn't a development of Russia's "new look" in international diplomacy. It's just that the lads from Leningrad wanted to know everything they could about the Canadians and their rowing.

From the attention they gave Canadian rowing customs, technique and equipment, it appears probable that the stiff, unorthodox style the Russians introduced last year at Henley will give way to the more rhythmic rowing of the North American school.

With their tremendous condition, they should be more beaters than, say the experts.

Minutes after their loss to UBC in the grand challenge cup semi-final, they were quizzing Canadian stroke Glen Smith of Grand Forks, B.C., who boasts a few words of Russian picked up from his Doukhobor environs.

"You don't feather your oars and that holds you back in a headwind," Smith advised them. He also said he figured they fight their shell instead of smoothly taking advantage of its momentum.

The next day they tied assistant manager Don Lishley of Nelson, B.C., down for more than an hour. Earlier they asked to buy a Canadian car, made by British-born George Pook of Seattle, Wash., the man who made the UBC shell. The UBC party gave them one.

Brothers Fight For Noranda Links Title

NORANDA, Que. (CP)—In heavy rain, Bill Morland of North Bay Sunday achieved a single-hole victory over brother Dave to win the 1955 Noranda Mines spring invitation golf tournament here.

The younger Morland retained the J. P. Cote trophy he won last year.

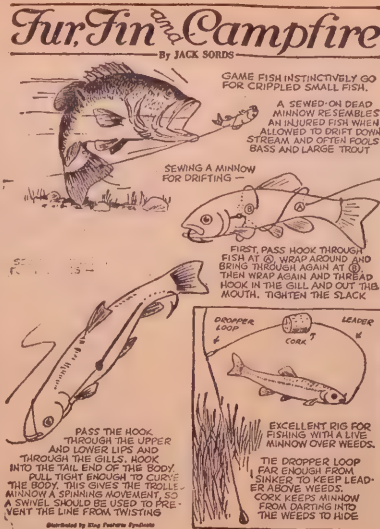

The brothers played all day even in the 17th hole when Dave over-shot the cup by 12 feet. On the 16th Dave missed a four-foot putt which would have given him the lead.

The turning point of the match, Dave said, came at the sixth and seventh holes when Bill sank 10- and 15-foot putts to stay even.

More than 100 golfers turned out for Friday's qualifying rounds—out to nine holes because of rain. Of the 16 qualified for the number one flight and a crack at the championship trophy.

Cliff Olivier and Dave Morland led the qualifiers with identical 35s. A nine-hole playoff was won by Morland 36-40. In the semi-final, Dave won 7 and 6 over Doug Moriarty of North Bay while his brother dropped out of Pat Tremblay of Kirkland Lake three and two.

Qualifiers were: G. Smith, Halloway; Bill Morland, North Bay; P. Palmer, Noranda; J. O'Brien, Val d'Or; Art Byberg, Kirkland Lake; Cliff Olivier, Noranda; F. Wyatt, Beatty, Que.; P. Tremblay, Kirkland Lake; Dave Morland, North Bay; J. J. Pommer, Noranda; Cuffy Dickson, Kirkland Lake; Luff Desmarais, Noranda; E. Miller, Noranda; R. Dionne, Noranda; D. Moriarty, North Bay.

Late-Game Explosions Give Juniors 11-8 Win Over Picton Lightfoots

By GARRY ALEXANDER
The Belleville Juniors displayed their comeback power in a game shortened by darkness on Saturday evening when they overcame an 8-2 deficit to whip the front-running Picton Lightfoots 11-8 in a B. and D. league game.

Picton grabbed an early lead with three runs in each of the second and third stanzas and another pair in the fourth. Kelleher's nine plated singletons in the first and third while busting open an affair with five in the fourth and another four in the fifth. Darkness halted action with one on and one out in the bottom of the fifth.

Stan "Lefty" Reid picked up his second win of the year in a 1-3 inning relief stint, allowing one single to the first man he faced before retiring the next four men in order. He whiffed one batter. Don Cherry started for Belleville and was tagged for seven safeties and eight runs, three unearned. He walked four, fanned none.

Bob Buntun was on the other end of the decision, also in a relief job, giving up five runs after taking over from Fuz Miller in the fourth. The Picton nine left the spectators wondering why they were in first by committing seven errors along with three wild pitches and five passed balls. Miller and Buntun were tagged for 10 hits, walking six and fanning five.

Singles by Chalmers and O'Toole, Kingston's two-run error and a wild pitch accounted for the Lightfoots' initial runs while Duetta's double and hits by D. Miller and Chalmers made it 6-1 in the second. Three singles and two walks completed their scoring.

Duetta's error on a strike out, Fox's single and a wild pitch sent a single junior run home in the fourth. The Picton sacrifice fly following Hill's single and a two-base error accounted for another run in the third.

In the victor's big fourth frame, 10 men paraded to defeat the Lightfoots by a score of 11-8. Fox's single and a wild pitch sent a single junior run home in the fourth. The Picton sacrifice fly following Hill's single and a two-base error accounted for another run in the third.

Sam Snead's Golf School

Today's fine picture carries a caution. This player has let his club shaft dip more below the horizontal dotted line than would be wise for the average player. From this overswing position, only the expert can get the clubhead back to the ball at the right mechanical instant. The horizontal line is plenty far from most twice-a-week golfers. Now our player is ready to start down. Notice that his back is "facing" the green. That's the full pivot. The downswing will start with a sort of all-together action of the reversing hip-and-shoulder pivot. The wrists are left cocked at the start of the downswing. When the hands are about hip high the hands start, slowly, to pour their power in. The arm pull should be down rather than around. This is because the reversal of the arm and shoulder pivot will automatically carry the clubhead back to the ball, slightly inside out across the direction line. That's the way you want it.

Panthers, Elgins Oshawa Win In Intercounty

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
At the rate Brantford Red Sox are going at the present time in the Senior Intercounty Baseball League, they haven't too much hope of making the playoffs at the end of the schedule.

Red Sox suffered their sixth straight loss Saturday night when Kitchener Panthers defeated the cellar-dwellers 12-10. It was their 16th setback in 23 games this season.

St. Thomas Elgins, who have also been finding it tough to win games lately, came up with a good effort Saturday and turned back London Majors 10-4. In the other game, Oshawa Merchants maintained their first place hold by beating Kat Terriers 5-3.

There was no action in either the Nickel Belt Senior or Niagara District Senior leagues during the weekend.

Russ Chess Champ Is Dethroned

MOSCOW (AP)—Samuel Reshevsky toppled Russia's Mikhail Botvinnik from his perch as undisputed master of world chess Sunday.

Reshevsky and Botvinnik drew the third of their four-game series in the Russian-United States match. This means Botvinnik cannot win. The most he can do is tie the series by winning the final game Tuesday.

The two tied the first and third games and Reshevsky won the second. Until Sunday, Botvinnik generally was considered unbeatable.

Record Fleet Ready to Sail In Big Race

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A record fleet of 53 yachts was ready to sail away today in the 18th California-Honolulu race, an arduous journey over 2,225 miles of lonely ocean that every two years captures the fancy of the sailing set.

The traditional noon start on Independence Day found the other Los Angeles harbor jammed with hundreds of spectator boats, and additional thousands of landlubbers gathered at vantage points along the coast to watch the procession of ketches head into the open sea.

Even the hardest of the estimated 500 amateur seamen participating in a race that was inaugurated in 1908 would not dare try to pick the winner.

But at least three yachts merited top attention to capture the major trophy, one determined on a handicap basis based on size, sail footage and other technical details.

They were the ketch Stagbound on the Newport Harbor Yacht Club, winner of the last race in 1938 and skippered by the race chairman Ira Palmer; the Skylark, a 53-foot yawl from the Santa Barbara Yacht Club, and the Marie Amelle, a 60-foot yawl from the Los Angeles Y.C.

Each has a handicap allowance up to five days.

Sprawlers described his blows as perfectly timed and powerful against sparrer Gene Garcia, who hit the canvas in the second round.

Balmby Beach Paddles Way To Holiday Regatta Honors

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Balmby Beach Canoe Club and Hamilton Leanders paddled and rowed to top honors Friday in the Dominion Day regatta.

The regatta included paddling teams from Toronto, Sudbury, Gananoque, Ottawa and Cartierville, Pelee, and scullers from Toronto, Buffalo, St. Catharines, Ottawa, Brockville and Detroit.

Faced with stiffer competition than last week when they won the laurels in the annual Toronto Island Canoe Club Regatta, the Leanders rose to the occasion Friday, led by such stalwarts as Joe Green, Tim O'Hearn, Jimmy Mossman and Joe Payne.

They scored 50 points on the basis of a 5-21 points system to beat Sudbury with 23 points, Toronto Sailing and Canoe Club with 16 points, Island Canoe Club with 14, Cartierville with 13, and Gananoque with 12.

Large Field Begins Chase For British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—An international field of 273 golfers today began chasing the British Open championship—the oldest of the big prizes in golf.

The 14-man U.S. contingent is led by former U.S. open champions Byron Nelson and Ed Furgol.

With a week-end storm just passed and threats of more rain and cold to come, the winner will need all the great shots of golf, the weather wisdom of a traveler skipper, the iron constitution of a Scottish shepherd, and just to be on the safe side a few hot toddies back at his hotel to ward off pneumonia.

Qualifying play today and Tuesday is over the Old and New courses with each man playing 18 holes on each. Then the 100 low scorers will move forward Wednesday to the championship proper over the par-72 Old course with its 5,883-yards of bunkers, double greens, traditions and hidden sorrows. The New course, parallel to the Old, is rated a stroke easier.

After 18-hole rounds Wednesday and Thursday, the field will be cut to 50 for the final 36 holes on Friday.

Defending champion Peter Thomson, a handsome Australian who plays the U.S. winter circuit, is a 34-1 favorite while Furgol is quoted next best at 4 to 1. The bookmakers were offering 16 to 1 on Nelson.

Fay Crocker Wins US Ladies' Open Title

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, staved off sharp challenges by Mary Lena Faulk and Louise Suggs to win the $7,500 women's U.S. open golf championship with a fourth-round 74 and a 299 total Saturday. Miss Faulk and Miss Suggs finished with 303s.

Fay Crocker, who pocketed the first prize of $2,000, started the final 36 holes on the windy Wichita Country Club course with an eight-stroke advantage over Miss Faulk of Thomsblive, Ga., who recently turned professional.

The South American's 54-hole total of 225 also was three strokes better than Miss Suggs' 228.

Bulletins From Birdland

THE GREBE FAMILY

The most aquatic of all our birds are the grebes. Members of the grebe family, of which we find five different kinds in Canada east of the Rockies, are among the most expert of these.

Ordinarily, water birds have webbed feet. Grebes' feet are lobed—that is, each toe has one or more separate membranes, joined only at the base. The horny, pointed bill can be opened very wide to receive fish, crawfish, and other forms of aquatic life. (By the way, this type of diet makes the flesh of the Grebes unpalatable for use. Compact, smooth plumage acts like a raincoat, so that these birds are never wet.

Grebes' heads are in most cases ruffed or crested, at least in the breeding season. Their necks are long and their wings short. As they are very nearly tailless, they must use their feet for steering, therefore we sometimes see these rudders extending out behind as they fly, this they do well and swiftly. But they are practically helpless on land because their legs are so extremely far back on their long bodies. When compelled to, they progress on the ground by wriggling in the manner of seals, and when at rest sit up straight as do penguins and puffins.

LOOK LIKE LOONS

Like small loons (and they really do resemble loons), grebes dive when pursued, and swim under water for some distance, propelling themselves with their feet. Where they will come up to the surface is problematical; thus they evade their enemies.

All the various species of Grebes use rushes and such like, matted together, to form a raftlike nest, anchored to some water plant. On this platform are laid from two to nine dull, greenish white eggs, which sometimes hatch while partly covered with water. The mother sits tight, and is loath to leave the home; but when the necessity arises she completely hides the eggs with moss and rushes before going.

Incubating does not start until the complete clutch has been laid, and so the youngsters are all the same age. The new born babies, as soon as their down is dry, hurl themselves over the side of the nest into the water.

Strange in many ways, the most remarkable thing about Grebes is their "punchant," 1 or 2 feathers. These they themselves eat, and what is more, feed them to their young. When the stomachs of Grebes are examined, feathers are always found in large quantities, yet no one has been able to determine a good reason for this.

Little Benny's Note Book

I was tying a special knot in a piece of string, and ma said, Benny, when do you expect to get started on your homework?

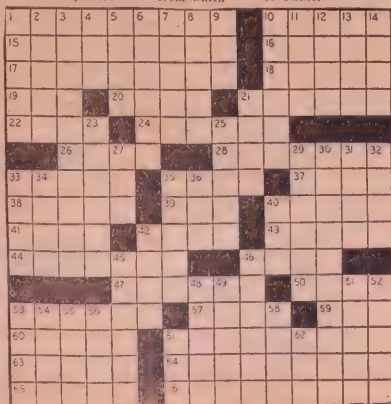

Just as soon as I get this knot tied, ma. I said, I'm trying to tie a knot that nobody can untie, including myself, I said, and ma said, Well, you may not be a shining example in your school work, but you're certainly a genius when it comes to finding things to waste your time.

But after all, my dear, so was my friend Upper Attom, pop said, and I said, G, pop, what did he do? He spent days and nights trying to invent a method of rolling a sardine sideways, pop said. He noticed that there is always room in every can of sardines for one more fish if it's rolled sideways, he said, and ma said, If I know anything about sardines, the least of their worries is to get more sardines in the can.

Upper Attom realized that, and that was the very reason he wanted to be a sardine roller, pop said. He knew there wouldn't be any work for him, so he could apply for unemployment compensation as an unemployed sardine roller without running any danger of being offered a job. I admit that wasn't a very admirable incentive, but anyway he stuck to the problem till at sideways and it stayed rolled, pop last one day he rolled a sardine said.

Little Benny's
Note Book

Pop made a face to himself when he sat down to breakfast, and ma said, William, your back here again. You insisted on going bowling last night, and your back here, she said.
Oh, I wouldn't exactly say it here, pop said. A few excruciating twinges, maybe, he said, and ma said, Your only salvation is to stop bowling at least for a while and go in for a little easy gardening. That's what I've been patiently trying to tell you, she said.
And I've been patiently trying not to listen, but this time you've got me, owch, pop said, and ma said, Now you're being sensible. If you give it a little moderate attention every day, you'll have regular, mild exercise. Isn't that more sensible than deliberately breaking your back once a week? she said.
There's no comparison, my dear, pop said. But as you say, it will have to be regular so of course on the days I'm detained at the office
I'll have to have a gardener in, and I understand that gardeners make it a point of honor to be overpaid, he said, and I said, Go, pop, how about me doing it for you the days you're late? I'll get Puds to help me, and maybe Glasses, and we'll only charge you 50 cents an hour between us, I said.
By golly we'll begin that arrangement today, pop said. Get your gang over with their own spades and rakes, and you can get the whole plot dug up and smoothed over for about 75 cents worth of labor. Meanwhile I'll be doing some hard figuring on how many seeds I'll need per square foot, he said, and ma said, Well now I've heard everything, and if you want my deeding vote, it's a veto.
Meaning she wasn't going to let him get out of it that easy.

Will Sail World
Until He Dies
Says Sick Dane

COWLES, Isle of Wight (AP)— Captain Asker Kure slipped the mooring line of his little ketch
Santa Maria here today and sailed away—to die.
Kure, 55-year-old father of four, says he has only a short while to live. "I shall sail the Santa Maria until I die at the helm," he said.
Kure, a Dane, was taken to hospital 18 months ago with a heart ailment. He recovered and his doctors said he would live a little longer if he took life easily.
But that wasn't good enough for Kure. "I don't mind dying," he said, "but to be an invalid on land is not living."
Kure sold his little boat and bought the Santa Maria, a 65-foot ketch. He said goodbye to his wife and children and to his friends.

DOG FOR COMPANY

Today he sailed out of Cowes harbor for a last jaunt around the Channel ports he knows so well before heading for the South Seas.
For company on the voyage he has taken a black spaniel named Columbus. "You've got to have a Columbus on the Santa Maria,"

Quite an Experience

Several of the boys suffered mi-

Greta Patterson
Makes Progress
In 15-Mile Swim

ANGLOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Greta
Patterson, a striking 18-year-old blonde, plunged into Lake Erie's choppy waters today in a bid to become the first person to swim the 15 miles from here to Crystal Beach, Ont.
Just before noon, the girl was about seven miles out in the lake and still going strong.
Three times Greta has taken nourishment—a mixture of dextrose, milk and honey—handed to her by her trainer, Frank Kline of Attica, N. Y.

"It's no milk shake," Greta chirped during one of the feedings.
Accompanying the girl was a covey of nine boats, one of them carrying a lifeguard. Other boats were expected to join the flotilla as the swim progressed.

Weather conditions were nearly ideal. The wind was from the west —Greta's left—but it apparently was not giving her much trouble.
Greta, who graduated last week from Batavia high school, hopes to make this swim a preliminary to Safety Belt New This Year In Soviet Union

By SIDNEY WEILAND

MOSCOW (Reuters)—A narrow strip of brown canvas with a silver buckle attached to his cosy armchair seat puzzles many a Russian travelling by Soviet air lines.

The safety belt, long a standard item aboard Western planes, is new this year in the Soviet Union. Use of the belt is left to the passenger's discretion.

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS
No one knows why Aeroflot, the Soviet air lines, decided to install safety belts after doing without for as long as anyone can remember.

The belts are one of a series of improvements introduced by Aeroflot after its director, Air Marshal S.F. Zhavoronkov, took a trip to the West last year and returned to Moscow much impressed with what he had seen at Le Bourget and Orly, the two Paris airfields.

Old-time aircraft, many of them lend-lease DC-4s, on the Pacific benches for seats, now have almost vanished. Nearly all have been replaced by Ilyushin-12s, a two-engine plane.

Scheduled passenger and freight services now link Moscow directly with 57 cities in the Soviet Union. The Aeroflot network extends from Vladivostok, on the Pacific coast, to Kaliningrad (the German city of Königsberg until its incorporation by Russia in 1945), a distance of 6,000 miles, or almost halfway around the world, and from Murnansk, in the far north, to Stalinabad, 3,000 miles to the south, close to the Afghan border.

FOREIGN LINKS
By agreement with Air France and the Scandinavian Airlines System, Aeroflot passengers now can connect six days a week with Paris and Stockholm. Passengers from Moscow change from Aeroflot to French aircraft at Prague and to Scandinavian aircraft at Helsinki.

The Ilyushin-12 used by Aeroflot on nearly all routes has 21 seats, and a Russian samovar on which the hostess brews frequent glasses of tea for the passengers. An improved version of the Ilyushin-12, the Ilyushin-34, now is operating on certain routes, mainly abroad. This plane is luxuriously upholstered and comes with a lounge and two sleeping berths.

Chromium plating and polished wood are much in evidence, but the seating capacity is reduced to 15.

A still newer version of the Ilyushin—named after its designer, Sergei Ilyushin—is the Ilyushin-20, a twin-engine jet in daily use for freight and mail, but not for passengers, on the 1,800-mile flight from Moscow to Novosibirsk, with a stop-over at the Ural industrial centre of Sverdlovsk.

Aeroflot is reluctant to predict when passengers will be carried on the Ilyushin-20 or on any other jet aircraft. Several trial flights with passengers were apparently carried out early this year, then discontinued for safety reasons.

ATTACKED BY DOG

CORNWALL (CP)—A four-year-old boy received nearly 50 stitches in his face and head Saturday after being attacked by the family dog. Ronald Campeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Campeau, was brought to hospital here with a three-inch gash in his scalp, a badly chewed ear and a severe cut under one eye. The father could not account for the attack by the dog, a collie, which he said had been friendly. The dog was shot.

Home-Made Car Ordered Off Road

BRANTFORD (CP)—A home-made car in which two young Toronto doctors were planning to drive to Vancouver via Windsor was ordered off the road by police Saturday.

The car had no tail light, no rear licence-plate light, no windshield, no doors, no rear view mirror, no horn, poor headlights and an ineffective hand brake.

The doctors—who were not identified—told police they had been working on the car for three years. They had glued a fibreglass body to the frame and engine of a 1949 English sports car.

Holiday Toll In U.S. Climbs, 474 Already Dead

CHICAGO (AP)—The toll of lives on United States highways appeared today to be running at least abreast of the National Safety Council's prediction that 300 persons would die in traffic accidents during the 78-hour Fourth of July weekend.

With the deadliest homecoming hour ahead, traffic fatalities already numbered 261 early today. Drownings, as holiday celebrants sought relief from the heat, numbered 124. Other deaths numbered 79 for an over-all total of 474.

Last year's toll during a similar three-day Independence Day weekend was 348, 192 and 79 respectively, plus four deaths from fireworks—a total of 623.

The list of traffic dead got its biggest single boost Sunday night when eight persons died in a two-car collision near Iowa City, Iowa. Two families were virtually wiped out—parents and a small daughter, in one car, plus another passenger; a mother and three daughters in the other.

Volcano Experts Keep Mt. Etna Under Scrutiny

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—Volcano experts kept fire-shooting Mt. Etna under close watch today, wondering whether it will spout a new and damaging eruption.

Sicilians and tourists on this crowded island's eastern shore saw a display of nature's fireworks during the night.

From 40 miles away, witnesses could see flames jetting 900 feet into the air from the volcano's northeast crater. Dull explosions echoed. A patch of fire could be seen burning on the mountainside itself.

Volcanologists said they saw no immediate cause for alarm. The old volcano, Europe's tallest, erupts as often as once a year, but recently the lava flows have done little damage. In 1951 some mountainside orchards were cut down by an eruption.

CHARGED WITH THEFT
LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Police said Sunday they have arrested a man and seized the home-made key with which he was stealing money from parking meters. Charged with theft is Donald Ellis, 38, of London. Police said they also confiscated a large number of nickels.

Wife of Victim Held by Police After IRA Blast

BELFAST (AP)—An attractive 29-year-old woman made a brief appearance in court today charged with complicity in a mystery explosion which wrecked a car and killed her husband Saturday.

The case was adjourned until July 11.

Mrs. Carmel O'Boyle, dark-haired mother of two children, was arrested shortly after her husband's automobile blew up near a telephone exchange.

O'Boyle, a 37-year-old Dublin jeweller, died in the blast. Police expressed belief that the outlawed Irish Republican Army planted the bomb to blow up the exchange, but that it exploded prematurely.

Ordering her held while police continued their investigation, magistrate J. R. Campbell asked that she be allowed to attend her husband's funeral "on the grounds of Christian charity."

Beard Contest Winner Given A New Razor

WHITBY (CP)—A massed religious service in Whitby district high school ended the town's week-long centennial celebrations Sunday.

More than 8,000 townfolk and thousands of visitors joined in the seven-day round of carnival, which included a beard contest.

Forty of the town's sturdiest men displayed the result of four months' growth before an arena crowd of 8,000. Contestants wore top hats and tails.

Judges named Lyman Hess as the man with the best groomed beard.

His prize? A razor.

FAMILY JINXED

PORTSMOUTH, England (CP)—A motorist died in a crash with a bus near Portsmouth Sunday night—and his wife was fatally injured when an ambulance skidded and overturned while taking her to hospital. The driver was William Worley, 28. His injured wife Margerie, 23, was taken to a second ambulance after the first capsize, but was dead when it reached hospital.

Fisherman Saves Two Companions

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (CP)—A 29-year-old fisherman swam 4½ miles and then walked barefoot for another three to get help for two companions whom he held clinging to their overturned boat on Lake Munuscong near here Saturday.

Phillip Oulmet, the only one of the party who could swim, struck out for shore after their boat overturned during a sudden storm. He had to walk three miles along the shore before he found a boat.

Five hours after he left them, he helped pull Oscar Castagne, 57, and Clifford Benoit, 48, into the small rowboat he had found.

Both men suffered exhaustion, and Oulmet's feet were badly cut.

Went for Visit

NEW GLASGOW, N.S. (CP)—William Mattie told police Saturday to stop looking for his 15-year-old son Gerald. The boy had "emigrated" to Ontario.

He rode away on his bicycle June 20 without saying where he was going. Next word the Matties had was a telegram Saturday from their daughter Mauriel in Kitchener.

She said Gerald had arrived there safely, and was considering staying. She didn't say if he rode all the way, a 1,000-mile trip.

BELLEVILLE DRIVE-IN THEATRE

"The Glass Web"

John Forsythe, writer of a popular TV crime series, is being blackmailed by Kathleen Hughes, an actress on the show, and with whom Forsythe—although happily married—had been indiscreet enough to begin an affair. Attracted to Kathleen is Edward G. Robinson, the show's casting director, who covets Forsythe's writing job. When Kathleen is found strangled, Robinson arranges with the police to have the crime recreated on the video show and Forsythe draws the script.

Robinson tries to pin the rap for the crime on Forsythe, although Kathleen's husband has already been arrested as a suspect. After the show, Forsythe uncovers evidence proving beyond doubt that Robinson strangled the actress when she tried to brush off his attentions; through a trick, Robinson is made to confess and is slain by police.

Price Increases Likely to Follow In Steel, Cars

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wage increases in the steel and auto industries have touched off an upward spiral in U.S. labor costs which business is expected to follow up with an increase in prices.

U. S. Steel Corporation already has boosted steel prices about $7.50 a ton in the wake of its 15-cent-an-hour wage raise agreement Friday with the United Steelworkers (CIO). It said the price increase was due to higher wages, increased taxes, new construction and other factors.

Other major steel firms, which agreed to the same wage pact with the union, also indicated they will follow the pattern of the price increase.

Steel is so basic an ingredient in manufacturing that higher prices for the metal seem sure to be reflected sooner or later in larger price tags on stoves, refrigerators and many other products.

GRANTED INCREASE
In the auto industry, General Motors and Ford have granted the United Auto Workers (CIO) a 20-cent-an-hour package settlement, including wages, pensions and limited layoff pay.

The auto firms have thus far withheld any price increases. They may have been waiting to see what would happen to steel prices before deciding. Also, auto prices can be adjusted by removing standard accessories and making them optional, at extra cost, or in other ways.

A new round of wage increases usually means higher prices nearly all along the line. For two years now, the cost of living has been holding steady. The question economists are beginning to debate is whether there will be just a little inflation or a lot of it.

It may turn out that prices won't go up quite as much as it would take to compensate fully for labor cost increases. This could happen if productive efficiency from new mechanization has risen as fast as some economists believe.

Lobstering Has Gone to Pot On Ponza Island

NAPLES (AP)—Lobstering has gone to pot on the ancient fishing island of Ponza. The men with the nets are concentrating on a new catch: Gold and silver coins and antique Greek urns.

The coins come from the sunken fleet of Aragon and date back 500 years. The Greek amphors date to the 2nd and 3rd centuries before Christ, when Ponza was a way-point on Greece's wine trade routes.

The fishermen on the little group of islands 55 miles off Naples began pulling in the coins and amphors early this year. Since then steadily fewer lobsters have been reaching the Ponza fish market.

The fishermen believe they have found the place where the war fleet of Alphonse I of Aragon was defeated and sunk by the Genoese navy of Biagio Assietto in 1435.

The coins being brought in are golden ducats. One side shows King Alphonse on horseback, the other has the Aragon coat of arms. Other coins are the silver corallo showing Alphonse on his throne, silver alphonsonos and bronze ducaneros, all of the same period.

The gold in the ducats is worth 3,000 lire ($5). Their collector value is estimated at 40,000 lire. The fishermen are glad to peddle them for 10,000. The silver coins are sold for 5,000 to 8,000 lire.

The coins, like the Greek amphors, come under Italy's archeology and arts laws, prohibiting private exploitation and sale. Fishermen admit privately most of their trade in with British and German tourists.

KITCHENER (CP) — Kitchener heavyweights seem unwilling to pay for their excess pounds. A move by auditorium manager H. M. Crosby to install larger seats for the larger people at larger cost—has met with lukewarm enthusiasm.

Only six of 130 persons sent letters on the subject have said they would like the new seats for sporting events.

Claims Mob Rule Follows Strike In Quebec Town

GRAND'MERE, Que. (CP) — A large of a mob rule which has involved several companies in this industrial belt.

Don Foss, manager of the Laurentide division of Consolidated Paper Corporation, charged Monday night in a statement that "mob rule has taken over this usually peaceful city, and law-abiding citizens are being molested by outsiders."

He was referring to a demonstration Sunday in which Michel Chartrand, technical advisor for the Central Council of National Syndicates (CCN), was arrested on a charge of intimidation and later freed on $150 bail pending Thursday.

Mr. Foss said that during the demonstration "Chartrand was slapped with one arm, causing me a severe bruise under one arm."

CLASH TOOK OVER

He added: "Under the unfounded idea that our workers should let the people work on Sunday, Chartrand and his cohorts lawlessly took over the Laurentide mill, throwing over 900 workers out of work. Until Saturday, there had been only 102 men on strike."

The National Syndicate struck Consolidated Corporation's Belgo plant nearby Shawinigan Falls, where a total of 800 men are employed, three weeks ago. The union claims more than 400 men are idle there.

Union spokesmen said they called the walkout because the company extended to the Belgo and Laurentide plants a five-per-cent increase arrived at in negotiation with international unions of second and third-floor apartments to escape unharmed. Several of them were children.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) — Synoptic: Afternoon temperatures in the high 80s are expected in southern Ontario again today, but some relief in sight for all but southwestern sections of the province.

A wedge of cooler drier air is moving slowly southward into the resort areas of Muskoka and Haliburton, and this week-end weather will reach Toronto tonight. However, this cold front will stall south of southwestern Ontario, becoming stationary through the Niagara peninsula and south of Lake Ontario.

Thundershowers, some severe and with hail, will mark the approach of the cooler air.

PRIME MINISTER PLANS TO FIGHT ANOTHER ELECTION

Drops Hint in Debate On Powers of Howe

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent plans to fight a third federal general election before dropping out of politics.

He dropped a hint of his intention Monday in the Commons during debate on legislation to continue indefinitely the wide powers of Defence Production Minister Howe. Informants later confirmed that Mr. St. Laurent intends to be at the Liberal helm at the next election.

Mr. St. Laurent, now a vigorous 73, will be 75 or 76 by the time the next election rolls around in 1957 or 1958. He already has led the Liberals to victory in elections in 1949 and 1953, since succeeding the late Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King as Prime Minister and party leader in 1948.

TO NEXT ELECTION

The prime minister referred to the next election after agreeing to permit a review of the wide powers of the Defence Production Act if this were requested three years from now by any member who introduced a bill to amend the legislation.

"Honorable members may say: 'You are talking about three years from now; there will be an election before that time three years from now and you may not be here to carry out your undertaking.'"

"In reply to such a suggestion, may I say that all of us on this side (Liberal side) of the Commons expect to be here three years from now to carry out any undertaking that we give to the House and to the country."

PERSONAL REFERENCE

Later, informants said Mr. St. Laurent was including himself, and not referring to the Liberal party generally, when he said "All of us... expect to be here three years from now."

19 Harness Race Horses Burned In Stable Fire

JONQUIERE, Que. (CP)—Nineteen harness-racing horses were burned to death early today when fire destroyed a stable at the race track a few miles from the city.

The recently-built stable was burned to the ground in less than an hour. Jonquiere firemen said they destroyed a stable at the race track a few miles from the city.

The cause of the fire and an estimate of damage were not immediately known. Most of the trotters and pacers were owned by horsemen in the Saguenay region.

A number of the horses had been brought here for the racing season from tracks in Montreal and Quebec.

Ida Mae was wearing only a thin skirt, shorts and shoes, but seemed undisturbed at spending a chilly night and most of the day alone in the Kootenay National Forest.

Two hundred and fifty armed rangers at one time took up the search, hampered Monday by a steady rainfall. Bloodhounds were employed in the search.

Spokane, Wash., stood ready to join the rescue teams combing the region.

Mrs. Curtis, who remained in a cabin during the search operation, sobbed "I think the bear got her." She said she had heard her daughter was crying all day.

Dissatisfaction in Russia Seen by Visiting Yankees

WASHINGTON (AP)—A father-son team report after an extensive tour of Russia that there is much dissatisfaction there, but no prospect for a "popular revolt."

The appraisal is made by Dr. Homer L. Dodge, former president of Norwich University in Vermont, and Norton T. Dodge, a graduate student of economics at Harvard University, in an interview in U.S. News and World Report, weekly news magazine published here.

"There is undoubtedly a strong undercurrent of dissatisfaction in Russia," they say. "But dissatisfaction of this sort doesn't necessarily add up to disaffection."

Actually, the resentments are directed more toward the regime in power and its policies than toward the system itself. We found general approval of state ownership, economic planning, socialized medicine, the school system, etc."

Among other things noted by the Dodges in a month of travel through Russia by rail, air, highway and riverboat:

"The Russians are convinced that South Korea invaded North Korea and they blame 'aggressive' policies on it."

ALBERTA STILL COUNTS VOTES, Second Cabinet Member Out

EDMONTON (CP)—Defeat of a second cabinet minister was reported Monday night as counting continued from the June 29 election when he returned the Social Credit party in Alberta for a sixth consecutive term.

Attorney-General Lucien Maynard, one of the Social Crediters elected in 1953 when the party first came to power, was defeated by a Liberal.

He joins in defeat Ivan Casey, the lands and forests minister. Fate of a third minister, Provincial Secretary C. E. Gerhart, has not yet been decided in the marathon count.

FIRST CCF SEATS

Distribution of second-choice ballots under the single-transferable-vote system resulted in election Monday of two CCFers and the president of the Alberta Progressive Conservative Association.

Stan Ridzyski, Vegreville, and Nick Dushenski, Willingdon, were the first CCF winners in voting the official opposition and with their strength increased, have elected 11 Progressive Conservative three, the CCF two, and a seat each was won by a Liberal, Progressive Conservative, a Coalition candidate and an independent.

ies of the United States government and on "rich American capitalists."

The Russians cracked down on their juvenile delinquents. "There were young people, many of them from families in the upper crust who were living a rather indolent and unproductive life, causing trouble, getting drunk, committing petty thievery and the like."

"We don't think there is nearly as much worry (in Russia) about the atom bomb as in this country. They tend to equate the atom bomb with the sort of destruction which they suffered in the last war. They suffered enough then so that the effects of the atom bomb don't need to be dwelt on to make them fearful of the results of another war."

An average Russian worker has to work 3 1/2 hours to earn enough to buy a pound of bacon and nine hours to buy a fifth of vodka.

"Since the war there has been a considerable rise in the standard of living. But the improvement over the best pre-war levels has not been very striking. More than 90 per cent of the Russians are ill-fed, ill-clothed and ill-housed."

PCs BRUSH ASIDE COMPROMISE BY PRIME MINISTER

Mr. St. Laurent, entering the marathon debate Monday for the first time, proposed that after three years any member wishing amendment of the Defence Production Act's powers would get special priority to bring forward a bill to do so.

The government would yield priority given its own legislation to have the bill debated "without any delay whatsoever."

Howard Green (PC—Vancouver) replied that the offer shows the cabinet is "a spineless lot" afraid to oppose Mr. Howe.

Dave Fulton (PC—Kamloops) said the offer is useless because it would not bind future parliaments.

Weatherman Sees No Lasting Relief From Heat Wave

Much Above Normal Likely For Remainder of Month

TORONTO (CP)—The forecast hottest day of the year dawned today with hundreds of citizens seeking sleep on fire escapes and verandas and even in city parks.

The expected high in downtown Toronto was 95 degrees. And for as far as the weatherman dared look ahead the forecast shimmered with heat.

Temperatures ranging from the high 80s to the mid-90s were in store for many southern Ontario and Quebec centres as the first major heat wave of the summer moved into its fifth day.

The U. S. weather bureau's extended forecast said "much above normal" temperatures are expected to continue during July through southern Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes.

Monday's high of 94 in downtown Toronto made it the hottest July 4 since 1921 when the maximum was 91.

SOME RAIN POSSIBLE

The weather office said a wedge of cooler, drier air is moving slowly southward into the resort areas of Muskoka and Haliburton and should reach Toronto tonight, carrying thundershowers, some severe and with hail. Wednesday will be not so hot, but humid.

Many business offices closed early Monday and ice cream, soft drinks and beer stores were swamped. Some 120 men at the Avro aircraft plant in nearby Malton walked off the job, describing the heat in the machine shops as unbearable.

They returned to work when officials of the International Association of Machinists (IAM) promised to renew requests for air conditioning.

The mercury climbed to 78 degrees in Winnipeg Monday and reached 81 at Halifax. But Vancouver's high was a moderate 58 and Calgary recorded 60.

Various heat-beat-heat accompanied the sticky temperatures. For a good night's rest, one doctor suggested digging out beer bottles around the home and filling them with cold water.

Warning that a heat wave can be a killer, Dr. L. A. Pennington, Toronto medical officer of health, Monday offered these keep-cool hints:

Wear light, loose clothing. Increase consumption of beverages normally indulged in. Alcohol is a heat producer.

Eat well-balanced but moderate meals, concentrating on cooling, fruiting foods such as cereals, fruits, vegetables and salads. Bathe frequently.

Get plenty of sleep, and avoid unnecessary activity.

Electric Storm Blamed For $40,000 Blaze

OTTAWA (CP)—A brief but potent electrical storm that swept the Ottawa valley tonight has been blamed for a $40,000 fire in a garage at nearby Bell's Corners and scattered power failures in the capital itself.

Fire destroyed a dry-goods and general store at Hawkesbury, 70 miles east of here, after lightning apparently struck one wall of the 30-year-old frame building. Owner Abraham Schnapp estimated damage at $40,000. He and Hawkesbury fire department officials agreed the place was a total loss.

Five Are Killed As Two Trains Collide Head-On

PORT SUMNER, N. M. (AP)—Two freight trains collided head-on west of here this morning and five members of the crews were missing in fire which started after the collision.

The accident happened at Cardena switching, 36 miles west of here on the main line of the Santa Fe Railroad.

Railroad officials had no further details. Cardena is far from any telephone communication.

State police headquarters in Albuquerque and Santa Fe could only confirm the radio report of the accident.

Traffic Snarl In Washington Due to Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP)—A potentially super-duper traffic snarl confronted the United States capital today with the end of a long holiday weekend coinciding with the strike of a force of 200 park police and 2,200 metropolitan officers was ordered out to help keep traffic moving.

A police plane was assigned to patrol the city and spot traffic trouble spots.

The strike has brought a relaxation of the law to permit drivers to park on streetcar tracks in the middle of Pennsylvania avenue and on other streets. There is no limit on parking meters.

SERVES 400,000

Some 2,400 AFL streetcar and bus operators and mechanics are seeking a pay increase of 25 cents for operators, who got $1.90 an hour under the old contract, and 31 cents for mechanics, who got $2.09. The union has proposed arbitration.

Federal mediators met separately with representatives of the union and the Capital Transit Co. and said they could find no area of agreement. The transit system serves 400,000 people daily.

Fire Threatens Dynamite Caps

KENORA (CP)—Fire of unknown origin which threatened to explode 3,000 dynamite caps stored in the basement of a hardware store here, was brought under control early today after causing an estimated $200,000 damage. No one was injured.

Fire department officials and police were kept busy holding back the crowd of about 1,000 which gathered despite the danger from the dynamite caps which threatened to explode as the blaze swept through the single-story brick building.

Firemen were hampered in their efforts by exploding shotgun and rifle shells and cans of paint. They rifled shells and cans of paint. They rifled shells and cans of paint. They rifled shells and cans of paint.

Provincial Police Constable Al Cockburn, who investigated, said there were no injuries, but the accident resulted in a brief tie-up of highway traffic as following cars were forced to take to the ditch to avoid the cars involved in the mishap.

Two other minor accidents were reported by police with damage in each instance amounting to less than $100.

TRENTON NEWS

PHONE TRENTON 7644Frantic Attempt to Halt
Oncoming Freight Fails

TRENTON (Special) — A frantic attempt by a transport driver to stop an oncoming freight train failed at midnight last night when a car belonging to Jim Alexander, of Trenton, stalled on the C.N.R. right-of-way, west of here. Apparently the car became wedged in the tracks for people on the scene were unable to move it in time.

The driver, realizing his predicament, apparently got out of the car to walk to a telephone nearby.

Insurance adjuster Mickey Walt and theatre manager Ralph Cole, returning from Brighton managed to get a front seat view of the series of events leading up to the crash. Cole actually saw the freight hit the car. "It flew through the air at a height of ten feet, he related, making a half-twist in the air before it landed on the four wheels facing the opposite direction 60 feet west of the impact."

A passenger train headed for Montreal due to arrive about the same time gave the Provincial police man some worry. Constable Harry Cook, of Brighton, raced in his cruiser to the Smithfield station, west of the impasse, on time to flag down the speeding "flyer." Fortunately the passenger train was three minutes late because the car "it flew" had become wedged under its wheels and caused a derailment. Damage to the car was estimated at $1,000. The engineer of the westbound freight stopped his train opposite Orrill's store. The passenger train, though held up considerably, proceeded east when the right-of-way was cleared.

The most disappointed person was the passenger train flagman, who was left behind and missed his train again after a quick trip to the Trenton upper station just in time to see the back of the last coach disappear in the darkness.

PATIENT DISCHARGED

A. G. "Sandy" Morrill, of Trenton, was permitted to leave hospital yesterday following a week of recuperation from a broken left shoulder received in a fall from a ladder while painting the house on Byron St. Mr. Morrill dropped from the ladder to the rock garden below suffering additional bruises. The accident happened last Tuesday.

MAY LOSE SIGHT

William House, Jr., popular chairman of the local Conservative organization will lose part of sight of his right eye, according to a report received by the family last night. A broom which pierced Mr. House's eyeball, while he was cleaning around the stand holding the brooms in the family's well-known hardware store. At first the injury was believed more serious. Mr. House, who has been confined to the house since the accident, was down at business for a short time today.

Constable Cut
As Pop Bottle
Thrown from Car

Provincial Constable Harvey L. Adams of Charlott Lake, 60 miles northeast of here, suffered a badly cut right hand and facial lacerations Monday when a flying pop bottle crashed through the windshield of his police cruiser.

Constable Adams suffered a cut in his right hand which took nine stitches to close and also had facial cuts as result of the flying glass.

The constable was on highway patrol on No. 7 Highway about three miles east of Kalar, when the pop bottle was thrown from the window of a passing car.

The officer saw the pop bottle just a second before it crashed his windshield and instinctively threw up his hand to protect his face. The pop bottle broke as it shattered the windshield, showering the inside of the police cruiser with broken glass.

The officer blacked out momentarily as the shattered windshield flew into his face and he was unable to get the licence number of the car from which the bottle was thrown.

Inspector A. McDougall at provincial police headquarters here said the bottle had apparently been thrown carelessly from the rear window of the car.

Lost in Bush
In Deloro Area,
Man Walks Out

MARMORA (Special) — A 100-man search party headed by OPP constables from Madoc was disbanded at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday when the object of their search, Fred Izzard, 52, walked out of wild country between Deloro and Malone after having been lost since Monday afternoon.

Mr. Izzard became separated from his wife, Monday, while walking among the huckleberry rocks between Deloro and Malone. When he failed to return to the family car, Mrs. Izzard notified police and a 50-man search party was organized under the direction of OPP Constables T. Lummiss and R. Devy, of the Madoc detachment, and Charles Lockwood, Marmora Chief of Police.

The search was called off at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday and was resumed at 7:30. Forty employees of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Co. Ltd., plant at Deloro, where Mr. Izzard is employed, swelled the ranks of the search party this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. James Loveless allowed police and searchers to use their farm home as search headquarters.

Searchers at Deloro, Malone and Marmora gave sandwiches and soft drinks to members of the search party.

Mr. Izzard walked out of the area at 12:30, near exhaustion but otherwise in good condition.

Searchers were called to the Loveless farm by the ringing of a bell and the firing of whistles and the search party was disbanded.

Crippled 4-Engine Airliner
Finally Towed Into Harbor

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP) — A crippled four-engine airliner, riding on special floats in Hudson bay, was towed into the harbor here early Monday and tied up in the dry dock.

The tie-up completed a salvage operation undertaken after the plane, a DC-4, ran out of gas and was forced down on an ice floe in the bay May 10. The five crew members had been rescued safely but the transport, too badly damaged to be flown off, had been sitting on the floating ice island until Sunday when the ice disintegrated.

A nine-man salvage crew including two Eskimos and two Indians were flown to the floe by helicopter a month ago and managed to build up floats under the plane. They lived in the stranded aircraft until it was tugged into a port, 40 miles north of Winnipeg, by two wooden vessels and three motor-powered canoes.

READY TO BEACH IT

The salvage crew now is waiting until the tide moves in and raises the plane in the dry dock. It will then be pulled on the slipway and beached securely.

H. J. Hunt, an official of the company that will salvage the plane, said it had been on a joint United States Overseas Airlines and Airline Services Incorporated flight delivering cargo to the District Early Warning radar line when it was forced to land.

Insurance companies declared the $600,000 plane a total loss and are reported to have paid its owners, United States Overseas Airlines, full compensation. But Airline Services Incorporated are said to have bought salvage rights from the insurance company for $5,000.

DRIFTED TO SEA

The ice plane was 40 miles northeast of here when salvaging operations began. As the bay ice began to break up, the floe, buffeted by wind and tide, drifted farther out to sea and for a time was lost in a fog.

During the weekend the weather cleared up but the hot sun had taken its toll of the ice despite the loads of hay and sawdust packed on it.

The crew had little time to sleep. They had to keep their boats manned day and night. They also had to keep a sharp lookout for floating ice that threatened to smash them to bits. And they had to keep a 24-hour watch on their own floe in case it broke up.

The rescued plane will be secured to a marine railway unit, a decision made on the best way of getting it back to its American base. Two solutions have been suggested. The plane could be dismantled and shipped out on deck cargo on a boat or it could be loaded on six flat cars and shipped by rail.

RCAF Using 'Copters

OTTAWA (CP) — RCAF helicopters based at Baginville, Quebec, have started an airlift of personnel and equipment for construction of the mid-Canada radar warning line, air force headquarters said Monday night.

The helicopters are operating from advance supply bases near the eastern shore of Hudson bay and at Knob Lake on the Quebec-Labrador border. The mid-Canada line is to run along the 55th parallel.

Think Russians'
Air Display
Warning to West

OTTAWA (CP) — The Russians, officials here believe, went out of their way to tell the West about their air power on Air Force Day Sunday in Moscow.

Their show of air power seemed to be a warning to the West, officials said Monday, that it would be dangerous to start a war. In this, the Russians were employing a strategy often applied by the West toward the Communists.

The show was important to Canada only for what Canadian defence planners could learn of Russian air developments to use as guidance in shaping Canada's air defence policy.

Officials said Canada is well up on the latest improvements in the Russian air force.

Of particular interest to Canadian defence planners are any advances in Russian jet bombers, which RCAF jet fighters would have to face if North America were hit. The Red air force is reported to have intercontinental bombers comparable to the American B-52.

Whether the CF-100 jet interceptors, Canada's main defence weapon now, would be a match for the latest Russian bombers is a matter for speculation.

But one official said "we have been anticipating for quite a while that the CF-100 is not good enough for the future." For this reason a $100,000,000 program has been launched for design and production of the CF-105, a supersonic, delta-winged jet interceptor. But it will be about six years before the CF-105 is in production.

No Developments
In Search For Bank Robbers

Although police have been working on the case continuously there have been no developments in the search for the two bank robbers, who last Wednesday morning held up the Toronto-Dominion Bank at Marmora and escaped with $5,400 in cash.

Inspector J. L. McDermott, of the C.I.B., is conducting the investigation and is still working on the case at Marmora.

Today Provincial Police Sgt. Palmater at Belleville, said a number of clues had been followed but these so far had ended in dead ends.

The holdup occurred shortly after nine o'clock as the two bandits presented themselves at the employees' entrance of the bank and gained admission through representing themselves as furnace repairmen. Inside they lined up bank employees and scooped up $5,400 in cash from a teller's cage.

Two nights prior to the holdup the bandits had kidnapped a Peterborough man, Roy Cullen, age 25, and after spending the night at a farmhouse outside Marmora, shoved him in the trunk of his auto to where he remained tied up as the bandits used the auto as their getaway car.

Cullen's story has been checked by police but so far there has been no developments in their search for the two bandits.

Garden Shears
Put End to Saga
Of Vanishing Hose

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP) — Enough said truck driver George di Peso, and he cut the saga of his burrowing garden hose with a pair of heavy shears.

The 50-foot green plastic hose began worming its way into the ground in his front yard last Thursday. It kept on disappearing in the general direction of China at a rate of two or three inches an hour.

Approximately 20 feet was gone by Monday. Hundreds of people trampled over the lawn to watch the unexplained goings-on. Di Peso received batches of advice and suggestions; telephone calls came from as far away as New York, Tokyo, Canada and England.

Finally, Monday, di Peso cut the hose and said:

"If it wants to sink down further and disappear completely, my prayers go with it. If it decides to stay the way it is and doesn't move any more, I'm going to bury it."

OUT OF HAND

He and his family had planned to go to the mountains for the July 4 weekend but called off the outing. "I couldn't stand it any longer," he said. "This thing was getting out of hand. My life has been made a big mess."

Teacher-Training
For Handicapped
Said Lacking

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada's greatest lack in the care of handicapped children is facilities for teacher-training, Mrs. Ellen A. Thiel, supervisor of teacher training at the university of Utah's Institute for Special Education, said Monday.

Both Mrs. Thiel and another visiting specialist, Robert D. Gates consultant in special education for the state of Florida, said that money spent by service clubs and other organizations on Christmas parties and other such events for handicapped children, would be better spent on the training of teachers.

They said well-trained teachers are so important to the welfare of handicapped children, that scholarships and other means of obtaining such teachers should take precedence over many other things now being done.

Three Children
Burned to Death

ST. HUBERT DE SPALDING, Que. (CP) — Three children were burned to death today when fire swept through a farm home at this community near the American border some 100 miles south of Quebec.

The victims were Laurette Gregoire, 10, her sister Huguette, 8, and her brother Renald, 5. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Gregoire and another son, were working in the barn when the fire started. They raced to the house and carried a one-year-old baby to safety but were too late to help the other children, asleep upstairs.

Family of Eight Near Cobalt Left Homeless

COBALT (CP)—A family of eight near Gillies lake, six miles south of this northern Ontario mining town, lost its home and possessions Monday when fire destroyed the family house.

Mrs. Isabelle Lamerade, 31, who headed her six children outside after the blaze started, said the fire was caused by lightning. Firemen, however, said it may have started from a match Mrs. Lamerade struck while cleaning out a clothes closet.

Mrs. Lamerade told firemen she was cleaning out the closet during a storm when she saw a flash of lightning. About half an hour later, she noticed smoke coming out of the closet.

She attempted to extinguish the flames with buckets of water but the fire spread to the rest of the house.

Her husband, Rosaire, 33, working in a Cobalt mine at the time of the fire, said the family lost everything it had.

U.S. STEEL STRIKE LASTS JUST 12 HOURS

John A. Stephens (left), vice-president and chief negotiator of the U.S. Steel Corp., shakes hands with David McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers in Pittsburgh, Pa., after the union's wage policy committee voted to accept a new offer by "big steel" 12 hours after the steelworkers went on strike in the U.S. The new agreement calls for pay increase of 15 cents an hour for 600,000 members of union.—Central Press Canadian.

Seamen's Strike At Vancouver Shows No Break

VANCOUVER (CP)—Airlines and coastal shipping services began operating on stepped-up schedules today as a seamen's strike at Union Steamships Ltd. moved into its third day with no sign of a break.

Shipping and airline officials said vital cargoes were getting through to some 100 British Columbia coastal communities which normally obtain much of their regular mail and freight service from Union's six passenger vessels and seven freighters.

The Seafarers' International Union (AF-TLC) said union members had recorded 100-per-cent support for the strike in a vote held Monday night "if it takes two weeks or two years."

About 350 SIU members struck Union vessels at noon Sunday to back demands for a 12½-per-cent boost and an increase of 33 cents an hour in overtime rates. Present basic wage ranges from $200 for a deckhand to $250 for a chief cook.

Traffic Deaths At Record High Over Holiday

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic deaths in the United States during the Fourth of July weekend soared to a record high for the holiday.

The overall accidental death toll was the heaviest in years for the Independence Day period.

Traffic accidents from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday killed at least 232 persons. That was more than the 380 deaths predicted by the National Safety Council, and compared to the previous record of 366 in a three-day Fourth of July period in 1952.

In the 78-hour period, 233 persons drowned and 133 others lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents. The over-all total of 748 was a record of 793 for a four-day Fourth of July period in 1950. The traffic toll in 1950 was an all-time high of 491.

Forest Fire's Threat to Quebec Town Is Eased

CLARKE CITY, Que. (CP)—A light rain and a change of wind today eased the threat from forests burning dangerously near this community of 300 and the neighboring village of St. Margaret.

A Laurentian Forestry Association spokesman said the situation is still "serious." The fire has burned to within 2½ miles of Clarke City and another change of wind would again put the town in the path of the blaze.

However, Clarke City was reported "out of danger" in a message sent from here to the offices in Quebec City of the Gulf Pulp and Paper Company on whose limits the fires are located.

At St. Margaret where 200 persons had been evacuated, the situation also was easier.

TRUST RAINFALL

The change of wind from south to north came Monday night during a brief but violent electrical storm. Only a small amount of rain fell, the first in the area since mid-June.

The fires in the tinder-dry forests were believed started by lightning several weeks ago. They have burned through an area of 10-square miles, but were not considered dangerous until last weekend when strong south winds moved them toward the villages.

Work of Indochina Truce Team Worthwhile Say Observers

By CORLEY SMITH

SAIGON (Reuters)—Canadian observers watching the Indochina truce in Viet Nam feel their work on the international armistice commission has been well worth while in spite of constant frustration in Communist North Viet Nam.

The job is expected to last at least another 12 months. In addition, more Canadian officers may be sent here to help supervise the elections, planned for July, 1956, to reunite North Viet Nam with the non-Communist South.

The truce commission is made up of Canada, Poland and India. Canada has about 160 men in the three Indochina states—about 80 in Viet Nam and 40 each in Laos and Cambodia.

SOME WERE ANGRY

Most Canadians here have settled down philosophically to their job, taking the frustrations with a joke. Earlier, some of them became angry at Communist attempts to stop them getting information.

To take an imaginary case which typifies the Communists' attitude: Communist members in North Viet Nam hear that arms are being smuggled across the frontier from China in contravention of the truce. Members immediately tell the Communist authorities that they want to investigate a certain road.

"Certainly," says the Communist official with a smile. "Jeeps will be ready for you a week next Thursday."

"But we want to go today," the commission members say.

AREA IS INSECURE

"Unfortunately that is impossible. All the jeeps have been broken down. And anyway the area is insecure and we should not like to take the responsibility if you were killed."

After a few days' argument, the commission's team set out. But 20 miles from its destination it passes through a village where an enormous welcome party has been organized. The jeeps stop, the villagers swarm around cheering and the team is taken along to a feast.

If the members are firm and insist on driving on, they find that their drivers have joined in the feast and are nowhere to be found. The next day they arrive at their destination. But no trucks are there carrying arms, and scores of intelligent-looking peasants give evidence that no trucks have passed that way for weeks.

Even when the mobile teams were able to discover clear-cut evidence of breaches of the truce agreement, the Canadians could not get the commission to make an adequate protest. Always the Indian members insisted that the Communist Poles on the commission should agree before any statement was issued.

Throughout, the Indians' aim here has been to get the commission to work together as a team to avoid any possibility of the truce breaking down. All statements of the commission have, therefore, to be unanimous.

To get the Communist Poles to sign a statement of protest against the Vietnamese Communists, the statement usually has to be so balled down that it is left almost without meaning.

However, the Canadians are satisfied that the very presence in a Communist area encourages the authorities to observe the treaty more than they otherwise would. The Canadian officers have accepted their job with a sense of humor, although in the Communist capital, Hanoi, their main party has a trying time with few of the advantages of life at home. They keep themselves busy with work, swimming in the former French Cercle Sportif and talking about Canada and their coming home-leave at the end of a 12 month tour.

SING FOR RELIEF

And when they feel the need for emotional relief, some of them open a bottle of Canadian whisky and sing, to the Poles' annoyance, a rollicking, anti-Marxist version of the Internationale.

In the other two Indochinese states, Laos and Cambodia, the treaty has been easier to administer and the Canadians' job has not been so frustrating.

Probably each of these states will hold popular elections by the end of this year and there will thereafter be no need for the commissions there.

However, the Indochina truce agreement is so vaguely worded on this subject that nobody can say at what point the work of these commissions should end.

CUT MAY COME

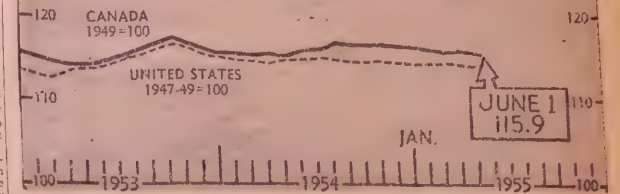

It is possible to argue that commissions should stay in Laos and Cambodia until the whole Indochina problem, including Viet Nam has been solved. If this interpretation of the agreement is accepted, the Cambodian and Laotian commissions will probably be cut down to much smaller bodies.

The Canadian authorities have also to consider the possibility that the truce may break down in Viet Nam. The agreement was signed by the Vietnamese Communists and by the French high command—not by the non-Communist government of South Viet Nam. If the South Vietnamese prime minister, Ngo Dinh Diem, refuses to hold the nationwide elections proposed by the agreement, the Communists may declare the agreement invalid as far as Viet Nam is concerned.

If the truce does break down, the Canadian and other teams on the commissions may be recalled earlier than expected.

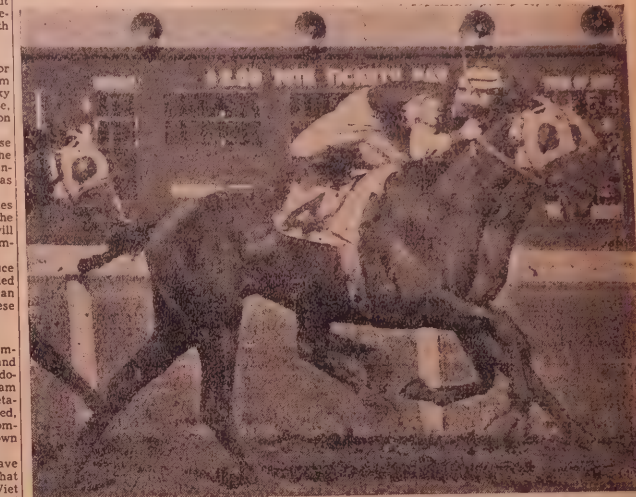

LIVING COST DOWN

CONSUMER PRICE INDICES

The consumer price index, yardstick of Canadians' living costs, had its biggest drop in almost two years during May, according to Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures. The index dropped to 115.9 from 116.4. The drop was attributed to lower food and automotive prices and other small declines in clothing and household items. The Canadian figure is based on 1949 equalling 100. The dotted line shows the United States index which has remained fairly constant at 114.3 for the last several months with the period 1947-49 equalling 100.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

LET A LAWYER HELP YOU DECIDE

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My husband deserted me and our two children. Now he wants to sell our home, but it is not all paid for. Before he can sell it, I must sign the papers. But, if I do, then I and my children will be without a place to live. Also, he wants a divorce.

What do you think I should do? Sign the papers for the home to be sold and give him his divorce, or see if I can't keep the home for myself and the children? — Mrs. L.P.

Dear Mrs. L.P.:

You don't say whether or not your husband supports you and the children, but, if he deserted you, I assume that he does not. Nor do I see how, under these circumstances, he can get a divorce. Unless he has some charge that he can bring against you of which you haven't told me, it seems to me it would be very difficult for him to win his case.

On the other hand, you could bring suit against him for desertion, if he stays away from you for two years, and then you would probably be awarded a certain sum for your support.

All this, however, is a matter for a lawyer. If you don't have a lawyer you could go to, or, if you are financially unable to consult one, then I think you would probably be able to get advice from the Legal Aid Society.

MAYBE THIS BOY IS NERVOUSLY UPSET

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I used to go steady with a boy that I thought the world of, and still do, and to all appearances he loved me just as much. We had our quarrels, but we always made up right away.

Two months ago, he came over to my house one day and said he wouldn't be seeing me any more. He gave me no reason of any kind.

Nobody knows what he is mad at me. Mutual friends know nothing, either. They only say he has been acting strangely lately, and has been fighting with most everyone. He usually isn't one to be mad at anyone.

Could you advise me what to do? Surely he couldn't have fallen out of love with me so soon.—Mary H. Dear Mary:

If this boy is "acting strangely," and having trouble with all his friends, it may be that while he is young, both boys and girls are apt very readily to lose interest in any one particular person, and be fascinated by someone else for no discoverable reason except that youth is a time of change. Most young people "go steady" with several different persons of the opposite sex before they are old enough to settle seriously on one. It may be that this has happened to your boy friend, and he can't give you a reason because there actually isn't anything he can put a finger on.

In either case, however, I would say that all you can do is to wait and see what happens.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMIESON

BEAUTY SHOPS ARE HAVENS OF REST

No woman should begrudge the money she spends in a beauty parlor. For, when she emerges, perfectly groomed, she not only can face herself in the mirror with pleasure, but her morale is given a tremendous lift.

To the average woman a beauty shop is a haven. She hurries to it when she is happy and she hurries to it even more quickly when her spirits are low. It is her rest cure, her consolation, her retreat from everyday cares.

And when she gets there she looks around and observes the other customers. There's the Sweet Young Thing getting prettied up for a big date with that handsome New Number. Her mind is filled with tremendous trifles, as happens in youth.

The bride comes to prepare herself for her wedding day. She goes through the beauty hopper for face, hand and arm treatment, shampoo and wave set. She stocks up with cosmetics for the honeymoon trip. Is her lipstick the most enchanting color? Will "He" like the perfume she is selecting? These are matters of vital import.

Great-grandma, sitting under the hair dryer, looks on and smiles, thinks back to her youth when there were no beauty shops, just "hair dressing parlors," stuffy and "half dressing parlors." These new places! How white and shining! How fastidiously clean! How attractive! And what a boon to the modern woman!

Cooking School Review

CHOCOLATE CHIFFON PIE

There was a great flurry of interest in the frozen products that could be made in big batches and stored in frozen food lockers, at the cooking school last month. Marion and I were surprised at the number of rural housewives who were proud owners and efficient users of their home freezers. I asked those who owned food freezers to raise their hands and I guessed about one-quarter of them did. I felt like a back number for I do not.

What was demonstrated was a dry mix for pie crust that you could make and keep on hand in refrigerator in a covered container and use as needed or the large amount given may be made up into six single crust pies or three double crust pies, for freezing if desired.

PIE CRUST MIX

(Small, medium and large amounts.)

Small Amount—1 1/2 cups un sifted all-purpose flour, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup lard or shortening, 2 1/2 tablespoons cold water.

Medium Amount—2 cups un sifted all-purpose flour, 1 tablespoon salt, 2 cups lard or shortening, 3 to 4 tablespoons cold water.

Large Amount—6 cups un sifted all-purpose flour, 1 tablespoon salt, 2 cups lard or shortening, 1/2 cup cold water.

Method—Sift flour with salt. Cut in lard or shortening until like coarse meal. Add water all at once, pressing dough together. Keep dry mix covered. Note—(1) For single crust pie use 1 1/2 cups of above mix with 2 tablespoons water. (2) For double crust pie use 2 1/2 cups of above mix plus 3 1/2 tablespoons cold water.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

FIRST PARTY IN NEW HOME

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

After one moves into a new home and wishes to invite their friends to come, which occasion is in best taste—a Housewarming or an Open House?

2. Who should give these occasions?

3. How soon after moving into the house should they (or either one) be given?

4. Are invitations sent?

5. What is the usual time of day set for this occasion?

6. And what type of foods are usually served?

1. Either term... "Housewarming" or "Open House"... may be used. But for this special occasion of welcoming relatives and friends to the new home, I think it is charmingly and particularly fitting to use the heartwarming word Housewarming. Any general party can be called an Open House... but only this first-party-in-the-new-home can be called a "Housewarming!"

2. Customarily the hosts of the new home are the ones who give the Housewarming (or "Open House")... and I think rightly so, for they will know when they wish to give the party, what plans they wish to make, and so forth.

3. The Housewarming may be given as soon as the house is in order for the Look-See.

4. Yes, usually invitations are sent. But if preferred, and if the party is to be a small one, the guests may be invited verbally or by telephone.

5. Afternoon hours are usually chosen, as most convenient to the majority of guests, who may come from near and far. The hours may be: 3-6-3-7, or the usual ones of 4-7.

6. For these afternoon hours a simple tea-menu is usual and appropriate: Coffee and or tea and or other preferred beverages: small, slim sandwiches with simple fillings; small cakes and or interesting cookies; and perhaps salty food-accessories-for-nibbling as salted nuts, popcorn, potato chips, any of the packaged tidbit specialties, mints or other candies.

OBVIOUS "PROMOTION" FOR A SHOWER!

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I received an invitation to a bridal shower to be held soon. I do not know either the bride-to-be or the groom-to-be. Both live near me. The invitation was sent by the sister-in-law of the prospective groom. She lives quite near me, and I know her only slightly. My question is: Wasn't it improper for her to send me an invitation?

Should I attend the shower? Should I send a gift? Should I mention the fact to her that I am not acquainted with either the bride or groom? I do want to do the right thing as this is supposed to be a "high class neighborhood." — Thank you. Only you yourself can answer your questions... for whether or not you accept this invitation depends entirely on your own inclination and preference. Obviously the woman who sent you the invitation has no social scruples about inviting you, although she knows you so slightly, although she is a relative of the groom's (and so isn't supposed to give a bridal shower), and although you don't even know the bride-to-be to whom you are asked to bring a gift. Quite a "promotion," this, for gathering in a supply of gifts for the new house! If you really don't want to go (and your letter sounds as if you really have no interest in going), I suggest you write a note of regret, as gracious as possible... then no gift is "required."

GAMES ENJOYED

Also on the grounds were numerous games for all to enjoy. Mr. Ron Lynch, Mr. H. O'Neill and Mr. R. Parkes were in charge of the bingo table while Mr. V. Muldoon gathered a crowd around a penny throw game. Also enjoyed by young and old was a penny tub game under the direction of Mrs. J. MacKinnon and Mrs. W. Lynch. The fish pond, which was in charge of Mrs. C. Murphy was a special delight to all the children.

Mrs. H. O'Neill and Mrs. Bradshaw were convener for raffie. A beautifully handma quilt was won by Mrs. J. D. Spill.

Servers were: Mrs. J. D. Spill, Mrs. E. A. Kelly, Mrs. D. Diminle, Mrs. C. O'Neill, Mrs. Bankley, Mrs. P. Mercer, Mrs. Ford, Mrs. A. J. Gibbons, Mrs. Parkes, Mrs. L. Goyer, Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. O. A plate of cold ham, crisp lettuce and tomato slices was served to each guest while large bowls of mixed salads, rolls, and pickles were laid on the tables. Home-baked pies and coffee were also served.

MARMORA

Citizens Enjoy
Street Dance

MARMORA — The 20th annual street dance and carnival, under the auspices of Marmora Agricultural Society, was held on Forsyth Street on Wednesday evening. It attracted a fair number of patrons and patronesses.

In the early part of the evening, Madoc Citizens' Band under Bandmaster William Aylesworth furnished a number of pleasing band selections. Interspersed between the square and round dances, for which Graydon Sheldon's orchestra from Peterborough furnished the music, were numbers by the dancing team of the Kale Sisters and acrobatic displays by the Heppo Sisters.

Booths on the street, operated by the Agricultural Society and Marmora's Women's Institute, supplied refreshments, in addition to games.

The Soviet chief added that some people "think that if the Soviet Union makes a contribution there was something that forced it to make that decision and even that the Soviet Union was afraid of some catastrophe if she did not."

Walmesley commented that the reason for holding the Geneva conference was the lack of unanimity among the great powers.

"We are delighted to go to Geneva," Khrushchev said, "but if we are not prepared to talk seriously we can wait and hold on."

Nothing that some people are saying that one reason behind Russia's desire for agreement with the West is a bad harvest, the Communist chief said:

"I want to tell them that we have never had a more solid situation than now. Our agriculture is in full swing; I don't care whether you like it or not. Our industry is overfulfilling its plans. Our construction is all right although I, myself, made a very critical speech at the Conference of Builders."

"The solidarity of our party has never been as great as it is now," he added. "And as for the unity of the people with the party—you can judge for yourself."

Khrushchev said he liked a statement Eisenhower made at his press conference last Wednesday—but "not all of it."

"I must tell the truth: there were right things and wrong things," he said. "I think that in any case what he said was a fresh stream of ozone."

Eisenhower told reporters last week he was more optimistic than two months ago that the Geneva talks might accomplish something useful.

The president said it was obvious that a change had taken place in the Soviet attitude toward world problems but that no one really knows who is the dominating influence in the Soviet government.

Later in the party, Khrushchev told Maj. William Fife of Johnson City, Tenn., that in case of a war he hoped the United States and Russia would be on the same side.

Speculative reports have said from time to time that Mr. St. Laurent would step down before the next election to let a young man accept the heavy duties of party leader. Those mentioned as possible successors have included Finance Minister Harris, External Affairs Minister Pearson and Health Minister Martin.

In event of a Liberal victory in the next election, Mr. St. Laurent is expected to remain in office only until a new leader is chosen. This would be done at a national Liberal party convention.

Meanwhile there is new speculation here that the prime minister will shuffle his cabinet this summer or early in the fall.

Fisheries Minister Sinclair, 47, is mentioned as successor to Revenue Minister McCann, who may go to the Senate. These reports also say Postmaster-General Cote may be appointed to the Quebec Superior Court and that Veterans Affairs Minister Lapointe likely will receive a diplomatic appointment, possibly ambassador to France.

Possible retirement of Trade Minister Howe next October on the 20th anniversary of his election to the Commons also is a topic of speculation. However, Immigration Minister Pickersgill told the House last week that the cabinet doesn't want to see the 69-year-old veteran retire.

PCs BRUSH ASIDE

WHY NOT DEFER?

Opposition Leader Drew asked Mr. St. Laurent Monday why the bill could not be left over until next session. There would be time then before the powers expired to consider all the facts.

Mr. St. Laurent replied that Mr. Howe "has done a pretty good job."

"We want him to continue to have what he requires as his tools to be able to continue to do that job in the interests of the public."

He described the Defence Production Act as having "extraordinary powers that the extraordinary circumstances of the present day make desirable."

He noted that his new proposal for review after three years was added to an earlier promise that the act would be amended to provide that all orders made under it would be tabled in the Commons and open to challenge and prompt debate.

ST. LAURENT QUESTION

"What more can you require?" he asked, in a heated reference to opposition charges that the powers are undemocratic. "What threat can there be in that to the democracy of this nation?"

Mr. Green said the prime minister's offer was "bocus-pocus." The cabinet, in effect, was saying: "We are going to give him (Mr. Howe) these powers; we are afraid to stand up to him; we are a spineless lot."

The prime minister's offer was "an obvious sham designed for one purpose, to save the face of the minister of defence production." At the request of Acting Speaker E. T. Applewhite he withdrew the word "sham."

But he added that Mr. Howe is seeking something not given even in wartime grants of emergency powers.

"Why should Canadians have to submit to a tyranny of that kind at this time?"

COULD ACCEPT ASSURANCE

Mr. Fulton said he could accept Mr. St. Laurent's personal assurance made Monday. But it was of no value since such an undertaking could not commit future parliaments or administrations. And the pledge would expire when Mr. St. Laurent left office.

Social Credit Leader Low, whose party also has opposed the bill, said Mr. St. Laurent's proposal went a long way towards allaying the fears of the people.

But he said some of the act's "invidious" powers should be made subject to Commons review every five years. That would be a compromise between the stubbornness of the Liberals and the Conservatives which had made the debate ridiculous.

J. Waldo Monteith (PC—Perth) said the prime minister's proposal was not adequate. If the bill was passed, it would give Mr. Howe or his successor complete power forever.

HEES SUGGESTION

George Hees (PC—Toronto Broadview) suggested the government in pushing the bill through to remove labor unions' strike power and force people to work under government-dictated conditions.

"I deny it right now," Mr. Howe retorted.

Rev. Dan Melvor (L—Fort William) said the Liberals are 100-per-cent behind Mr. Howe. He would support the bill if it meant the Commons staying in session until next Easter.

J. H. Ferguson (PC—Simcoe North) said the Opposition should not be criticized for fighting a bill it regards as dangerous.

??? THE 5 MOST ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT...

LIGHTNING

Is it true that lightning never strikes twice in the same place?

Untrue! It is rare for lightning to strike a house or a particular tree twice but if an object is high enough to form a perfect target it will be struck many times. An example is the Empire State Building in New York which has been struck as often as nine times in twenty minutes and which is regularly struck hundreds of times a year.

Does lightning ever miss?

No, this belief sprang up in the days before electric refrigerators came into general use. What does happen is that milk sours quickly in exactly the same kind of weather conditions that accompany electrical storms. In other words if it is hot and humid the milk will sour anyway and a thunderstorm is a good possibility.

Is it unsafe to stand near an open window or door during a storm?

Lightning always strikes the highest point of a house so you are as safe in front of an open window as anywhere. There is some risk, on the other hand, of standing near a fireplace. The lightning may strike the chimney and be conducted down the flue by the layer of soot. At the bottom it will quite likely jump into the room and strike you if you are in the way.

Is it safe to be in a car during a thunderstorm?

A car is just about the safest place imaginable. An electrical current will pass around the outside of any metal shell. So the charge will be conducted well away from the passengers and keep to the ground safely. For the same reason you are quite safe in a modern all-metal aircraft.

Do animals attract lightning?

The belief that they do comes from the habits of domestic animals rather than the characteristics of lightning. During a storm cows will cluster under trees or bunch together in the pasture and form the highest point in the field. Either way they might be struck. Or they will sometimes gather around a gate and lightning which has struck the wire fence some distance will reach the cows.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

IT WORKED WITH NEWK!

There are those who laugh and scoff at the old baseball cliché that the teams leading the American and National Leagues on July 1st will battle it out in the world series. It's nothing but a piece of diamond fantasy, probably the result of some ardent fan's wishful thinking. However a quick glance revealed that thirty-six times American League teams on top July 4 have ended up in the series. In the National League 34 teams have turned the trick. This over a period of 54 years.

But take the old adage: "Spare the rod and spoil the child." Whoever dux that one up, knew whereof he spoke. From a baseball point of view look what it did for the Brooklyn Dodgers. "Papa" Walter Alton administered a touch of the verbal rod to Don Newcombe—and brother, has it worked wonders.

"Newk" resented being used as a batting cage pitcher and developed sulks. "Pop" Alton took over, benched the big fella for a short period—and came up with the wonder pitcher of the year. Ever since "Newk," to quote himself, "got to thinkin' and quit actin' like a kid," has set the National League afire with a terrific one-man show, both on the mound and at the plate.

The big 22-year-old, 240-pound hurler has been one of the big reasons for the Flatbush Fusiliers' runaway at the head of the National League. He has won 14 and lost one—and has been given outright support in the latter game, would have compiled the amazing record of 14-0. Eight of his first ten wins were complete jobs.

But take a look at his batting average. He is a left-handed hitter, has a hitting mark of .418 and a slugging average of .836. Twelve of his 23 hits were for extra bases and include six doubles, a triple and five home runs, one short of a National League record for a pitcher. He has driven in 14 runs.

In 122 innings Newcombe has walked only 18 batters. His strikeout average is six per game, 82 in 122 innings. His best game was the one-hitter he fashioned against the Chicago Cubs in which only 27 men came to bat.

Alton says Newk's pitching success is a combination of all his hurling virtues. "He is throwing harder, his curve is better, his control is vastly improved and so has his change-up. His control is the main thing."

Newk is an old battery-mate of catcher Roy Campanella. They played on the Nashua farm club of the Dodgers and both were signed by Branch Rickey. Newcombe was sent to Montreal where he was the percentage leader with .739 (17-6) and was going well in 1949 when he was called to the Dodgers.

"I was plenty worried last year," the big hurler said, "but not any more. Right now with my arm feeling strong and no longer sore, I'm throwing harder than ever. Far better than in 1951." That year was his best so far. He won 20 and lost nine.

ROYALTY BACK AGAIN!

It's the red-hot Russ versus the versatile royalty at Memorial Park come Friday evening. Those befuddled sons of the Siberian steppes, the Kalmioff Freres, Karol and Ivan, are being imported for the main fair and opposing them will be the Samoan hunk of royalty Prince Malava and his starstruck British pal, Lord Athol Layton. It should be quite a hairy fair. If the prince gets his fuzzy-wuzzy topknot all rained up with the chin-fallof of the Russkys it's going to take a lawn-mower to reveal what belongs to whom. Sammy Berg tangles with George Scott, with Chico Perez mixing matters with Sandy Scott in the other bouts.

NEW SCHEDULE

Secretary Ken Duesbury of the Belleville District Softball League, has issued a revised schedule which should satisfy all and sundry, especially with vacation time just around the corner. The Orfuns, most of whom work at Northern Electric have had their remaining games packed into this week and next since their collective holidays start July 15.

The remaining games of the schedule are scattered through to July 29, when the league winds up its regular business. The schedule of the playoffs will be announced directly the loop has concluded seasonal play.

Games this week under the new set-up call for Madoc at Point Anne and Bobcats at Orfuns tonight. Frankford visits the Bobcats tomorrow night while Thursday, Orfuns trek to Point Anne. Friday, Madoc plays at Frankford with Point Anne visiting the Cafe.

BASEBALL

Paul Hartzel's beardless baseball juniors take on the high-flying Kingston Mercurs, top junior squad of the Kingston Junior Baseball League at the Fair Grounds here tomorrow night starting 6:30. The Mercurs are rated some pumpkins in junior baseball circles down Riddellville way and at the moment are top of their heap. Kelleher's Kutles wrapped a defeat on the Picton Lightnings Saturday and if the Picton sports writers run to form there will be another zelp about the Lighties being shorthanded. The Picton squad has been defeated three times and each time there has been an alibi about their star players having to work on the dates.

Be that as it may, Kelleher's Krew is getting lots of work and Al is letting no stones slip under his feet trying to get the squad into shape for the OBA playdowns. He is tossing lots of work their way. He expects to arrange exhibition games with another Kingston junior squad and one from Cobourg in the near future.

OFFER SAID "POINTLESS"

SINGAPORE (Reuters) — Malaya's Communist leaders have renewed their offer of a month ago for peace talks to end the eight-year-old jungle warfare. British officials disclosed. A senior intelligence officer said the bid appeared as "pointless" as the first one, which was rejected. He said it didn't offer any new terms.

FINDS BODY

TORONTO (CP)—A young motorist here opened his garage to get a car and found the body of a stranger hanging from the roof by a piece of rope. Police said the unidentified man had been dead four days. No one in the neighborhood was about to know the victim who was about 40 years old, they said.

Stun Haughty Leaders With Power Hitting, Fine Pitching; Newcombe Records 14th Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What are the Boston Red Sox doing away back in fourth place? The way they look they ought to be away out front in the American League race.

They showed just about everything a manager could want—power hitting and great pitching—while whacking the league-leading New York Yankees in a double-header Monday 4-2 and 10-5.

The took it from the Yankees Stadium, figured to see some fireworks, it being the Fourth of July and with plenty of advance warning that the Red Sox were hot—but the explosive abuse Boston hurled at the Yanks was a stunner.

Most of the fans came to see the one and only Ted Williams. He obliged with a double and a towering home run to the upper deck in right field. It was his 10th. That was in the opener. He walked as a pinchhitter in the second game.

HURLER HELPED CAUSE

But it wasn't all Williams. Willard Nixon, still treating the Yanks like paties, made his record 7-2 over the New Yorkers, knocking home two runs with a single before retiring from the mound in the first game because of the 96-degree heat after five innings. Like Detroit it got from there.

Five pinchhitters were used—four of them Yanks—and all fanned.

Boston really blew up in the nightcap, romping in on a grand slammer by Jackie Jensen and a three-run homer by Norb Zauchin in the ninth. Tom Hurd held New York to two hits in 6-23 innings of relief.

The sweep gave Boston 24 victories in the last 29 games, yet because of a slow start the club's only in fourth place. Over that same 29-game span, the Yanks have won 17, Cleveland and Chicago 16 apiece and Detroit 12. Detroit is the only club Boston's been able to overtake.

BEAT TIGERS TWICE

Cleveland made a move in the doubleheader doing, taking second place by beating Detroit twice, 6-5 and 8-5, while the White Sox slipped to third by splitting at Kansas City. Chicago won the opener 8-3, but lost the second 4-3. Baltimore beat Washington 6-2 in the only single game played.

In the National, first-place Brooklyn rapped Philadelphia twice, 11-2 and 6-3; Chicago split with Cincinnati, losing 6-3 before winning 4-3. St. Louis took two from Milwaukee 4-2 and 5-4; Pittsburgh beat New York 4-3, then lost 5-3. The day's work left the Yanks atop the American League, five games up on Cleveland, and Brooklyn ahead of the Cubs by 12½ in the National. The Fourth of July rule of thumb has sent 36 American League leaders on the Fourth to the world series in the past 54 years. Thirty-four of the National League leaders at this point have gone on to win in the past 55 years.

PINCH SINGLE

Cleveland moved a half game ahead of the White Sox on Hal Naragon's pinch single to beat Detroit in the 15-inning opener, with Bob Lemon winning No. 11 in relief. Larry Doby hit a pair of home runs and Al Rosen one in the nightcap, but it was Bobby Young's two-run triple that broke up a 5-5 tie for the victory.

The White Sox had 16 hits to beat Kansas City in their first game, but it was Al's bounced back to win the nightcap on an unexpected run in the eighth after Hector Lopez had tied it two innings earlier with a two-run homer.

There were a total of 37 homers hit in the 11 games Monday. The one-day record is 40, and the Dodgers smashed six of the National League's 20. Duke Snider belted Nos. 26 and 27 and drove in six runs for the day while Don Newcombe and Clem Labine kept the Philie in check. For Newcombe it was his 14th. For Labine, it was the first complete game in 24 starts dating back to the pennant playoff of 1911. The temperature was 111 in Philly.

HOMER TIED IT

A triple by Wally Moon and a single by Bill Virdon gave St. Louis the 10-inning nightcap at Milwaukee after Del Crandall's pinch three-run homer had tied it in the ninth. Tom Poholsky sixth-inning home and Rip Repulski broke up a 2-2 tie with a homer to win the opener.

Art Fowler limited the Cubs to four hits and Ted Kluszewski hit his

Leafs Win Two, Extend Margin To Four Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With just a few of the breaks going the other way the Richmond Virginians could be battling it out in the first division instead of floundering deep in the International League cellar.

The Virginians suffered their 25th one run loss Monday in the opener of a day and night doubleheader. Havana was the culprit 3-2.

If Richmond had halved the number of one run losses, they would be in fourth place today 2½ games off the pace. But the Virginians, after losing 16 of their last 18 games, are in last place 2½ games back. In the night game the Virginians capitalized on six Cuban errors and a lightning attack to down the Sugar Kings 10-5.

TORONTO VICTORIES
The league-leading Toronto Maple Leafs extended their margin to four games by sweeping a doubleheader from the Rochester Red Wings 5-1 and 12-4. Montreal Royals divided a twin bill with Buffalo Bisons, winning the opener 6-3 and dropping the nightcap 4-3.

Columbus Jets and Syracuse Chiefs also split a doubleheader, with the first game going to Syracuse 4-3 and the second to Columbus 11-7.

Maple Leafs scored all their runs in the second inning of the opener. The big blowout of the frame was a grand slam home run by Hector Rodriguez.

In the nightcap the Leafs smacked out 13 hits against five Red Wing outlers. Royce Wilson paced the Toronto hit parade with two singles, a double and a home run to drive in five runs.

BATTLE ROYALS
The Bisons broke a six-season jinx when they battered lefty Tom Lasorda of Montreal off the mound. Lasorda had previously beaten the third nine straight times without a trip.

Clayton Kershaw, who had held the Bisons to six hits in the opener, including solo home runs by Me. Hodeler and Wayne Ford, Chico Fernandez and Cox, won the nightcap, 4-3.

The Jets' 14-hit assault was a triple, double single and walk in five trips. Ted Kazanski, home run in the sixth inning broke a 3-3 tie for the Chiefs in the curtain raiser.

The Jets and Chiefs combined to pound out 27 hits in a wild second game which went three hours and 26 minutes. Al Pinkston led the Jets' 14-hit assault with a triple, double single and walk in five trips.

Old St. Andrews' Jinx Beaten All-Time Record Established

By TOM OCHILTREE

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—The herowinning reputation of this ancient cradle of golf was at stake today in the British Open.

Is it really a fire-breathing monster or have golfers down through the years let superstition get the better of them?

They walk in awe on the 6,936-yard, par 72 Old Course and are only slightly less respectful of the 6,326-yard, par 71 New Course.

Monday in the first 18-hole qualifying round for the Open, Americans, Englishmen, Scots, Continentals and the one Australian in the tournament—defending champion Peter Thomson—bistated their way around the two layouts as though they were bush league courses.

It was almost as though it was contagious. Out of a field of 18 players broke and little-known Frank Jowle, a 43-year-old Yorkshireman, ran up an amazing 63 on the New course.

VITAL STATISTICS
When it was all over, here were some of the vital statistics:

1. Forty posted scores bettering par.

2. It was the finest round of competitive golf ever recorded in the 500 years of St. Andrews.

3. Jowle's round was the lowest ever posted in the 95-year-old British Open.

4. It was the third lowest competitive round ever shot anywhere in Britain.

Americans also joined in the assault. British Amateur champion Joe Conrad of San Antonio had a 67, while Byron Nelson, now a play-for-fun golfer, came up with a 69.

Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia had a 70, while Ed Furgol, 1954 U.S. Open champion, shot a 71.

TIES WORLD MARK
INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Louis B. Mayer's Alldon subdued five rivals and tied the world record for 14 miles Monday in winning the $37,750 American Handicap at Hollywood Park.

The four-year-old Alldon beat out Liangollen Farm's Mister Gus in a head-to-head battle to the wire and the time was 1:46 4/5. The King Ranch's Rejected stormed up to take third place. The betting and sentimental favorite, Determined, ran out of the money after spotting the field from nine to 19 pounds.

The world record was set in 1950 by Mister Gus.

TRIBE BUY OUTFIELDER
CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Indians Monday bought outfielder Jim Dyck from their Indianapolis farm club in the American Association. Dyck was the leading hitter in the association, with a .388 average, 17 homers and 57 runs batted in.

BIRDS RELEASE WESTLAKE
BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore Orioles Monday gave a pair of veterans their unconditional release.

General manager Paul Richards released her Sam Rogovin and outfielder Wally Westlake, obtained from Cleveland only recently in the controversial deal which brought about the retirement of Billy Cox.

Cox and Gene Wooding were traded by the Birds to the Indians for Dave Pope and Westlake, but

BEATS SAVOIE
QUEBEC (CP)—Gerry Drouin, 23, of Quebec Monday night won a unanimous 10-round decision over 28-year-old Armand Savoie of Montreal, former Canadian lightweight champion.

The 145-pound Drouin kept Savoie, 141½, on the defensive with his left jab and speedy footwork. He won by knocking out Savoie in the fifth round.

The fight was watched by 2,473 persons at Municipal Stadium.

Motels, Not Hotels For Grey Cup Fans

VANCOUVER (CP)—Don't count on staying at a downtown hotel if you come here for the Grey Cup, final next Nov. 28. Be prepared to stay in a motel.

For the first time in the colorful 46-year history of the football classic a committee has been set up to handle accommodation for visiting fans. Previously, it was everybody for himself, with hotel reservations on a first-come-first-served basis.

For the general public, V. Ben Williams, chairman of the Grey Cup accommodations committee, says the procedure is this:

"Write the hotel of your choice, with a copy to us. If you like, the hotel can't accommodate you, we will see to it you are offered the best available accommodation. There are still lots of first-class motels available."

The motels, he points out, are not in the downtown area but are still mostly within city limits.

One of the major downtown hotels, the Georgia, has been booked up for the Nov. 23 to 28 period for more than a month.

Minor Baseball
Close scores featured the pee-wee games last night as Deacon Quincey of the Toronto Blue Jays, without a setback by scoring four runs in the third and one in the fifth to edge Hooking's Tigers 6-5 while Parkdale outed the TPT's 7-3.

McGrinnon hurled six of the seven frames played to earn a 4-1 victory for Deacon's, whiffing 11 and walking only one. Archer threw the final stanza. Hook toiled the route in defeat, surrendering eight hits, while fanning 10.

John Bronson provided his team with the winning run in the fourth frame with a bases-empty homer, while Zakos slammed a double and single and O'Hara punched a brace of singles. Terry McCabe led the losers with a pair of hits while Hook helped his own cause with a triple.

Line score: R H E
Tigers 100 310 0-5
Deacon's 104 100 0-6 8 4

Bob Michael and Jim Muir hooked up in a real tight pitchers' duel in the other game with Michael's Parkdale crew scoring a trio in the sixth to salt the issue away. Each pitcher gave up 7 hits.

B. McBride was the only winner to claim two hits, while Durank Wilson, Mullins, Michael and Oliver each met Muir's slants for a single. Muirhead had a triple and a double in defeat while Muir and Stanfield doubled and singles went to Allenby, Ward and Pearce.

Teen-Ager Covers 15 Miles of Erie, Says Lake Ontario Is Next Target CRYSTAL BEACH, Ont. (CP)—The first swimmer to have been seen in the water since the last of the season, a 15-year-old girl, Greta Patterson, an 18-year-old mermaid who on Monday conquered 15 miles of Lake Erie, the first person to do it.

The pretty teen-ager from Batavia, N.Y., started looking ahead to the gruelling 32-mile Lake Ontario swim shortly after she had crossed Lake Erie from Angola, N.Y., to Ontario last week late Monday. She did it in 12 hours and 44 minutes.

"I'm so happy," she said. "It's so wonderful."

Miss Patterson's successful crossing was all her trainer, Frank Kline, needed to predict that "I'll beat Lake Ontario in September."

ONE OF A SCORE
Greta will be one of a score of swimmers who will attempt the Lake Ontario grind, sponsored by the Canadian National Exhibition. The only person to beat the lake is 17-year-old Marilyn Bell, a Toronto girl who now is training for a crack at the English channel.

Miss Patterson, the daughter of a Batavia dentist who had swum a 15-mile route only once before in her career, touched the Canadian boat dock here at 7:19 p.m. EDT to end her assault on the lake. She left Angola at 6:35 a.m.

About 20,000 cheering spectators were on hand as she was taken into a boat by Kline at 7:35 p.m. and then escorted to a first aid station for rest. Although she touched the dock 19 minutes earlier, Greta swam around until Kline called her up.

She later rode through this region, carrying eight miles south-west of Fort Erie in a convertible, waving to the crowds that lined the streets.

Greta's swim was to have been a lone attempt. However, two youths, William Gehrke, 19, and Lawrence C. Leiper, 21, of Buffalo, dove into the water shortly after the girl. Gehrke lasted six hours before he was taken out. Leiper was in less than three hours.

Miss Patterson, who graduated from Batavia high school last week swam at an average of 18 strokes a minute. She stopped four times to take nourishment, a mixture of honey, dextrose and milk.

There was little doubt that she would make the crossing. The weather conditions were ideal and the water temperature was a warm 70 degrees. Light winds kicked up waves that reached a height of two or three feet.

ESORT TO SHORE
As Greta tried in the last 300 yards, a cousin and a friend jumped from one of the boats and accompanied her to shore.</

EXPECT DOMINION DAY DEAD TO PASS 100 MARK

A nine-year-old boy who fell from a railway trestle and drowned in 12-mile creek, was one of many Canadians who died while celebrating their country's 88th birthday during one of the hottest July 1st week-ends on record. Ronald Betts, inset, of St. Catharines, Ont., was on his way to swim in a new pool that had just opened up when he dropped 80 feet from a trestle into the creek and disappeared beneath the surface. A tabulation of deaths set the total at 97, and it is believed the number will pass 100—record set in 1952—when complete reports are in. Only Saskatchewan had no fatalities. —Central Press Canadian.

If you confine yourself to a limited range of defence bids it may not be serious. It may not even be noticed in the kind of company you keep. In such case, the fewer the better.

There is no point in employing a defence bid the answer to which your partner is not familiar. Better stick to the bids he knows what to do with. At least, you will both understand each other.

For this reason a majority of players limit their defence bids to simple overcalls and takeout doubles. These cover most of the hands you will need to talk about.

If you can advise a little more freight without misunderstanding, take on the jump overcalls. These will take care of most of the strongest hands you are likely to encounter.

But the strongest kind of a defence bid is an overcall in opponent suit. If you and your partner lack the know-how for handling this big weapon, game or slam could easily be missed.

An overcall in opponent suit is a bid without a jump in a suit that has been bid by an opponent. If used by a player at his first opportunity, the stuff he promises is rock-crushing.

Sit with the west hand shown here:

WEST
 ♠ A K Q 3
 ♥ K 10 9
 ♣ K Q J 8 4

South opens the bidding with a diamond and you ponder over the possibilities of your hand. That you have a good chance for game in some suit is evident. Even if you are not sure it is cold.

So, you tell your partner to help keep the game alive until game is reached by your pair. How do you do this? By bidding two diamonds; an immediate non-jump overcall in the opponent suit.

You also guarantee that he need not worry about the diamond suit. You virtually shout from the houseposts that you have that suit bid.

You seldom come a cropper with a foe-consuming chopper.

Penn Crew Will Not Race At Exhibition

TORONTO (CP)—George Duthie, Canadian National Exhibition sports director, said Monday the University of Pennsylvania rowing crew will not be able to meet the University of British Columbia eight in a race at the CNE in August.

The CNE cabled an invitation to the Penn crew Saturday after it defeated UBC to win the Grand Challenge Cup at the Royal Henley Regatta.

Duthie said Jerry Ford, Penn assistant coach, cabled: "Regret unable to race in Toronto as crew breaking up for year."

TRI-COLORED MAIL BOXES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red, white and blue mail boxes will shortly start to bloom on street corners all over the United States, replacing the olive-drab letter-collectors that have been standard since the First World War. Postmaster-general Arthur Summerfield said the tri-color finish has been found more durable and makes the mail box easier to spot from a distance.

HARVESTS NEW KIND OF CROP

Emeralds are being grown in a San Francisco laboratory by "gardener" Carroll F. Chatham, 40, who is shown at left mixing the solution into which a crystal, later to be the emerald, is suspended. He keeps no notes of the secret process by which he manufactures some 5,000 carats of the gems each month. San Franciscans will have a chance to look at some of these homegrown gems, including a cultured emerald (right photo) that weighs 300 carats, at a lapidary show now under way. Chatham's process has cost him $100,000.—Central Press Canadian.

Larry Parks and Betty Garrett After Some Drought Do Well

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Things are picking up for Larry Parks and his wife, Betty Garrett.

After a period of some drought in their careers, they are doing very well. They just finished their first film together, a Ford Theatre show for TV. They play a husband and wife team of screen writers and a blonde charmer, Joy Lansing, complicates their marriage.

"We've appeared together in almost every other medium," Betty said on the set of the "Screen Gems" production. "Our next objective is making a feature to get us."

That plan will have to wait for their other activities. Larry is leaving for Syracuse, N.Y., where he'll play the Barney Greenwald part in "Caine Mutiny Court Martial" in summer stock. After that, Betty joins him and they'll head for England, where they'll play five weeks of vaudeville in the provinces.

"Those English audiences are wonderful," he said. "It's the third time we've been back. Once they take a liking to you, you're in."

When they return, Larry goes into the touring company of "Tea-house of the August Moon," playing the role of the Okinawan interpreter.

The Carina, owned and skippered by Richard S. Nye of Greenwich, Conn., arrived here at 2:16:40 a.m. last Saturday, the first of the seven competing craft to reach the finish line. Under a complex handicap system, however, the Stavanger, a 34-year-old former lifeboat skippered by wartime resistance hero Shetlands Larsen, had a time advantage of about 69 hours on its faster American rival.

The Carina thus becomes a double winner. Besides the King Gustav Adolf Silver Cup, it already had won a cup presented in memory of Sir Thomas Lipton, British tea magnate and famed amateur yachtsman, as the first boat to finish.

The 3,450-mile race was the first in 20 years.

The second boat which arrived was the New York-owned Circe, which had followed the Carina into port.

Three yachts are still at sea.

American Yawl Wins Ocean Race

MARSTRAND, Sweden (Reuters)—The 34-foot American yawl Carina II was declared the official winner of the transatlantic yacht race Monday night.

The Carina II, third smallest yacht taking part in the race from Newport, R.I., to Marstrand, won the King of Sweden Trophy when the Norwegian Stavanger failed to arrive by 11:25:15 p.m. Monday night.

The Carina, owned and skippered by Richard S. Nye of Greenwich, Conn., arrived here at 2:16:40 a.m. last Saturday, the first of the seven competing craft to reach the finish line. WILL NOT COMPETE

TORONTO (CP)—Clark Donaldson of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto, winner during the weekend of the International Dragon championship, announced Monday that he will not compete in the Duke of Edinburgh Trophy race at Kingston, July 9.

Donaldson said his yacht Snap must be shipped before July 9 for the International Dragon class races in Holland Aug. 14-18 and "unfortunately nobody can lend me a boat for Kingston."

Although police said they believed the letter was the work of a crank, extra guards were placed around the barns here of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. Taylor has about a dozen horses quartered here for the current Fort Erie meet.

The letter was reported to have been opened in Toronto by Mr. Taylor's secretary, Cliff Bennett, and turned over to Toronto police. Fort Erie track officials were notified and the usual guard patrol around the stable area was doubled. All persons entering the stabling area were closely checked.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are on their way to England.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find out what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wednesday, July 6, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — The aspects of Mars and the Moon now stress a need for calmness and reasonableness. Irritability, impatience on your part could antagonize others, cause you loss of help. A fine day for industrial trades.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Neither too generous a day nor a wholly uncooperative one. Manoeuvring adroitly, especially in tricky matters and in situations where diplomacy and strategy are requisites. Be your sensible self.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — It will be better to direct your aim toward solid accomplishment now than to try for the unreal—which may be neither profitable nor desirable. Think!

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Your Moon's position now stresses a serene, pleasant disposition and a gentle understanding of others' difficulties. The day favors laborious tasks and household matters above other things.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Your Sun is in favorable aspect so you have the jump on most of us today. You can get your chores, even difficult matters, done satisfactorily if you earnestly try. Good rays.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo) — Today's influences are re-strictive in spots, but challenging and auspicious on the whole. Unique and creative ideas may not come as easily as usual, but sound practical matters are highly sponsored.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Advice to Taurus applicable to you today. Much can be attained if you follow your common sense you have. Rest, recreation, enjoy a hobby when you can.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Mars, Jupiter and other planetary rays now urge unbiased and sound procedures in business and work interests; also economy in investing.

November 23 to December 31 (Sagittarius) — Curb extravagant notions now and limit spending according to the needs and urgent cies of business, home and charity. "Caution" a good word for now.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Especially favored now: Those in positions of authority; business promotions (if earned); health programs; research in new medicines, drugs, chemicals; dealing in products of the soil, minerals.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius) — Your Uranus position warns against harmful extremes, restlessness. Temper these inclinations with common sense and you can benefit—especially in activities and interests similar to Capricorn's.

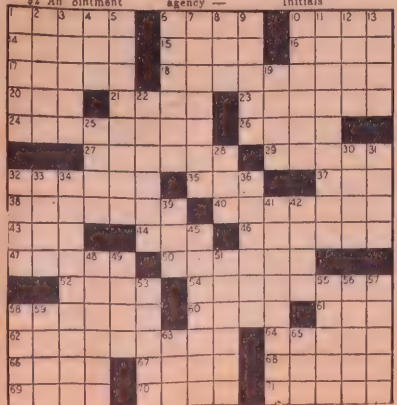

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces) — Avoid extremes, extravagance and irritability and you can have a fruitful, pleasant day. Take some time for wholesome diversion.

YOU BORN TODAY have great love of family, home and tradition; are highly intelligent, artistic and talented in many ways. You are variable and volatile of temperament. But you are loyal to family, country and religious beliefs; will fight valiantly for God and country. Your fine characteristics more than outweigh your failings so it is up to you to curtail them—restlessness, over-sensitiveness and a tendency toward argumentativeness. Don't be too exacting of loved ones. Seek God's guidance always and you will enjoy contentment and achievement. Birthdate: John Paul Jones, Amer. naval officer, adventurer; Prof. Dan'l Gilman, pres. Carnegie Inst.

U. S. BOATS RETURNED

YUKON BEAUTY REIGNS AS "MISS CANADA" OF 1955

Winning beauty titles is old stuff to "Miss Canada" of 1955. For just last February, 23-year-old Delyce Smith, centre, of White Horse, Yukon, was acclaimed "Queen of the Rockies" in a contest held at Banff Springs. The pretty brunette who flew to London, Ont., for the contest held in conjunction with the city's centennial celebration plans to use her $1,000 scholarship given the winner to study dramatics. Others sharing in scores of prizes given in connection with the pageant in which 23 girls participated are Valerie Lane, left, Winnipeg, and Lorraine Shipley, of London, who also shared second place.—Central Press Canadian.

Sixty Guardsmen From Fort Henry Visit Washington

WASHINGTON (CP)—Sixty scarlet-coated Canadian guardsmen, sporting 19th-century British uniforms and military equipment, fired a 21-gun salute in honor of the United States Monday in a unique Independence Day ceremony at Washington's two Jimma Marine Memorial.

Members of the Fort Henry Guard of Kingston, Ont., they joined with the U.S. Marine Corps in a special military ceremony as the wind-up to a five-day visit to Washington as guests of the marines.

Hundreds of Washingtonians turned out to see the Canadians, wearing British uniforms of 1860 vintage, perform the British army drill of 1867, including several evolutions and formations illustrating close order, bayonet drill and other manoeuvres of the time.

By contrast, the marine corps drill platoon performed present-day exercises.

FIRE SALUTE

In a climax to the ceremony, the Fort Henry guard fired a 21-gun salute from two breech-loading Armstrong six-pound cannon and a brass muzzle-loader cast in 1813. The guard, using ancient breech-loading rifles, then fired a "feu de joie" (fire of joy) and gave three cheers.

The guard, which returns to Kingston today, is made up of Canadian university students employed by the Ontario highway department to present Canadian history. Their visit here, in which they represent the British redcoats who invaded Washington in the War of 1812, returns a visit paid to Fort Henry last year by a marine corps detachment.

CHANGED SPEED SIGNS

SIMCOE, Ont. (CP)—Police said Monday they are seeking a paint brush artist who damaged several signs at nearby Turkey Point tourist resort during the weekend. Two highway signs designating a 30-mile-an-hour speed limit were changed to 80-miles-an-hour police said.

Turns Up Steam In Apartment, Wife Pays Bail

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—As if 90-degree heat was not enough, a janitor turned up the steam in his 35-family apartment house Monday, bringing complaints from tenants and a disorderly conduct charge from his wife.

Police said Eugene R. Bernard, 30, the janitor, got into an argument with his wife, took her clothes and tossed them into the furnace. The temperature was in the mid-90s outside, when sweltering tenants began phoning police about steam coming out of their radiators. Police investigated and a plumber was sent to shut off the boiler.

Bernard's wife brought charges against him, but paid his $25 bail.

VANISHING HOSE PLAGUES CALIFORNIA FAMILY

Suzanne DiPesa, 12-year-old daughter of the family whose home is plagued with the vanishing garden hose, sits encoiled in the 50-foot length that has been added by her father "just to see how far it will go." All sorts of theories have come forth from their neighbors in Downey, Cal., including a scintillator provided by Glen Sanders, seen at right. Over 20 feet of hose have been drawn into the ground by some unexplained mysterious force which continues to pull at the rate of about 6 inches a day.—Central Press Canadian.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

Two days of every year, the fishing hamlet of Rosport, Ont., on the shores of Lake Superior, is turned into a swimming settlement. From many parts of Canada and the United States come hundreds of keen fishing folk, with rods, lines and a myriad forms of lure, to take part in, or witness the annual Rosport Fish Derby, rated the richest lake trout derby in Canada, set this year for July 24.

Saturday morning, the fishing enthusiasts begin arriving and by Saturday night close to 4,000 are roaming the one main thoroughfare of Rosport. Sunday the remainder of the 6,000 enthusiasts come in by car, truck or boat.

Tent cities come along the highway and lake shore and some even camp in their cars. Hotels and motels are booked to capacity for the annual fishing classic months before the actual happening. Sunday morning there will be hundreds of boats of various shapes and sizes ranging from the poor man's punt to the rich man's private yacht. Some boats will be lined up at the point, one-quarter of a mile from the dock, one hour before the whistle blows to start the fishing folk on their eager trail.

Rich prizes await the winner, but we doubt if the prizes are as great a magnet as the chance to do battle with a fighting lake trout that range up to 30 pounds or so in weight. For this is a real sporting event, where a fisherman's dream may come true, where expert or novice, amateur or veteran can fulfill a wish of winning an angler's prize.

This is one of Canada's major fishing events. In fact, it has become a national sporting event, patronized by fishing enthusiasts throughout Northwestern Ontario and from distant parts.

Rosport is not only famous for its big and sporting lake trout, it is the mecca of the Rosport fishing industry, where the quiet charm of inlet and island provides a setting of unsurpassed grandeur for a restful rendezvous.

An all-round Port Arthur athlete who starred in lakehead hockey and baseball, Weikko Koivisto, brought in the prize-winning lake trout at the 17th annual last year, with approximately 2,870 fishermen participating. His catch weighed 15 pounds, three ounces. Fishermen's luck figured the triumph. Weikko caught the winner about two minutes after a fishing rod had been put in his hands by another contestant, who said he didn't think the fish were biting well, and he'd had enough for a while.

Weikko won a trip to Florida, and a trip to Bermuda went to a couple who only recently had been blessed with even better fortune in the form of a pair of bouncing twins.

The Greater the need for High Octane The Greater the need for TCP

Today's engines deliver more power than ever before—and with greater economy, too!

They're high compression engines. They're built to squeeze more power out of every drop of the high octane gasolines they require.

But high octane alone will not keep these engines delivering their full power. They must be protected against the harmful effects of deposits that build up in combustion chambers.

The reason is this:

When your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time... before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against... instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP®.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fire-proofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

*Shell's trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

Napanee Storm Damages Centre And New Theatre

Cement Block Walls Fall, Injuring Two Workmen

NAPANEE (CP) — The eastern Ontario town took the full sweep of a driving gale-like wind and rain storm Tuesday and came out of it with a few bad scars.

Two casualties were reported from a construction job 1 1/2 miles north of the town. Two workmen were hurt when the cement block walls going up at a new drive-in theatre blew down. The workmen were George Huff and Arthur Fraser.

Both were taken to hospital in Kingston, 25 miles to the east. Major property loss was the collapse of the two main walls of the community centre building, now under construction. Thousands of cement blocks were turned into heaps of junk. The building may not be completed for the 100th anniversary of the Lennox County Fair in September.

A 100-foot-long canopy across from the railway station was torn from its heavy timber uprights and landed on the westbound track.

Westbound rail traffic was derailed to the eastbound track by a bulldozer. The canopy broke it up. Scores of television aerial wires buckled up and cars were bent and bumped when struck by falling trees and limbs.

20-Year-Old Turned Into Human Torch

SUTTON, Que. (CP) — A 20-year-old youth was in critical condition in hospital after having been turned into a human torch in a building fire caused by a "barbaric act" by a person or persons unknown.

Roy Miner was severely burned shortly before dawn Tuesday when a lighted match was put to his mobile between two houses when the incident occurred. Flames somehow came in contact with the vehicle's gas line causing the gas tank to explode.

Besides further injuring the youth, the explosion rocked and heavily damaged the houses.

Remanded for Sentence

SIMCOE, Ont. (CP) — Hubert Kames, Jr., 41, of Langton, was remanded for sentence to July 13 Tuesday after he pleaded guilty to a charge of criminal negligence in connection with a traffic accident June 25 in which a woman and her infant grandson were drowned.

Mrs. Robert Lydia Davis and 15-month-old Larry Davis were killed when a light truck was driven over a creek near Port Rowan.

Police said four other people escaped when the truck went off the road into the creek.

Evidence given by county traffic officer Al Robb was that Kames was driving the truck, making the vehicle sway in an effort to scare Mrs. Davis.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: Scattered thunderstorms brought some relief from the heat wave to most of southern Ontario Tuesday afternoon and evening, but the boundary between cool air over northern Ontario and the sultry weather around the lake was stalled on a line through Wisconsin, Lake Huron and the Niagara peninsula, leaving southwestern Ontario still in the heat. Scattered afternoon or night-time thunderstorms are forecast to occur along and to the south of this stationary front. Little change in this weather pattern over the province is forecast for Thursday.

NO COMPROMISE ON DEFENCE PRODUCTION BILL

Govt. Refuses to Put Time Limits on Powers

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Drew has yielded no ground in his party's stand against the government bill to extend indefinitely the powers of Defence Production Minister Howe.

The government has refused to set a time limit on the powers of the Defence Production Act, he said in the Commons Tuesday night. And that is why the debate is continuing.

The Progressive Conservative leader spoke for 45 minutes and continues today as the filibustering debate runs into its third day.

He made it clear, however, that the course he believes the government should follow is the one set in his party's motion before the House.

That motion, which would block passage of the government bill, suggests giving permanence to the defence production department and to such powers as should be continuing, but provides for annual submission to Parliament for whatever other powers are needed to meet world conditions.

The government bill would eliminate the expiry date of July 31, 1956, written into the Defence Production Act when it was passed in the Korean War days of 1951. It was reported Tuesday outside the chamber that a compromise suggested by Social Credit Leader Low may be accepted, but not before the present debate ends with approval in principle of the bill. The compromise was based on Mr. Low's House statement that certain of the act's provisions would be made subject to periodic approval by Parliament, with permanent status given to Mr. Howe's department and to the act's less controversial powers.

Wealthy Widow Loses $60,000 In 18 Months

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Detectives investigating the mysterious death of a 65-year-old wealthy widow in her hotel apartment said Tuesday she apparently had been swindled of $60,000 in the last 18 months.

They said also that $3,000 in cash was missing from the room where Mrs. Lulubel Rossman was found Monday, bound hand and foot and suffocated by a handkerchief in her mouth as a gag.

Mrs. Rossman was described as the sole heir of a $405,000 estate left by her husband, Allen P. Rossman, senior partner in a firm of certified public accountants. He died two years ago.

One police investigator said a health minister had demanded return of the money, having been convinced that she had been defrauded.

Rebellious Convicts Virtually Control State Penitentiary

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — Armed convicts, angered by what they termed unfair hearings in the prison's disciplinary court, were in virtual control today of the Washington state penitentiary and its 1,784 prisoners. They still held seven hostages.

Prison guards reinforced by state patrol and county and city officers armed with rifles and sub-machine guns patrolled the walls and the area surrounding the prison. A national guard company was on standby orders for possible duty.

But inside the prison, most of the inmates, apparently in obedience to a white-shirted convict-leader of some 33 persons directly involved in the revolt—remained in their cells.

Talks between prison and state officials and spokesmen for the rebels, aimed at obtaining the release of the seven hostages taken at knife point when the trouble started at mid-morning Tuesday, were broken off shortly before midnight.

The hostages, including associate warden Ted Beizerides, were believed in no immediate danger. Prison officials said, however, that no arrangements could be made for their release, the main prison guard control of the convicts.

Dr. Harris said the seven had talked to other prison officials and reported they were well treated.

Two other prison officials seized by the convicts at the start of the trouble were freed without explanation. One of them, Boots Fain, of the prison athletic and recreation department, was badly beaten. Captain of the guards Al Rembold was freed unhurt.

While the prisoners were in physical possession only of the maximum security building in the heart of the prison grounds—along with two cell wings—that building contains the control room. This gave them almost complete power over everything within the walls.

Prison routine continued under the iron fist of the convicts in control.

The trouble developed without warning about 9:45 a.m. Tuesday.

The 33 prisoners, all of whom had been held in a segregation centre reserved for the prison's toughest inmates, broke out of the centre and converged on Beizerides' office in the same building.

Rembold said Beizerides and he were "holding court when the door popped open and three men seized Beizerides and two men grabbed me and shoved me against the wall."

He said the convicts seized the control room and sent him to tell the warden's office that no one would be hurt "if you send Dr. Harris down for a conference."

5 Homes, Church Destroyed By Forest Fire in Quebec

CLARKE CITY, Que. (CP) — Five hundred home-wear men, their faces blackened by smoke from a forest fire that slapped hard at the nearby town of St. Marguerite, grabbed brief spots of sleep during the night and prepared to do battle again with the wind-blown flames.

The forest fire's original assault on the little community of four miles west of here left five homes and the Roman Catholic church in ruins. Other homes and buildings were charred.

The knots of firefighters, many of whom have gone without sleep for more than two days, stood by as first St. Marguerite and then Clarke City were emptied of what remained of the property of the Gulf Pulp and Paper Company. More than 60 square miles of scrub pine and balsam have already been destroyed.

The only other major fire reported in the province was a 1,500-acre blaze in the Abitibi area, near the Ontario border. Some 170 men were reported battling that blaze.

PCs CONTINUE ATTACK ON HOWE OVER WHEAT DEAL

Claim He Misled House On Negotiations

OTTAWA (CP) — The Progressive Conservative plan to continue an attack on Trade Minister Howe in connection with Canada's $19,000,000 wheat deal with Red Poland, charging he misled the Commons on the state of negotiations.

Opposition Leader Drew, who tried unsuccessfully Tuesday to open an emergency House debate and block the deal, Tuesday night in an interview accused Mr. Howe of deliberately leading the chamber to believe the deal was still pending and would not be completed until his department's estimates were up for discussion.

Mr. Drew's morning move in the Commons was followed in mid-afternoon by an announcement by Northern Sales Ltd., Winnipeg grain dealers, that the wheat negotiations, started seven months ago, now are completed.

WHEAT DEAL

Under the sale, biggest Canadian transaction with the Communists in post-war years, Poland gets some 9,000,000 bushels of wheat for about $19,000,000, putting up 15 per cent of the cost in cash. The remainder is to come from a Canadian bank loan, repayment of which is guaranteed by the Canadian government.

Mr. Drew wanted to block the deal. He said he feared it would lead to a heavy loss to Canadian taxpayers.

"If we are going to give money away, let us give it to our friends," he said.

He also recalled a previous government guarantee of ship built for a Nationalist Chinese firm—since taken over by the Chinese Reds—had resulted in an apparent loss of about $13,000,000.

OUT OF ORDER

However, Speaker Rene Beaudouin ruled his emergency debate motion out of order, saying there was no urgency to the motion because the deal still was pending. The proper time to discuss the matter was when Mr. Howe's estimates came before the Commons.

Couple Standing In Doorway Hit by Lightning

DUNDALK, Ont. (CP) — A man, cradling his 13-month-old daughter in his arms, and his wife were struck by lightning Tuesday as they stood in the doorway of their home watching the approach of a storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clarke were knocked unconscious by the lightning bolt. The baby was unhurt. Mrs. Clarke was nearly suffocated when she fell face down in a pool of blood, but her husband remained consciousness just in time to turn her over.

The lightning is presumed to have entered the house from a clothesline running from a tree in the back yard to a corner post of the frame home. No trace of the line could be found. The corner post was split and burned.

The baby fell on soft ground when her father fell. She wasn't even crying when Mr. Clarke picked her up.

Militia's Tents Levelled by Gale

CAMP SHILOH, Man. (CP) — Rain, hail and driving winds combined Tuesday to level most of the tents and shelters of some 700 militia commandants in the 100-square-mile training area.

The two-hour storm, heralded by thunder then pattering out to steady rain that was still falling early today, caught many units in daily training drills, and made quakes of roads and rails.

By nightfall, hastily-mustered dry tents, many of them made of straw, food rations were delivered to troops still maintaining outdoor camp sites.

LANGUAGE DIFFICULTY

Tel Aviv, Israel (Reuters) — Two persons were wounded Tuesday night when fanatical supporters of the Hebrew language threw small bombs into the garden of a Yiddish theatre before a play in Yiddish was to be begun.

"Two years is about the maximum life I can expect," he said. "I have always lived with the sea."

West's Proposals At Summit Talks Being Drafted

Macmillan Warns Against 'Premature Relaxation'

By ARTHUR GAYSHON
LONDON (AP) — Western proposals for consideration at the Geneva summit conference were being worked out in several European centres today. They included plans for arms cuts, German reunification and a European security system.

British, French and American experts will meet in Paris Friday to put final touches on the proposals, in preparation for their review at a pre-conference parley of Western foreign ministers July 15.

If approved by the big three governments, the ideas will be presented as a basis for discussion at the Geneva talks, scheduled to begin July 18.

Diplomatic informants in London said Tuesday night that the Allies were near agreement on a limited disarmament plan. This was described as the first instalment of a possible package deal with the Soviets, which the West hopes eventually will include German settlement and Continental security agreement.

At the Geneva talks, scheduled to begin July 18, the Allies were near agreement on a limited disarmament plan. This was described as the first instalment of a possible package deal with the Soviets, which the West hopes eventually will include German settlement and Continental security agreement.

Macmillan did not specify what he had in mind. His remarks could apply to Yugoslavia, Spain, Portugal and Finland, or to Switzerland and Austria. Or he could have been laying the groundwork for some proposal at Geneva for an all-European organization.

Raft Drifting Toward Ocean

MARSOU, Que. (CP) — A raft, carrying four adventurers who hoped to sail to Europe, was reported today drifting slowly into the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Skipper Henri Beaudouin, 28, and his crew—Gaston Vanacker, 28, Bernard Saurieu, 24, and Paul La-pointe, 24—were seen sailing past the Cape community on the south shore of the St. Lawrence river, 323 miles downstream from Quebec City.

Beaudouin said the 25-by-14-foot raft had shown no signs of weakening. It is made of seven cedar logs lashed with thick rope.

30-Year Wait Brings Sad End To Love Story

LONDON (Reuters) — Back in 1923 Donald Crawford McKinnon proposed to Jessie Cairns in Edinburgh, but her mother objected because Jessie was only 17.

The lovers parted and did not meet again until last year in London's Hyde Park.

Jessie had never married and when Donald, now 61, proposed again she accepted. But McKinnon already had a wife.

He was jailed Tuesday for 18 months for bigamy.

In 1947, the court was told, he was also jailed for bigamy.

Fine Boat Operator

BRADFORD, Ont. (CP) — A Toronto man was fined Tuesday for driving a motorboat recklessly. Arthur B. Morougham, 30, pleaded guilty to the charge, laid on the Canada Shipping Act. He was fined $29.50.

Evidence was that he endangered swimmers and people in smaller boats by zooming at river speeds on the Schomberg River near here. Bradford is 35 miles north of Toronto.

5-Car Accident Causes Damage Of About $1,500

A five-car accident near the Salmon River Motel on Highway 2 east of Shannonville Tuesday afternoon caused injury to one man and resulted in damage of about $1,500 to the cars involved.

Involved in the chain reaction mishap were cars driven by Robt. Dixon, Sharbot Lake; James Field, Portland, Maine; Donald Thompson, Vancouver; Douglas Wood, Gannock, and William Rowland of Deseronto. Mr. Rowland was the only one reported injured. He suffered lacerations to his face.

Provincial police reported that the Regent Service Station at Rossmore had been entered during the night with three one dollar bills reported missing. Police said the back door of the service station had been left open.

In the city, Eric S. Denyes, Church Street, reported an attempt to steal his lawn sprinkler. A boarder at the Denyes residence, Raymond Hippell, had been sitting on the verandah shortly before midnight last night when he noticed a stranger go down the driveway. He followed and was just in time to see a young man cut the garden hose. When he saw Mr. Hippell, the would-be thief threw the lawn sprinkler at him and fled down the driveway.

And a Parkwood Heights district had will be minus his air rifle for a period. Yesterday police received a complaint that a boy armed with an air rifle was shooting at "anything and everything." Police located the boy and confiscated his air rifle.

An Ottawa man, Harvey McGrath, swung too wide on the curve on No. 14 Highway at the north end of Foxboro and ended up against the fence on the property of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gough.

Militia Units Ready For Summer Camp

This will be the first summer that units of the Canadian Army Militia have attended camp since their reorganization and conversion to the old reserve army.

The two Belleville units will attend different camps during the month of July.

The 27 Technical Squadron RCME will go to Camp Borden on Saturday, July 9, until July 16, while the Hastings and Prince Edward will train at Niagara-on-the-Lake from July 16 to July 23.

Lieut.-General Howard D. Graham, CBE, DSO, ED, CD, has issued an appeal to employers asking their co-operation in releasing men from work so they can take the summer training. General Graham's statement follows:

Units of the Canadian Army Militia (Militia) throughout Ontario now are making plans for a brief period of concentrated training at a summer camp. This period is of vital importance to the overall effectiveness of the Militia. It culminates local winter training with an opportunity for units to carry out more extensive field exercises and complete various essential qualifications.

"For the majority of units, the camp period will be one week. Employers of Militia troops in this province always have given their finest co-operation in releasing men from normal work in order that they may attend camp with their unit."

"I am sure that this same spirit of friendly assistance will prevail this year."

The coming summer training program for the Army camps more pronounced importance than in any year since the end of the Second World War. It will be the first summer of Militia reorganization which took place last fall. I am therefore anxious that they have as large manpower strength as possible when they report for camp training.

"Citizen armies long have provided the greater strength of the nation in times of strife and war. As long as the world remains divided, Canada's Militia will grow in importance and retain a unique position within the Western Alliance. The man who maintains a soldier's status in the Militia is helping both himself and his country."

Last evening a delightful surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. John Lattone, Station Street, in honor of Mrs. Joe Cummings and son, Gene, who are leaving shortly for a three-months' holiday in England.

Mrs. William Coveny and Mrs. Ernest Cockell were co-hostesses. Presiding at the pretty, appointed tea table were Mrs. Coveny and Miss Doris Smith.

The evening was spent in a social get-together and the night was the first public ceremony of its kind to be held in Britain. He will go to Thailand and if his continued training is satisfactory he will be sent to wander through the country living on charity and seeking spiritual perfection.

BRITON JOINS BUDDHISTS

LONDON (Reuters) — Richard Allison, a 24-year-old clothing salesman, became a novice Buddhist monk last Tuesday night in the first public ceremony of its kind to be held in Britain. He will go to Thailand and if his continued training is satisfactory he will be sent to wander through the country living on charity and seeking spiritual perfection.

Newell Brothers Reunited After Many Years Through Efforts of Mounted Police

When the Mounties get their was insistent.

"Why, I can take you to England now and show you places where I was with him."

Last year came the final chapter in the story. Tom's wife died last year, and he was left alone, without any family. On the other hand John by now has a married daughter, a grandson, Rodney, and two other sons, John, 19, and Will, 15, all sharing the big, bright home on Yeomans St.

Left by himself, Tom decided to push his enquiries for his long missing brother further afield and with renewed energy.

"I had been looking for him for a long time, but could make no connections," Tom recounted. "Then after my wife died, I figured I was going to be alone. Last winter I started making more enquiries."

"More enquiries" took the form of a tentative letter he mailed in Detroit to the Parliament buildings in Ottawa, addressed negatively "to whom it may concern."

Not long afterwards he received a letter from the RCMP headquarters with a request to fill up a missing persons form and return it. He did so and enquiries were at once set afoot in Canada.

Finally, a letter, dated April 1st, dropped through the mailbox from the Detroit home. Tom opened it and in the first paragraph was written the end of his long search:

"Further to previous correspondence in this regard, please be informed that we have been successful in locating a John Basil Henry Newell, who resides at 94 Yeomans Street, Belleville, Ont."

Meanwhile, the first coincidence in the story of the two brothers was taking place. Tom Newell, who, unlike John, was aware he had a brother somewhere in the western world, also had come to Canada. He started life in the new world by farming, then he came wandering around. Eventually he was to end up in Detroit, where he now is, working in the restaurant business. But he forgot the second coincidence in the brothers' lives was to be played out.

In the summer of 1914, World War I flared up. John enlisted with the Twenty-First Battalion at Kingston. Tom took up arms with the Eighteenth Battalion at London. Along with the 19th and 20th Battalions, the 21st and 18th were sent overseas as the First Brigade of the Second Division of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. Throughout the four year years both men served under the same divisional banner, unaware that each had a brother somewhere along the line. "The war ended, both men were discharged and returned to Canada, the slim chance of a possible meeting postponed for another year."

Both men married, Tom settling in Detroit, John in Belleville, where he took up employment with the Shell Oil Company. John settled down to rearing a family, still unaware that he ever had a brother. Across the border, Tom continued the restaurant business, often thinking of the brother he could barely remember from early childhood, regarding flickers of times they spent together.

CANNOT REMEMBER

John, the elder of the two, yet the younger-looking, looked up from his seat on the porch and intimated into the distance. "He can remember him," I can never remember him."

But, seated beside him, Tom

Report Sheds No New Light On Dempsey Affair

OTTAWA (CP)—Correspondence between the government and Guaranty Trust Co. of Canada during the last 10½ years was tabled Tuesday in the Commons but shed no new light on Ontario's Dempsey political affair.

The 46-page return was requested by Alistair Stewart (CCF-Winnipeg North) at the height of the Commons controversy about a month ago over the failure of James Dempsey, Progressive Conservative member of the Ontario legislature for Renfrew South, to report campaign contributions of $8,800 in 1951.

Mr. Stewart, in requesting the return, sought more information on the role played by Revenue Minister McCann in the Dempsey affair. Dr. McCann is a director of Guaranty Trust.

ALL CORRESPONDENCE

The document contained all correspondence, telegrams and other communications between all government departments and the company since Jan. 1, 1945. None of the letters mentioned Mr. Dempsey or the late James Dronah, a Tom overman who made the contributions and whose estate was handled by Guaranty Trust.

Mr. Stewart requested the return after John Dielenbach (PC-Prince Albert) said in the Commons Dr. McCann topped Premier Frost of Ontario that Mr. Dempsey had failed to report the campaign contributions. He said Dr. McCann, federal member for Renfrew South, showed Mr. Frost photostatic copies of receipts for the contributions which turned up when Mr. Dronah's papers were examined after his death in 1952.

After learning the contributions had not been reported, Premier Frost withdrew his support of Mr. Dempsey in the June 9 Ontario election. However, Mr. Dempsey ran as an Independent Progressive Conservative and was elected.

Most other gains were limited to a little more than a point but were spread widely throughout the list. Greatest strength was in papers, financial institutions, refining oils and liquors.

Stocks climbing a point or more included Weston's, Royal Bank, Power Corp., McColl, MacMillan, B. Crown Trust, Dupont, International Paper, and Aluminium.

Bowling News

One week from today, the mixed doubles tournament for the Charles L. Hyde and Son new trophy will be held at the local greens and it is expected that a full double draw will be on hand for the event. Entries are pouring in for the tournament from all over the district with Kingston Club leading the way. Ald. Gerald B. Hyde, a former president of the club, and active player and his father, Charles L. Hyde, who through ill health is not bowling this year have donated a beautiful trophy for competition and in addition are donating many of the prizes to be awarded to the best bowlers. There will be three 15-end games played with the starting time set at one p.m. This should be one of the best tournaments in the district in some time.

A week ago "Ab" Wonnacott and John Dobbs journeyed to Campbellford and came home with the Canadian Packers trophy and accompanying prizes. There was a large entry list and the two local members had enough groceries in their cars to last them until next summer. The bowlers report an excellent time and splendid greens for the games.

On Monday evening the first game in the district playdowns, that will lead to competition for the Governor-General's Trophy at Ottawa in September was played with two Belleville rinks defeating Stirling by a count of 22-11. This competition is a two-rink affair with total scores to count. A rink of Harold Parker, Ernie Jones, Jim Hanna and A. E. Wonnacott journeyed to Stirling and won by 22-11, while a rink of Claude D. Tice, Percy Graham, Gordon Watkin and Austin Watkin won from the other Stirling rink here by 24-11.

Two rinks from Kingston came to this city to play a like number from Madoc, but the northern rinks did not put in an appearance. It did not seem entirely fair that Kingston should be forced to drive fifty miles and return without being notified before hand that Madoc rinks would not be on hand. If the district games are worthwhile playing, the teams comprising the league should make a special effort to be on hand. The Kingston Club have consented to play their Stirling, Madoc and Campbellford games in Belleville to avoid long travelling for the western clubs and these clubs should make a special effort to be on hand on the nights scheduled for play or else give sufficient notification to the Kingston club not to make the journey.

The boys are tuning up nightly for the Benedict Proctor trophy tournament to be staged at Trenton on Saturday. A number of trebles rinks from the local club are entered and if it is a good day for bowling Trenton will likely have its largest entry of the year. There will be two draws, the first one at eleven o'clock and the second at one o'clock. Valuable prizes have been secured for the winners.

LEAPED AT 90 MILES

RONDOUT, Ill. (AP) — Humberto Pedraza of Brownsville, Tex., happened Tuesday on a passenger train travelling at 90 miles an hour and suffered only cuts and bruises. Railroad men, who expected to discover him dead in a ditch, found the Texan badly shaken by mosquitoes. He was arrested for disorderly conduct. Why he leaped was not disclosed.

TRENTON NEWS

By ELMER BONTJE
PHONE TRENTON 7644Councillor Weaver Requests
All Information on Industry

TRENTON. (Special) — Councillor Gerald Weaver touched off an investigation last night that may lead to far-reaching consequences.

At the close of the short first of the month council session, the chairman of finance asked to have all information placed relating to the commitment made on behalf of council in connection with the Titania Electric Corporation of Canada Ltd. first reported to have acquired a site in Trenton and later refused the outright purchase of 16 acres of land offered them in the beginning of negotiations for the new industry. Mr. Weaver called for "anything" town clerk O.W. Larry or town solicitor H. Ramsey Park had regarding the matter. Councillor Joe Gould felt that a complete explanation would not be forthcoming.

Councillor Weaver requesting an early presentation of the facts asked: "What took place to bring them (meaning Titania) here? What took place to send them away?"

One of the shortest regular meetings on record was adjourned because of temperatures in the 90's despite the cool breezes from two fans circulating hot air in the new council board room.

EXPLAINS REASON

In a brief report on the recent co-ordinator's meeting in Belleville, Councillor Claude Graham, explained the reason for standardizing hose couplings on hydrants throughout the province. His suggestion that Fire Chief Clarence Orser be appointed fire co-ordinator in the local civil defence plan met favor with his colleagues.

On a recommendation from Fire Chief Orser, fireman Cecil Ellis was authorized a salary in-

Bank Accountant Is Charged With
Theft of $80,000

TRENTON (CP) — John Donald Hume, 24-year-old bank accountant was charged Tuesday with embezzling $80,000 from a Canadian Bank of Commerce branch in suburban Etobicoke.

Bank police said $80,000 had disappeared from the bank during the last 3 1/2 years. Hume was remanded on $5,000 bail until July 12. He had been employed five years and joined the Etobicoke branch in 1952.

Parched Crops, Lawns, Gardens
Receive Soaking in Heavy Rain

Parched crops, lawns and gardens received a good soaking late Tuesday afternoon and last night when the district was visited by rainstorms which dumped just over an inch-and-a-quarter of water on the Bay of Quinte area giving at least brief respite from the sultry heat.

Officials at the city water filtration plant on the Trent Road noted that a total of 1.26 inches of rain fell in three distinct periods.

Heaviest shower was at six o'clock last evening when a rather severe electrical storm passed over the city with .55 inch of rain falling in a 15-minute period. A second storm after midnight saw .63 inch of rain fall, while again shortly after six o'clock this morning another .11 inch of water fell. The 1.26 inch of rain was two points more than was received all during June.

The city and district escaped serious damage as result of the storm, with telephone service being interrupted in many parts of the city due to a cable failure.

There were a few individual power failures due to house fuses being blown while there was one interruption on the Trent Road, where a transformer fuse was knocked out.

Interruptions to telephone service were mostly due to the cable failure caused by dampness, although a few phones were knocked out when falling limbs knocked down wires.

Plugged manhole covers caused a miniature flood in the downtown areas of the city as paper and other refuse washed down the street, effectively plugged the manhole covers. In some instances water rose to over sidewalk level.

City firemen reported only one run as result of the storm. This was to the residence of Ray Top-

WRIGHT-BURTON

A lovely summer wedding was solemnized on Saturday, July 2, at 2:00 p.m., in Christ Church, Belleville, by Archdeacon J. B. Creagan, rector of the church, when Betty Rosen Burton of Belleville, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Burton, became the bride of Donald Edward Wright, of Toronto, youngest son of Mr. George Murney Wright. The altar was beautifully adorned with white naphrads, and white Shasta daisies, while tall white standards of Dorothy Perkins roses and baby's breath formed an attractive background in the chancel for the ceremony.

The wedding music was rendered by the church organist, Mr. John Croyden Withers, who accompanied the choir of 12 boys, who rendered "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony, and "Brother James Air", during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Philip Burton, was radiant in her bridal gown of French, ethereal Chantilly lace in floor-length, over nylon tulle, featuring a molded-in lace with scalloped, boat-shaped neckline embroidered with seed pearls, silver beads and iridescent sequins. The long sheath-like sleeves ended in lily-points encrusted with seed pearls, mingled with silver beads and iridescent sequins. The gracefully full skirt of tiered nylon tulle was enhanced by pointed side paniers. Her pure silk net fingertip veil was held by a Dutch type cap embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins and she carried a lace-covered white prayer book edged with tulle crested with pink butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

Mr. William George Tryon of Gananoque, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor, while Mrs. Frank Burton of Belleville, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Marilyn Fry of Toronto, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Ronald Clarke, also of Toronto, were bridesmaids. All were gowned alike in ice-blue crystallette over taffeta, in waltz-length, featuring fitted pointed bodices with cowl necklines ending in a short bow at the back. They wore matching crystallette headbands of blue cornflowers and Shasta daisies, and carried nosegays of blue cornflowers and white Shasta daisies surrounded by a ruffle of blue crystallette.

Mr. John Neer of Toronto, attended the wedding, while Messrs. Ronald Clark of Toronto, Frank Burton of Belleville, brother of the bride, and Dean Fry, of Toronto, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

LEAVING HOME MIGHT BE THE BEST SOLUTION HERE

I am not one who would impulsively advise a young girl to leave home. Especially, when the girl is only a teenager.

But when a home situation is one that makes it wholly impossible for her to live a normal life, when it lays upon her burdens no teenager should have to assume; and when she lives under such constant nervous and emotional strain that her health might be seriously affected, then I think some definite action that would take her away from this situation should be considered.

Wouldn't any of you feel the same after hearing this story: "I am a high school girl of 17, who has a great problem at home. To begin with, my father drinks very heavily, and for years my mother has been promising to get a separation because of the beatings we get from him and the embarrassment he has caused us. I am constantly fighting with him, sometimes actually physically, but she does not correct him.

My second problem is with my sister. "I work after school and on Saturdays. My mother is ill, so she cannot take care of the house. No matter how much I urge my sister to help out by cleaning the house, she refuses, because she is spoiled and lazy, so the house remains a mess. For this reason, I am constantly arguing and fighting with her.

"Because of my job, which I must keep, and my very depressing family life, I've never gone out with any boys. I am pretty, and I do have friends in school, but I am not allowed any activities after school. "I will be graduating from high school in a year, and have been thinking seriously of leaving home after then, as I am constantly unhappy there now and see no chance for happiness in the future.

"Do you think my decision is the right one?" I think that, under all the circumstances, this decision might well be the right one for this girl. But I do not think it is one to make and act upon without a great deal of advance thinking and planning. I am glad that she has another year before she wants to take any such step, for that will give her time to have a wise and well-thought-out plan ready if she feels the same at the end of another year as she does now.

There are three things that this girl should do right now. First, she should go to whatever family welfare organization there is in her town, tell them about her home situation and ask for suggestions as to what she could do to make matters better. She need not be afraid to do this, or to tell them all the details, for they will certainly hold anything she tells them in strict confidence. And they very well may be able to suggest ways in which her home problems could be helped.

The second thing she should do is to make up her mind what kind of work she might like to take up to support herself if she did leave home. Since she speaks of having a job right now, which she has been carrying along with her school work, it may be something she would like to continue after she finishes school and that would bring her in enough to live on. On the other hand, if it is merely a routine job that would lead her nowhere no matter how long she kept at it, then she ought to make plans that would eventually take her into some field that would offer her a chance of advancement.

Mother's Helper

A PIECE of driftwood for a club, a beach ball or two for sinking in the sand, and an old tennis ball are all your children need for a game of Beach Golf. Daddy might help plan the course, and he'll probably want to play a few "holes," too.

Courtesy: 1955, N.Y. Herald Tribune Inc.

She might be able to take some courses in high school next year that would equip her to start in such a field after she graduates. And, finally, she should begin looking into the various residences for working girls that there are in her city in order to find one where she might like to live for a year or two if she did go out on her own. I think that until she is a bit older and more experienced as a working girl, it would be wiser for her to board in such a residence, where she would make friends and find companionship, than to be completely alone in a big city.

Here, then, are some ideas for her to begin thinking about and putting into effect. I hope she will let me know if she plans to do so, for if she does, I might have more suggestions for her later on.

Frosty Drinks

By Mary Moore

Long cold drinks—here is a department where your young people can officiate and improvise to their hearts' content. Making frosty drinks for parched guests is such a hospitable gesture and to encourage the young people to prepare them is tactful and cunning. Their ego is built up—your energy is conserved.

TEEN TIME TEA PUNCH

(Serves 20)
Three cups orange juice, 1 cup lemon juice, 1 cup pineapple juice, 1 cup raspberry juice, 1 cup hot water, 3 cups boiling water, 6 tea bags or 6 teaspoons tea, 1-4 cups sugar, 1 quart soda water. Pour boiling water over tea; brew for 5 minutes; strain. Mix tea, fruit juices. Boil sugar and 1 cup of water for 8 minutes. Combine. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving add soda water. Serve over ice.

AMBER TEA DELIGHT

(Serves 12)
One cup boiling water, 4 tea bags or 4 teaspoons tea, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-4 cup fresh lemon juice, 10 ounces orange juice, 1 tin of apricot nectar, (13 ounce size), 1 quart of gingerale, and lemon slices. Pour boiling water over tea; brew for five minutes; strain. Mix tea, fruit juices and sugar. Chill. Just before serving add gingerale, garnish with lemon slices.

On the Sunday that we had a bridal tea for our niece, Pete made this punch. We served it to drink some toasts to her and John and it served 20 generously.

PETE'S PUNCH

One 6-ounce tin lemon juice, 1 6-ounce tin frozen orange juice, 1 20-ounce tin pineapple juice, 1 medium size bottle grape juice, 1 26-ounce bottle gingerale, 3 trays ice cubes. The ice and the gingerale dilute the concentrate sufficiently, when this has stood about 1-2 hour before serving.

We must not forget the popularity of chocolate drinks in the summertime—especially for young ones. Here is a chocolate syrup which you can use for your favorite chocolate drinks or for the chocolate milk shake below—

CHOCOLATE SYRUP

Eight squares unsweetened chocolate, 3-2 cups sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Put the chocolate in a saucepan. Set that pan in a large pan of boiling water. Cook until the chocolate melts. Add sugar and salt. Blend well. Add 3 cups boiling water slowly. Boil until a thin syrup is formed, about 6 minutes. Cover and keep cool.

CHOCOLATE MILK SHAKE

One pint of ice cream, 6 tablespoons chocolate syrup, 3 cups cold sweet milk. Scoop ice cream into tall glasses. Work with a spoon until softened. Then add chocolate syrup and milk. Stir vigorously. Serves six generously. Trick—Add 1 tablespoon malted milk to ice cream before mixing with spoon.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

FAMILY SEATING ARRANGEMENTS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Please help me with a discussion I have been having with my husband. We were invited to a surprise anniversary dinner given by my husband's niece for her mother, who is my husband's sister. There was one long main table, and six smaller tables, three on each side of the main table. The niece, who was the hostess, had placed the name cards on the tables. Here is how she seated my table: two sisters with their husbands, one niece and her husband, and two younger nieces, aged 10 and 11. My husband, who is a brother of the guest of honor and the first uncle of the hostess, was seated at an end table with total strangers. I told my husband that he should have been seated with his sisters, instead of having the nieces seated there. We got along very well with the family, but I did think the seating was not right. My husband thinks I'm being petty to look this way about such things. However, I'd like to know what you think about this, and whether I'm right or wrong. Whatever you tell me I'll greatly appreciate. I hope you understand my point.—W.Z.

I completely agree with you that it would have been more appropriate and more companionable to have your husband seated at your table rather than to have had those two so-young nieces. Since your husband's two sisters, a niece and her husband, and his niece and her husband—three married couples—were seated at this table, it would seem natural to have your husband there with you, (another married couple) instead of seating two young girls there, with seven adults. I have a strong feeling that you are such a good companion with children, and that perhaps also so that these two nieces are so devoted to you that it seemed a perfect plan to have them seated at your table, under your loving care. However, I don't think this is a fair procedure.

I feel very strongly that it is an inexcusable plan, an extremely awkward arrangement, to have children seated at a table with grown-ups on such an occasion or indeed on any similar occasion. They certainly "cramp" all the of the adult guests and of the social occasion. If those planning the party just must have the children present, it is quite simple, and certainly fitting, to plan to have a table set up just for the children. And I can well understand how you felt having to spend the evening talking to these two young girls (no matter how delightful they may have been), instead of having your husband with you at the other three women at the table had their husbands with them.

However, I am wondering if you told me all about your husband's place at dinner. Perhaps he, being such an important person at the dinner and in the family (the guest of honor's brother, the hostess' first uncle), was given the place of particular honor befitting his position in the family, a niece and her husband, and the hostess of some special guests at the hostess had seated at the table. I've tried to present the two possible sides of your question. However, now I do think you should follow your husband's good and wise advice and "let bygones be bygones," not discussing with anyone, in or out of the family, your feeling about the seating arrangements.

Beer Ferried Across River By Cow Hands

QUESNEL, B.C. (CP)—The beer was cool in the Cariboo on Dominion Day. How it got that way is a tale of cow-country resourcefulness.

The 900 residents of Wells and Barkerville, old gold-mining towns now headquarters for the surrounding ranches, were cut off for a week by flooded Cottonwood river and Lightning creek. Their link with the outside vanished when a 25-foot section of Cottonwood bridge was washed out.

Both towns ran short of meat, milk and beer. The meat and milk problem was easily solved: the food was packed into small boats and ferried across.

But the beer kegs were too large for the largest boat available. Quesnel distributor Mike Wall accepted the challenge and tied a jar to each keg. Then he flung the beer barrels into Cottonwood river, one by one. On the other shore, citizens galloped downstream, securing the kegs as they floated by.

The beer aided the citizens over until Saturday, when the bridge was repaired and trucks rolled across.

Last Testament On H-Bomb To Be Published

LONDON (Reuters)—Albert Einstein's "last testament" on the hydrogen bomb which he helped to make possible and later regretted will be published Saturday, three months after the scientist's death.

His close friend, philosopher-peer Bertrand Russell, 83, said Monday Einstein signed a message for the world about nuclear weapons just before his death.

Russell said that at a press conference Saturday he will distribute for publication "copies of a statement on nuclear weapons signed by eight scientists of international eminence."

"This statement was sponsored by Einstein," he added. "...shall outline certain plans which are contemplated in connection with this statement and shall be prepared to answer questions about it."

Quebec Mayor Is Re-elected With Big Vote

RIVIERE DES PRAIRIES, Que. (CP)—Mayor Omer Gaucher was returned to office Monday following a stormy, two-day election in this municipality just east of Montreal.

Police said four of the town's 14 polls had to be closed Saturday before the voting had been completed after gangs threatened returning officers and electors.

Voting in the four polls was completed Mon. "without a single incident," secretary Claude A. Voukarakis said. Mayor Gaucher was re-elected with a total of 1,287 votes—three times the number cast for his rival, Armand Lussier.

Mr. Voukarakis said the gangs Saturday also smashed their way into the town hall during the ballot counting but that no ballot boxes were stolen. No arrests were made and the "riots were grossly exaggerated," he said.

PCs CONTINUE

A few minutes later, Mr. Howe interjected: "Perhaps I could relieve the situation by saying that the situation will be unchanged when my estimates of the department of trade and commerce are discussed."

Later, when Mr. Drew heard of the Winnipeg dispatch he rushed back into the chamber and rising on a question of privilege demanded of Mr. Howe an explanation of what had happened.

Mr. Howe said the only comment he made in the morning was changed when his estimates were up for consideration.

DOES NOT CHANGE

"The negotiations were completed prior to today," he said, "and the fact that the announcement was made today... does not change the situation."

Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto) interjected: "This House was misled this morning."

Hon. Earl Howe (PC—Dufferin-Simcoe) added: "It is a good job we have a press to tell Parliament what goes on."

In an interview Tuesday night, Mr. Drew said Mr. Howe's morning statement in the House suggests, "to say the least, that there is little ground for any member of the Commons relying on his statements."

In the Winnipeg dispatch, Charles Swartz, Northern Sales president, said the wheat deal was consummated in Ottawa two weeks ago by himself and the Polish embassy.

He gave Mr. Howe "full credit" for the deal, saying the minister had given it a "lot of thought."

First portion of the shipments, covering 1,900,000 bushels of millable wheat at a cost of $4,000,000, has been booked with the Canadian wheat board. It will be shipped in September. Mr. Swartz said the wheat would be moved from both Atlantic and Pacific terminals to Baltic sea ports.

The complete transaction is to be spread over a period of nine months. There have been overseas reports that the deal with Poland might be followed by other sales to Iron Curtain countries, but federal officials here said they have no indications of any others developing.

NO COMPROMISE

Mr. Drew said the act was passed in 1951 on the government's assurance that some of its powers should not be of a continuing nature. The government now was abandoning that clear undertaking and seeking to make them permanent.

Mr. Drew's speech was the 87th in the debate, which began June 7, and was the 61st from the 51-member Conservative party. Many of its members have spoken twice, including Mr. Drew. He made an earlier speech lasting 3½ hours.

CALLS HOWE DICTATOR

Gordon Churchill (PC—Winnipeg South Centre), one of several speakers in Tuesday's defence production debate, described Mr. Howe as dictatorial, bombastic and "subtle as a dinosaur."

He pictured the eventual vote on the government's bill in these words:

"An Egyptian taskmaster cracking his whip over long lines of slaves—being the Liberal backbenchers—pulling forward a great stone, the Defence Production Act, is to be placed on a pyramid which will stand for 1,000 years as a monument to Canada's great dictator."

"I would dare the cabinet in serious ranks bending in shameful humility before that taskmaster... the rollers on which the stone was being dragged forward would be the bruised and mutilated bodies of Her Majesty's loyal Opposition."

CCF VIEWPOINT

Fred S. Zaplitz (CCF—Dauphin) said the Conservatives have not mentioned a single instance of abuse of the act's powers. Any act of Parliament could be viewed as leading to abuses and it was up to the Opposition to check on the administration of the law, not try to block every measure that might be misused.

James E. Brown (L—Brantford) said Conservative claims that the act's powers could remove personal liberty and freedom are fantastic. The public knew they were fantastic. Parliament had never been more solid in maintaining its supremacy.

J. A. Charlton (PC—Brantford) said his party sincerely believes the principle of the bill is wrong and for that reason is opposing it. Conservatives were not speaking against the bill merely for the sake of opposing it.

Offers to Give Eye to Man He Blinded

VANCOUVER (CP)—An air force veteran who offered to give an eye to the man he unwittingly blinded was released Monday by the Court of Appeal on suspended sentence. Neil Deville McDonald, 29-year-old smelter worker at Kimberley, B.C., was sentenced to 18 months when he was convicted of assault at Cranbrook June 1. The incident occurred at a dance when a dispute arose over the merits of television and radio. Abraham Baumbach, 52, was hit by McDonald and as the result of his glasses being broken, lost the sight of his one good eye and now is blind. As counsel for McDonald, M.A. Manson produced evidence to the court of appeal that McDonald had offered one of his own eyes. Baumbach's doctor reported it would be of no use under the circumstances. McDonald then began to contribute some $40 to $50 monthly toward the support of Baumbach's family, Mr. Manson said.

Buffalo Bus Strike Continues

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Thousands of workers had difficulty getting back to work after the long Independence Day weekend here Tuesday as a strike of 1,650 bus employees went into its fifth day. Company and union negotiators were scheduled to meet at 2 p. m. for the first time in a week. The strike by employees of the Niagara Frontier Transit Co. has tied up transportation that normally serves 200,000 commuters daily. The transit company serves Buffalo, Niagara Falls and several suburbs, a population area of 1,000,000.

It was struck early Friday morning in a contract dispute over wages and other benefits. Mayor Steven Pankow said during the weekend he might declare a state of emergency if the disputing parties did not heed his appeal to arrive at a settlement. He urged that both sides appoint arbitrators.

But both the company and officials of Division 1342, AFL Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, said no "outsiders," including the mayor, would be welcome at today's meeting.

week-end with her sister, Mrs. Doug. Reid and Mr. Reid at Niagara Falls. A successful pot-luck dinner, under the auspices of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, was held in the Orange Hall, Eighth line, on Tuesday last.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO WEDNESDAY, JULY 6, 1955

Last Year's Chinese Floods Pose Grave Threat to Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States officials see a 20-per-cent lag in Red China's five-year plan as probably the gravest problem facing the annual People's Congress now under way at Peiping.

It means, in the view of specialists here, that this is a make-or-break year for the Communists in their race to balance China's agriculture with industry by the end of 1957.

The Reds may tailor their goals downward, as they have done before. Even so, officials here say they must take a major stride during the next 12 months alone or concede failure.

A major cause of Peiping's falling behind its self-imposed goals was the terrible toll of last year's floods, the worst in a century. Together, flood and drought knocked a further hole last year in the five-year plan.

The 50-per-cent estimate for overall lag is based on careful analysis of statistics from the area. It is viewed as significant because China's agricultural economy operates on a narrow margin in a country where flood and famine are to be expected. Fluctuation by one percentage point affects millions of people.

Peiping has just completed a deal to buy 200,000 tons of rice from Burma. Specialists say that will feed about 1,000,000 persons for one year. China's population is more than 463,000,000.

The bad thing about last year's floods, officials say, was that they struck in areas which normally escape the annual inundation. In their wake they left sand and silt, six inches to three feet deep, in rice paddies of such areas as South China, which normally must import rice.

Any new floods this year would add to the hardship still remaining.

Liberals Split Party Lines On Divorce Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — The Liberals split across party lines Tuesday as the Commons voted 86 to 22 to hold up final approval of a private member's bill to grant a divorce to a 38-year-old Montreal doctor.

The bill, previously approved by the Senate, was sent to the Commons miscellaneous private bills committee for further study on a motion by A. M. Nicholson (CCF—MacKenzie).

Mr. Nicholson objected to a petition by Dr. Claude Ferron seeking a divorce from his 32-year-old wife, Martelle, on grounds that evidence heard by the Senate divorce committee was contradictory.

His argument was supported by John Hamilton (PC—York West), who said he finds it practically impossible to give proper consideration to the piles of divorce bills he receives almost daily.

The Senate divorce committee this session recommended the granting of 407 divorces, a record.

APPOINT TWO

TORONTO (CP) — An industrialist and a chartered accountant were appointed Tuesday to the University of Toronto board of governors. An Ontario government announcement named Harold M. Turner, president of Canadian General Electric, and J. Grant Glasco, president of the Institute of Chartered Accountants, as the new members.

Speaker Gives Interpretation Of House Debate

OTTAWA (CP) — The Progressive Conservatives got obviously unintentional recognition from an unexpected source of one aspect of their argument against indefinite continuation of the extraordinary powers of the Defence Production Act when Commons Speaker René Beaudoin Tuesday gave his interpretation of the debate.

The Speaker gave it as he and Opposition Leader Drew got into a procedural tangle on what should take precedence in the House Tuesday. The scheduled resumption of the defence production debate or a motion of Mr. Drew to discuss the projected sale of Canadian wheat to Communist Poland.

Mr. Beaudoin said the appointed business for the day, defence production debate, "concerns a very serious discussion that has been going on, one which I understand involves the overthrow of our constitution. It is a very serious matter."

Some Conservatives have argued in the eight days of the debate that the powers held by Defence Production Minister Howe could be used to suspend the constitution.

Mr. Drew was quick to comment on the Speaker's interpretation, saying: "May I say, Your Honor, how happy I am to know that you have accepted our interpretation and not the interpretation of the minister of defence production."

"I take that to be so from the debate and from the determination that has been shown by several members to debate the matter," Mr. Beaudoin commented.

the art room painting a bandit, whom he had given a rather when I grew a beard," the duke said jokingly to the boy.

"One side went up and the end I had to shave it off."Before the duke revealed this "secret," Ericas had believed that the Queen, then PrincessElizabeth, saw him with his moustache and beard during a leave and ordered him to shave it off.

Harris Says Govt. Has No Need For Efficiency Expert

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Harris says there is no present need for cost-cutting efficiency experts to study operations of government departments.

This was his reply to a suggestion made Tuesday by J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative financial critic, to the Commons estimates committee.

The committee was set up early in the session to study the annual spending programs of the departments of citizenship and immigration, northern affairs, veterans' affairs and finance. It dealt with all departments except finance and broke off hearings April 27.

On Monday the government sprang a surprise by proposing that the finance estimates be referred to the committee. Progressive Conservatives opposed the proposal but it was carried in the Commons by a vote of 81 to 29.

CITES PREVIOUS CASES

Mr. Macdonnell said that "outside" efficiency experts had been used to scrutinize the financial operations of such bodies as the National Film Board and the post office. A case also could be made for study of all other departments. Since the finance department supervised the efficiency of all other departments, it should be able to determine whether there was need for investigation in those departments.

"You wouldn't want me to say that any other department ought to be investigated?" Mr. Harris said.

There had been specific need in the past for study of certain departments. This scrutiny could be resumed in future if necessary but no such public need existed today. In some instances, there would have to be a case of "underlying weakness" in a department before an inquiry could be initiated. The committee took only three hours to complete study of the estimates of the finance department, biggest civilian federal department, which will handle an estimated $300,000,000 this fiscal year.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

Picton's beautiful water course ribboning the tree-fringed heights of a natural amphitheatre, will again re-echo to the coughing staccatos of powerful speedboats.

The course which stretches down bay from Prince Edward's county town was tabbed by racing authorities, and continental-famed drivers years ago as one of the best in North America. It's gently rippling surface has carried the nautical Mercury to many world marks, while on one occasion it was selected as the venue for the world's unlimited championship.

It is one of the prettiest water raceways in Canada. Sloping hills veer gently upwards on its north and south banks. These natural windbreaks have many times acted as guarantees for more or less perfect racing conditions despite the fact a brisk breeze was blowing "outside."

For many years Clive Holiday was synonymous with Picton's famous Gold Cup Regatta. Last year, due to certain circumstances the regatta was not run. This year the date has been set for July and present indications point to the meet being a repeat of the spine-thrilling events that made Picton a by-word in speedboat-racing circles of Ontario and Quebec.

Ah, "them were the days."

This reporter covered the greater part of the regattas with their thrills, chills, humor, tragedy, nerve-tingling finishes, color and nautical glamor.

We have "tweated" and tanned under blazing suns on the roofless deck of the official barge. In the earliest days we thrilled to the careening manoeuvres of the "Colonels" famous barge, the "Black Maria," as she wobbled her way to the start-finish point. Those were the days of Frank Harris' "Flame," out of Wellington, who raced boats driven by Don Morden, Buff Cooper (and son), Keith Ferguson, Lloyd Hicks and many other well-known county names.

The Prince Edward Yacht Club expanded. It came under the jurisdiction of the American Power Boat Association. A special official barge came into being with its many timing and other gadgets. APBA officials of the Canadian subsidiary attended the regattas.

The fame and excellence of the course, not to mention the now famous Gold Cup, six hundred dollars worth of golden symbol, attracted the cream of American and Canadian drivers. They came from all parts of the United States, from California to Florida, not forgetting Texas and Missouri. From Buffalo, Alexandria Bay, and north of the border came these wave-splitting hellions bent on sports honor and glory.

Off pretty Ferguson's Cove they gambled their lives before thousands of people. Regatta Day was a sport's classic in Picton history. Across the shimmering water, high on the leafy ridge, spectators dotted the landscape. The water off and around the course was a glittering panorama of nautical color. Proud cabin cruisers, "white wings" of all classes, small craft, outboards, canoes, rowboats, lined the edges of the course awaiting the thrill-packed spectacles of these foam-waked champions of the waterways.

At the peak of its popularity the Gold Cup Regatta never attracted less than 15,000. Many were there when dawn alighted the eastern horizon. All were there when the last craft dashed across the finish line in the final heat.

Then one day tragedy reared its grisly head. Death struck swiftly, savagely out of the blue. "Pops" Cooper, ageless hero of many a thrilling heat and more-than-once winner of the Gold Cup, matched his speedy 135 class "Pops LV" against the mighty .225 class. "Pops" gunned his craft into a 70-mile-an-hour lead nearing the startline when disaster struck. A sudden squall rippled under the bow of the boat as it lifted on a wave, throwing it upwards, and backwards in a perfect somersault. "Pops" received fatal head injuries. Other drivers leaped into the water to the rescue. "Pops" died later in a Syracuse hospital.

On another occasion a trim aircraft whirled out of the eastern skies, circled over the course and landed gently on the water near the club house. It was Guy Lombardo, leader of the famous Royal Canadians orchestra and a renowned speedboat driver, who had sent his trim .225 Tempo as an entry.

On yet another day in the dark early dawn of a perfect day, this reporter with other newsmen crouched in the bottom of an inflated raft just off the edge of a measured mile course. As we waited, watching another raft which carried APBA officials, a thunderous roar came out of the western end of the course. A dark shape that slithered through the water like a huge snake, silver foam streaking its wake, roared past like a nuclear jet. It was "Miss Canada," making her bid for a world record. She ripped past the raft at 121 miles per hour and had broken the existing records. But the owner and driver failed to raise his hand to signal he was in trial. The next attempt the boat conked out—and that was that.

Picton has contributed many glowing pages to the history book of world speed-boat racing. Now, after a year's respite, she is making a comeback. It is to be hoped that all her former glory will be reborn. With the help and co-operation of district fandom, the hard work and efforts of enthusiastic officials, this is a distinct possibility.

Commodore Jack Cole and regatta chairman "Hap" Hutcheson are working at a tremendous rate of speed in an effort to revive the glamor and color that once characterized this famous sports event. Successful regattas have been held at Gananoque and Cornwall—and it is predicted that the many entries in the .135, .225 and the new .266 class will be on hand to launch a new era in Picton's speedboat racing history.

INAUGURAL POSTPONED

TORONTO (CP)—A tiny tornado hit Toronto an hour before the scheduled opening of Woodbine track's 35-day harness horse meet. On Tuesday night and set back the inaugural until Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. Racing afterwards decided on the 24-hour postponement minutes before the rain started.

Reliever Tommy Morgan Hero Choking Late-Inning Rally; Mays Hits Two-in-One Homers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were snickers when the Kansas City Athletics shelved out $50,000 to get Tom Gorman, Ewell Blackwell and Dick Kryhoski from the New York Yankees last March—but maybe it wasn't such a bad deal after all.

The A's took a sizeable risk in the deal and it looked worse when Blackwell and Kryhoski departed for the minors. But now Gorman has come through with the big payoff.

Only a so-so relief pitcher in three trials with the Yanks, Gorman has looked almost brilliant for the A's. He flashed his stuff again Tuesday night, putting down an eight-inning rally and going on to beat the Cleveland Indians 4-3. It was the 10th victory in the last 12 decisions for the A's.

The bespectacled New Yorker came against the Indians who had the score tied at 3-3 on Jim Hegan's homer off starter Bobby Shantz. The little lefty left with two on and two out and Gorman got Al Rosen on a foul pop with his first pitch to end the inning.

IN ORDER

Gorman retired the Tribe in the order in the ninth.

Joe Demaestri and Hector Lopez, unlikely power sources, each homered to bring the A's home safe. Lopez smacked his third of the season in the eighth for the big run.

The defeat, suffered in the lone American League game scheduled, dropped the Tribe to third place, five percentage points behind Chicago. Both now are 5½ games shy of the Yankees.

In the National, Cincinnati edged St. Louis 5-4 in a ninth-inning free-for-all. Philadelphia defeated first-place Brooklyn 5-4 and New York Giants whipped Pittsburgh 11-1. Chicago and Milwaukee were idle.

Though only four games were played, 14 home runs were hit.

COPS BROKE IT UP

Five of them came at Cincinnati, where police had to break up the brawl touched off by managers Birdie Tebbets and Harry (The Hat) Walker. Tebbets got it going by complaining that the Cards were stalling.

When order was restored, Johnny Temple lined a single to score the winning run and cap a two-run rally by the Redlegs. Ted Kluszewski, the muscular Cincinnati baseman who remained non-belligerent in the fighting, whacked his 28th homer early in the game.

Robin Roberts drove in three runs against the Dodgers and gained his 12th victory with relief help. Andy Seminick's two-run homer in the eighth won it. Duke Snider hit his 28th homer for the Brooklyn 12 games ahead of Chicago.

The Giants had a pair of four-run innings while rolling past the Bucs as Johnny Antonelli won his seventh on a four-hitter. The New York lefty, who has lost 10, fanned 10. Willie Mays hit his 24th and 25th homers in the rout, accomplishing the two-one game trick for the fifth time in his career. He has hit eight homers in the past eight games.

Leafs Win Seven in Row, Increase Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Toronto Maple Leafs' pitching staff shows no signs of panic even after the loss of Connie Johnson.

Johnson was sporting a 12-2 record when he pitched the Chicago White Sox six days ago, and was considered the mainstay of the Toronto staff. But since then the Leafs' pitching has been superb. Seven straight, with veteran right-hander Eddie Blake moving in to take over Johnson's spot.

Blake won his 12th Tuesday night with ninth-inning help from Jack Crimlan, turning back the Syracuse Chiefs 4-1. The Leafs increased their lead over the idle Montreal Royals to 4½ games.

Stan Jok's two-run homer in the sixth gave the Rochester Red Wings a 5-3 triumph over the Columbus Jets. The Richmond Virginians got steady relief pitching from Bill Voiselle to down the Havana Sugar Kings 4-2. The Buffalo Bisons were idle.

FOURTH STRAIGHT

Crimlan relieved Blake with two on and one out in the ninth and got the final two batters for the Leafs' fourth straight victory over the Chiefs. The Leafs scored twice on an error, a wild pitch, an intentional pass and two singles to break a 1-1 tie in the seventh. Jim Owens went all the way for Syracuse for his seventh defeat against four victories.

Rochester knocked out starter Mike Kume in the first inning with a three-run uprising. The Jets couldn't get to starter Ed Ludwig until the late innings when he began to tire, scoring one in the seventh and two in the eighth. Ludwig giving way to John Maclean, who won his ninth, won his third decision in five starts.

Voiselle relieved Richmond starter Jocko Thompson in the seventh with the bases loaded and one out, but quickly pitched out of the jam.

Oshawa Claws Panthers 5-1

KITCHENER (CP)—With south-paw Eddie Drapcho pitching three-hit ball, Oshawa Merchants Tuesday night increased their lead in the Senior Intercounty Baseball League by defeating third-place Kitchener Panthers 5-1.

It was the only game in the league during the day. The game at London game was postponed because of wet grounds.

Panthers missed an opportunity to take over second place from London Majors as they were unable to do anything against Drapcho after the first four innings.

Drapcho retired the last 15 men to face him. He struck out five to win his third game of the season. He has lost three.

Johnny Maldovan, Panther right-hander, went all the way but weakened badly in the last half of the game. He fanned seven but threw a home-run ball to Fred Thomas with one on in the top of the eighth to break up a close game.

EXPECT BIG TURNOUT

TORONTO (CP)—Bruce Lockertie, premier half-mile runner for New York Athletic Club, and his teammate, George King, who recently won the Canadian mile championship at Hamilton, will be two of more than 200 competitors expected for the Ontario track and field championship Saturday.

Most of Ontario's top performers have entered the meet for men and women, including Gwen Hobbs, Toronto hurdler and Jackie Macdonald, Toronto discus and shot-put artist.

Magee, Norman Rated as Favorites In Ontario Amateur Golf Tourney

By CLYDE BATTEN

KITCHENER (CP) — Ontario's 32nd annual amateur golf championship gets under way here today as 128 entrants tee off for the first round of the match-play tournament.

Playing host for the second time in the history of the amateur is Kitchener's Westmount Golf and Country Club, which boasts a tough 6,444-yard, par-71 course.

Rated as favorites in the four-day tournament are Jerry Magee of Toronto Lambton, and Moe Norman of Kitchener Rockway.

Magee's high billing is based on his steady play in the Ontario Open at Kingston last week where he carded a five-over-par 215 in the 54-hole medal-play tournament to cap low amateur honors and second spot in the Willingdon Cup team standings, with a 504 total.

NORMAN STANDING
Top spot on the Willingdon Cup interprovincial team is held by Norman who has a 497-stroke total in the 126-hole qualifying race including 36 holes at each of the London Hunt and Burlington matches and 54 holes in the Ontario Open.

Tuesday Norman shot par-shattering practice rounds of 66 and 67. Both Norman and Magee have bays today and will not see action until Thursday.

Other highly rated performers are Dave Morland of North Bay and Nick Westlock of Windsor. Essex who are currently tied for third spot on the four-man Willingdon Cup team, with 510.

Grant Shirk who plays out of Westmount, is the current Ontario Amateur champion and his fans are calling for a repeat on his feat of last year. Although Shirk qualified for competition for the Willingdon Cup team at Burlington and London Hunt his failure to show up at Kingston last week automatically ruled him out.

HIGH TEMPERATURES
Record - breaking temperatures have scored the rolling fairways of the Kitchener club but heavy rains Tuesday night have helped things out a little.

Excessively high temperatures are forecast for today and the first round looks as if it may become a test for hardy golfers.

The Westmount course has three long par-five holes. In the par-35 front nine the 587-yard fourth is a par-five while on the par-36 back nine the 547-yard 11th and the 526-yard 13th are the long ones.

With many long, slightly doglegged fairways the tournament shapes up as a drivers' contest. For this reason Magee and Norman are heavily favored among the starters.

National Leaguers Favored In All-Star Baseball Epic

CHICAGO (AP) — The power-packed National League today made early favorites out of American Leaguers as 25-man squads for the 32nd all-star game at Milwaukee Tuesday. The Americans hold a 13-8 edge in the mid-summer series and last year won at Cleveland 11-9 in a field day for batters.

Most experts believe another high scoring game will result this time with the Nationals equipped to home run bombardments behind such slug guns as Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski and Brooklyn's Duke Snider, leading with 27 runs in the holiday weekend; Chicago's Ernie Banks with 21 and Milwaukee's Eddie Matthews with 20.

On paper, the Americans cannot match this accumulated fence-busting power. Their top home run producer is New York's Mickey Mantle with 18.

And it is questionable also if the junior circuit's pitching staff, selected by their all-star manager Al Lopez of Cleveland can surpass that of rival skipper Leo Durocher of the Giants.

Lopez has named nine hurlers, including four lefties, with a combined record of 76-43 through Monday's games. They are rookies Dick Donovan of Chicago (9-2) and Herb Score of the Indians (7-0); Whitey Ford (10-3) and Bob Turley (10-7) of New York; Early Wynn (11-2), Cleveland; Billy Hoist (8-3), Detroit; Bill Pierce (5-5), Chicago; Frank Sullivan (11-7), Boston, and Jim Wilson (5-5), Baltimore.

Durocher failed to name any of his own Giant pitchers as he bobtailed his staff to seven with a combined 65-39 record. His right-handers will be Don Newcombe of Brooklyn (14-1), Robin Roberts, Philadelphia (11-7); Gene Conley, Milwaukee (8-5) and Sam Jones, Chicago (9-9).

The lefties will be Harvey Haddix, St. Louis (5-9); Joe Nuxhall, Cincinnati (8-5) and rookie Luis Arzoo, St. Louis (3-3).

On paper, the Americans cannot match this accumulated fence-busting power. Their top home run producer is New York's Mickey Mantle with 18.

Bearded Russ Meet 'Royalty' Friday Night

Two of the most spectacular and effective ringsters in the game, Prince Maiava and Lord Athol Layton, will combine their outstanding ring specialties against the crusty Kalmikoff Brothers in the tag team wrestling headliner at the Memorial Arena on Friday night.

The Layton - Maiava outfit will be gunning for the Canadian Open tag team championship, held for 10 months by the bearded Russ duo.

Sammy (Mr. Canada) Berg will meet George Scott, of Hamilton, in the semi-final. Chico Perez, of Mexico City, will oppose Scott (he's George's brother) in the first match.

94 Golfers Qualify For British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—A total of 94 qualifiers, wiped the slate clean today and began the 72-hole grind for the British open golf championship.

They are all that remain of a starting field of 210. Two qualifying rounds eliminated the rest, including 17 Americans.

Now every shot over the ancient St. Andrews course is for keeps. Only six of the qualifiers are amateurs and two are from the United States. They are Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., the British Amateur champion, who got in with a 139 and Jim McHale, the former Walker Cupper from Philadelphia, who had a 143.

The three American pros who still are in the running are Ed Furgal of Clayton, Mo., the 1954 U.S. Open champion (142), Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., the former terror of the fairways who now plays for fun (145) and Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh (147).

Australia's Peter Thomson, the defending champion, gave every indication in the qualifying rounds that he is serious about putting up a fight for his title. He finished with a 139.

The lowest qualifier of all was Frank Jowle, the 43-year-old Englishman, who had everyone here gasping with his record 83 Monday. He ended up with a 135.

Position the left foot an inch or two farther back from the direction line than the right with a wood club. And angle the left foot slightly toward the green. This permits a full, rounded finish. Now notice the diagonal line through the shoulder. The left shoulder is rising, as it should, getting out of the way so the right shoulder can pivot down, under the chin.

The left hip, too, has pivoted back out of the way of the arms and hands, to permit a full follow-through. Most of the weight is now on the left leg, but the right toe still has a firm grip on the ground for balance. At the point pictured, all the forces contributing to a smooth, rhythmic, swing have now reached a climax. The club has reached its greatest speed just at impact. What more do you want? CATS SIGN AMERK

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football Union Tuesday announced the signing of another United States import. He is James (Blackie) Kincald, former University of South Carolina half.

Blackie was signed by San Francisco of the National Football League in 1954 and later sold to Washington Redskins.

TURN NEAT TRICK

TORONTO (CP) —The winning pair of the Toronto permanent committee of the Canadian Ladies Golf Union's annual two-ball foursome Tuesday turned in the rare trick of both low gross and low net scores. Mrs. W. H. Boyle and Mrs. H. S. Ramsey of Toronto St. George's tied with two other pairs for low gross with 88, but their handicap of 16½ gave them the low net with 71½ and the trophies.

Boxer Suffers Brain Concussion

DETROIT (AP) — Bert Whitehurst of Baltimore suffered a brain concussion Tuesday night in a heavyweight bout with Johnny Summerlin of Detroit.

Doctors at Detroit Memorial Hospital described Whitehurst's condition as fair. They also said he was suffering from heat exhaustion.

Whitehurst took a savage pounding in the eight-round bout. He staggered to his corner at the end of the fight and had to be assisted to his dressing room where he collapsed.

Whitehurst is a sparring partner for heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

Summerlin was awarded a unanimous decision.

RUSSIANS LEAD Chess Tourney

MOSCOW (CP) —Samuel Reshevsky of New York Tuesday defeated Russia's world champion Mikhail Botvinnik 2½ points to 1½ in an international chess tourney.

Reshevsky, leader of the American team, beat Botvinnik by winning the first game and gaining draws in three remaining games. Botvinnik did not win a single game.

The Americans as a group, however, are not doing so well.

The total score, as of Tuesday night, was 21 to 5 in favor of the Russians, with adjourned games to be finished.

Tennis Verbal Battle Resumes

MONTREAL (CP) — President Harry Marpole of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association Tuesday fired another volley in the verbal battle with Sherrbrooke's Bob Bedard over the amount of financial assistance provided established tennis players.

In interviews in Wimbledon and again on his return here Bedard, Canada's No. 2 tennis player, said that he had received no help from the CLTA for his European tour.

He added that during his career he has received little help from the CLTA.

In a prepared statement Marpole said Bedard had been told before he left for Europe that the CLTA could not give him any financial assistance because it had a deficit of $2,500 at the end of the 1954 season.

CLTA ASSISTANCE

In his statement Marpole said: "... In 1953 he received from the CLTA well over $500 towards his expenses of trips in the United States and in Davis Cup competition and Canadian championships. Similarly in 1954 he received again over $500 of expense allowances from the CLTA.

"These grants to Bob Bedard alone represented more than 10 per cent of the total revenue of the CLTA for those two years.

"At its meeting last week the CLTA authorized $1,400 of expense grants for ranking Canadian players from all over Canada to assist them to get to and play in the Canadian championships at Quebec City next week. Bob Bedard is in there for his full share as he has always been in the past."

Second Record Cracked At Canadian Meet

SASKATOON (CP) — A second Canadian record was cracked Tuesday as the Canadian track and field championships came to a soggy-footed finish.

A day-long downpour climaxed the two-day meet for senior women and junior, juvenile and midget boys.

Jack Smyth of Winnipeg set a Canadian open and native record in the junior hop, step and jump. The Winnipeg youth, who has competed in the British Empire and Pan-American Games, went 46 feet nine inches in the event. The previous record, held by R. Kilkenny, was 46 feet, 6½ inches.

The other crack-breaker was Bob Stapleton of White Rock, B.C. He set a juvenile discus mark of 137 feet, 7½ inches Monday.

Warren McKenzie of St. Lambert, Que. was acclaimed outstanding individual athlete of the meet by netting 60 points in the midget division.

LOMBARDO WILL RACE

LONDON, Ont. (CP) —Orchestra leader Guy Lombardo will drive his powerboat Tempo VII on Lake Fanshawe near here at a centennial regatta Saturday afternoon.

Lombardo, in London briefly for a visit during his home town's 100th birthday celebration, made the decision Tuesday after a look at conditions on the lake.

Tempo VII is the same boat Guy will race at Seattle in the Gold Cup competition.

Yankees Looking Shaky at Short With Hunter Replacing the 'Scooter'

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Yankees hit the road today and will not return to their own friendly stadium until July 26. By that time we should know pretty accurately whether the Bombers can win an American League pennant without Phil Rizzuto at shortstop.

In losing their final three games at home, including a double beating by the blazing Boston Red Sox, the Yankees looked especially shaky at short, where youthful Billy Hunter is beginning to make errors on crucial plays. A club does not win through July, August and September without tight shortstopping.

Rival managers said all along that Casey Stengel's victory string would snap abruptly when Rizzuto no longer was out there making his miracle stops and throws.

A year ago today the Yankees were trailing the Indians by 3½ games but with Phil starting every day and getting occasional relief from Willie Miranda only in the late innings, the Bombers ran off 13 straight victories and pulled even with the Tribe for one day, July 20.

Then, the box scores indicate, Rizzuto began to feel the strain of his years and the heat. He still was in there, though for increasingly shorter periods, as the Yankees won another 10 straight through Aug. 19 to stick within 2½ games of the leaders. Another six-victory streak, in which Rizzuto figures prominently, ended Aug. 31.

Not until the final month, the record shows, did Phil begin taking to the bench for extended periods and, to all intents, turn the job he had held through 11 brilliant years over to Miranda, the slick fielding Cuban. Without attempting to take away credit from Cleveland's 111-game winners it was only in that month that the Indians were able to throw off their pursuers.

Whether the Yankees floundered in letting Miranda go to Baltimore and placing their dependence on Hunter is something that should be known within a few weeks.

Slander Suit Filed Against Dodger Boss

NEW YORK (AP)—Counsel for a surgeon who operated on the left hand of Roy Campanella, Brooklyn Dodgers' catcher, accused Wm. O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn club, of making slanderous statements against the doctor, in papers filed Tuesday in Supreme Court.

The charges were made by counsel for Dr. Samuel Sheinkman, Manhattan neurosurgeon, who is suing Campanella for $50,000 for medical services. They were accompanied by a motion picture accompanying a motion picture to restrict Campanella's demand for a bill of particulars.

In the affidavit, the lawyer, Benjamin Sheinkman, charged O'Malley made a remark that the surgeon "thought he was operating on Roy's back."

"The plaintiff," the affidavit said, "does not intend to permit these remarks to go uncontested. However, that is something for another forum."

The affidavit said in May, 1954, Campanella suffered an injury to his left hand "which not only limited his playing, but unless corrected would finish his playing days."

Campanella was operated on that month, but the affidavit said the catcher was unable to play in his usual manner.

The papers state that Dr. Sheinkman operated on the catcher last October, and that Campanella's batting average "at the present time" is .335, compared with .207 last year.

Believes Kempton and Harper Came Up With Crockett Story

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Two separate tales of the parties scalped Davy Crockett the other day. But they didn't touch a hair of Fess Parker, who plays that Crockett himself. They got D. Crockett himself.

First into the clearing, whooped Murry Kempton, a writer for the New York Post. He said Crockett was a lazy, hooky-playing, whiskey-swilling, illiterate braggart with an ignoble record as soldier, provider and congressman. His whoops had barely died when in stepped the personal and otherwise department of Harper's Magazine. Slicing deftly and quickly, Harper's got the rest of Crockett's.

Well, now, when Crockett first hove on the television scene as a model for youth I confess I was a little surprised at the choice. As a frustrated historian who enjoys dabbling in the first fertile 100 years of the republic I thought there were more important and exciting Americans who could more accurately bear the tag of "frontiersman."

I haven't raided the files as extensively as Kempton and Harper's. But I do recall sardonic remarks about Crockett by such reputable historians as Vernon L.

But I suppose it doesn't matter whether the real Davy was heel or hero. What matters at the moment is that the televised Davy be one of nature's noblemen who will in spite malleable young minds to go out and be likewise. A distorted sense of history, however regrettable, does not prevent children from pursuing virtue.

'Tea and Sympathy' Will Be Made With Deborah Kerr

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How can they make "Tea and Sympathy" into a movie and get it past the censors?

That question has been raised ever since a MGM bought the prize-winning play for films. One of those who feels it can be done is Deborah Kerr, who starred in the play on Broadway and the East and who will repeat her role in the movie.

"Tea and Sympathy" deals frankly with a prep school boy who is accused by his fellow students of being a homosexual. His champion is a teacher's wife who feels he is being unjustly accused. When everyone else has deserted him, she helps prove his manhood in a final scene that is a shocker.

A high official of the production code office which censors all Hollywood films, remarked recently that "Tea and Sympathy" can never be passed on its basic theme. The code forbids even the implication of homosexuality.

Miss Kerr feels that the film can be made, and without sacrificing the theme of the play.

"I don't want to give any secrets away," she remarked. "But I had a talk with Robert Anderson, who wrote the play and is now working on the movie script. He feels that it can be done."

"After all, the play is not about homosexuality. It is a story that shows that we must give more than tea and sympathy to our fellow human beings. Its theme is the persecution of an individual."

"I think another kind of persecution can be substituted, and the other elements of the theme can be implied. The story can still be touching and moving—if the persecution is strong and convincing enough."

AT THE CAPITOL

Zane Grey's "Robbers' Roost"

One of the most famous of Zane Grey's novels of the Old West is brought to the screen for the first time when "Robbers' Roost" in Eastman Color opens on Thursday at the Capitol Theatre through United Artists release, its first showing.

Filed in Eastman Color on location in Durango, Mexico, "Robbers' Roost" co-stars George Montgomery, Richard Boone, Sylvia Findley and Bruce Bennett, and features Peter Graves, Warren Stevens, William Hopper, Stanley Clements and Tony Romano.

The novels of Zane Grey, the grand old man of western fiction, have been a prolific source of material for screenplays. Indeed, some 140 films have been made from Grey's novels.

The wild and rugged landscape surrounding Durango, Mexico, was the location shooting site for "Robbers' Roost." It is known—not affectionately—as "the scorpions," because of the abundance of the lethal insects in the environs.

George Montgomery, the hero of "Robbers' Roost," is a popular western star who would rather be an actor in western movies than anything else he could possibly think of.

Beautiful, red-haired Sylvia Findley, although she has never been a cowhand, is Texas-born, and has been riding horses ever since her early post-dinner days. Bruce Bennett has one of the oddest roles of his career in "Robbers' Roost," appearing in the picture as a man confined to a wheel-chair.

Villain-in-chief of "Robbers' Roost" is Richard Boone, famed as television's popular "Medic." A most-sought-after actor Boone has appeared in eighteen major pictures in the last four years.

On the same program "Canyon Crossroads," the added outdoor attraction, depicts for the first time man against helicopter for nature's top secret—uranium! A new kind of western—actually filmed in the Colorado Badlands uranium fields, starring Richard Basehart and Phyllis Kirk.

Indians Run Afoul of Major League Rules

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Cleveland Indians learned Tuesday they ran afoul of major league baseball rules in trying to buy outfielder Jim Dyck from their Indianapolis farm club.

Cleveland got Dyck in a trade last year from Baltimore Orioles, then sold him to the American Association last winter. Under the regulations, Cleveland cannot require Dyck's contract until after the baseball draft this fall.

Ford Frick, baseball commissioner, cited a rule the Indians had overlooked when he blocked the sale.

The law is that when a major league club sells a player to its minor league affiliate it cannot buy him back until other teams have had a chance to obtain him in the annual draft. The Indians had to sell Dyck to Indianapolis because he already had been optioned three times.

Rankin Given Three-Game Ban

Herb Rankin, manager of the Frankford Merchants softball club was given a three-game suspension by the Belleville District Softball League executive at a special meeting last night.

The suspension stemmed from two charges of conduct unbecoming a manager after Rankin was expelled from games on two different occasions.

League president Cy Barriage said all evidence was weighed carefully before the suspension was given. Rankin who was present made no comments.

World Series Fever Grips Red Sox

BOSTON (AP)—The season is only at the halfway mark but pennant fever began to grip Boston fans today with even the Red Sox players casting glances toward world series glory and gold.

"I can smell my dirt," said shortstop Billy Klaus, a key man in the team's streak which has vaulted the Red Sox into pennant contention.

A month ago, the Red Sox were stumbling along in sixth place, 15 games behind the first-place New York Yankees. Now, with 24 victories in 29 starts, they are in fourth place only eight games off the pace.

Antonio Segni Takes on Job Of Italy's Premier

ROME (AP)—Antonio Segni, 64-year-old Christian Democrat, took on the job as Italy's sixth post-war premier and lined up a three-party coalition government for presentation today to President Giovanni Gronchi.
The new government still faces votes of confidence in both Houses of Parliament.
Segni announced acceptance of the premiership Tuesday night. He said his cabinet would be made up of members of his own party, the Social Democrats and Liberals, and would have the support of the Republicans.
Former premier Mario Scelba ruled Italy for the last 16 months of the backing of this same grouping.

SIMILAR TO SCALBA

The distribution of cabinet seats was expected to be similar to Scelba's. Under the previous premier, the Christian Democrats—largest single party in Parliament—held 14 ministries, the Social Democrats 4 and the Liberals 3.
Some personnel changes are considered likely, however. A rebel right-wing group within the Christian Democrats appears scheduled for two or three seats in an effort to force Scelba's resignation June 22.
At least one member of Scelba's cabinet—Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino—appears almost certain to be held over in the same post. His appointment would ensure continuity of Italy's close adherence to her responsibilities within the North Atlantic alliance.

Treated With Reserve

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A wholly unconfirmed report by a Nationalist Chinese news agency today said about 50 United Nations prisoners of war captured in Korea including U. S. and Canadian officers are being forced to serve in the Chinese Communist army.
The story came from the Nationalist interior ministry. Tatoo claims to have underground sources on the Red mainland.
The story was treated with considerable reserve.

Liberals Whittle

Away at Lead Of Social Credit

EDMONTON (CP)—The Liberals are continuing to whittle away at the lead scored by Social Credit in winning the June 29 Alberta general election.

Results announced Tuesday night, after second counts, gave two victories to Liberals, both gains from Social Credit, and increased the Liberal representation in the 81-seat legislature to 13, nine more than the party had in the last legislature.

Social Crediters were elected to 35 seats in the balloting to chalk up their sixth consecutive victory in provincial general elections.

Other members of the new House include three Progressive Conservatives, two CCF candidates, and one Liberal-Progressive Conservative, one Coalitionist and one Independent.

Still undecided under the single-transferable-vote system of balloting used in Alberta provincial elections are four constituencies with Social Crediters leading in three and an Independent Social Creditier in the other.

Declared elected Tuesday night were Richard E. Hall in Athabasca and John Mills in Lac Ste. Anne.

The four constituencies still to come are Acadia-Coronation, Camrose and Vermilion.

Has Won $32,000 In Bible Quiz, Can Double It

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer has a week to decide whether to take the $32,000 she has already won in a television quiz show or risk losing it in a try for $64,000.

The 54-year-old grandmother from Camp Hill, Pa., survived the next-to-last hurdle in the CBS TV program, "The $64,000 Question" when she gave correct answers to a three-part Bible question Tuesday night.

A Bible reader all her life, Mrs. Kreitzer had chosen to be quizzed on the Bible when she started on the program two weeks ago.

Aiming for $32,000 Tuesday night, she was given the names of the three "Peter, James the Greater and James the Less and then was asked to complete the list of the 12 apostles.

SKIPPED JOHN

For a moment it appeared she might lose out when she skipped John. She quickly ran through the list a second time, however, and named the missing disciple as well as the "Peter, James the Greater and James the Less and then was asked to complete the list of the 12 apostles.

If she decides to try another question next week, Mrs. Kreitzer may bring along any Bible authority she chooses to help her answer it.

Vancouver's Police Inquiry Opens Tuesday

VANCOUVER (CP)—The public inquiry into Vancouver's police force will get down to business July 13.

The inquiry opened Tuesday when commissioner Reginald H. Tupper outlined the procedure he planned to "reach the truth" concerning charges of graft and corruption within the 735-man force.

Only witness called during the brief hearing was Superintendent John Fisk, head of the accounts and records division.

In the courtroom was Ray Munro, west coast representative of the weekly tabloid Flash, whose articles alleging corruption and laxity of administration helped bring on the hearing.

T. G. Norris, counsel for chief constable Philip Mulligan, demanded the presence of the publisher and editor of Flash during the inquiry.

Mr. Tupper said he would ask the officials to appear, but said they lived in Toronto and could not be subpoenaed.

DETECTIVE CALLED

As the hearing opened, it was learned that Det.-Sgt. Leonard Cuthbert, who shot himself during the chest June 24, had been subpoenaed to appear.

Also subpoenaed was Munro, who faces a libel suit brought by Mulligan against both the reporter and Flash.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with an astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain. Thousands have been relieved—without resort to surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, piles were relieved promptly. Actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months.

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. This secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyno)—the discovery of a famous scientific institution. Bio-Dyno is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation 17. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation 17 suppositories or Preparation 17 ointment with applicator. Preparation 17 is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

24 Night Club Owners Will Be Taken to Court

MONTREAL (CP)—Assistant director Pacific Plante of the Montreal police said Monday night 24 night club owners have been summoned to appear in municipal court for operating without city permits.

He said another six may lose their recently-renewed city permits on recommendation from the police department to the city executive committee.

The 24 clubs and liquor-vending restaurants had been promised a second chance 10 days ago if they "played ball" with the law, Director Plante said. But the establishments broke their promises to obey provincial liquor closing hour regulations, he said.

Representatives of the board will investigate neighboring cities to determine what type of cover would be advisable.

Clock Again Working

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP)—The clock atop Peterborough's 67-year-old former post office building was back to normal Tues. and citizens smiled.

The clock was stopped a few days ago when the post office moved to new quarters but, after so many years, citizens missed reading the clock. Monday, caretaker Percy King rewound the timepiece above the empty building.

"I just got tired of so many people asking about it."

Truck Driver With Travelling Circus Killed

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Police said a man whose body was found Monday night lying in an open field, died from chest injuries, apparently suffered when he was struck by a heavy vehicle.

The man was identified as Ralph Fortune, 40, of Southgate, Calif. He was employed as a truck driver with a travelling circus.

Police said that although tire tracks indicate the man had been struck at least once, there were no vehicles near the body when it was found.

Police said they are investigating the possibility that Fortune was hit by a truck and that its driver was not aware of the accident.

Little Benny's Notebook

Ma has been telling pop it would be better for his health if he planted some seeds in the garden and helped them to grow instead of keeping on making his bad back worse at the bowling alley, and after dinner she said, William, I don't want you to think I'm harping on the same subject, but that stuck-up Mr. Sowers up the street has been a bizzzy as a beaver in his garden, and pretty soon a few scattered flowers will come up, and he'll crow over you like a rooster that's laid its first egg.

I've thought of that, pop said. As a matter of fact it's a shame to give him a chance to float, when it's such a simple matter to get ahead of him just by scratching the ground with a light rake and dropping a few light seeds, and then from time to time watering with a light hose while I read a book with my free hand, he said, and ma said, Why of course, William, a little gentle work out in the open air would solve everything.

That guy Sowers brags quite enough even now, just because he consistently rolls up a higher bowling average than I do, even though he's not half the bowler that I am, pop said. He has the luck of the devil, that's all he said, and ma said, Well then there, that's still another reason.

Sure it is, I'll put a spike in his ego, pop said. I'll spur him on with fulsome flattery every time a dinky flower raises its piffling head, and he'll get so exhausted in his garden I'll trim him at bowling, in spite of his uncanny luck. It's an old but a true saying, He who lifts fast is the best bowler. Thanks, my dear, that was a splendid suggestion, he said.

Oh hush, such a man, ma said. Meaning him.

Tourist Makes Concert Debut As Conductor

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An 11-year-old tourist from England, Andrew Taylor, made his concert debut as a conductor Wednesday with the Robin Hood Folk Orchestra. In fact, it was Andrew's first concert appearance in any capacity. He arrived as a spectator.

The conductor, Alexander Hillsberg, addressed the audience: "Is there anyone in the audience who would like to conduct?"

Andrew, seated in the front row, seized the opportunity for musical recognition. Critics said he demonstrated he could convey tempo and dynamics clearly but had the orchestra hurrying midway through "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Senator Is Hurt By Criticism Of Divorce Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — The Senate's Opposition leader, declaring himself hurt by Commons criticism of the work of the upper chamber, said Wednesday that he would reconsideration of the whole question of parliamentary dissolution of marriages.

Senator John T. Haig, Winnipeg lawyer, termed the Commons criticism unfair. He asked his colleagues to think about the matter and have a conference at the start of the next session to see how best to handle "this very, very vexed question."

Senator Haig said he was "very much hurt" by the attitude taken in the Commons Wednesday when that House, by a vote of 86 to 22, held up passage of a divorce recommended by the Senate's divorce committee.

OBJECTS TO PETITION
In the Commons, A. M. Nicholson (CCF-Mackenzie) objected to a petition by Dr. Claude Ferron, Montreal doctor, for a divorce from his wife, Marielle. He said the evidence heard by the Senate committee was contradictory.

Senator Haig, speaking on a question of privilege, took exception to the suggestion that the evidence was contradictory.

In view of the "rising criticism" in the Commons, he said the Senate should confer on the best way to handle the divorce petitions which come to it from Quebec and Newfoundland, only provinces without their own divorce courts.

The Senate divorce committee recommended a record 407 divorces this session, of which one has been rejected by the Commons so far.

SALE OF WHEAT TO POLAND WILL BE UNDERWRITTEN

Federal Treasury Will Bear Loss if Default

OTTAWA (CP) — The crown-owned Export Credits Insurance Corporation is acting on cabinet instructions in underwriting the controversial $19,000,000 sale of wheat to Communist Poland.

The federal treasury, which the corporation will meet the loss if Poland defaults on a one-year loan financing the deal.

That was learned from information Wednesday following renewed questioning in the Commons by Progressive Conservatives about the status of the $250,000-bushel sale, Canada's biggest to a Communist country since the Second World War.

Trade Minister Howe said he had been told the sale was a "good commercial transaction" which the insurance corporation could recommend.

WOULD BE ISSUED
Prime Minister St. Laurent said the corporation would have been told an insurance policy would be issued "under the usual terms and at the usual rates."

Mr. Howe said the government agreed the corporation could "take on the loan under Section 21 of its act." He did not explain how Section 21 works—it lets the government itself back the corporation on what the agency considers risky loans.

The corporation, whose business is to insure exporters against failure of payment for goods shipped abroad, has a capital account of $20,000,000. The Polish wheat deal called for it to insure 85 per cent of the purchase price. Poland is buying the wheat at current world prices.

Qualified informants said Wednesday the company did not insure the sale on its own initiative. Normally it does not insure shipments to Iron Curtain countries because financial accounts there cannot be examined.

However, under Section 21 the cabinet may decide whether normally non-commercial transactions are in the best interests of the economy and may instruct the company to insure it, with the federal treasury taking an loss that develops.

In the Commons, a sometimes confused discussion developed over claims by Opposition Leader Drew and CCF Leader Caldwell that the government was misleadingly stating that the sale was underwritten by Mr. St. Laurent and Mr. Howe on the status of the wheat sale.

Mr. St. Laurent said Friday the transaction was under negotiation at that time. On Tuesday, when Mr. Drew was unsuccessfully seeking a debate on the matter, Mr. Howe said "the situation will be unchanged" until the departmental estimates are considered later in the session.

Mr. Drew said that late Tuesday, after a Winnipeg announcement of the sale, Mr. St. Laurent said that the negotiations were completed prior to today.

Mr. St. Laurent stood by his statement of Friday that his information then was that negotiations were proceeding satisfactorily but were not completed.

"I don't think they have been completed at the present time," he said Wednesday.

Mr. Drew said: "The minister (Mr. Howe) says they were."

Mr. St. Laurent replied that the negotiations as far as we were concerned were completed.

"But the whole transaction will not be completed until there has been an arrangement for a policy (insurance) and a premium has been arranged and payment of the premium provided."

Eisenhower Exhibits Increasing Optimism Towards Meeting

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Eisenhower is exhibiting an increasing degree of optimism towards the approaching Big Four meeting at Geneva.

He appears to have more confidence in the possibilities of a favorable outcome from that meeting than do some other members of his administration, including John Foster Dulles, his secretary of state and his right-hand man when the heads of government get together July 18.

Eisenhower's optimism, developing over recent weeks, isn't too apparent in his public speeches. In those formal utterances, he is more cautious and restrained when talking about the Geneva meeting. He is likely to use terms like "fatuus expectations" and "a smiling face and soft voice" in referring to the Soviets.

It is in the easy give and take of his weekly press conferences, with his comments coming off the cuff rather than out of the phrases of his speech writers, that Eisenhower shows his increasing confidence about the Big Four meeting.

More and more, in recent weeks, correspondents have gone away from the White House with the feeling that the president has a real hope of results from the summit meeting. At various times, he has talked of "a change going on," of "something different in the world," and of the chances of peace being "on the upswing." He has said a "sixth sense" has told him world heart-felt optimism voiced by Eisenhower is abating.

Often, the way the president says it, and the tone of voice he uses, is more important than the comment itself.

Even Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev, far away in Moscow, was prompted to comment on Ike's press conference statements. "What he said is a fresh stream of ozone," said Khrushchev.

At a meeting with the press, following his return from the United Nations meeting in San Francisco, Eisenhower said he is trying "not to expect too much" from the Geneva conference but added that "obviously" some change has come about in the Russian attitude.

Referring to the possibility of finding ways to reduce world tension, he made this comment: "I personally believe, on what I learned at San Francisco and through my talks, that the chances for that were better than I thought they were two months ago."

At the same time, he warned that everyone must use caution because no one seriously believed the Russians had abandoned their long-standing goal of world domination.

The Dulles press conferences are in marked contrast with those of the president. The state secretary's attitude, perhaps because of the very nature of his job in the world of diplomacy, appears to be one of scepticism and cynicism. He has expressed the hope that the four participants in the conference "genuinely desire a secure peace" but his comment lacks the ring of the obviously heart-felt optimism voiced by Eisenhower.

Menon Will Report to Nehru On Try for U.S.-China Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Roving Indian Ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon planned to fly to London this afternoon to give Prime Minister Nehru a full report on his efforts to set up direct U.S.-Red China talks.

Menon had two meetings with President Eisenhower and three sessions with State Secretary Dulles during his month's stay in the United States. The Indian diplomat said Wednesday he had "no doubt" the talks will make a contribution to lowering tensions in the world, particularly in the Far East.

Informed sources said privately the Americans made no concrete move to meet the Chinese Communists at the conference table.

After his second talk with Eisenhower Wednesday, Menon said the president had given him a goodwill message for Nehru. The ambassador will report his boss Friday in London, the last step on Nehru's current European tour.

Menon came to the United States last month after Peking conferences with Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai concerning Chou's offer in April to negotiate directly with the United States on Far Eastern problems.

Following Menon's return to India, the Reds released four U.S. airmen held since the Korean War. American officials indicated the fate of other Americans still held in China was the chief issue discussed with Menon in Washington.

Count Is Over, Alberta Liberals Gain Ten Seats Inventor Indicted On Sixty Counts, Girls Testify

EDMONTON (CP) — Ten Liberal gains from Social Credit were scored in the June 29 Alberta general elections.

Social Credit was re-elected with 37 of 61 seats.

Liberal Les Sims won over Mr. Gerhart in Acadia-Coronation. Social Credit was in its smallest number in the House since 1944 and the Liberals their largest representation since 1921.

The standing in the new House will be: Social Credit 37; Liberal 15; Progressive Conservative 3; CCF 1; Independent Social Credit 1; Independent Social Credit 1; Total—61.

The standing when the legislature was dissolved in May was: Social Credit 49; Liberal 4; Progressive Conservative 3; CCF 2; Independent Social Credit 1; vacant 2. Total—61.

Hearing Postponed

TORONTO (CP) — A court hearing on a 100,000 damages action brought against six water taxi companies by the Toronto Transit Commission was postponed Wednesday for a week on the request of counsel for one of the companies.

Asking for a stay, A. C. Allison, barrister, said in court that part of new affidavits will be produced. The TTC claims the companies have violated its monopoly to provide public transportation in Toronto Island.

GUARDS DEMAND ARMED SUPPORT IN PRISON SEARCH

Walla Walla Convicts Retain Many Weapons

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — Nervous guards balked today at a search for weapons in the Washington state prison where rebellious inmates announced Wednesday they were ending revolt which started Tuesday morning.

The action by the guards and an announcement that at least one of the concessions granted the revolt was that they would be allowed to keep their weapons for a complete and peaceful settlement of the fracas on schedule today.

Only a couple dozen weapons—estimated at one-third of those in the hands of the convicts—drilled in.

The guards then announced they had no stomach for the task of conducting an unarmed cell-to-cell search for weapons while the mean and tough prisoners remained in the cellblocks they took control of at 8:46 a.m. Tuesday.

The demand that state patrolmen and national guard troops be sent in with them on the shake-down and the prisoners ordered out on the compound. Warden Lawrence Delmore Jr., scoffed at their fear and said he was certain the shake-down could be completed without incident.

Nine hostages held by the prisoners were released when Dr. Thomas Harris, state director of institutions, signed a nine-point agreement with five of the 33 inmates who staged the revolt. The inmates eventually embraced half the prison and its 1,700 inmates.

But, the guards said, they had no assurance they wouldn't replace the original hostages or suffer an even worse fate at the hands of angry convicts.

TEMPER UNKNOWN
The temper of the inmates in the affected area was not known. The original host was heard, however, that Arthur Hawman, Walla Walla prosecutor, had announced he would prosecute the ringleaders under a new state law.

Hawman said he would ignore promises by Dr. Harris that leniency would be sought for the revolt leaders and bring them into court "just as soon as we obtain all the facts."

The leniency promise was one of the nine points agreed to by the state official. He also agreed to order release of men with no prior record and segregation wards to normal prison life and accepted a demand for establishment of an inmate council.

The council, to be selected by a prison election, would present grievances to prison officials. Its membership would not be subject to control of the prison administration.

Charles Simon, head of the prison classification department whose removal had been demanded by the prisoners, was shifted to other duties by Dr. Harris. The prisoners said Simon is unduly slow in preparing parole studies. Simon denied the charge.

The convicts' original demands had included a request for dismissal of Delmore and that Governor Arthur B. Langlie come to the prison and meet with the revolt leaders. Dr. Harris refused to discuss the demands and they were dropped.

Bridges Urges U Nu Name U.S. Men Who Favor UN Seat for Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Styles Bridges (Rep. N. H.) today called for a disclosure of all names of United States officials who favored the United Nations seat for Red China's admission to the UN.

Accused by U.N. officials of being responsible for the UN's refusal to accept the UN's admission to the UN, Bridges said in an interview: "If there are any such responsible officials as U. N. claims, let him name them."

Chairman James P. Richards (Dem. S. C.) of the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee commented in a separate interview that there must be "a lot of irresponsible people in Washington" who "what U. N. says is true."

U. N. visited Washington last week, discussing world affairs with President Eisenhower and other officials.

Wednesday he told a press conference in New York that while no

Mystery Message Says Boat Sinking Off New Jersey

Find No Trace of Vessel Which Said Sub Aiding It

NEW YORK (AP) — A radio message relayed to the U. S. Coast Guard today said a fishing boat with 21 persons aboard was sinking off the New Jersey coast. Seven hours later no trace of the vessel or survivors could be found, indicating a possible hoax.

Asked whether the message and rescue ones might have been a hoax, the Coast Guard would only say they were proceeding on the basis the message was authentic.

The first message reported the boat had struck a mysterious object, caught fire and began to sink. A subsequent message reported survivors were being taken aboard a tugboat which was "not an American."

The Eastern Sea Frontier said an American submarine was 35 miles from the scene but it had no report of the mishap.

A check of marine basins along the New Jersey coast showed no boats missing. And by 10 a.m. the Coast Guard had scoured 3,700 square miles of water in the area of the purported mishap and found nothing.

The Coast Guard said later it had learned that the disaster message was broadcast on a frequency of 2738 kilocycles, whereas the disaster frequency ordinarily used by ships is 2182 kilocycles.

First report of the mishap came at 2:30 a.m. EDT. At 3:40 a.m. the tugboat Nancy Moran said it picked up this message from the Blue Star.

"A submarine is surfacing about 350 yards from us. It is coming alongside. It is proceeding to take survivors aboard. It is not an American submarine."

There was speculation that the submarine might be a craft of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, some of which are stationed at Norfolk, Va.

The Blue Star said it struck the object in the water some 30 miles off Barnegat, N. J.

Lifeguards aboard the 40-foot Blue Star were said to have been killed in a fire which followed the collision.

Search planes and ships dispatched to the scene upon receiving the first distress message could find no trace of the Blue Star or any of its passengers.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Warner Paulsen is one man who refuses merely to talk about the weather.

Paulsen, program director for radio station WIP, today instructed all disk jockeys on his station to refrain during the current heat wave from playing any record "that has the word 'heat' in the lyrics."

Paulsen suggested the boys play numbers like "In the Cool of the Evening" and "Baby, It's Cold Outside."

London Woman Seeks Horse With Moustache

LONDON (AP) — A woman who's been trying to find a horse with a moustache today took her problem to a London newspaper.

"My friends and I," wrote Mrs. Bessie Myers, "have taken to examining strange horses in the street because some horses have moustaches."

"More, he says that years ago drivers would wax them. 'So far we've drawn a blank—no moustaches' on horses." The Daily Mirror answered that it seemed to remember seeing cart horses "with a bit of a walrus effect on the top lip," but it asked its readers for confirmation.

British Woman Living in Prague Said Missing

LONDON (AP) — Minister of State Anthony Nutting said Wednesday a former British woman living in Prague "was removed from her home yesterday by Czechoslovak authorities, and Her Majesty's embassy is making urgent inquiries."

He said the woman was Mrs. Phyllis Sispera, former wife of a Czech almanac. She has been seeking to leave Czechoslovakia. Nutting told the House of Commons Mrs. Sispera had been told she could leave only if her two children remained behind.

Fully Prepared For Long Strike

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Two hundred and fifty striking employees of the Holopet Hosiery Company of Canada plant here were told Wednesday night their union is fully prepared for a long strike if it is necessary.

Andy Grant, president of Local 826, Textile Workers' Union of America (CIO-CLU), told a meeting of the strikers the union has hopes for a settlement but is prepared to stay out indefinitely.

Workers on a day shift walked off Wednesday and threw up picket lines around the plant. The walkout followed a conciliation board report tabled last February which recommended a wage cut for 90 employees.

A union spokesman said the company at a meeting a week ago, announced it would cut wages 30 cents an hour effective Wednesday. The present hourly rate was not available.

Council Votes to Approve
For City Manager After Report Received from Committee

Belleville city council will adopt the council-manager form of municipal government if the recommendation of a special committee appointed to investigate this form of government is carried out.

And following Wednesday evening's special meeting of council it appeared the city fathers were about persuaded that this was the right step to take.

As an initial step council decided to advertise immediately for a city manager, although some councilors felt such a man would be but a city controller under another name. Mayor J. Both will name a committee to screen the applications received, the committee to report to council.

A special committee of Alderman Bruce Smith as chairman, with Aldermen Mrs. Effie McCabe and Mrs. David reported on the visit to the cities of Woodstock, Chatham and Sarnia, where they inquired regarding the success of city manager form of government in these cities.

The report indicated that city officials in these cities were unanimous in their opinion that council-manager form of government was most desirable and had brought business-like administration where previously there was lack of co-ordination and chaos.

For example, prior to the adoption of the plan in Sarnia, council had many standing committees and exercising considerable responsibility for the general supervision of the various departments of city administration. Council members became so involved in the details of administration that they were unable to devote the necessary time for the formulation of policy.

MAYOR REMAINS HEAD

Under council-manager form of government the mayor remains the chief magistrate. He is the head of the elected body and the chief executive officer of the city. The director of the city is under direct control of the council.

Council deals with the manager collectively and there should be no interference with the administrative functions which are the manager's responsibility to city council.

Duties of the city manager generally include:

1. To see that all laws and by-laws are enforced.
2. To exercise control over all departments.
3. To make such recommendations to the council concerning the affairs of the city as may seem desirable.
4. To keep the council advised of the financial condition and future needs of the city.
5. To prepare and submit to council the annual budget.
6. To prepare and submit to council such reports as may be required by the body.
7. To keep the public informed with reports to the council regarding the operation of the city government.

The committee pointed out in their report that the success of the council-manager form of government depends to a great degree upon the calibre of the individual appointed, who has to be a man of known administrative ability and high integrity.

Also it was indicated that this form of government works better with a smaller council—Woodstock had eight, Sarnia and Chatham eight. In all three cities visited the mill rate had been reduced and the services increased.

VOTE NOT NECESSARY

In presenting the report Alderman Smith stated that while it was not necessary for a vote of the people to set up a council-manager form of government, this might be advisable as then future council would be unable to vote the system out without again calling for a vote of the people.

Alderman David felt council manager form of government was more efficient. "Council should not be expected to make policy and administer also," he said.

Alderman Graham wanted to know how the power of a city manager compared with that of a city controller and for what term such men were employed. He was told that the powers of the two positions were relatively the same, noting that the late H. D. Bateman had not exercised his full authority as controller. In Sarnia the city manager was hired for a five-year term.

Alderman Ben Saw noted that Belleville needed a qualified engineer as commissioner of works and said if such a man were also a good business man he could double as city manager.

MAYOR FAVORS IDEA

Mayor J. Both favored the city manager idea. "It is the same as in a big business," he said. "Council members act as directors and the city manager carries out policy set by council."

The sooner Belleville adopts council-manager form of government the better off it will be," he said.

Alderman Keegan wanted to advertise for a city manager, then screen applicants and ask for a vote of the people to reduce council.

It was pointed out, however, that there was already a motion passed by council for the ratepayers to vote on whether a reduced council was wanted.

Alderman Moxam suggested the advice of the Ontario Municipal Association be sought before the city adopt a city manager form of government.

Several recommendations regarding the proper procedure to take were tabled, discussed and finally withdrawn. The final recommendation passed by council called for applications for the position of city manager to be received and screened by a committee to be named by the mayor.

What's a Little Thing Like Heat When It's Playground Opening Day?

Mad dogs and Englishmen move over! You have company in the noon-day sun.

When it is registration day at Belleville's supervised playgrounds, the younger generation in this city spurns any suggestion that it is too hot to play.

Even a little thing like failure to turn on the water supply failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the young tykes.

Weather is usually a news-worthy topic, just as love, hate, children, and animals are—at least that's what the schools of journalism teach.

With that in mind, the newspaper sent this reporter out to see how the playground set survived the heat wave which hit here earlier this week.

The assignment was to bring back all the gruesome facts describing how the few brave souls who made an appearance at the playgrounds Monday and Tuesday were too warm to co-operate with the supervisors. The poor leaders would be tearing out their hair trying to control the suffering children. First aid would be required to revive the weaker ones who succumbed to the day's heat.

It sounded like a good story. But there was only one catch—everything went fine at the playgrounds during that warm spell. Nothing out of the ordinary happened. Since the play spots were officially opened for the season Monday, the turn-out was good. And since it was registration day, there was no planned program. Tuesday was much the same story—a good turn-out and no mishaps because of the heat.

The children played quiet games and enjoyed themselves. They didn't give their leaders any trouble, which was a good thing for the leaders but bad for a paper that planned to write a story about all the unusual things that happen on a playground during a hot spell.

Council Votes
Financial Aid
To T. Pedder

Belleville city council will lend financial assistance to Tommy Pedder, 42-year-old Belleville swimmer, who late this month will go to Atlantic City to compete in the 26-mile Atlantic City ocean swim marathon.

Tribute to the swimming ability of the native Belleville swimmer was paid by Mayor J. Both at council last night with the recommendation that a donation of $100 be given to the swimmer.

Pedder equalled his own record last week when he negotiated his annual Bay of Quinte swim from Trenton to Belleville in a little over seven hours, a distance of some 14 miles.

Interviewed this morning, Pedder expressed his appreciation of the generosity and interest of council in making the donation.

"I am very grateful," he said "and I will do my very best to bring honor to Belleville."

Council was unanimous in its support of the mayor's recommendation.

Councillor Bram Humphreys told council that Pedder has been invited to take part in the CNE Lake Ontario swim later this year.

Arena Commission Will Not Operate Senior Hockey Team;
Offer Building for Sale

Subject to certain provisions for free skating for children, the Belleville Memorial Arena is to be offered for sale to private interests, members of city council have decided.

This was the action taken Wednesday night at a special meeting of city council called to discuss the future of the local arena and whether or not the arena commission should again this year sponsor a senior hockey league.

Council voted decisively against the city sponsoring a senior hockey team this winter, then voted to keep the arena open for skating and other recreations and as a final item of business decided to offer the arena for sale.

In opening the discussion on the arena matter Alderman C. D. Tice as chairman of the arena commission said there was no private sponsor in sight for a senior hockey team in Belleville this winter.

Also efforts to satisfactorily lease the operation of the arena had failed.

Alderman Tice said there had been negotiations with Bob Wilson of Toronto, scout for the Chicago Black Hawks Hockey Club, to lease the arena.

Mr. Wilson's offer of 10 per cent of all admissions or a minimum of $8,000 with the city to pay for the rink, ice, and other expenses was not satisfactory.

Alterations asked by Mr. Wilson to be given to the arena to increase the number of seats and to enter the arena by the side stairs and to expand the refreshment booth completely across the rink had been refused.

The estimated $25,000 cost of the alterations would cost an estimated $25,000.

COMMITMENTS OUTLINED

Financial commitments which must be paid by the city to operate the arena were listed by the chairman.

These commitments included $7,000 debenture charges for this year, $400 of last year's debenture, $8,000 borrowed from the city and $8,000 overdraft at the bank and in addition $2,500 for insurance, $6,000 salaries, and $4,400 for light and power or a total of $35,900.

Debt service payments of $7,000 per year on the arena run until 1957.

He emphasized that the arena should not be closed and should not be rented for 10 per cent of the receipts. The action to be taken was up to council to decide.

Mr. J. Both wanted to know how much the arena might be expected to lose if there was no senior hockey club this winter.

"How much would the arena gain by having a senior team?" he asked. "The public will demand that the arena be kept open."

"I can't answer that," answered Alderman Tice.

Alderman Grandame said a big mistake last year had been the decision to raise the price of admission to hockey games. "Many had stayed away because of the increased admissions," he said. "I had nothing to do with that as I was not a member of the commission when the prices were set," said the alderman.

Alderman David asked about curling being carried on when the arena was not hockey or skating. He was told that different ice requirements for hockey and curling made joint operation impossible.

Ice rinks for curling and lines for hockey also would be required. Alderman Safe brought up the question of the sale of the arena. He noted if it could be sold for a reasonable sum the money would be available to retire the debentures and the city would immediately receive money from taxes.

QUESTION ASKED

This suggestion was met by Alderman Tice with the question of whether there would be any guarantee of the continued operation of the arena as a sports arena if it were sold to private interests. "It would be difficult to find a buyer if you dictated there must be free skating," Alderman Safe maintained, however, that this could be done.

If there was no provision for free skating the city would be faced with providing open air rinks.

"There should be no strings on the sale," contended Alderman David. "Money from the sale could be used to provide open air rinks with artificial ice."

Alderman Smith said the question before council was whether the city was going to sponsor senior hockey. He said the answer must be known at this meeting as a hockey meeting to decide on next winter's rink was to be held later this month.

Also if the city was to sponsor a team the sooner a decision was made the better.

"Good hockey players can be secured, but you must know in time to get players jobs," he said.

He said that for the past two winters he had managed the hockey team and I understood it cost me money personally." If the city operated a senior hockey club this winter he asked that some other council member act as manager.

Alderman Keegan said he favored the city sponsoring a senior hockey club for one more year. The city had received good publicity from the hockey club, he maintained.

The question of concession renting at the arena came up for discussion. Alderman Tice said the refreshment booth concession had been rented by the arena for several years, the arena receiving about $900 per year the last year or two from 15 per cent commission on hot dogs and coffee.

Alderman Bram Humphreys felt that a private sponsor could be secured for hockey if a public meeting was held to be attended by sports-minded citizens.

The alderman also thought the arena could also be operated for curling, figure skating and other activities as well as for hockey and public skating.

The motion for the city to sponsor a senior hockey club this winter was lost 7-5. Favoring city sponsorship of the hockey club were Alderman Grandame, Keegan, Smith, Tice and Mayor Both. Opposing were Alderman Clarke, David, Forrester, Graham, Humphreys, McCabe, and Safe.

Suburban Planning Board
Asked to Assist in Zoning Fringe Areas Around City

The Belleville and Suburban Planning Board will be asked to consider zoning of the area immediately surrounding the city as a measure to prevent the construction of undesirable structures in residential areas.

This was the vote of city council members at a special meeting Wednesday night after attention of council was brought to bachelor apartment units being constructed just outside the city limits on East Bridge Street near Lerch.

Alderman Frank Grandame introduced the motion calling for the Suburban Planning Board to consider zoning, noting that it was a shame that such bachelor apartments or motel should have been permitted in this particular area.

There was a spirited discussion as to whether the Suburban Planning Board had any authority to deal with zoning, it being claimed by some aldermen that such a matter was the business of the municipality concerned.

This was the feeling of Alderman C. D. Tice who claimed the duties of the suburban board ended with planning for roads and streets.

But Alderman Keegan said he could see nothing wrong with the recommendation, noting that such a move by the board may carry some weight. Mayor J. Both said the request was a good idea as it might prevent objectionable construction.

Tenders Will Be Called to Repair
City Hall Windows

The city property committee will call for tenders for the repair of windows at the city hall.

The matter of repairs to city hall windows was laid over from the previous council meeting when there was a long discussion on the advisability of spending up to $5,000 for new windows before the completion of the painting job.

Alderman Douglas Moxam as property committee chairman last night asked that $5,000 be transferred to the property committee from the special government grant received by the city to repair the windows.

New aluminum windows were recommended by the alderman for the various business offices as well as for the city hall chambers. The committee chairman emphasized that the $5,000 may not be all spent, but he wanted the support of council and the assurance that the money was available for the work.

Councilors took up nearly an hour in again discussing the question of repairs to the city hall before it was agreed that tenders for the new windows should be called.

Consensus of council was that the new windows were needed, but aldermen wanted plans and specifications drawn and an idea as to what the city hall would look like with the new windows before committing themselves to the expenditure.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP)—Prices slipped lower in early afternoon trading at the stock market today after surging to new high levels in earlier transactions.

Industrialists, which led the advance began to edge lower as profit-taking spread through the list. Banks, papers and utilities which went up sharply in morning trading subsided from their best.

Base metals, which moved up to another three-year index high, also sank back. Golds and western oils added to their earlier losses.

Gains among industrialists went to Bank of Montreal, up two points, Shawinigan, up 2 1/2, Royal Bank, up 1 1/2, Crown Trust, up 1 1/2, and Howard Smith, up a point. Algon Steel dropped 2 1/2, and Aluminum and Great Lakes Paper 1 1/2 each.

Conlarks attracted most attention among lower-priced mining issues, shooting up $1.30 to $3.25 on 7,000 shares following an announcement that M. J. Boylen, Toronto mining promoter, had offered to buy shares of the company at $3.

The gift of a large number of costly oil paintings, antique clocks and other antique furniture from a former Belleville woman, Mrs. Anne Salaman of the Isle of Wight, has been accepted by Mayor J. Both on behalf of the city of Belleville.

In addition to the gift of the oil paintings and antiques there is the gift of an amount of cash sufficient to construct a suitable building in Belleville to house the treasures.

Announcement of the gift and its acceptance was made at Wednesday night's council meeting by Mayor Both. Mayor Both said that Mrs. Salaman, whose home is at St. Helena on the Isle of Wight, is now dangerously ill and not expected to recover.

Mrs. Salaman is the former Anne Docter, sister of Mrs. A. Briens of this city, Joseph Docter of New York and the late Bert Docter of Belleville. She left Belleville more than 50 years ago. Her husband, the late William Salaman, died some years ago.

City council will now give consideration to the provision of suitable property for the construction of a suitable structure to house the valuable paintings and antiques given to her native city by Mrs. Salaman.

Hasty Pees Film Will Be Shown On TV Station

A 15-minute film of the ceremony of inspection of the Hasty Pees and Prince Edward Regiments at Barfield on June 5th, will be shown on CKWS-TV Friday evening, at 7:00 p.m.

The "Hasty Pees", with a strength of 508, had more than 300 on parade as 1,200 men from the 13th militia group took part in the inspection. As the largest militia unit in Eastern Canada, the Hasty Pees were selected as subjects for the television film.

LT-Col. E. S. Fairman, C.O. of the regiment, expects to take the same strength to camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake on Saturday, July 16th.

A film record of the regiment's week in camp will be made by the army's public relations department. First scenes of the film will be taken Saturday morning as the regiment entrains for Niagara.

LT-Col. Fairman has expressed his appreciation to local merchants and industries for allowing militia members time off to take part in summer camp exercises.

Urges Action To Deepen Upper Lake Channels

WASHINGTON (AP)—Action at this session of Congress on legislation to deepen the connecting channels in the upper Great Lakes was urged today by Senator Edward Thye (Rep. Minn.).

Thye asked Senator Robert Kerr (Dem. Okla.), chairman of a Senate public works sub-committee, to call hearings soon on the 110,000,000 project; and he wrote Rowland R. Hughes, director of the budget bureau, to speed a report to Congress on the administration's position on the proposal.

Under the proposed legislation, a 27-foot channel would be dug in the lakes west of Lake Erie to match the channel the St. Lawrence seaway will provide.

The connecting channels in the upper lakes now are 25 feet up downbound traffic and 20 feet upbound — too shallow for many ocean-going vessels.

GOAT CAN SALUTE, TOO

In the colorful ceremonies in Washington marking the U.S. Independence Day, "David," the goat mascot of the Fort Henry Guard from Kingston, Ont., was a major attraction. David, under some urging, gave his version of a salute during the general salute by kneeling on his forelegs. — Central Press Canadian.

Directors Discuss Draft By-Law For Regional Development Assoc.

The directors of the Lake Ontario Regional Development Association met in the YMCA Wednesday evening to review the association's by-laws, to establish executive committees, to discuss municipal commitments and to outline the duties and conditions of employment of the corporation's general manager.

F. J. Lyle, director of the Trade and Industry branch of the department of Planning and Development, and Robert Post, of the department, attended the meeting and assisted in the discussions. Representatives attending the meeting were from Peterborough, Belleville, Port Hope, Lindsay, Picton, Napanee, Campbellford, Lakefield, Cobourg, Oshawa, Wellington, Bloomfield, Havelock and Thurlow.

Forty-five classes of by-law number 1 dealt with the constitution of the association, the duties and conditions of directors, establishment of zone executives, duties of zone officers and dates for annual and general meetings of zone and area executives.

Bert Hicks, mayor of Lindsay, suggested incorporation into the by-laws of a provision for amendments.

P. C. McGuire, of Belleville, moved that the first and second vice-presidents of the association be chairman of the finance and publicity committees respectively.

The motion, seconded by Mayor Hicks, was carried with the result that Herb Long, of Port Hope, became chairman of finance and Sam Gentile of Picton, became chairman of publicity.

It was suggested that a representative of each zone be named by the zone executives to each of these committees with the chairman having power to add to their committees.

Directors agreed to the establishment of functional committees on tourism, agriculture, education and highways.

Suggestions that a municipal committee and a planning committee be added were accepted.

Mayor Hicks of Lindsay, was named chairman of the tourism committee. No other committee chairmen were elected last evening.

The finance committee was instructed to bring in municipal commitments to the association by July 25th. On receipt of commitments chairman Gordon Fowler of Peterborough, will place advertisements for a general manager.

Discussion on the duties and budget of the area general manager and the conditions of his employment were laid over to the August meeting.

Nobody Will Sign Letter Asking Mayor Resign

LACHUTE, Que. (CP) — Lachute, Que., whose interpretation of fly-fishing protocol recently got him in political hot water, Wednesday night received a dumb word of approval from the town's council who attended the town's council meeting.

The mayor, Dr. F. W. Fitzgerald, received an unsigned letter asking his resignation after he ordered the Union Jack be placed above the parish flag at a church service which took place here last month.

Dr. Fitzgerald produced the letter at the council meeting and asked if any of the spectators wanted to sign and return it.

The mayor, with unanimous support of his six French-speaking and three English-speaking council members, concluded the letter seeking his resignation was illegal.

A MOMENTOUS DAY

Tuesday, July 5, 1955, may go down in history. One day it may be celebrated internationally as Independence Day.

For Tuesday the human race passed another milestone on the long, slow climb out of servitude into a free world. On Tuesday, for the first time, citizens of six countries acquired the right to appeal against wrongs they feel they have suffered from their own governments.

This privilege is an optional clause in the European Convention on Human Rights, drafted five years ago. Tuesday West Germany and Belgium handed over their countries' instruments of ratification in a ceremony at the headquarters of the Council of Europe. Denmark, Ireland, Iceland and Sweden had already accepted the European Convention. So now citizens of these six nations can appeal to European arbitration against measures of their own governments.

All of the victims of tyrants, those who have had the heaviest crosses to bear have almost always been the tyrant's own countrymen. It is the injustices inflicted by our own governments which bear upon us most heavily, because it is our own governments which have the control over our lives and the lives of those we love. Today the yoke of Communism rests much more heavily on Russians in slave labor camps than it does on men girding to face the threat of Communism's spread throughout the world. Hitler's first victims—and those who suffered most heavily—were not Frenchmen or Norwegians or even Poles or Russians, but Germans.

No dictatorship could exist if the dictator's own subjects had the right to appeal against the tyrant.

Of course, no clause in an international agreement can preserve this right to appeal to the day when it is most desperately needed. Only as long as governments inflict few wrongs on their citizens will they permit them the right to appeal for justice to an international body. In this sense, the European Convention on Human Rights may be said to be worth less than the paper on which it is written. Yet it is of immense value, as setting forth an ideal towards which the world can strive. Governments which truly believe in the ideal of justice would do well to explore avenues to widen the scope of the agreement and to make it possible for citizens of other nations, outside of Europe, to enjoy similar privileges.

HOW TO QUIT SMOKING

One of the troubles with a heat wave is that it doesn't wave good-bye to smoke enough.

Heat waves, however, provide an excellent opportunity to wave goodbye to the smoking habit. Are you troubled with a hacking cough? Catarrh? Sinusitis? Runny nose and streaming eyes? Stained fingers? Flat pocketbook? And all because of tobacco?

Then a heat wave is just the thing for you. Breaking off a diet of 20 to 30 cigarettes a day is not a matter of a moment. It requires vast resolution, iron will, dogged perseverance, a medical excuse, and a certain amount of luck. It also helps if one has a sizable side bet with one's wife.

Every man who is captain of his fate and master of his soul (that includes practically every man) can muster the necessary virtues but a heat wave provides the perfect environment for breaking the nicotine craving that has so many by the throat.

It works like this. Nervous, irritable chain smokers who want to become nervous, irritable abstainers switch from cigarettes to pipe just before hot spells. Pipe, tobacco, pipe cleaners, matches, knife, pipe spoon and tobacco pouch replace cigarette boxes. The added volume of impediments fills at least two, and possibly three, sports coat pockets. When the heat wave rolls in one leaves one's coat at home depriving oneself of a smoke and all its trimmings.

This is guaranteed to break a chain smoker's habit—at least until someone offers a cigarette.

DECIDEDLY PHOTOGENIC

The June issue of Ontario Hydro News describes as "decidedly photogenic" a dozen new air blast circuit breakers at Hydro's transformer station at Burlington, Ont.

A photo of one of these breakers adequately proves the point. Man's idea of beauty, like his ideas on a host of other subjects, appears to be subject to change.

Maybe our grandfathers, in Victorian days, would have seen nothing beautiful in an intricate pattern of wires and beams, with the everlasting but ever-changing sky as a background.

Yet there is beauty there, to our modern eyes, a beauty just as breath-taking in a different way as the never-failing appeal of towering peak or heaving sea, of tree-tops bowing to the wind, of wheat dancing in the breeze, of white-tipped rapids and sunny meadow, of laughing child and smiling mother.

For this is the most encouraging thing about man's changing ideas of beauty—the change always seems to involve an expansion and seldom a contraction of the realm in which beauty may be discovered.

As eye-witnesses have declared, even the awesome atomic bomb fills the sky with beauty as well as with death.

SUMMER COTTAGE MEMORIES

I miss the summer's crawling things, the spiders and the flies,
The splendor of the setting sun; the glow of its rise.
I miss the breezes from the lake, the children on the shore,
The summer cottage days are here, but they're for me no more.

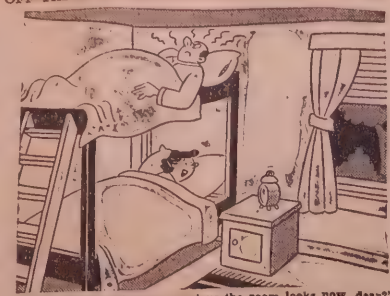

I miss the banging of the doors, the squeaking of the stairs,
The paper napkins and the plates, the yellow wicker chairs.
I miss the swing upon the porch, the friends who came to call.
I miss the summer cottage joys, but I have had them all.

I miss the table long drawn out, the fish I used to clean,
I miss the golf course where I played; the flag at every stroke.
I miss the daily walk for mail, and never I'll forget
The time I spent to gather up the bathing suits just wet.

No summer cottage keeps its charm if man must be alone.
The children once who loved the spot have places of their own.
Let others fight the crawling things and greet the friends from town.
I'll stay at home the summer through, content to settle down.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

LOYALTY

Few words are so packed with meaning as the word "loyalty." Its earliest application starts in the home with children learning its wonderful power. It's carried into the school room, into the business office, into all our relationships, and indeed into so many transactions in life. Loyalty to our country and its free institutions is a major loyalty.

You can't be skill, ability, and even knowledge that has been packed into books, but you can't buy loyalty. Loyalty is something that one must have in his heart. It is not a matter of intellect, integrity, and both are what make up the framework of character. You can't be an unimpeachable friend, or an efficient employee if you are not steeped in loyalty. The outstanding characteristic of "man's best friend"—the dog—is his loyalty. And he is loyal unto death. Nearly every great thing in this world is built upon loyalty. Just that freedom through his loyalty.

Letter to the Editor

More Industries Seen as Essential

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer.

The city council having spent considerable time in debating and settlement of the 1955 tax rate, finally set 71 mills. It must be understood costs are mounting and the expense of maintaining our streets and other services are increasing on account of many of our pavements and asphalt treated streets having served for the normal time expected from the original investment. This we must be prepared to face and the old taxpayers are loaded down with this additional cost. Unless we endeavor to induce investment in our city, increasing our spread of taxation, this is the only solution to relieve the high tax rate.

What effort or representation has our city set-up, to endeavor to induce industrial expansion, which in turn follows private investment in homes to take care of families employed in these industries.

We have the finest educational accommodation for our rising generation, which I am very proud to say as a father and knowing the advantages of education in our comparative life of the day. But, I do hesitate to understand our city's vision that, having provided all this very necessary service, we are so lax in our endeavors to locate some form of industrial expansion in order that our children shall be able to obtain employment in our city and thereby become an asset to our community, which has placed the opportunity for preparation of industrious citizens in their early life.

The survey of industrial expansion has shown a very considerable investment in Ontario in the last two years.

It appears that we are expecting to be favored by these people as they are in a highly competitive business as has been experienced by other cities, which found that without effort they were forgotten and the advantages they possessed were overlooked, and the other municipalities which were endeavoring to sell their advantages, were successful in obtaining a portion of this expansion.

Let us consider our position and it appears to me that a committee of council and representative citizens should be organized to review our prospective advantages, and recommend to our council what in their opinion would be a proper approach to meet competition and sell our advantages.

In this cost our city some money for representation, I am confident, by intelligently pursuing our efforts, we would be rewarded over a period of time and all would benefit.

George A. DeVuyt,

City.

Armadillo Treadmill

(New York Herald Tribune)

The ancient injunction to "go to the ant and consider her ways and be wise" can undoubtedly be extended to armadillos. At least a young sanitation chemist in Riverhead, L.I., has learned that man has much to learn from armadillos, those curious armored mammals native to Texas. To further his pursuit of a Ph.D. degree in entomology, Mr. Sidney A. Schwartz, took armadillo quadruplets and divided them in two groups.

One pair he made to walk incessantly upon a treadmill to the extent of three miles a day. The other two he allowed to lead completely sedentary lives, undisturbed by anything except the night when they disturbed armadillos in the springtime.

And what did he find at the end of thirty-six weeks? He found that the armadillos which had led the vigorous life of the treadmill were healthier, smarter and presumably happier than the armadillos which had lain slothful and passive.

One might, of course, have guessed the results even before the experiment, for human experience also has shown that it is better to move around a bit and exert one's self in this world. Still Ph.D.s are not handed out for naught. The scientific approach with conclusions founded upon exhaustive research and incontrovertible evidence. Mr. Schwartz and his team of armadillos have conducted the sum of man's knowledge. Those of us who like the armadillos, pursue a ceaseless plodding course, eventually come to find it is all about, are grateful for this scientific reassurance that the walk on the daily treadmill is worth while after all.

When Nature Runs Amok

(Springfield, Mo.) Leader and Press.

Not long ago the Missouri conservation commission added its strong protest against proposed importation of the European rabbit from the San Juan Islands, off Washington state, and no doubt, avid hunters were disposed to question this action.

Many naturalists are resisting such importation, for the prolific grey European rodent rates as an all-time farm villain in Australia, New Zealand, England and Argentina.

What wasn't said, but probably should be pointed out, is that man's tinkering with nature's system of checks and balances often can transform an animal into a pest, and even a plant into a weed.

Hundreds of common weeds—plants growing where they are not wanted—hitchhiked to the United States as seeds in grain shipments. Once separated from their enemies, the plants spread far and wide in a stubborn orgy of multiplication.

The South American water hyacinth, ever increasing horde of pests, also snakes, birds, lizards, chickens, lambs, pigs, dogs and cats. The decline of birds and insects, and the spread of harmful insects. A plague resulted, and it took years to restore the balance.

So is it any wonder naturalists are cautious about allowing the European rabbit entry to America?

Unenviable Speed Record

(Halifax Chronicle-Herald)

A story recently emanating from Paris told of a man who had broken the world's record in something under six minutes—four seconds under, to be exact. In five minutes and fifty-six seconds, that is, this individual claimed to have seen, reached and investigated each of the world's most famous of all the world's collections of artistic treasures.

This exploit was hailed in some quarters as rivaling the achievement of Roger Bannister in breaking the four-minute barrier for the mile, and was referred to as breaking the six-minute barrier for the Louvre. The Louvre has been regarded as impossible. But what real comparison there can be between the two is difficult to see. So it is possible to walk through the Louvre in under six minutes.

The achievement did not take any special gifts of speed or endurance, save in maintaining a fast walking pace through seemingly interminable galleries; it proved nothing that could not have been better or more convincingly proved elsewhere, except for one thing—that there are people who are stupid enough to believe that they can traverse an art gallery thinking only of how fast they can get on to something else.

Superstition, unfortunately, seems to be a mark of this age and a by-product of the increasing speeds at which man can move in every medium. We travel faster, but we enjoy the travelling less, we see less and think less because there simply is not time for seeing and thinking, and what finally do we do with all the things which we so boastfully save? The tourist "does" England in two days, Scotland in one, flies to Paris for a half day in the course of the trip, and then spends the rest of his five spare minutes and after ten days spent in this half-raising and life-shortening manner returns to his North American desk to boast of his intimate acquaintance with the Old World.

It may be old-fashioned, but we would take a week to see the Louvre (and be humbly impressed by our own ignorance at the end of the week), will still prefer to spend our whole vacation in a small district, trying to acquire some knowledge of that district which goes just a little way beneath the surface, will still be content to drive at thirty to forty miles an hour in order to enjoy the paganant of Nature instead of storming through the countryside like a madman, and will still prefer to read the whole book, rather than some pre-digested and inspired summary.

And if the quest we are apparently learnedly as some of our friends, we still have not been in danger of breaking the world's record on the steps of the Louvre.

The Threshold of Pain

If I could stand it I might thumb through the files of books and collect a substantial batch of phrases describing the various types of poisoning, insect bites, fractures, diverticulosis, and whatnot—all of which were, needless to say, pretty serious.

You see, I am endowed with such a delicate inhibitory mechanism that the very thought that something is going to hurt releases cerebral control and automatically I begin to make noises such as "ouch," "that's a bit bloody murder." In politer words, my threshold of pain is scarcely noticeable.

Threshold in this physiological sense means the point at which an effect begins to be produced; or say the concentration of sugar in the blood at which sugar begins to escape through the kidneys into the urine; or the point at which stimulation of nerve or nerve centre begins to produce response.

A physician can't exclude diabetes merely because a test of the urine shows no sugar. A test of the individual's carbohydrate (sugar and/or starch) tolerance is necessary too; that is, determination of the maximum amount of carbohydrate the patient can take without escape of sugar in the urine. The test is particularly to potential diabetics.

persons who have inherited a tendency and those who are eating and drinking their way to diabetes.

Whether you are just ordinarily sensitive, over-sensitive or insensitive to pain may or may not depend on inheritance and environment. That's a good question for the sophomore psychologists to debate. It is my belief that the state of calcium metabolism has a good deal to do with the threshold of pain. In the first place, one of the physiological functions of calcium is to regulate the excitability of black widow bites and nerve centres—or in more familiar language, "steady the nerves". In medical practice an injection of calcium into a vein is one of the most effective emergency measures for the relief of severe biliary (gallstone) colic, renal (kidney stone) colic, the colic of lead poisoning or the intensely painful cramps of black widow bites.

High calcium diet supplemented with an optimal daily ration of calcium and D has apparently brought relief and in some instances cure of neuritic headache and/or periodic sick headache (migraine), many readers have reported. Aspirin and acetanilide addicts should take some calcium as well as every dose of either of these drugs.

A TRAGIC TOTAL

One of the remarkable things about the Bible is that when we open its pages we find situations so modern in character that we recognize their counterparts continually on the front of our newspapers.

In the Book of Genesis we find a household presided over by Isaac and Rebecca. These two ancient Hebrews had twin sons, Esau and Jacob. Esau was by nature a carnal man, loving self-indulgence. Jacob, on the other hand, was a quiet, suppressed fellow who had to pass through all sorts of existing experiences until he found himself. Isaac and Rebecca maintained a home which was thoroughly lacking in understanding between the parents themselves and between the parents and their children.

In all literature one can scarcely find a more pathetic portrait of frustration, grief, treachery, and tragedy than in the home of these two unwise parents maintained. Jacob and Esau are examples of what happened to children when the home is kept tense with distrust, misunderstanding, and double dealing. Jacob had a spiritual experience which transformed him into a great man, Esau continued to be careless and loose-living. Isaac and Rebecca found nothing but tears in their old age.

Broken homes in the dim dawn of history! Broken homes in the sophisticated twentieth century! The unbroken home can add up to the same tragic total.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

A traveller fresh home from the East assures me that the Japanese won the war.

This struck me as about as extraordinary a statement as I have heard in recent months. I had it all sifted away in the deep freeze of my mind that if anybody had lost in the last great confusion, it was surely the Japs.

"The chief difference between us Europeans and Americans and the Asiatic peoples," explains my travelling friend, "is in the sense of time. We Western people want everything all tidy and packaged up in terms of today, or at the very least, the day after tomorrow or next summer. We want things in the eye of the East, possibly a more pernicious breed than any they have so far encountered, for the reason that they have a world mission. The East is interested in larger things than the world."

"Russians," smiled my travelling friend, "are more interested in the eyes of the East, possibly a more pernicious breed than any they have so far encountered, for the reason that they have a world mission. The East is interested in larger things than the world."

When I asked what those larger things could be, my friend said I would not understand, being white.

WHALE-RIDE ADDS FLAVOR TO MARITIMES CELEBRATIONS

Coinciding with the Acadian festival in the Maritimes is the remarkable story of Charles Noel, fishing boat captain. He and his boat staged the most spectacular sea ride ever recorded among East Coast fishermen. A whale became tangled in the dragging equipment of his 20-ton fishing boat and Capt. Noel, thinking he could extricate his gear, accelerated the motor to its full 18-knot capacity. The boat, he says, travelled 18 knots all right, but backwards, on the huge back of the whale. The boat finally shook loose from the whale, which was last seen heading for Grande Anse, a cove of the Bay of Chaleur.

Stewardesses Say Jobs Being Taken By Non-Canadians

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian stewardesses employed by Canadian Pacific Airlines told a federal industrial relations board here Wednesday that their jobs are being taken over by "foreign nationals" on the companies overseas flights.

A brief presented to the board said 28 per cent of the company's flight attendants on overseas flights were non-Canadians. The stewardesses also said the company had indicated it wants to employ more.

The stewardesses said they were told the company was hiring Mexican, Australian and Chinese girls and "now Dutch men" because the Canadian girls were "not as efficient."

A CPA spokesman said Wednesday night that employment of foreign nationals was not discrimination against Canadians, but simply a matter of trying to give good service to customers.

Three Are Fined When Gun Play Follows Accident

NEWMARKET (CP)—A mishap which began with a minor auto accident and led to an accidental shooting ended in court here Wednesday when fines were imposed on three persons.

George Moran, 22, of Toronto was convicted of common assault against Frank Van Mook, 55, and fined $50.

Van Mook was convicted of illegal possession of a unregistered firearm and fined $25. George Dean, 20, of Toronto, was convicted of careless driving and fined $65.

Police said a car owned by Moran and driven by Dean collided with another driven by James Ferguson, Islington, outside Van Mook's Hamilton Heights' service station.

Testimony was that Ferguson's wife went to call police, and Moran attempted to stop her. Van Mook told Moran to let the woman make the call and took out a revolver thinking Moran might assault the woman. Moran struck Van Mook with a flashlight.

In the scuffle, six shots were fired, one missing Moran's chest, the other passing through his ankle.

RAIN FALLS IN THE WRONG PLACES

Southern Ontario is in the throes of a four-week rainless heat-wave which has caused city lawns to become brown and flowers to shrivel. To make matters more irritating for those persons a mile or two away from Lakes Ontario and Erie, the weatherman has been playing tricks, dumping rain on several occasions over a narrow belt of land close to the lakes. People hear of heavy rain falling a few hundred yards from their burned yards and fields but the rain clouds won't move to where they are most needed. This lad is paddling across what was a street in Centre Island, Lake Ontario, before a 15-minute cloudburst flooded everything. A mile away, not a drop of rain fell. (Central Press Canadian).

Doing Penance, Youth Carries Cross to Rome

CASALPUSTERLENGO, Italy (AP)—Lionello Matoli paused outside a small cafe here Wednesday, unloaded a six-foot, 75-pound wooden cross from his back and wearily ate lunch.

Lionello says he is carrying the cross to do penance for "youths who have lost the way, like myself." A year and a half ago he tried to commit suicide in famed Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris following a love quarrel with a French girl.

Lionello plans to carry the cross to Rome, 400 miles away.

Name Signals Officer Communications Head

OTTAWA (CP)—Col. William W. Lockhart, 51, of Edmonton, wartime signals officer for Field Marshal Montgomery, has been appointed director of communications in the external affairs department, army headquarters announced today.

Col. Lockhart, director of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals since 1949, was the first man to receive the message of the surrender of the Germans in May, 1945.

Col. Lockhart will be succeeded this month as director of signals by Col. Charles A. Peck, 43, of Ottawa, commandant of the Royal Canadian School of Signals at Barriefield, Ont.

Col. Peck will be succeeded at Barriefield in mid-August by Col. Herbert A. Miller, 43, of Toronto, deputy co-ordinator of the joint staff at defense headquarters.

Miller, a native of Halesbury, Ont., also served overseas in Italy and northwest Europe. He was appointed deputy co-ordinator last year after commanding Fort Churchill, Man., for three years.

4-Letter Word Touches Off Long Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—One little four-letter word touched off about 700 words of debate in the Commons Wednesday.

The word was hell.

It was tossed into the long defence production debate by Immigration Minister Pickersgill, who represents the rough-and-ready Newfoundland riding of Bonaville, Twillingate, and it steamed up the staid House for about five minutes.

Speaker Rene Beaudoin, Finance Minister Harris and Opposition Leader Drew got into an argument over it before the word finally was allowed to remain on the official record.

ABOUT WEAPONS

Mr. Drew had been talking about weapons, saying that his followers know something about them. Mr. Pickersgill observed that Defence Production Minister Howe "knows a hell of a lot more."

He immediately withdrew the expression and apologized for using it. Mr. Pickersgill said it was his opinion and he didn't care if it stayed on the printed record or not.

Eventually, it stayed.

Britons Protest Death Sentence For Blonde Model

LONDON (Reuters)—Decision on a reprieve for blonde Ruth Ellis, 28-year-old model sentenced to hang next Wednesday for murdering her lover, was expected today from Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd-George as protests against her execution reached the proportions of a national outcry.

The Queen, on recommendation from the home secretary, has the power to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment. This was done Tuesday with another divorcee, Mrs. Sarah Lloyd, originally sentenced to hang today for beating an aged neighbor to death with a shovel.

Angry letters protesting the hanging of the blonde divorcee, written by celebrities in many walks of life, have appeared daily in the mass-circulation press.

Mrs. Ellis, who will die July 13 in Holloway women's prison unless reprieved, has refused to ask for mercy.

WRITER SHOCKED

Only one woman has been hanged in Britain since 1923, when the infamous Mrs. Edith Thompson died for murdering her husband.

Last December Mrs. Stylious Christofilis, a 33-year-old Cypriot, went to the gallows in London for the brutal killing of her daughter-in-law.

The controversy aroused by the death sentence on Mrs. Ellis burst into print when American mystery writer Raymond Chandler wrote a prominent newspaper he was shocked and repelled by the "savagery" of British law.

Canadian-born MP Beverley Baxter argued that public opinion is "far ahead of Parliament's stubborn adherence to the gallows," and added: "If this woman hangs, then the shame will be upon us all."

Today was the last day for petitions demanding reprieve of Mrs. Ellis which have been circulating all over Britain.

CRIME OF PASSION

Many Britons reject the plea that the blonde model killed her lover, racing driver David Blakely, in a fit of passion or that there should be any leniency shown in so-called "crimes of passion" as is often the case in France.

The arguments essentially boil down to whether British law in 1955 should send a woman to the gallows for the proven crime of murder.

260-Foot Jump To Death Foiled By Girl Friend

SAINT JOHN, N. B. (CP)—A 38-year-old man who gave in to his girl friend's plea to forego a 260-foot jump to death from the Reversing Falls bridge was placed under psychiatric observation today.

Joseph Basque was hustled away to hospital at nearby Lancaster moments after he shinned down into the arms of waiting police from the narrow gilder where he dived with a fall for more than an hour.

The girl was not identified. Police, luckless in their attempts to talk Basque down from the two-foot-wide beam, brought her to the bridge in a bid to prevent Basque from jumping.

She called up to Basque in French for about six or seven minutes before he wavered and then descended to the floor of the railway trestle which spans the world-famous whirlpool caused by the Bay of Fundy tides at the mouth of the St. John river.

Scores watched from a highway bridge a short distance away where Basque dived from the trestle before he was rescued.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
BE SURE THERE'S MONEY ENOUGH BEFORE YOU MARRY

If a young man feels that he and his fiancée should wait a year or two for marriage until he is financially able to "give his wife everything she wants," should the girl try to make him change his mind? One girl who finds herself at odds with the man she expects to marry, writes me that she takes such an attitude and she believes he is completely wrong.

"My idea is," she writes, "that if we are to be real partners in marriage, we should work together on everything from the very beginning. If I am willing to begin married in a very modest way, why should he insist that we ought to wait until we can start with more?"

"Also, I think that we should start our family when we are still young, so that, as they grow older, we will still be young enough to be companionable with them."

"And, as I see it, there's another big argument in favor of young people getting married early. My fiancée says that a man ought to wait until he can give his wife everything she wants, but things might not ever work out that way and he might never be able to give a wife everything she wants."

"Don't you think I am right and he is wrong?"

She adds that she is 18 years old and her fiancée is 19. As I look at it, the actual "right" in this matter would be a compromise between the two viewpoints here.

I think it only sensible for a young man to want to wait to get married until he is reasonably secure in a financial way, and I think it is usually unwise for any girl to insist on being married until her young man has reached that point.

It is all very well to talk about working together from the very beginning, and of course this is the ideal for any young couple who sincerely intend to do everything possible to make a success of their marriage. But there is plenty of opportunity for any young couple to do this, without beginning married life under the handicap of not having quite enough to live on.

Early struggles do, sometimes result in drawing the husband and wife closer together. But too continuous a struggle, especially when the husband and wife are as young as these two, very often has a tendency to do just the opposite and pull them apart.

Girls and boys in their late teens expect, and should have, a lot of opportunity and freedom for good times. If they do not, it almost invariably happens that, later on, they feel they have been cheated out of the natural rights in this respect. Letters come to me every day from unhappy and dissatisfied wives who married in their teens and now, a few years later, complain that they married too young; they cheated themselves out of their youth, and that babies and other marital responsibilities make it impossible for them to have the recreation they want.

I don't think it is necessary for a marriage to be delayed until a young man can give his wife "everything she wants." I think it is perfectly reasonable that a wife should be willing to do her share, wherever it may be, in helping to make their future secure, and to wait for many of the things she would like to have. But this should not be interpreted as approval of marriage without a very financial security whatever.

As a general rule, I would say that the boy who has a good job and every expectation of a means of earning a living, should be able to marry and make a go of it. And I think that if girls would insist on this security in advance and be glad if their boy friends insist on it—there would be fewer broken marriages.

Are You Entertaining the Girls?

By Mary Moore

It will seem a little strange to you what I have to say today. This is written just before I board the plane at Malton, Ontario, to go to London Airport via Idlewild Airport near New York.

When you read this I will be back on Canadian terra firma, and I trust, again to go.

I have visions of wonderful food ideas brought home from Paris, and London and tall tales of our adventures. Quite seriously though I hate to leave you. Isn't it silly? and me going to see Marianne and Herbie too! I'll miss your friendly letters and generous tributes, but maybe all the better for the holiday.

There is a huge block-out chart on my office wall with one blank space—for this column and thank goodness I have it for I've been wanting to give you a jellied fruit dessert that is a sensation. Jackie served it to us at a bon voyage party, where almost everybody present was reducing and appreciated the lovely colorful fruits to choose from.

FRUIT AND COTTAGE CHEESE MOLD

A fruit snack for a collection of women or a sensational company dessert.

Have ready 1 cup watermelon balls, 1 cup cashew melon, cantaloupe or honeydew melon balls, 1-2 cup seedless green grapes. Soften 1 envelope plus one teaspoon unflavored gelatin in 1-4 cup cold water. Let stand 5 minutes. Dissolve in 3-4 cup hot water. Add 1 cup lemon juice, 2-2 cup fruit juice (the juice from the melons that collects as you cut them may be enough, and like as not will be: add orange juice to make up if need be). 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind and 3 tablespoons sugar. Chill until slightly thickened. Add 8 drained, canned, apricot halves. Mix with the rest of the fruit and fold into the gelatin. Pour into 2-quart mold, rinsed in cold water. Keep the mold on ice or in the refrigerator while you prepare the cheese layer. Soften one envelope of unflavored gelatin in 1-4 cup cold water. Let stand five minutes. Add 3-4 cup hot water and stir until dissolved. Mix in 1-3 cup lemon juice and 5 tablespoons sugar. Press 2 cups cottage cheese through a fine sieve. Gradually add the gelatin mixture and mix thoroughly. Pour this over the fruit layer when it is set enough to hold it. Chill until firm.

There is a garnish with fruit in colorful moulds such as melon balls, apricot halves, whole perfect raspberries, sweet cherries, clusters of seedless green grapes.

Jackie served with this wafer thin slices of sparingly buttered

APRICOT NUT BREAD

Wash 1-2 cups dried apricots. Drain and cut into thin strips. Sift together 3-4 cup sugar, 2 3-4 cups flour (save out 1 tablespoon to dredge the apricots), 5 teaspoon baking soda. Mix 1 well-beaten egg with 1 cup buttermilk. Add to dry ingredients with 3 tablespoons melted shortening or salad oil, stirring until mixed well. Fold in 1-2 cup chopped walnuts and the apricots which have been dredged with the flour you set aside. Pour into a greased 9-12 by 5 1-4 by 2 3-4 inch loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven—350 deg Fahr.—about one hour. Turn out and cool on a rack. Wrap in waxed paper or aluminum foil. It slices better the second day.

Employees received the magnificent salary of 80 cents per day. The contrast between busy days and today was most startling and amusing.

A "Musical Contest" followed with Mrs. L. Weese playing the numbers on the piano. Mrs. E. Pascoe and Miss M. Bailey were winners of the contest.

Mrs. R. MacFarlane gave the "Current Events", and everyone responded to the roll call "A Historical Spot I Have Visited". The exhibit of "Unusual Picture Post Cards" proved popular and a large collection was on display. A vote of thanks to the hostess and program committee brought a most enjoyable evening to a close. Refreshments were served.

At this time Mrs. K. McMechan, convener of Historical Research and Currents Events, took charge of the program. The singing of "O Canada" was most appropriate as it was Dominion Day. Following this she read a most interesting paper on "History of Belleville" mentioning the derivation of its name, the first store, the first council called a town-meeting, when it became a city; description of the first car appearing in Belleville and many more items gleaned from the records written in the printed volume by the late W. C. Milne, K.C.

Another reading entitled "Our Heritage", was given by Mrs. M. Lazier after which Miss Evangeline Reilly rendered a most pleasing solo "I'll Walk With God". Mrs. J. English followed with

THIS MOTHER KNOWS HOW TO BE HOSTESS

Dear Mrs. Beckman:

Two or three months ago a classmate of mine in High School (two were both seniors, and she commuted to school from a suburb) would like to have me come to "the" dance of the summer at the Yacht Club to which they belong, a large dance and definitely not informal. Of course, I said I'd love to come. Last evening she telephoned me about the dance, the date, and so forth, and asked if I would come to visit them for that long weekend. Then she said her mother would like to speak with me, her mother repeated the invitation, told me about the dance, suggested what type of dress to bring to wear, and told me about other parties for that weekend. She told me the time of the train they would meet on Friday afternoon, and then, to my amazement, told me about "a very good train" I could take back on Tuesday, early in the afternoon. After I had thanked her and we had finished talking, she asked to speak with mother, and repeated all this information to her. I thought it was a bit strange that she told me about so many plans; I thought it sounded a bit like bragging, something in her daughter certainly never does. But I was most surprised when she informed me when I was to leave. However, my mother insists that everything was done in the perfect way, that the guest should be told about all plans, and should be told about the time she is expected to leave. Do you agree with mother or with me? — Katherine R.

I agree one hundred per cent with your mother! Everything your friend's mother did and said, and suggested and explained shows that she "knows her way around" . . . that she is an accustomed . . . that she is a woman of good and sure taste. I wish there were more mothers-of-daughters like this courteous and socially cooperative mother! First she had the perfect courtesy to "second" her daughter's invitation . . . she is the hostess of that home, and, as hostess, she is the one to extend the direct invitation. Then she had the sure courtesy to assure your mother of her welcome to you, and of her plans. Then she wisely told the definite time you are expected to arrive, the definite time you are expected to depart.

And, my dear girl, she didn't tell you the plans for the various entertainments, a d d plans to "brag" . . . but to give you definite tips about the appropriate clothes to bring. Very polite, very sensible, very practical . . . for all concerned, and particularly important in your case, since (I judge) it will be your first visit to their home, and since "the mothers" should agree about your arrival home plans. Your mother must be very pleased and proud that you are going to visit such charming and mannerly people!

anything to get away from confinement between four walls. Get out in the open every day. Get more oxygen in your lungs and you'll feel that you aren't just living; you are enjoying life. Then the domestic treadmill won't get you down.

The most enthusiastic home body gets fed up with the endless domestic chores now and then. Cooking, dusting, dishwashing, laundry, up to the neck in it. And nothing else! What you do today you have to do again tomorrow.

So put on your seven league boots and get going. Pull up your spinal column, lift your chest, keep your head balanced. This will help to create firm body contour, give elasticity to muscles, which, in turn, promotes a youthful appearance and grace of movement.

Checks will glow. So will your spirits. Fresh air is a wonderful vitalizer and better than any cosmetic in the world.

Breathe deeply to awaken sluggish blood streams. As you walk, draw in the abdominal muscles for the sake of a slender waistline. Outdoor exercise should be regarded as one of the essentials of physical and mental health. In addition to the beneficial effects on muscles, circulation and all the organs of the body, the effects of fresh air and sunlight are amazingly soothing to the nervous system.

Recreation is ideal, but swimming, archery are ideal, but if there is no opportunity for these pleasures one can at least get out and boof it.

Miss Ruth Kelly, 232 Cooper St., Ottawa, won $2,000 last Saturday night in the DOMINION "Famous Brands" FORTUNE-HUNT. When her phone rang shortly after 8 p.m., Miss Kelly answered with the words "Dominion Stores — Klik Pork Luncheon Meat". This was the correct answer to last week's puzzle and won Miss Kelly $1,000. She also qualified for the additional bonus prize of $1,000 by having in her possession a Dominion Stores cash register slip and a Klik label.

You can win $2,000 this week in the DOMINION "Famous Brands" FORTUNE-HUNT. First, find the "Phantom Famous Brand" listed on this page but not illustrated. Next, if your telephone rings between 8 and 9 o'clock E.D.T. next Saturday evening, DO NOT ANSWER HELLO or you will be automatically disqualified from an opportunity to win $2,000.

Instead of answering HELLO, say "DOMINION STORES" and then state the name of this week's "Phantom Famous Brand." If you do, and it is the DOMINION FORTUNE-HUNT calling, you will win the Grand Prize of $1,000.

$1,000 BONUS! If you win the Grand Prize and have in your home at the time a box top or label from this week's "Phantom Famous Brand" (or a reasonable facsimile) PLUS a Dominion cash register slip dated this week and totalling $5.00 or more, you will qualify for a bonus prize of $1,000.

$100 CONSOLATION PRIZES! If the DOMINION FORTUNE-HUNT calls your telephone number and you make the mistake of answering HELLO, but can still name this week's "Phantom Famous Brand," you will qualify for a consolation prize of $100.

GRAND PRIZE MUST BE WON! If this week's Grand Prize is not won on Saturday night, it will be added to next week's Grand Prize of $1,000. This will be repeated if necessary until someone wins the accumulated Grand Prize.

Employees and agents of Dominion Stores Limited and their families are not eligible for this contest.

Graham Hall Opened Tuesday At Guelph

GUELPH (CP)—Graham Hall, a poultry building named in honor of Dr. W. R. Graham for his contributions to the development of the industry, was opened Tuesday at the beginning of the annual Ontario poultry conference.

Dr. Graham and his wife attended the ceremonies.

"We are here today, not so much to name a building as to honor a friend," F. E. Ellis of Woodstock said.

Dr. Graham was one of the organizers of the world's Poultry Science Association in 1912. In 1915 he helped bring the commercial men dealing in eggs and dressed poultry together which results in the Canadian Produce Council. Later Tuesday, Dr. Jack Rine of Atwood was re-elected president of the Ontario Poultry Breeders' Association; E. R. (Ted) Hoover, Burlington, was named vice-president; and Leonard Henrich, Waterloo was re-elected secretary-treasurer. It was decided to refer the question of artificial breeding to the continuing Canadian committee of poultry, where it will be studied by the subcommittee on genetics.

SCOLDED, BOY SUICIDES

KOBE, Japan (AP)—An eight-year-old second grade pupil committed suicide Tuesday by refusing to get out of the way of a freight train. A classmate who was walking the tracks with him said the boy screamed: "I want to die! I want to die!" The reason was that the boy was scolded by his teacher for playing practical jokes.

Reporter Enters Gallery In Pair of Shorts

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons press gallery found news in a low reporter who ventured into the gallery Wednesday attired in a pair of blue Bermuda shorts.

They were worn by Stan Burke, Vancouver Sun correspondent, who said he realized he was setting a precedent. But, added Burke: "If I've got to work around here in this heat I'm going to be as comfortable as possible."

Burke wore the required jacket, covering an open-necked sport shirt. He slipped into a seat near the door to become probably the first reporter to enter the gallery in shorts.

Hose Buried In Lawn, Still Going Down

DEEP RIVER, Ont. (CP)—R. H. Mitchell says six feet of his plastic garden hose is buried in his lawn and it is still going down.

Mr. Mitchell, an employee of the nearby atomic energy plant, said Wednesday that he left the water running out the hose when he went fishing. Upon return a neighbor, Mrs. Jack Wade, told him that the 50-foot hose was slowly sinking into the lawn.

The disappearing hose, which was apparently knocked from its stand by a dog, was first noticed by Mrs. Wade's husband who tripped over it while crossing the lawn.

Mr. Mitchell has made several unsuccessful attempts to pull the hose out. Now he has attached a marker to the hose to keep track of how much is buried.

Similar cases of disappearing hoses have been reported in Colorado, Calif., and Downey, Calif.

Deep River is about 90 miles west of Ottawa.

West Will Gain If Far East Is Prosperous

OTTAWA (CP) — The Western world will gain far more by having prosperous peoples in the Far East than in having impoverished millions as neighbors, Senator C. C. Pratt of St. John's, Nfld., said Wednesday.

Addressing the Senate on the May congress in Tokyo of the International Chamber of Commerce, to which he was a delegate, the Liberal senator added:

"One thing is certain—geography as a separating factor is finished and all peoples are destined to live in one neighborhood."

Asian countries, he said, have a tremendous variety of raw materials required by the West, "but we cannot continue to regard the East just as a source of supply for our plants."

"We complain and with some practical reason—of low prices entering into competition with our products. The answer is for the West to encourage industrialization of the East so that by higher standards out there the world trading area and purchasing power will expand, benefiting everybody."

Canadians Just Holding Own In Bisley Shoot

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BISLEY, Surrey, England (CP) — The Canadians say they are "just holding their own" in the 86th annual Bisley shoot.

There is more hope than optimism among the 45 marksmen representing Canada in the two-week tournament which brings together the finest shots in the Commonwealth.

"It's tough at the top," said Group Capt. J. H. Fenton of Calgary, commandant of the Canadian Bisley team. "A puff of wind can make all the difference."

The Bisley shoot, officially the National Rifle Association meeting, opened Monday and the lesser events are being staged in the first week. Already there is tension on the ranges but the real excitement is reserved for the last day, July 16, when the winner of the Queen's Prize will be declared.

Fenton's team, comprising 13 shooting members plus himself, the adjutant, Capt. Bill Newell of Winnipeg and the armorer, Sgt. K. Shepherd of Lakeview, Ont., has added support this year from two groups entered from the Canadian Army in Germany, plus a dozen cadres.

One group from Germany consists of six members of the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, headed by Maj. Ken Arroll of Port Arthur, Ont. In addition to the PPCLI entry, there are 10 individual sharpshooters here from Germany. They include Lieut. J. J. Barrett, Kingston; H. R. Gardner, Armpror; Al Derrick, Kingston; and Sgt. H. J. Sisson, Kingston.

The Bisley tournament started in the 19th century largely as a training event to sharpen the shooting eyes of soldiers. It is still probably the world's most important shoot, and one of the toughest.

The Canadian cadets, Bisley team members of the future, were chosen from some 66,000 competitors across Canada. They are led by Col. Don Buell of Ottawa and J. Neal Dow of Windsor, N. S. Canadian officials said the youngsters are shooting "extremely well" in practice sessions.

Haying Well Advanced In Most Districts

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario farmers have been literary making hay while the sun shines.

The agriculture department's weekly crop report said today haying is well advanced in most districts and the crop is above average, except in the north, where dryness has cut the yield.

Dry weather occurred at just the right time in southern Ontario and farmers were kept busy cutting. About 60 per cent of the crop is in.

Harvesting and canning of green peas is at a 24-hour-a-day clip. Yields average 1½ to two tons an acre.

Farmers now want rain so other crops will mature. Most report pastures beginning to show effects of dryness and tobacco farmers in western Ontario have turned to irrigation.

Some dairy farmers are pasturing their cows in spring grain to keep up milk supply.

Opposition Asks Peron for Deeds, Not Just Words

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The opposition Radical party asked for "deeds, not words" Tuesday night in reply to President Juan Peron's broadcast call for a political truce.

The biggest opposition party said it stood on its declaration, issued after the quelling of the revolt by naval and marine units, that "there can be no pacification without liberty."

The committee added that Peron could demonstrate his sincerity by letting it reply over the state radio network to the speech he made Tuesday.

Peron in his broadcast absolved major opposition political parties of any participation in the revolt. He invited "responsible men" among the anti-Peronista factions to come to terms with him.

Middle-Aged Person Can Get Fat On 4-Ounce Glass Apple Juice a Day

OTTAWA (CP)—A leading Canadian doctor said Tuesday that a middle-aged person can get fat on one four-ounce glass of apple juice a day.

"When one thinks of overeating as a cause of obesity, one usually has a picture of rich foods, second helpings and in-between-meal snacks," Dr. J. A. F. Stevenson of the University of Western Ontario said.

He was speaking to a group of 150 dietitians and nutritionists attending a national nutrition conference here.

The average daily energy requirements of a 140-pound man decrease by about 60 calories a day between the ages of 30 and 50, he said.

"If this man continues his normal activities and food intake during this period, he will be exceeding his food requirements by 60 calories a day."

Battling Bessie Wins Bout Over Lady Docker

LONDON (AP)—Battling Bessie Braddock, 200-pound Laborite MP, stormed briefly into cafe society Tuesday night and glamorous Lady Docker stormed straight out.

The unsuspecting cause of it all was Mariene Dietrich.

Bessie, 50 inches around the hips and trim in a plain gray suit, took the spotlight at the swank Cafe de Paris to be mistress of ceremonies for Mariene, star of the cabaret.

Miss Dietrich is introduced each night of her London season by some prominent woman, and Bessie, a Labor member of Parliament and president of the Professional Boxers Association, is as prominent as they come.

LADY WAS UPSET

But Lady Docker, wife of millionaire Sir Bernard Docker, was upset. She, too, had been invited to introduce Miss Dietrich, but not until next week. And she obviously thought she should have precedence over Bessie.

After Bessie's introduction, Lady Docker left. "I am furious," she told attendants at the door. "How dare you ask me to introduce Miss Dietrich."

les a day by the time he is 50 and will be gaining about five pounds of solid fat a year.

"This gain does not require any gourmandizing. . . the excess intake would be represented by one four-ounce glass of apple juice a day. . .

"To reduce and maintain an optimum weight has been found very difficult, even impossible by many people."

"Perhaps more reducing regimes would have more success and more permanent effect if a moderate reduction in food intake were coupled with a moderate increase in physical activity."

"The value of exercise has been belittled particularly by examples of how far one must walk or climb to burn a small amount of food."

Nevertheless, an increased output of energy of only 200 calories per day will prevent the gain of some 15 pounds of fat in one year."

after Mrs. Braddock?"

Bessie told the mink and diamonds audience she had been doubtful about going to the night club but accepted an invitation to help out British-American relations.

"As a reciprocal arrangement, I intend to invite Miss Dietrich to lunch at the House of Commons," she said, winning a big cheer.

400 Loggers Face Shortage Of Fresh Meat

VANCOUVER (CP)—Freight for communities along the British Columbia coastline piled up in Vancouver today as the strike of 350 seamen against Union Steamships Ltd. entered its fourth day.

An airlift was in operation from Prince Rupert, 500 miles northwest of Vancouver, to Moresby Island in the Queen Charlotte group, where 400 loggers were reported facing a shortage of fresh meat.

The shortage was the first reported from the 100-odd coastal communities between Vancouver and Alaska that normally depend on Union Steamships' passenger steamers and freighters for most of their supplies.

No serious shortage is expected for at least a week as a result of the Seafarers' International Union (AFL-TLC) strike against Union Steamships. The seamen struck Sunday to back up demands for a 12½-per-cent wage increase.

Opposition Leader Claims 'Barefaced Corruption Of Power' in Bill Before House

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Drew today said the government's insistence that the wide powers of Defence Production Minister Howe be continued indefinitely is a "barefaced corruption of power itself."

He made the charge Wednesday in the Commons as he concluded a 40,000-word blast against a government bill to eliminate the July 31, 1956 expiry date from the Defence Production Act. The date was written into the act when it was passed in 1951 during the Korean War.

Mr. Drew said the Opposition's filibustering debate will continue unless the government will make two concessions. It could agree to a new time limit on the powers in the act or set aside until the next session the bill to extend the act indefinitely.

He reiterated that in 1951 Prime Minister St. Laurent in proposing a five-year time limit said some of the powers should not be a continuing nature. However, Mr. Howe now had persuaded the government to go back on that undertaking.

"There can be corruption, Mr. Speaker, other than corruption in the handling of money and things of that kind," he said. "There can be corruption of power, and the insistence of naked power in denial of the assurance given by this government in 1951 would be a barefaced corruption of power itself."

Mr. Drew's speech was the 87th in the marathon debate, which goes into its 10th day today. He was followed by five Progressive Conservative speeches, bringing that party's speeches to 66 and the total of all parties to 92. The Liberals have made 11, Social Credit eight, CC six and independents one.

The Opposition leader spoke for four hours and 23 minutes and still was going strong when he concluded. Before he sat down he said the debate has been going on for some time and "will go on for some time."

The 61-year-old Mr. Drew, completely recovered from a meningitis attack last fall which forced him to miss the first month of the session, made his speech in three sections. He spoke 45 minutes Tuesday night, another 57 at Wednesday's morning sitting and 23 1/2 in the afternoon. He spoke in the same debate he spoke for 3 1/2 hours over two days.

Mr. Drew is the only member of the House, except cabinet ministers, who is allowed unlimited speaking time. He said that in all circumstances all private members are limited to 40 minutes under a rule passed in 1927.

No records of length of speeches are kept by Commons officials. However, they say the record Commons speech—seven or eight hours—is believed to have been made in the early 1920s by Montreal Liberal David Arthur LaFontaine.

Mr. Drew, a man with a vibrant voice, spoke vigorously at the morning sitting. In the afternoon, however, he husbanded his strength and seized on interruptions by Liberals to deal with them at length. He added no new points to the Conservative argument against indefinite extension of the powers. His main appeal was that the bill be referred to a committee which would have power to write with a one-year time limit on powers required for procurement of defence supplies and make the defence production department permanent.

There was a reply from the government. Prime Minister St. Laurent said previously that he is not prepared to accept time limit on the powers of the act.

George S. White (PC—Bridges Frontenac) said the government should get a legal opinion on Mr. Howe's statement that the act does not affect personal freedoms. Under one section, an investigator appointed by the minister was given the right to decide whether a person being investigated could be represented by a lawyer.

Mr. White was interrupted by something said on the Liberal side of the House and Frank E. Leonard (PC—Wentworth) said: "That's all right. Any interruption kills time."

Priest Granted Privilege To Live in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Without the approval of President Eisenhower, the privilege of living permanently in the United States was granted Wednesday to a priest who left the Roman Catholic Church, became a Baptist minister and is married to an American school teacher.

Amico, Mario Sparagna, 42, who came from Italy and now lives in Vincentown, N.J., is the central figure in this unusual situation. The White House announced a bill granting permanent residence to the clergyman became law at midnight without the president's signature. A bill becomes law if it is vetoed within 10 days.

NO EXPLANATION
The White House gave no explanation of why the president declined to act.
The immigration service planned to deport Sparagna on the ground he made fraudulent statements in obtaining a visa to enter this country as a non quota immigrant in 1950.

The service said Sparagna swore he was on his way to serve as assistant pastor at St. Raphael's church in New York City and that the church would be responsible for his support. Actually, the service said, he had already left the church and was now a Baptist minister. He was ordained a Baptist minister a month after he entered the United States.

SPARAGNA DENIED any willful fraud. He said the affidavit was prepared by a friend and blamed his troubles on "ignorance of the language and American laws and the ill advice of well meaning friends."

In a letter to Senator H. Alexander Smith (Rep., N.J.), who sponsored the bill, Ralph V. Graham of Philadelphia, a high official in the Church of Christ, said that if Sparagna were sent back to Italy "his life would be put in jeopardy."

The letter said he would be denied the right of exercising his religious activity in a country where there is no separation of church and state and where the Church of Christ has already suffered persecutions at the hands of the Italian government.

STUPID TO SPEND
So Much on Arms
Says President
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday it is "perfectly stupid" for the world to spend so much on arms.

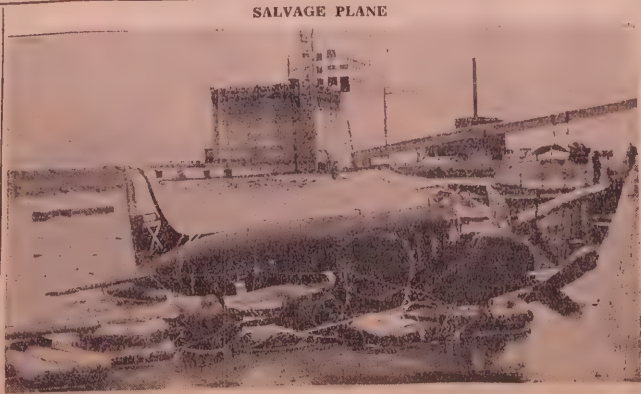

He added that the question of disarmament may come up at the Big Four meeting in Geneva at least to the extent of trying to find the best way to approach it.

He said the top-level conference itself will not get down to "substantive problems," then added: "But this question might come up: where would we find the best group, the best channel or the best method in which to place this problem?"

It all boils down to the question of international inspection of armament production, Eisenhower said, and he added:
"We earnestly want to find some answer to this complicated question. . . . It is perfectly stupid for the world to continue to put so much in these agencies and institutions that cost us so much, and if we don't have this war, do us so little good."

On the U.S. position Eisenhower said:
"We are going there honestly to present our case in a conciliatory, in a friendly attitude, and we don't intend to reject anything from mere prejudice or truculence or any bigger motive of that kind."

AS BIG AS BASEBALLS
BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—Hail stones described as larger than baseballs lashed the Billings area Wednesday causing damage estimated at several hundred thousand dollars. Thousands of windows and the business and residential districts were shattered. Roofs and sidings were punctured and autos and airplanes badly damaged.

This crippled DC-4 transport plane is beached at Churchill, Man., after being salvaged from an ice floe in Hudson Bay. The plane was forced down on the ice May 10. A daring salvage crew insulated the floe with hay and sawdust dropped by helicopter to prevent the ice from melting. Pontons were rigged under the wings in case the floe broke up. The plane then was towed to Churchill. (CP Photo).

Three Quebec By-Elections Bring No Change in Standing

MONTREAL (CP)—In three provincial by-elections in the Montreal region Wednesday the Union Nationale government retained two seats while the Liberal Opposition held one to a third.

The Liberals held Westmount-St. George, a seat made vacant when Hon. George Marler resigned to become federal transport minister. The Union Nationale retained Montreal Laurier and St. Hyacinthe where vacancies were caused by the deaths of Union Nationale members.

The standing in the 92-seat legislative assembly: Union Nationale 68; Liberal 22; independent 1; vacant 1. Unfilled is a Shefford constituency vacancy resulting from the resignation of Gaston Ledoux, a Liberal. He resigned shortly before he was arrested and charged with receiving a stolen 600 diamond ring. He now is awaiting trial.

The voting, ranging from light in Westmount to fairly heavy in St. Hyacinthe, followed quiet campaigns fought on the record of the Union Nationale government, in office continuously since 1944.

Mr. Duplessis also asked for a renewal of his mandate to obtain what he described as respect of the province's rights by the federal government.

He reiterated his opposition to federal-provincial taxation agreements and there were indications that at a forthcoming federal-provincial conference in Ottawa he will demand a greater share of the Canadian tax dollar.

Georges Lapalme, Quebec Liberal leader, charged the government with over-taxation, extravagance and waste; with refusing to accept federal trans-Canada highway grants; with selling Quebec resources to the Americans; with adopting policies that discouraged industries from coming to Quebec, and with following a course that kept Quebec salaries below those of Ontario.

In Westmount, Richard Hyde, a Montreal lawyer seeking his first public office, won for the Liberals in a race that saw his Union Nationale and Labor-Progressive opponents lose their $200 election deposits.

Complete returns from 174 polls gave Mr. Hyde 8,429 votes; Dr. James Griffith, Union Nationale, 2,929; and Philip Watson, Labor-Progressive, 123.

The vote was approximately 34 per cent of the 33,000 eligible voters. In Montreal Laurier six candidates were nominated but only four figured in the voting. Bernard Goulet and Paul Vezein, nominated as Independent Union Nationale candidates, withdrew quietly and did not figure in the balloting.

Arsene Gagne, a printer by trade won for the Union Nationale.

Final returns from 212 polls gave Mr. Gagne 11,518 votes; German Charland, Liberal, 7,739; Lucien Gaboury, Labor-Progressive, 134; and Albert Vaillancourt, Independent, 69. The vote was approximately 47 per cent of the 41,000 eligible voters.

In St. Hyacinthe, lawyer Jacques Bousquet won over Liberal and Labor-Progressive opposition. With all returns in he had 10,173 votes; Raoul Lascombe, 5,440; and Albert Brunelle, Labor-Progressive, 51. The vote was about 71 per cent of the 22,000 eligible voters.

Segni Author Of Italy's Land Reform Program

ROME (Reuters)—Antonio Segni, 64-year-old Sardinian country gentleman, scholar and lawyer, is the author of one of post-war Italy's socially most progressive laws which may be a potent weapon in the struggle against communism.

As agriculture minister in 1950 under the late Alcide de Gasperi, he launched a land reform program which has already turned more than 92,000 poverty-stricken families of landless farm laborers into small-holders of 1,250,000 acres of mostly uncultivated land expropriated from big estates.

In carrying out Segni's law, the government has spent more than $225,000,000.

A VICTIM HIMSELF
Among the "victims" of this vast transformation was Segni himself. Part of his large holdings in Sardinia were lopped off under his own law.

Segni studied law and became a specialist in agrarian and commercial law. He taught at various universities and has published many papers on legal problems.

A member of the Italian People's party, pre-Fascist forerunner of the Christian Democrats, he was active in the anti-Fascist movement during the last two years of the war.

He became agriculture undersecretary in 1944. Later he served as minister of agriculture, and, from 1951 to 1953, as education minister. He has been a member of the Chamber of Deputies since 1948.

Between 60 and 70 cases of liquor valued at $3,000 are involved in the investigation, Mr. Collings said.

Checking books with Mr. Collings are liquor board member W. T. Murex, and several auditors. Brantford city police and an inspector from the Ontario Provincial Police also are following up certain lines of inquiry.

The shortage was reported about a week ago by store manager H. E. Storer. Mr. Collings went to Brantford after two audits failed to reveal the missing stock.

Stock in the store was reduced because a move to a new location is planned. Value of liquor on hand is about $70,000.

No loss will be suffered by the liquor control board as all stock is covered by a bonding company. It is believed the shortages date from about three months ago.

Forest Fire Menace Ends For Three Quebec Villages

By NIEL MORRIS

SEPT. ILES, Que. (CP)—Three communities menaced by forest fires in this heavily wooded area 330 miles northeast of Quebec City have been declared out of danger.

Wary firefighting brigades late Wednesday night brought the flames under control at Ste. Marguerite, where five homes and the church were destroyed, and at the outskirts of Clarke City and Shelter Bay.

The head of the firefighting crews said there was little, if any, chance of the flames reaching the villages now. More than 500 persons, evacuated when five separate fires began moving in on the communities, were expected to return to their homes today.

Clarke City, where Ste. Marguerite is some 35 miles west of Sept. Iles while Shelter Bay is 10 miles further.

Almost the entire area around the village was given up for lost by officials receiving reports that flames had moved in. But a grim band of men stuck to their posts and forced the fire back.

Only a few of the 45 houses in the community of 200 escaped unscathed, however. Returning firefighters said almost all the buildings had been blackened by the blaze, before the flames were beaten out.

At Clarke City, the fires had reached the western edge of the village now. Firefighters were posted on guard against sparks reaching the village.

Bulldozer crews worked at the outskirts of Shelter Bay ripping up trees to prevent the fires from reaching the village.

Drew Denies Charge Levelled By Minister

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Drew denied Wednesday that while he was premier of Ontario he sought more powers than those in a federal bill dealing with defence production.

Mr. Drew replied in the Commons to Defence Production Minister Howe's charge earlier in the defence production debate.

Mr. Howe said June 28 that in 1948 Mr. Drew sponsored a law under which anyone holding a contract with the Hydro-Electric Commission of Ontario could be denied access to the courts over any contract dispute and had to accept the commission's ruling.

In 1947, the Ontario legislation had given the commission the power to declare emergencies and freed it from action in the courts in such times of emergency.

Mr. Drew said the legislation was adopted only to deal with a power shortage in Ontario at the time. The law clearly declined when the powers could be used, which was what the opposition sought in connection with the defence production laws.

Mr. Drew said the law made it possible for the commission to reduce its supply of power to consumers in times of emergency and freed it from prosecution by the consumers whose power supply was cut.

Mr. Howe interjected: "That sounds a little arbitrary to me."

KREMLIN DECIDES To Open Border
For Tourists
MOSCOW (AP)—The Kremlin has decided to throw open the borders of the Soviet Union to tourist travel.

For the first time since a number of Soviet cities will be open to tourists in what apparently will be a big effort to encourage foreign travellers.

This move has long been expected. Since the death of Stalin, preparations appear to have been under way to make certain selected areas of the Soviet Union ready for tourism. Many news correspondents and specially-invited delegations of foreigners already have covered the tourist itinerary, which apparently will include the storied old cities of Soviet central Asia, the Caucasus, the Ukraine and the Central Russian Republic.

Aim of the Soviet government appears to be to contribute to its current campaign of slackening international tensions.

Western travel agents already are in Moscow making arrangements for tourist travel, which is expected to begin late in August or early September. Travel agents from Norway, Sweden, Britain and the United States have been inspecting the facilities of Moscow hotels.

Allowed to Stay
VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Fay Elizabeth Spaulding will be allowed to stay in Canada.

The British Columbia Court of Appeal Wednesday rejected an appeal by the immigration department seeking to restore its order deporting Mrs. Spaulding to Australia.

Mr. Spaulding arrived with her baby at Vancouver International airport April 13. The next day R. B. Barr, special inquiry officer of the immigration department, ordered that she be returned home on the ground that she might become a public charge.

Americans Surpass Canada In Building Radar Warning Lines in Canada's North

OTTAWA (CP)—The Americans, the validity of whose storied self-confidence is occasionally questioned in some quarters, have proven themselves faster than Canadians when it comes to building radar warning lines in Canada's North.

The United States started late, is flying farther and is expected to finish sooner than Canada. The Americans are also spending more than the Canadians.

A competent source said Wednesday that all sites for the DEW (Distant Early Warning) line being erected by the U.S. along the Arctic coast—roughly the 70th parallel—have been selected and that 40 per cent of the buildings on the sites have been put up. Peak of the huge airlift for the DEW line has been passed.

Work was started first on the mid-Canada chain, which this country is building along the 55th parallel, and according to the original schedule it was to have been completed ahead of the DEW.

Mr. Howie interjected: "That sounds a little arbitrary to me."

Selection, survey and start of construction on sites for the 5,000 mile DEW line took less than four months. Seven American commercial airlines were called in to help in the airlift. Canadian contractors found there weren't enough big transport planes in Canada to haul in necessary equipment.

Informants said the $170,000,000 mid-Canada line is easier to build because the individual stations are smaller, the terrain for the most part is less rugged and the supply problem simpler because sites are more accessible.

"CRASH" PROGRAM
One reason for the Americans' speed was that they tackled their project as a "crash" program. Engineers, construction workers and equipment were moved into the Arctic rapidly with not too close attention to the cost.

Canadians, informants said, approached its radar warning project more gingerly. Opportunities to these many were watched for. Care was taken to avoid the slightest errors in selection of sites.

The $250,000,000 DEW line operation began about March 1 when Arctic temperatures stood at 30 below. Planes first had to land on the ice and carry in tractors to build land airstrips.

One authority estimated that the Americans have airlifted more than 40,000 tons of equipment into DEW. That's more than 3,000 plane flights, at 80 cents a ton mile.

Some DEW sites will be ready for occupancy this fall, but it appears unlikely that the radar and other electronic equipment will be flown in until all the sites in the chain are completed, which may take two years.

Firms Will Pay Benefits Although Men on Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—Six struck tool and die plants Wednesday sent word to hundreds of striking employees not to worry about their health and welfare benefit insurance.

Herbert Harig, chairman of the labor relations division of the Tool and Die Institute, an employer group, said the six firms will continue to make full payment of hospital insurance premiums for the strikers and their families.

About 400 members of the International Association of Machinists (IAM) have been on strike against 10 Chicago area tool and die plants since June 1 in a dispute over wages.

On June 25, all firms announced they were sending vacation pay cheques to all strikers entitled to them. Many were withheld for as long as we can afford it, to protect our employees against the cost of hospitalization which might strike their families during this walkout.

"While we are definitely opposed to the exorbitant demands of the union," Harig said, "we want as long as we can afford it, to protect our employees against the cost of hospitalization which might strike their families during this walkout."

Stay Execution For Three Men

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan of the U.S. Supreme Court Wednesday issued a temporary stay of execution for three men scheduled to be electrocuted in New York's Sing Sing prison tonight.

The condemned men, convicted of slaying a Readers' Digest messenger in 1950, are Harry Stein, 36; Nathan Wisner, 49, and a man Cooper, 47, of New York City.

Earlier Wednesday they had lost their eighth court move to escape a sentence of death in the electric chair.

Campaign Started to Call Pickerel by French Term Dore

MONTREAL (CP)—A campaign has been started to establish the French language term "dore" as the name for the fish Americans call the walleye and most Ontarians call pickerel.

Frank Hunter, outdoors columnist of the Montreal Gazette, proposes that the Quebec term be generally applied to stizostedion vitreum, the white-fleshed golden fish which draws probably more tourists to eastern Canada than any other fish.

He explains that the name dore (pronounced dor-ay) French for golden, was bestowed on the fish by French explorers more than two centuries ago. He urges the term as expressing the romance of northern woods and accurately describing a highly-regarded game fish which is also one of Canada's most important commercial freshwater species.

The dore, averaging three pounds occurs in New Brunswick and northward in Quebec and throughout Ontario to Hudson bay. It is common in the Great Lakes basin. Largest recorded size is 23 pounds, nine ounces, caught at Perry Sound Ont., in 1950.

The columnist concedes some merit to the term walleye but believes the French word "certainly chooses a more pleasing characteristic of the species than his big blank eye." He scorns pickerel as a word for stizostedion vitreum because many varieties of pickerel are not too highly regarded in Canada—are called pickerel (trout, grass, chain).

The columnist's suggestion found both agreement and opposition in Ontario where tourist literature describes the fish as the yellow walleye.

Dr. W. J. K. Harkness, chief of the wildlife division of the province's department of lands and forests, said he personally considers dore "a nice name and the one most descriptive of the fish."

But Dr. Harkness said he doesn't think the French-language term is likely to become popular among English-speaking anglers.

E. H. Taylor, chief technician of the Royal Ontario Museum where examples of the province's wildlife are on display, said he considered the name dore unsuitable. He said he thinks "yellow walleye" emphasizes the attractive color of the fish and distinguishes it from the blue walleye, "a smaller fish running two to three pounds and abundant in Lake Erie but not found in Quebec."

Slipping Yankees Lose 4 In Row As Tribe Whips Kansas; Dodgers Split

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Lord Athol Layton flipped the ash from a State Express 666 and gently tossed a live perch in the general direction of his royalty pal Prince Maiava.

The Prince neatly caught the piscatorial delicacy between rows of strong, white teeth, shook an ebony mane, removed his feet from spike-lined mats and smiles. Nearby sat Coconut Willie, the Prince's adviser, manager, confidante and interpreter. He cuddled the royal dessert, a can of succulent minnows.

"Yakamufueyotou," gurgled the Prince between nips of wigging perch.

"Precisely, what was the remark?" politely inquired His Ludahip. Willie smiled, he said, "Whaddya know, bub?"

The sartorially-correct Layton grinned. "I have a bit of a blooming idea," he said, "that the mourning signs will be hanging out in the Cossack igloos of the Russian steppes come Friday evening."

"Samakuwalkid," said Mavvy, expectorating a gob of perch ribs.

"Meaning?" said Layton ogling Willie.

Willie cleared his throat, heaved the Prince two juicy minnows, and explained: "These bearded bucaros, the Kalmikoff brothers, whom we meet Friday night for the honor and glory of winning the Canadian Tag Team Championship, are foemen worthy of our wrestling steel, albeit they use tactics that are unorthodox to say the least. However, during my head-hunting days I ran across such specimens. I rather fancy, my British friend, that we shall encounter difficulties—but a type not serious enough, nor had enough that cannot be overcome by the judicious application of upright and honorable manoeuvres."

"To use," smiled Layton, "one of those trite Americanisms, 'Bud, you said a mouthful.'"

"While I, too, anticipate some trouble," he added, "I am of the firm opinion that right will triumph over might and that we, my ducky mop-headed friend, will emerge victorious from this battle of the chin-and-head foliage, providing of course that the third man in the ring exercises the correct amount of fairness and judgment and does not permit these two beards in the bush get out of hand."

"Snafu," warbled the Prince.

"Meaning?" inquired Layton.

Connie curled a lip. "He says 'Samoa wants Nomoa of the damfoolish decisions as have been handed down by the arbiters in the past. If there is as much as a hint of partiality towards these Russian scions of Siberian salt mine sergeant-majors, he swears he will revert to the picnic antics of his illustrious South Sea Island forebears and gnaw large luscious chunks out of their beard-bedecked noggins without benefit of removing the lower jaw barnacles.'"

Meanwhile in the enemy camp the Kalmikoff Freres, who have defied all comers in their defence of the tag team championship, not to mention the Three Sharps and electric razor salesmen, held a confab of their own.

"Karolsky," gutturalized Ivanovich, quaffing a beaker of synthetic vodka as a chaser to a fistful of home-made sturgeon roe, "Friday night'sky we meet up with the Muttsky and Jeffovitch of wrestledom. What, tovarich, should be our planaky of action?"

Karolsky—"Twysky vydozud tenioforvitch."

Ivanovich—"Vendrobna iselsky, Hokay."

It should be quite a battle.

HODGE PODGE

Tonight at Point Anne what should be one of the better softball clashes of the season occurs when the loop-leading Orfuns tangle with the second-place Ox Pointers. The teams are now running almost neck and neck and a win for the Point tonight will put them scant percentage points behind the leaders. We hear the Orfuns have lost the services of their star catcher, Glen Young, but are seeking those of a well-known player. Bobby Hull is playing with the Pointers and should be a decided asset to them. The veteran Pat Maracle will likely go to the mound for Lott's crew while the Orfs will toss their best chucker against the Pointers. . . . Speaking of Point Anne, the two-time champions hockey club will be feted at the clubhouse Saturday evening when they will be guests at a banquet honoring them for two outstanding achievements in the realm of hockey last season. The Pointers set up something of a district record when they won the Trent Valley crown and the intermediate championship of Ontario. . . . CNRAA members and families are looking forward to the annual picnic at Cohourg which takes place on Saturday, July 23. There will be the usual grand entertainment for the kiddies, also for the oldsters. The special train will leave the CNR station at 9 a.m. And don't forget the picnic basket. . . . Bernie Meagher, well known city athlete hopped off the dock of bachelordom into the sea of matrimony last Saturday in Brookville. Best wishes, son, from sportdom for a long, happy and successful married life. . . . Big news expected shortly from the Al Kelleher family. It is the big lug excited? . . . Three letters in from youngsters who aspire to be sportswriters. Better take up ditch-digging, fellas. The hours are better and you don't run into so much "dirt". If you make a mistake only the boss knows it. In this job, the whole cock-eyed world goes wise—and let's you know about it. . . . "You get in my hair," screams a femme fan, "with your stories of the wrestling bouts." Okay sister, but you'll have a helluva time getting into ours. . . . They tell us Pat Maracle has a teen-age daughter who can make a lot of the mates of the sports look ornery playing first base on a softball team. . . . Ari Bridg of the Bay of Quinte Golf Club, defeated Arnold Emalie, Kitchener, one up in the first round of the Ontario Amateur Golf Tourney.

Birds' Wilson Blanks 'Em 4-0 Kiner Homers Twice for Tribe; Williams Paces Red-Hot Sox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Manager Paul Richards may have a sound idea for the future with his youth movement at Baltimore, but when it comes to winning here and now it's the old guys who get the job done for the Orioles. With a flock of recently signed bonus youngsters on the roster, it was veterans like Jim Wilson (32), Dave Philley (35), Hoot Evers (34), Freddy Marsh (31), Chuck Diering (32), and Hank Majeski (38), who were in the lineup as the Orioles-picked the New York Yankees 4-0 Wednesday night.

The victory didn't mean too much to Baltimore, down in the basement 27½ games out of first, but it spared the Yankees just four hits and didn't let a runner get past first base. He fanned four and walked only two, winning his sixth against eight defeats.

It was Wilson, too, who lined a two-run single as the Orioles scored all their runs in the fourth inning off Whitey Ford, who like Wilson is on the all-star pitching staff. It was Ford's fourth defeat.

While Cleveland closed in on the Yankees, Boston moved up on the third-place Chicago White Sox. The Red Sox beat Washington 7-5 after Detroit had knocked off the Pale Hose 5-3. That left Boston 1½ games behind Chicago.

In the National League, Brooklyn split with Pittsburgh, winning 10-5 and losing 4-1 in a two-nighter; Milwaukee snared Chicago 5-2; New York beat Philadelphia 4-2, and St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 6-4.

GOOD HITTING
Cleveland tumbled the A's, who had won 10 of 12, as Bobby Avila doubled across two runs and Ralph Kiner homered for two more in a six-run eighth. Herb Score won in relief while Tom Gorman, the A's ace fireman, suffered one of his infrequent failures for the defeat. In the National League, kept the Red Sox rolling, hitting his 13th homer, a double and a single to raise his batting average to .402 as Boston made it six straight. Ted's homer, good for two runs, produced a 5-4 lead. The second game of the scheduled twilight was rained out and rescheduled for tonight.

Pittsburgh had consecutive homers by Jerry Lynch, Frank Thomas and Dale Long—tying a major league mark held by many clubs—off Carl Erskine while losing the opener. In the nightcap, Vern Law fanned 10 and chipped in a run-scoring double as the Bucs scored three in the eighth off reliever Ed Roebuck, who had preserved Erskine's ninth victory in the first game.

Last-place Pittsburgh now has clipped Brooklyn's league lead by more than any other club in the circuit—winning six of 15.

RALLIED IN SIXTH
The Giants rallied for four runs in the sixth, with Don Mueller getting in his tie-breaking two-run homer before rain halted the game with New York still at bat. Curt Simmons was the loser. Cincinnati slipped to fifth place behind New York as the Cards used starter Larry Jackson and three relief pitchers to finish off the Redlegs in the ninth. Rip Reiskind and Ken Boyer homered for St. Louis. Gus Bell banged one for the losers.

Detroit ended a six-game losing slump as Ned Garver won his first decision since June 7 despite 12 White Sox hits. Al Kaline's two-run homer in the first did it, matching New York's Mickey Mantle for the league home run lead with 18.

Terriers, Sox Victors Over Elgins, Majors

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Galt Terriers obviously like the idea of operating in the Senior Intercity Baseball League on a share-the-wealth deal. Ever since Terrier players told the Galt management that they wanted to buy the club franchise they have been running along in the league race at better than a 500-average. Take Wednesday night. While reports spread around that Terrier players were continuing their plans to have the franchise signed over to them, the players themselves were defeating St. Thomas Elgins 9-2 at Galt. In the only other Intercity game Wednesday night, the last-place Brantford Red Sox defeated London Majors 5-3 at London. It was Brantford's eighth win of the campaign. In the Niagara District senior league, Port Elfronville increased their first-place lead to 1½ games by defeating Niagara Falls Cataracts 9-3.

Syracuse May Lose Franchise; Leafs Beaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Syracuse Chiefs may lose their 71-year-old franchise in the International Baseball League next year. It depends apparently on the size of the Syracuse home attendance during the second half of this season.

Writing in the Rochester N.Y. Democrat and Chronicle, sports writer George Beaton asserted that interests in Miami, Fla., had been given "the green light to proceed at full speed with plans for replacing Syracuse in the International League."

The story said that prospects of heavy financial losses had prompted Syracuse president Martin D. Haske to dispose of the team to the highest bidder. The newspaper noted that Miami for the past two years has been trying to land a triple A franchise. League president Frank Shaugnessy said: "I'd certainly be opposed to moving a team during the regular season."

He added: "Attendance hasn't been good at Syracuse but I think the fans should be given the opportunity to show whether they want to keep an International League team."

WINNING FORM
The Chiefs showed winning form Wednesday night, tripping the front-running Toronto Maple Leafs 5-1.

In other games the last-place Richmond Virginians edged the second-place Montreal Royals 2-1. Veteran right-hander Connie Marrero hurled a two-hit shutout for the Havana Sugar Kings to defeat the Buffalo Bisons 4-0, and the Rochester Red Wings slapped down the Columbus Jets 5-3.

The Chiefs cashed in on brilliant clutch pitching by Seth Morehead and some timely hitting by his mates to end a seven-game Toronto winning streak. Morehead got out of a pair of bases-loaded situations and stranded 10 Leafs to gain his fourth victory against eight setbacks. He yielded seven hits and struck out nine. The Chiefs sewed up the game with three runs in the third inning.

TWO IN STR
The Virginians came up with two runs in the eighth inning to stop the Royals. Don Drysdale had a four-hitger going until two were out in the eighth. Ed Kasko started the rally with an infield single, stole second and came home with the tying run on Lou Ortiz' single. Ortiz tallied the winning run on Vic Marascio's triple. Dick Starr, who held the Royals to five hits, got credit for the victory. The Royals' run came on Chico Fernandez' leadoff homer.

Before the regularly scheduled game the Cubs and Bisons finished a suspended game of April 22. The game halted in the eighth went to Buffalo 4-0. The Sugar Kings wrapped up the regular game in the first inning on doubles by Asdrubal Baro and Pompeyo Davallio plus Pedro Formentel's single.

Favorites Easily Vault First Hurdle In Ontario Amateur Golf Tourney

KITCHENER (CP)—All the pre-tournament favorites were safely over the first hurdle today as the Ontario amateur golf championship swung into its second round with a field of 64.

In the first round Wednesday, 121 hopefuls turned up at Kitchener's rolling, sun-parched Westmount course. Defaults and byes sent several into the next match-play round without firing a stroke, but most of the qualifiers earned their places in the second-round draw.

Moe Norman, the home-grown from Kitchener's Rockway course, and Jerry Magee, Toronto Lambton who now hold first and second spots on the interprovincial Willingdon Cup team, were among the easy qualifiers Wednesday as they both drew byes.

Dave Morland of North Bay and Nick Wedlock of Windsor, Essex, currently tied for third spot on the Willingdon team, each turned in handy 4 and 3 victories Wednesday. Morland downed Bruce Dougall of Toronto St. George's. Wedlock, winner of the amateur in 1948 and 1950, defeated Don Vyse of Peterborough.

Grant Shirk, defending champion who plays out of the home course, registered a victory over Jack Kenney of London Highland.

The 17-year-old golfer who topped the junior trials here last week, Gary Cowan of Kitchener Rockway, registered a decisive 6 and 5 victory over Ted Bensley of Toronto Downsview.

Another Kitchener 'teen-ager, Warren Rehkopf, Westmount, knocked off veteran Herb Epstein, Toronto Oakdale, in a 3 and 2 match.

Merchants, Orfuns Trim Cats, Madoc In District Softball League Tilts

(By GARRY ALEXANDER)

The Frankford Merchants, under newly appointed coach Carl Austin, downed the Belleville Bobcats 9-4 at the CNRAA Park last night to take over third place in the Belleville and District Softball League.

The Bobcats threw the game away in the fourth frame, with three errors and a couple of other loose fielding plays paving the way for six Frankford tallies. The Cats opened the scoring in the first with a single marker, but once the Merchants took the lead they were never in trouble, adding one run in seventh and two in the eighth. Temple's nine plated one in the sixth and another pair in the final stanza.

Doug Radner turned in a neat six-hit job on the mound for the visitors to pick up his fourth win of the season. He threw hitless ball in five of the nine innings, while fanning two and walking four. His mates backed him with a pair of double plays.

Al Adams tolled the route for the city nine, allowing 11 hits, of which were singles, while whipping five on third strikes and issuing walks to four. Six costly errors hampered Adams' effort.

The Bobcats got off to a good start when Creagan lined a single to right, Woods advanced him with a sacrifice and Dave Lockyer poked a double for the 1-0 lead. The Merchants loaded the bases on a walk, hit and error in the second but failed to score until the frightful fourth when 10 men came to bat.

Austin started the rally with a bunt single, Gilmour following and Leavitt was safe on second when Woods threw his sacrifice bunt while of first, one run scoring. Radner walked after Appleby's infielder played an error. Cooke was safe on a fielder's choice that cut one run off at the plate but hard singles by Dafeo and Wickson, plus errors by Bone and Creagan upped the score to 6-1.

An error plus singles by Gilmour and Leavitt added a Frankford tally while a single by Dafeo, Austin's triple and another throwing error by Bone registered one in the sixth on a walk and Bone's double to centre while Bone singled, pinch hitter Jack Hunter tripled and Austin booted one for two in the ninth.

Gib Gilmour paced the winners at bat with three singles, while Carl Austin had a triple and single. Dafeo picked up two hits while one each went to Cosgrove, Wickson, Leavitt and Appleby. Doug Bone claimed a double and a single in defeat, Hunter tripling and singles going to Lockyer, Creagan and Empey.

The line-up:
Frankford — Cooke, Cosgrove, Dafeo, Wickson, Austin, Gilmour, Leavitt, Appleby, Radner.
Bobcats — Duesbury, Creagan, Woods, Lockyer, Temple, Bone, Empey, Hurst, Draeger, Day, Hunter, Adams.

The findings gave no indication that the commission or police investigators had been able to determine who administered the drug or how it got into Johnson's system.

The suspension is expected to be honored by other state boxing commissions.

Immediately after the fight, the commission with held Johnson's purse, $4,113.33. Wednesday night it forfeited the purse and ordered it turned over to the state treasury.

The commission also revoked for six months the licence of Johnson's manager of record, Thomas J. Loughrey, and the licence of Pete Moran, who was an employee of Herman Taylor, who staged the bout in the Philadelphia Arena.

Two of Johnson's trainers, Louis Gross and Clarence Gross, were also suspended for three months, and Davidson for six. The commission held their willfully failed to bring their knowledge of the commission's attendant at the fight.

Behind the five-hit twirling of their ace southpaw, Bobby Green, the Belleville Orfuns strengthened their grip on first place in the Belleville and District Softball League by downing Madoc 7-4 under the lights at Madoc.

The city crew spotted Madoc a run in the first inning, knotted the score in the fourth and went in front to stay with four in the top of the fifth. The villagers were never in trouble, adding one run in seventh and two in the eighth.

Green turned in another of his low-hit games to earn his fifth victory without a defeat of the year. The five hits, four singles and a double, were scattered with never more than one per inning. Bob claimed 12 on strikes, including the side in the initial frame, while walking a pair.

Doug Radner started and took the loss for Madoc, giving up five runs off six hits in 4 2/3 innings, whiffing none but walking three. Wayne Shaw completed the fixture, allowing three hits, fanning two and passing one.

Nickle drew a base-on-balls in the first, paving the way to his own initial taking second on a passed ball and riding home on Harry Brown's sharp single. Carswell was safe on an error but Green whiffed the next two. Johnny Batchelor got that one back in the fourth, crashing his fourth home run of the year to left field with the sacks empty.

The winner's rally began with a two-base error on Wardhaugh's fly and Don Barclay promptly singled him home. Doug Hull followed with another hit and Batchelor was safe on a fielder's choice. Carr walked and back to back singles by Jones and Locke plus Hagerman's error plated three more runs and sent Schofield to the outfield in favor of Shaw.

Madoc came back on two walks, an error, Fred Nickle's single and Devolin's sacrifice and Brown's long fly for three runs. Green walked two in the ninth but fanned the next two to end the game.

The Orfuns' insurance tallies came on singles by Soule, Green and Hull with Wardhaugh's sacrifice aiding, along with Brown's error.

Doug Hull was the only batter with two hits, both singles, while Batchelor had his home run. Singles were divided among Barclay, Carr, Jones, Locke, Soule and Green. Ernie Carswell poked a double for the losers while Shaw, Hatch, Nickle and Brown each had a single.

The line-up:
Orfuns — Wardhaugh, Barclay, Hull, Batchelor, Carr, Jones, Locke, Soule, Green.

Home Pros Lead Pack In British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Nine inspired British professionals led the pack today in the British open golf championship and already were beginning to think the fight was among England, Scotland and Wales.

It may turn out that way, but there were some powerful international golfers within striking distance of the leaders.

Among them are four Americans—pros Ed Furgol of Clayton, Mo., and Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., and amateurs Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., and Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia.

Defending champion Peter Thomson of Australia was just off the pace.

LOCAL CHEERS

In Wednesday's first round, the local fans had plenty to cheer about. Syd Scott of England, Earl Rees of Scotland, and Eric Brown of Scotland bounced home in front, tied for the lead with three-under-par 69's.

Bracketed at 70 were four Englishmen—former champion Henry Cotton, Cecil Denney, Bernard Hunt and Frank Fowler, the leading amateur who still had his streak going.

There were 11 at 71, including Furgol, the low American, and Thomson. Another 11 players were at 72. This group included McHale and Conrad.

After today's 18-hole round, the field will be narrowed to about the 50 low shooters. The survivors will play the final 36 holes on Friday.

'Preacher Is Drummed Out of Lodge,' Used Illegal Spitball in Prime

By YOR K TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Elwin (Preacher) Roe is being drummed out of the lodge for having owned up in black and white that he employed the spitball during those great seasons he had with the Brooklyn Dodgers toward the end of his career.

Baseball men—even those who were victimized by the pitcher's outlaw pitch—feel the veteran spoke out of turn.

Baseball writers, many of whom knew all along that Roe was dipping into the old saliva, are astounded that he permitted them to be scooped.

The whole thing is silly but some good may come of it, if the end result is that the diamond magistrates become realistic and lift the 35-year ban on the spitter. The pitch was banished at a time when the owners were just beginning to realize that the home run drew crowds. So they hamstringing the pitchers by every means they could think of and then introduced the rabbit ball.

Now, if we can read the signs correctly, the fans' taste has gone full cycle. The high scoring game has lost its fascination and nothing comes nearer packing a park than the prospect of a duel between a pair of shutout artists.

Legalization of the dipping, swerving pitch would serve the added purpose of making honest men out of those hill stars who once their fast ball has lost its top, add the sneak spitter to their repertoire.

The batters know them well and spend much time having the plate umpire examine the ball when the tricksters are working. But the pitcher usually saves the spitter for the third strike. Once it has been whipped into the catcher's mitt it starts on a quick round of the infielders and is dry as a bone in a matter of seconds.

Souchak Leads Golf Gold Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Hefty Mike Souchak still is on top in tournament golf's money-winning race with swag amounting to $17,948.76, according to the PGA official financial list today.

Cary Middlecoff, who has won four tournaments to lead PGA tourists in this department, is second with $15,643.93. Gene Littler follows in third place with $14,792.26 and Bob Rosburg has moved from seventh to fourth with $13,002.26.

Dismiss Suit Against Moore

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A misdemeanor complaint charging Archie Moore, world's light heavyweight champion, with failure to support his son was dismissed Wednesday at the request of Moore's former wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith.

Mrs. Smith, who had signed the complaint, later said: "Archie and I have agreed to a satisfactory settlement. A security fund has been set up for our son until he reaches manhood."

Tebbets, Walker Fined $100 By League Prexy

CINCINNATI (AP)—Birdie Tebbets, manager of Cincinnati Redlegs, and Harry (The Hat) Walker, manager of St. Louis Cards, were fined $100 each Wednesday for participating in a fight at Crosley Field Tuesday night.

Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, who witnessed the brawl between the managers at the home plate in the ninth inning, fined the men.

WINS QUEBEC GOLF

MONTREAL (CP)—Bill Kerr of Beauport Wednesday played over par over 36 holes to win the Quebec open golf championship with a 144 total at Laval-sur-Lac golf club.

Moore Only Contender For Rocky's Crown

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore was rated Wednesday as the only logical contender for Rocky Marciano's heavyweight title in the quarterly ratings released by the National Boxing Association.

Fred Saddy of Milwaukee, chairman of the NBA rating committee, said NBA was deviating from a longstanding policy in giving Moore a double rating as it usually restricts a fighter's rating to one division.

Two Canadian boxers, Earl Wells of Toronto and James J. Parker of Barrie, Ont., were ranked No. 3 and No. 9 respectively in the heavyweight honorable mention list.

The ratings declared that there were no logical contenders for Moore's crown nor for featherweight champion Sandy Saddlers. The NBA dropped midweight Joey Giardello from its ratings after a recent conviction in Philadelphia on an assault and battery charge.

Harold Johnson, Manager, Promoter, Given Six-Months Ban by Commission

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Harold Johnson, long time No. 1 contender for lightweight champion Archie Moore's boxing crown, has been suspended for six months by the Pennsylvania athletic commission.

The commission, releasing its findings Wednesday night on a lengthy probe of Johnson's May 6 nationally televised bout with Julio Mederos, said Johnson acted against the best interests of boxing by failing to report prior to the fight that he was ill.

Johnson collapsed after the second round of the bout with the Cuban heavyweight and commission physicians subsequently reported that he had been drugged some time before he entered the ring.

The findings gave no indication that the commission or police investigators had been able to determine who administered the drug or how it got into Johnson's system.

The suspension is expected to be honored by other state boxing commissions.

Immediately after the fight, the commission with held Johnson's purse, $4,113.33. Wednesday night it forfeited the purse and ordered it turned over to the state treasury.

The commission also revoked for six months the licence of Johnson's manager of record, Thomas J. Loughrey, and the licence of Pete Moran, who was an employee of Herman Taylor, who staged the bout in the Philadelphia Arena.

Two of Johnson's trainers, Louis Gross and Clarence Gross, were also suspended for three months, and Davidson for six. The commission held their willfully failed to bring their knowledge of the commission's attendant at the fight.

The fight triggered a 90-day suspension of state boxing by Gov. George M. Leader. The suspension ends Aug. 9. Leader ordered his commission to probe the state boxing scene and prepare a new boxing code.

Commission chairman James (Sleepy Jim) Crowley, former Notre Dame football star, said Wednesday a new code will be submitted to the state legislature next week. He declined to reveal its contents.

Moran, who has been charged with perjury as a result of his testimony before the commission, was cited as being Johnson's part-time manager without being duly licensed and in violation of a state regulation against a matchmaker having a financial interest in a fighter. The commission said Loughrey permitted Moran's management although knowing it was contrary to the regulations. Neither was held responsible for knowledge of Johnson's pre-fight condition.

Terrier Players May Take Over Club Franchise

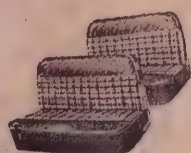

GALT (CP)—For the second time in less than a month, it appears that Galt Terriers have survived a crisis that threatened to force them out of the Senior Intercounty Baseball League.

Plans were in motion today to have the Galt franchise signed over to the players, who have been operating the club since June 15 on a share-the-wealth basis.

Terrie in the six-team league to operate under a profit-sharing arrangement. Players took over the team when the time came.

Trouble began piling up for the Terriers this season when they lost their first five opening games and, as a result, attendance slumped from 1,000 to a low of 400.

Checking Alibi Judge Finds Driver Correct

DETROIT (AP) — Traffic judge John D. Watts decided Thursday to check one of the speeders' favorite alibis: "My car won't go that fast."

Emmett Wesley made the claim for his half-ton truck in appealing a speeding conviction. He had been accused of going 10 miles an hour.

Judge Watts rode in the truck, a patrolman drove and a motorcycle patrolman paced him. The cop put the gas pedal on the floor.

The truck's top speed was 65.

Wesley's sentence was suspended.

Young Mother Is Hopeful Of Escaping Death

EDMUNDSTON, N. B. (CP) — Sometimes, Mrs. Lina Thibodeau sings and plays the harmonica. She enjoys talking with the priest when he comes to visit.

Since April 23 she has been in a cell in the Madawaska county jail under sentence of death. Her appeal against a murder conviction was dismissed Thursday. But she doesn't expect to die on the gallows 18 days from now.

"She doesn't think they'll hang her," county sheriff Thadde Martin said Thursday night.

LIKE A KID

"She feels good," he added. "She's just like a kid. The priest comes in every once in a while and she likes to visit with him."

Mrs. Thibodeau is 26 and the mother of five children. She was convicted of murder in the shotgun slaying of her 33-year-old husband whose body was found sprawled across a bed in their home last Nov. 5.

She pleaded not guilty. In one of three statements admitted as evidence at her trial she was quoted as saying she shot him because of abuse: "I was at the end and I could not stand more."

July 28 has been set at the execution date. But the Court of Appeal, in its judgment Thursday, said "This seems to be a case where the recommendation of mercy as made by the jury should be appropriately considered."

RESTS WITH OTTAWA

So her fate rests with Justice Minister Garson and the governor-general-in-council. The Appeal Court's decision and comment have been telegraphed to Ottawa.

The spokesman for the attorney-general's department said a review of the entire case would be started in the capital immediately.

Sheriff Martin has said he wants no part of the scheduled execution. He must erect a gallows — New Brunswick has no central place of execution—but he hasn't started the job yet.

He said of the hanging: "I think I would run away first."

MULE KILLS BOY

MOUNT STERLING, Ky. (AP) — Ronnie Helton, 8, who tied himself to a mule he was leading to water, was dragged and kicked to death Thursday when the animal ran away.

"Your age, please," asked the canvasser.

"Well, now, let me figure it out," said the housewife. "I was 18 when I married and my husband was 30. He is 60 now, or twice as old as he was then. So I am now 30."

EDEN PREVIEWS BRITISH POLICY FOR SUMMIT MEET

PM Gives Principles Britain Firmly Behind

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden has suggested that the Soviet bloc eventually might be brought into the Western European Union's arms control and weapons pool.

Eden previewed British policy for the Big Four summit meeting at a dinner given Thursday night in his honor by the English-Speaking Union.

The prime minister assured Russia the West stood ready to guarantee her against any threat from a free, united Germany. But he said Britain stood firmly behind three principles:

1. "We are not prepared to break up NATO."
2. "We will not be parted from the United States."
3. "We will work for the unification of Germany."

UNDERSTANDS FEARS

"I can quite understand that the Russians fear that a free Germany would probably unite with the West," Eden said. "I think that it would."

"The Russians may even consider this dangerous to their security. But the answer is that it need not be so. We are certainly ready, and believe that the Western nations, including Germany, are also ready to agree to any reasonable arrangements which will give Russia reassurance on this point."

In line with this, Eden cited the seven-nation West European pact set up last winter to limit West German rearmament and to incorporate the former Reich in a defence coalition with Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

"We have already begun to elaborate and apply a number of schemes for control and limitation of our armaments in western Europe," Eden said.

PLACE RESTRICTIONS

"We have placed certain definite restrictions upon ourselves. The West German government has undertaken these engagements, too, that it will not make any new armaments, a voluntary limitation of armaments, a voluntary system of control and inspection and plans, which are still being worked out, for a control of armaments and other arrangements of that kind."

"These ideas are worth study by everybody. There is no reason why they should not be extended in some form from the West to the East. And maybe other plans could be worked out, too, to give confidence and security."

TO ALLY DISTRUST

The prime aim of the government leaders at Geneva, Eden said, "will be to ally mistrust on either side."

"I hope that we might then agree to outline for the foreign secretaries detailed talks on which they can be engaged."

Eden took note of talk of a "new look in the policy of Soviet Russia."

"It may be so—I trust it will prove so. But hope nobody will accuse us of having been taken a good look at the new look before we pronounce upon it either way."

Resumes Activity

GENEVA (Reuters)—Russia today announced that she will resume her activity in the World Health Organization, from which she withdrew in 1949.

Princess Margaret Dances Till Dawn Aboard Luxurious Yacht on Thames

The host was 35-year-old Andrew Llewellyn, the 11th Duke of Devonshire. His invitations stipulated "boating costume"—which Princess Margaret interpreted as a black blouse and a white skirt decorated with colored dancing figures.

The vessels, throbbing with jazz from two bands, wore the birds as they glided through the river at night between Richmond and Hampton Court where the old red brick palace of Margaret's ancestor, King Henry VIII, threw its shadows on the river.

Akron Woman Hits Uranium Jackpot in Hastings County

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — "It's a pipe dream," John Madigan told his wife. "Too good to be true."

But Mrs. Dorothy Madigan, 48, of nearby Silver Lake, had prospered. She had bought a uranium claim and set out for Canada. Thursday night Mrs. Madigan said she had struck it rich—a uranium find in Ontario's Hastings county.

Atomic Energy Commission spokesmen told her it was the "second best (uranium) assay they have found in the world so far," she said.

The AEC in Washington said it could not immediately check the assay's standing in comparison with other uranium finds in the world. The geologist, however, proved Adams and Whytock were right. They filed claim to an area three miles in radius from the strike center. Mrs. Madigan has 16 claims. Mrs. Clifford Adams and Whytock and some of Whytock's relatives brought the total number found to about 40.

Bancroft, about 40 miles from Sharbot Lake, was the scene of a uranium strike recently. Mrs. Madigan said that Whytock Adams and Whytock were looking for the abandoned mine.

The AEC in Washington, Mrs. Madigan said, told her it was interested in the uranium but dealing would have to be made through the Canadian government.

"I know 50 per cent (uranium) assays have been found in the Belgian Congo (in Africa)," Reynolds added.

Royal Commission Study Will Include Tariff and Power Needs

OTTAWA (CP) — The future tariff needs of certain Canadian industries and the whole field of power, energy and natural gas will be explored by the five royal commissioners appointed to preside over the study of the Northwest Territories, the next three decades.

Chairman Walter L. Gordon of Toronto told a press conference Thursday that some manufacturing industries "will be examined to see whether they can compete if current conditions do not change or whether they will need more tariff protection."

The commission also will scrutinize the energy field to find out what reserves of natural gas, oil, coal and other fuels may be developed in the next 20 or 30 years and what an expanding population may require.

But Mr. Gordon emphasized that while the commission will reach certain broad conclusions on these and other vital economic segments, it will not make any recommendations on changes in government policy. That will be left to Parliament.

In the commission's first press conference, Mr. Gordon announced that the members would spend a week studying developments in the Arctic fringes of the Northwest as the first stage in a year-long study of the entire economy.

They will visit Whitehorse in the Yukon and scour other parts of the North, stopping also at Aklaik, tucked away in an Arctic section of the Northwest Territories, 1,200 miles north of Edmonton.

The Northwest is "where great developments have taken place and where further developments may be expected in the years to come," Mr. Gordon said.

The commission's report, to be devised as a possible guide for governments and industry in planning ahead, is to be completed before the end of 1956. The conclusions will be based on the assumption that there will be no atomic war in the next quarter-century.

Dulles Says Soviet Economy 'Is on Point of Collapsing'

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Dulles' June 10 comment that the Russian economic system "is on the point of collapsing" raised new questions today of Soviet aims and strength at the July 18 summit conference.

Dulles expressed his opinion in testimony made public Thursday that the Russian economic system would be disappointed if they believed Russia was going to the Big Four meeting in weakness.

Asked about the Khrushchev statement, President Eisenhower said "so far as I know, there is no individual in this government that has ever said that the Russians, the Soviets, are coming to any conference weak."

Highways department engineers were said already at work on the problem and estimates are being compiled, but no actual pre-engineering has yet been done.

OPINIONS DIFFER

Before either statement was made, it had become apparent that a difference of opinion existed among U. S. officials as to whether Russia genuinely wants to end the cold war.

An apparent majority seemed to believe that Russia is ready to make some concessions to ease tensions. Others have professed a belief that no end to the cold war.

But both groups have tended to agree that Russia's agricultural difficulties and the heavy burden of arms production are straining the Soviet economy.

FUTURE COURSE OF HOUSE BATTLE IS UNCERTAIN

Commons Defeats Move Of Conservatives 120-43

OTTAWA (CP) — After 10 days of bitter, wearing debate the government has acted to ensure an eventual Commons decision on the principle of its controversial bill to extend indefinitely the powers of Defence Production Minister Howe.

And Mr. Howe has held out the promise of government willingness to consider, later, a time limit on some of the powers which Progressive Conservatives have fought doggedly to limit.

Thursday Finance Minister Harris, government House leader, presented a motion which will permit each Conservative, and other members, too, if they wish, to speak once more on the government bill. Then, once the motion is carried, the House must vote on whether to give second reading—approval in principle—to the bill to give definite life to the Defence Production Act. The present act expires July 31, 1956.

ACTED AFTER VOTE

Mr. Harris acted immediately after the Commons voted 129 to 43 to defeat a Conservative amendment which would have refused second reading. Debate on the amendment had lasted the best part of five days and Mr. Harris' move forestalls any further amendments.

Opposition Leader Drew said the minister's motion was a guillotine and a gag.

Donald Fleming (PC — Toronto) called it "a ruthless use of power to suppress discussion of a most important principle."

The filibustering debate, which has continued intermittently since June 7, stands adjourned today while the House deals with other business.

Only four of the 51 Conservatives have spoken on Mr. Harris' motion and about a dozen members of the party have left the heat of the capital. It is expected most of the remainder will follow their past pattern of using the full 40 minutes allotted for each speech and there will be no time limit on the Opposition leader's speech.

MINISTER RECOGNIZED

After Thursday's vote on the Conservative amendment both Mr. Harris and Mrs. Ellen Fairclough (PC—Hamilton West) were on their feet simultaneously seeking to speak. But Speaker Rene Beaudoin recognized the minister. Mrs. Fairclough said later she would have moved to give the bill a six-month halt—a technical move aimed at killing it. Her motion would have opened up another round of speeches—and it might not have been the last round.

Once Mr. Harris' motion is adopted and the bill given second reading the measure will go for detailed study to the informal committee of the whole House where debate is unlimited.

The conservative motion defeated Thursday was supported by (Ind.Chicoutimi). It was opposed by Liberal and CCF members and Ross Thatcher (Ind — Moose Jaw-Lake Centre).

Heat Wave Back, Predict Mercury To Climb To 90's

Brief Breather Said Over; Heat Is Blamed For 3 Deaths

TORONTO (CP) — The heat wave southern Ontario thought it might have shaken came charging back today.

After a brief breather Thursday in the 11-day-old hot spell, the weatherman forecast temperatures in the 90s, for today, with a corresponding rise in humidity.

The heat wave was blamed for three Toronto deaths. Heat prostration killed a 24-year-old man and two other deaths were attributed to heart conditions aggravated by the high temperatures.

Motorists and holidaymakers were urged to take extra precautions on the highways and waterways to cut the accident and drowning toll. If the heat persists over the weekend—and no letup is seen by the forecasters—the province's vacation spots asked residents to go easy on water consumption. Suburban water pressure had dwindled to a mere trickle as metropolitan consumption rose.

CNR Endeavors To Close Bridge, P.E.I. Objects

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — Traffic hummed merrily across the Hillsborough river bridge today following a brief but spirited interruption as the Canadian National Railways tried to close it and the province fought to keep it open.

The CNR closed the bridge as unsafe at 11 a. m. Thursday morning and erected a wooden barricade. Within an hour Premier A. W. Matheson had received a Supreme Court injunction ordering the bridge be kept open, and a provincial judge ordered the CNR to remove the barricade and push the remaining down the river bank.

The half-mile long structure is on the eastern edge of the city and provides the sole route for pedestrians to the eastern end of Prince Edward Island and a heavily populated suburban area. Motorists would have to make a 30-mile upriver detour if the bridge were closed. There is no bus service. The bridge was closed to trains in 1951 and railway traffic was re-routed.

FEDERAL ATTITUDE

In Ottawa it was learned the federal transport department is considering what further action it may take to relieve itself of responsibility.

(The bridge has been reported unsafe for traffic by both the CNR and the provincial government. Officials said the department isn't likely to keep putting up closed signs on the bridge just to have them knocked down.)

RED JETS POWERFUL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Russian bombers paraded over Moscow apparently have jet engines more powerful than any now used by U. S. aircraft, says John R. Allison, vice-president of Northrop Aircraft Company. He told civil and military leaders Thursday that pictures of Soviet engines indicate they develop 15,000 or more pounds of thrust, more than any American jet flown operationally.

Find Stolen Trailer

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A tractor trailer loaded with powdered nickel oxide valued at $12,785 and reported stolen in Buffalo and reported to have been found abandoned by Monroe county sheriff deputies.

The truck was reported stolen from a yard of the CABY Transportation Co. while on route from the International Nickel Co. Ltd., plant at Port Colborne, Ont., to Cleveland.

CEILING DAMAGED
IN SMALL BLAZE

A fire in the men's washroom of the Shell service station at the corner of Dundas and Foster Avenue, brought firemen out last night. A burning cigarette tossed into the waste container was said to be responsible for the blaze which burned the curtains and damaged the ceiling before the fire was extinguished.

SECURED SILVER IN BREAK-IN

Two Trenton juveniles with a large quantity of silver coin which they were attempting to change into bills aroused the suspicion of a local service station attendant yesterday afternoon. The attendant called police who questioned the lads. It was said the boys had broken into a house in Trenton, where they had secured the silver coin.

JUST USING BOAT FOR DIVING BOARD

City fire emergency unit this morning was called to the bottom of Herchmer Ave. by an alarmed resident, to rescue a boy from an overturned boat offshore.

When the unit arrived, however, the alarm proved false — although turned in in good faith. The drowning person was a young boy, who was using the keel of an overturned boat for a diving board.

At Fairgrounds

With the annual fair little more than a month away, Belleville fairgrounds are undergoing a face lifting—that is, the face which it presents to the street is getting a face-lifting.

The steel fence which formed a park immediately outside the fairgrounds entrance is being moved out to Yeomans Street, new centennial gates are being constructed and the poultry building is being moved from its present location to a site immediately east of the race track.

The move will give the fair board considerably more room for display and also for the parking of autos inside the grounds, while the new stone gateway will add distinction to the grounds.

Workmen are now engaged in building the curved gateway. White and colored stone with contrasting mortar are being used. The new stone gateway will add distinction to the grounds.

Another move which the fair board is considering is the paving of a pedestrian walkway from the grounds to Yeomans St.

Past president of the fair, W. Harry Rollins, noted that the Belleville Fair this year will be celebrating its 100th birthday.

The centennial gates are being made possible through a $1,000 government grant which goes to all "B" Class fairs in operation over 100 years.

It is just a one-roomed rural school building, but something over three thousand pupils have learned their three R's at S.S. No. 9, on the 5th concession of Thurlow township.

One of the oldest, if not the oldest, rural school buildings in the district, S.S. No. 9 this summer is observing its 100th birthday and to mark the occasion ratepayers of the school section are planning an appropriate centennial program.

The big day is August 1st, when former pupils of the school are invited to return for a day. The school roll call will be 100, and the pupils of yesterday and former teachers will renew acquaintances. Dinner will be served in the new church hall nearby, following which there will be a parade, and sports and games for all.

Tying in with the centennial celebrations will be a special church service at the Carmel United Church on Sunday, July 31. SCHOOL CHANGED LITTLE Interment took place in St. George's cemetery.

The deceased was born in Trenton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hodges, and lived her whole life in that community. She died in Trenton Memorial Hospital on Tuesday, July 5th, after having been in poor health for the past week or so.

She is survived by her husband, Samuel Whaley; three daughters, Mrs. Walter (Marjorie) Herrington, of Smithfield; Helen and Edith, at home; and seven sons, Samuel, of Belleville, and Percy, Gerald, William, Earl, Clifford and Paul, all at home.

After enjoying what might be termed a steady growth since the opening of World War II, housing construction in the Sidney township area west of the city is beginning to boom.

Vacant lots on the Belleville-Trenton highway are being bought up and during recent weeks ranging from modest cottages to ranch style bungalows have sprung up.

Mrs. J. E. Buchan,
Kenneth Box
Are Re-elected

Kenneth Box, administrator of the Belleville General Hospital, was re-elected vice-president of regional council No. 9 of the Ontario Hospital Association for a second term at the association's executive meeting in Kingston, Thursday.

Mrs. J. E. Buchan, of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary, was re-elected to the association's executive.

W. E. Cook, of Brockville, was elected president for a second term. Other executive members were: W. R. Merrick, assistant superintendent of the Kingston General Hospital; Sister Mary Gwendolyn of St. Mary's-on-the-Lake Hospital, Kingston; Miss A. Arnold of Picton, and Mrs. Alice Edmon of Kingston.

Representatives of the nine hospitals in the region, which stretches from Belleville to Picton, attended the meeting held in the Jeanne Manne Nurses' residence of the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston.

Projects initiated last year concerning centralizing purchasing of supplies, centralized microfilming of hospital records and centralized collection of hospital bills were reviewed.

It was decided that a central agency for the purchase of linen would be established for hospitals interested in joint purchases.

Representatives of the Kingston General Hospital said that their hospital had purchased a microfilm unit, which would be available for rental at cost to member hospitals in council No. nine.

The Belleville General Hospital will investigate the feasibility of microfilming records.

Three Kingston hospitals decided to establish an agency for joint collection of bills. The Belleville General Hospital will not participate in the centralized collection agency at this time.

A resolutions committee was set up to deal with proposals from member hospitals for forwarding to the Ontario Hospital Association.

Discussion took place concerning the program for the general meeting to be held in Kingston, Sept. 13.

Freight Train
Derailed At Pointe au Baril

POINTE AU BARIL, Ont. (CP)—A partly-loaded 34-car CPR freight train hit an open switch and left the tracks as it was entering the CPR station here Thursday night.

The engine tore up about 150 feet of track before turning on its side. It pulled the six leading cars with it and the derailed section crashed into two half-loaded cars on a siding.

All's well with what ended in a well this morning. What ended in the well being two cows. Owned by Mike Levine, Belleville cattle dealer.

Out on pasture at Carrying Place, they started to wander. Ended up exploring neighboring land of Hugh Russell.

Subsequently, ended down 18 feet in a well, about 1.30 a.m. Hauled out after 90 minutes by derrick, summoned from city garage.

Injuries: Nothing serious; but bad bruising and dampening from three feet of water in the well.

Bancroft Area Ore Find
Is 20 Per Cent Uranium
But Pocket May Be Small

TORONTO (CP)—Harvey Adams of Sharbot Lake, Ont., said Thursday night assays of ore taken from an abandoned feldspar mine which he and two other persons staked in eastern Ontario have shown from 15 to 20 per cent U-308 uranium oxide.

He said in a telephone interview from his Sharbot Lake home that the assays were made by a Toronto firm. Such high-percentage assays are rare.

Mr. Adams, Dr. C. J. Whytock of Sharbot Lake and Mrs. Dorothy Madigan of Sharbot Lake, near Akron, Ohio, say they staked the area last June and now are negotiating with several companies to take over exploration work in an attempt to prove up an orebody.

Mr. Adams declined to name the companies.

Rich assays have been received from pegmatites from various properties in the Bancroft area, northeast of Peterborough.

In the case of the new find, it will not be unusual if exploration shows the exceptionally rich uranium-bearing ore is contained only in small patches.

At least two companies in the Bancroft district have outlined sizable tonnages of ore and now are reported entering into negotiations with the Atomic Energy, Canada Ltd., at Ottawa.

Mr. Adams said no drilling has yet been done on the property, which consists of a total of about 40 claims.

GIVES ASSAY
Mr. Adams gave this assay report made from samples taken from the property:

Columbium 25 per cent; U308 uranium oxide 15 to 20 per cent; thorium five per cent; titanium one per cent; rare earth 15.25 per cent.

Call Off Search
For Sinking Ship,
Sure It Was Hoax

NEW YORK (AP) — The U. S. Coast Guard called off a search today for a ship which was reported sinking Thursday. The alarm was "undoubtedly a hoax," the service said.

The search began at 3:25 a. m. EDT Thursday when a distress call was received over radiotelephone. The call purportedly came from a fishing boat which identified itself as "the Blue Star." It said it was sinking after striking a "strange object" off the New Jersey coast.

An immediate search by ship and plane began. No sign of a disaster could be found.

Youth Is Charged
TORONTO (CP) — A motorist Thursday night drew up to a policeman on a street corner and asked the officer to remove a troublesome hitch-hiker who, he said, was threatening to shoot him.

Ronald Arthur Gosling said he picked up the man and drove him to a city address he said he was heading to. Gosling said the rider then demanded his wallet and held his hand menacingly in his pocket.

Police said Michael Patrick O'Hara, 22, of Toronto, was charged with attempted robbery.

Should Keep Aspirin
Away from Children
CHICAGO (AP) — An American Medical Association committee says aspirin and other salicylate compounds should bear a warning: "keep out of the reach of children."

The report of the committee on toxicology also recommended that the number of child-type tablets in each container should be limited; the pills be wrapped in metal or plastic foil so that it cannot be easily removed by a child; the label should carry the advice: "consult your physician on dosage for children under three years of age."

The report, published today in the AMA journal, said: "salicylate compounds are known to have caused 113 deaths in the United States in 1952. Of these deaths, 86 occurred in children under five years of age."

Mrs. Bera and Mrs. Bower, flying entrant to cross the finish line here late Monday. Minor injuries and bad weather befell the all-woman field but 43 of the starting 47 completed the course.

Second prize of $500 went to Mrs. Alice Roberts of Phoenix, Ariz., and her co-pilot, Iris Critchell of Palos Verdes Estates, Calif.

The 4000 third prize went to Mrs. Esther H. Hardner of Waterford, Conn., and her co-pilot, Mrs. Clara H. Holcomb of Westfield, Mass.

Weekly Livestock Review

TORONTO (CP) — Cattle prices were generally steady to 50 cents a hundredweight higher this week at the Ontario public stockyards. Calves were unchanged while hogs were 50 cents a hundredweight lower. Lambs were $1 a hundredweight lower.

The cattle run was about 750 head more than last week and 1,200 head fewer than the same week in 1954. Receipts from western Canada were comparable to last week at 259, all stockers. Shipments to eastern Canadian slaughterers were considerably heavier than the seven carloads last week at 12 carloads. There were no exports to the United States.

BULLS LOWER

In spite of a near record heat wave and high humidity, all classes of slaughter cattle either held steady or showed gains in prices, except for bulls. This class lost 50 cents a hundredweight.

Steers, particularly those weighing 900 to 1,150 pounds, sold at strong prices to 50 cents a hundredweight higher in spots. Heifers at steady prices.

Prices: Choice steers $20-21; with several top loads at $21.50; good steers $19-20; mediums $17-19; commons $12-16; good heifers $18-19; with a few choice to $19.50; mediums $17-18; commons $14-17; boner steers and heifers $10-14; choice fed yearlings $20-21; with tops of $21.50; good fed yearlings $19-20; mediums $17-19; good cows generally $13; with some sales at $13.50; good light heifers cows sold up to $14; canners and cutters down to $7; good heavy bologna bulls generally $14; with good light butler bulls to $15; common and medium light bulls down to $10.

Replacement cattle were at a practical standstill this week with sales too few to establish prices. A few scattered sales saw good stockers sell at $19 a hundredweight with odd picked lots to $18.50; mediums $18-19; with common selling down to $16.

Calves were about 150 head more than last week. All grades maintained steady rates with good and choice vealers selling at $20-22. Mediums were slow at $15-20 with commons $10-15; grass calves for slaughter $10-11.

Hog receipts were about the same as last week. Grade A hogs were 50 cents a hundredweight lower at $24. At least seven loads were shipped out at $29. Sows were steady at $18.50 dressed, while stags remained unchanged at $14 dressed.

Sheep and lamb receipts were sharply lower. In spite of this, lambs closed $1 a hundredweight lower at $24. Early sales on off-calf lambs were $25. Buck lambs were discounted $1 for the first time this year while lambs ranged from $18-23. Good light sheep were generally $8 with common and heavy sheep selling down to $3.

Hopes Sight of Sacred Shroud Will Cure Her of Soft Bones

TURIN, Italy (Reuters) — Leonard Cheshire, British flyer who won his country's highest award for gallantry in the Second World War, wheeled an invalid English girl through the streets of Turin Thursday night to try to arrange for her to see a sacred shroud locked away since 1933.

The child, 10-year-old Josephine Woolam, thinks that the sight of the Holy Shroud, in which Christ's body is said to have been wrapped, may cure her of the grave form of osteomalacia (softening of the bones) which crippled her in 1950.

Cheshire, a Roman Catholic convert who devotes his life to the care of the sick and incurable, flew Josephine to Turin in his private plane Wednesday night.

Today he wheeled her into the office of the archbishop of Turin, Maurizio Cardinal Fossati, custodian of the sacred Shroud.

The shroud is locked in a casket kept in St. John's Cathedral, and nobody has seen it since 1933, when it was last exhibited. It bears what are said to be the imprints of Christ's body.

The cardinal's assistant explained that it would be difficult to arrange for the casket containing the shroud to be opened. But he promised the request would be considered during the next few days.

Cheshire, a British observer of the 1945 atom bomb raid against Nagasaki, Japan, was one of Britain's leading Second World War bomber pilots. A group captain, he won the Victoria Cross for gallantry.

PO-2 NORMAN TAPHOUSE

One of three Sea Cadets chosen from Ontario, PO-2 Norman Taphouse of the RCSCC "Quinte" at Belleville, is now enjoying a one month training cruise on the HMCS "Iroquois", which left Halifax, June 29, for an unknown destination. There are 14 cadets from all parts of Canada taking part in the cruise aboard the Canadian fighting ship.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Taphouse, 47 Orchard Drive, Norman has shown exceptional ability as a sea cadet. His special interest is gunnery. He was recommended for the cruise on the "Iroquois" by his corps leader, Commanding Officer Ross Boyce of the Quinte Sea Cadet Corps.

J. Docter Gives Sound Advice On Stock Market

Is the stock market boom about to bust? Are unprecedented high prices for stock merely the figments of promoters' imaginations or do they really represent value?

And how does the 100-share investor manage on his margin? Joe Docter, formerly of Belleville, and now enjoying life and prosperity on Wall Street, came up with some sound ideas on the market recently in an interview with the Wall Street Journal.

A boom caused by professional manipulators always results in a boomerang according to Mr. Docter.

As for telling good stock from bad, Mr. Docter says a long, hard look "in the Bible"

"The man who builds upon a rock, will withstand the storms, but the man who builds upon sand will probably be swept away. Before anyone buys stock or anything else," says Mr. Docter, "he should, above all, investigate to see if it is on solid ground."

In other words, look before you leap. Many a man has broken his bonds trying to leap onto the curb without looking.

Titania Corp. Will Not Build Plant Says General Manager

TRENTON, (Special) — A controversial subject in town since council could not unanimously agree to make it possible for a new industry to acquire a 26-acre site was clarified to some extent here yesterday by Frank Hudanick, general manager of Gulton Industries Ltd., of Metuchen, N.J., parent company of Titania Electric Corporation of Canada Ltd., with temporary office in the Steenburg apartments on Dundas Street West.

Mr. Hudanick stated that Titania was definitely not coming to Trenton. He noted that the company was in the market for a 26-acre site to purchase outright with no strings attached.

Yesterday Mr. Hudanick expressed the views of the principals of Gulton Manufacturing Company regarding intentions of the company with respect to locating in Trenton. He observed that the parent company was started in Metuchen, New Jersey, ten years ago by 600 people in a building space of 4000 square feet. Since then under a progressive expansion program the Metuchen plant now covers 70,000 square feet and employs 300 people.

There is an engineer or scientist for every seven people working in this plant manufacturing and developing ultra-modern electronic devices, while scores of important research jobs are going on at the same time including top-secret work for the Atomic Energy Commission.

NEAR RESEARCH CENTRE

The Gulton management controlling factories at New Rochelle, N.Y., and Albuquerque, New Mexico, recently announced plans for building of a modern research centre in Metuchen, that will cost about $250,000 and house millions of dollars worth of equipment, Mr. Hudanick noted.

Yesterday Mr. Hudanick spent the morning visiting the local principals who encouraged the American electronic manufacturer in deciding to establish a Canadian subsidiary in Trenton.

Our president, Dr. Leslie K. Gulton, asked me to convey a message that he is pleased with the help received from them," he said.

HEAVY STRAIN ON SUPPLY

Due to the heavy strain placed on Trenton's spring water supply from the Murray Hills town officials have decided against watching down the streets tonight.

Friday is the day the canning industry here needs extra water to clean up equipment while lawn service though restricted from 8:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m., creates a great drain on reserves. The water level in the storage tank on top of Mount Pelion is maintained in case a good pressure is needed for fire protection.

Fresh water filtered from the Trent River north of No. 1 dam is mixed with spring water during the day when great demands are placed on the supply. At night however only spring water courses through the system.

Marilyn May Make Bid to Swim Channel July 18

TORONTO (CP) — The Telegram says Toronto's Marilyn Bell may make a bid to swim the English channel July 18.

In a dispatch from Folkestone, England, it quotes coach Gus Ryder as saying Marilyn is in shape for the attempt and only the right channel conditions are needed.

Last September Marilyn became the first, and so far only, conqueror of Lake Ontario.

Channel pilot John Burwill of Dover, who has knowledge of weather and channel conditions has helped other swimmers' bids, says they would be right for a bid in 10 days' time.

TWO MORE CHANCES
The Telegram says: "Choice of this date also gives Marilyn one extra chance to gain her ambition of adding the laurels of a cross-channel swim to the crown of her cross-lake swim of last year."

Bancroft Area Couple Injured, Struck by Auto

BANCROFT, (Special) — Israel McKenzie, 76, and his wife, Elizabeth, 73, of R.R. 3, Bancroft, resident six miles west of the village, were seriously injured near their home late Thursday evening when they were struck by a car, driven by Clifford Woodcock, 29, Bancroft, while crossing the road. Mr. McKenzie suffered a broken pelvis, broken right hip and broken left leg, while his wife also suffered a broken pelvis, facial bruises and eye injuries. They were taken from the scene of the accident to the Red Cross hospital at Bancroft and attended by Dr. A. V. Lehnardt and later removed to the Civic Hospital, at Peterborough, where today their condition was given as "critical". The accident was investigated by OPP Constable, Ray Hooker, but no details of the accident are available due to the fact there were no eye-witnesses of the incident.

It is believed, however, that Mrs. McKenzie was helping her husband, who is partially blind across the road when they were struck by the car, which was proceeding easterly at the time. Dr. and Mrs. McKenzie are well known and highly respected residents of the county and Mr. McKenzie for many years was a foreman for the highways department. Up to the present time no charges have been laid against the young man whose car struck the aged couple.

Man Had Good Reason For Appearing Naked

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Arrested for appearing naked on the streets, John McElroy, 35, told police he took off his clothes because he didn't want to be conspicuous.

The arresting officers agreed that he had a good reason for the strip act. He was wearing a prison uniform.

The officers borrowed a pair of pants from McElroy and returned them to the city stockade. They said he had slipped away still owing 14 days on a drunk conviction.

A QUESTIONABLE METHOD

"Saturday Night," Toronto bi-weekly, says that "If Prime Minister St. Laurent had been told the matter more thought, he would never have told the House of Commons that newspapers should not print news obtained from 'authoritative' or 'well-informed' sources unless they named those sources."

"Saturday Night" proceeds to argue that there would be three results of such a policy. The only one with which we are concerned in this editorial is the contention that the government would lose "one of its most invaluable methods of testing public opinion."

"The official leak," says Saturday Night, "has become too useful a tool of government to be lightly tossed aside. The method used, it is said, is for some 'highly placed person' to have a quiet talk with a reporter. Soon the public learns that this or that policy is contemplated. If there is any firm protest, the report is angrily denied; if not, steps are taken to carry out the plan."

This may be, as Saturday Night suggests, a "useful tool of government." Our main concern, however, happens to be with the problems of newspapers and not of governments and we are not at all so sure that the system of "official leaks" which can be "angrily denied" if the public protests are in the best interests of newspapers.

Does it not tend to bring them into disrepute as sources of reliable information? If it does, are the newspapers not lightly bartering their most valuable asset, the trust and confidence of their readers, for the chance that they may be the first to forecast some future policy?

If, on the other hand, when reports are "angrily denied" and the predicted change in policy does not transpire, the readers of the newspapers do not for one moment doubt the authenticity of the original report, but are convinced that the official denial is based on a lie, is not the government perhaps paying too high a price for this "useful tool," the "official leak"?

Might not the best interests of both governments and newspapers be better served if the government would frankly state that it was contemplating such-and-such a policy, and before reaching a definite decision wished to gain the reaction of the public?

SELLING THE WRONG PEOPLE

There are no women members of the Ontario Legislature.

A striking proof of why this is a wholly unsatisfactory state of affairs is provided by the latest issue of "Ontario Government Services," published by the division of publicity of the Department of Finance and Publicity.

The pamphlet reports that: "Thirty members of the American press, mostly editors of weeklies, enthusiastically endorsed Ontario's vacation attractions as they travelled across the province by bus, boat and train on a twelve-day tour sponsored and planned by the Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity."

That sounds like good news, auguring well for increased tourist revenue, until one learns that this was "an all-male group."

These men like Ontario and will return to tell their readers about the things in Ontario which will interest other men.

But will they tell their readers about what will interest women? And who plans the family vacations, anyway? Maybe the male members of the Ontario Legislature and the male employees of the Department of Travel and Publicity think that it is the man of the house.

But even one woman member of the Legislature could have put them straight on that point.

YOU MUST SPEAK TO PAPA

The other day Sir William Hayter, British ambassador to Russia, said he would invite Georgi Malenkov, former premier of the USSR, to visit Britain, if he thought Malenkov would accept.

He made the remark to Malenkov, so that an excellent opportunity existed for his prospective guest to drop a clear hint as to his possible reaction to such an invitation.

But Malenkov did nothing of the kind. His reply was a laugh and a statement that he understood that Britain was building an atom power station with a capacity of 100,000 kilowatts. Since Malenkov is now minister of electric power stations, perhaps this was a hint, after all. But it was a pretty obscure one.

Back in Victorian days, when proposals were made, every young lady was able to convey a much clearer hint as to her own feelings on the matter by a mere glance as she repeated the standard formula, "You must speak to Papa."

Malenkov could have done the same thing, but perhaps he is not so certain as Victorian young ladies of his power over Papa Khrushchev, the head of the household.

A bull dropped into the bar at the Palomino Lodge at Ste. Agathe, Quebec, the other day and stamped the lemonade drinkers who were finally convinced it was not a mirage. After an hour's futile coaxing a policeman shot the bull dead with a rifle. It is one of the few cases on record in which a bull shooter in a bar actually used bullets.

Dressing Up Freight Cars

(Sudbury Daily Star)

When it comes to publicity gimmicks you have to hand it to the U.S. railways. They know how to get the greatest value out of their freight cars rolling across the continent.

The Soo Line has come up with one of the best of all. The centennial celebration of the opening of the Soo locks is being held this year. The Soo Line has specially painted five of its cars, carrying the message: "Visit Soo Locks Centennial, Sault Ste. Marie, June 28, Sept. 5, 1955."

Just think how the Ontario Northland Railway cars could be brightened up with a huge blue goose painted on the sides over the caption - Route of the Blue Goose.

Or the CPR cars could carry a modernized painting of its slogan - Spans the World. The CNR cars would look most attractive with a scarlet-coated RCMP officer on a horse - Visit Banff National Park.

Freight cars that travel over Canadian railways are drab-looking affairs. We like the bright colors and attractive markings that feature so many of the freight cars on the U.S. railways.

The railways are giving a "new look" to the passenger and express cars. Why not devote a similar attention to making the freight cars more eye-appealing? It might be the means of catching the eyes of prospective customers.

Letter to the Editor

Canada Should Not Copy U.S. Wage Policy

(Guelph Mercury)

Canada's gross national income has doubled since 1946 and I contend this to a large extent indicates a redistribution of wealth. The size of the pie has increased that much. As I see it, if a wage increase results in higher prices it robs savings, pensions and family allowances, also gold-miners, wheat-farmers and others in the less prosperous sections of the country whose income is not likely to rise.

It is to be hoped that Canada will not be stamped into a wave of inflation by U.S. industry and labor. Our economy is far from being as self-contained as theirs and we must find markets for much of our production outside of the high-priced dollar area, at prices those customers can pay. Five years ago the 30 per cent devaluation of sterling and other European currencies created a low-cost trading area which made our surplus farm products too expensive and their manufacturing costs competitive. They have since widened the gap in prices by keeping down costs while we rode the gravy train.

We cannot afford a greater disparity in living costs between Canadians.

Referring to the much heralded G.A.W. (guaranteed annual wage), it makes one wonder whether U.S. branch plants and American controlled labor unions have too much power over Canada's economic life. Presumably, the manufacturers will just collect any cost increases from the consumer in higher prices.

It is generally assumed that highly paid workers accustomed to seasonal layoffs are partly compensated for them in the regular wage.

Yours truly, John Gilbert, Hanover, Ontario.

Woman's Life is Tough One

(Guelph Mercury)

Poor woman! Her work is never ending. No 40-hour week for her. As for holidays, they find the whole family at home which makes an extra burden.

Who plans three meals a day? Who goes to market and buys the food? Who makes the bed and vacuums the house from top to bottom?

Who is called when a button is off or a hole is found in a sock? Who has to make desserts? Who puts up sandwiches and other dainties for lunch?

Who writes the thank-you letters, buys clothes for the children, makes costumes for school pageants, knits woolen blankets for expectant mothers, remembers the birthdays of friends in relations, leaves flowers for the sick, and accepts it calmly when a man without timely warning brings a business acquaintance home to dinner?

Who presides over a booth at the neighborhood fair, bandages cuts and bruises, takes temperatures, and is called to call on friends, and reads aloud to the patient?

Compare this with the work of a man who has a secretary and an office boy at his beck and call. Picture him with nothing more to do than loiter in his chair and say "Miss Jones, take a letter," or send the office boy out for a cup of coffee.

See him step out for lunch with friends and stay anywhere from one to two hours. Why should he come home complaining of being exhausted? Now what would happen if a woman were exhausted as easily as that?

Yes, woman's work is never ending. She leads a tough life, poor soul.

But what is hard for a man to figure out is how, with her pressing obligations, she always seems to be able to take a day off whenever friends propose an outing.

Green Peas Are Certain

(By Aldous Huxley, British)

Author in This Week Magazine

"Reconcile what you have to say with green peas, for green peas are certain." - Walter Bagehot

There are two great besetting sins of the intellect. The first is over simplification, and we fall into it when we imagine that any event - above all an event involving persons - is due to a single cause. We go astray in this way every time we try to solve our own or other people's problems by attacking them on a single front.

When in fact every human problem exists on all the fronts at once, and is psychological and physical, social and economic, philosophical and religious.

The second besetting sin of the intellect is what, for lack of a better name, I will call over abstraction. This is the sin against which Bagehot warns us in the phrase I have quoted above. Green peas are certain, but our high, resounding, windy abstractions - words like the Good, the True, the Beautiful, for example, or Liberty, Equality, Fraternity - are uncertain until they have been given solid meaning in terms of concrete facts.

So let us reconcile what we have to say with green peas; if we don't, if we fail to explain precisely what we mean by our abstractions, we shall find ourselves in trouble.

"Liberty, what crimes have been committed in thy name!" So the saying goes. But these crimes by what have been committed? If the idealists had taken the trouble to reconcile their eloquence with green peas - in other words, with the stubborn facts of life.

Personal Health Talks

By DR. WM. BRADY

Bones And Teeth Are Living Tissue

According to the physiology textbook used in the public schools in the nineteenth century, as some old-timers may remember, "the composition of bone, at maturity is about one part animal to two parts mineral matter. In youth it is nearly half and half, while in old age the mineral is greatly in excess."

The professor who conjured that out of thin air (there was no precise chemical analysis of the bones available in the 1870's) did not explain just how the change came about. But certainly he implied that somehow between youth and old age the bones lost considerable animal matter or acquired more mineral matter.

In an article spread over twenty pages of a popular magazine a few months ago, the author stated correctly that the bones of elderly people are easily broken, mostly to gradual demineralization of the bones, especially loss of calcium, and this in turn is partly due to insufficient calcium intake during the years preceding.

So far, so good. But then the author reverts to the 19th century, where so many physicians and dentists still mark time, to recite with the old-timers: "Once the demineralization has happened, there is little or no help for it."

If this means that there's little help for it after the bone is broken or the tooth has a cavity, it seems reasonable. If it means calcium can't be restored to bones which have lost part of their calcium, it is illogical, for biologists know that the bones can and do receive and store calcium (become mineralized) as long as the individual's intake of calcium and vitamin D is adequate.

At a top authority (Best & Taylor, Physiological Basis of Medical Practice) puts it: "It is perhaps well to point out that adult bone is not simply an inert structural material but living tissue whose mineral composition fluctuates under the influence of other body functions. The trabeculae of the bone, as shown by Aub and associates, constitute a calcium store readily available when necessary . . . supplies are deficient."

All this may be a little too technical for ordinary folk. For that matter it is apparently difficult for many physicians and dentists to understand, especially those whose practice is based on 19th-century physiology.

But it seems to me Tom, Dick and Harry ought to know that a high calcium diet and as much exposure to sunshine as possible (to insure the essential vitamin D) is a must for anyone who wants to enjoy health, youth and longevity. And the first essential of the high calcium diet is 1½ pints of milk (three large glassfuls) daily for every mature adult, a quart or more daily for every growing child.

KINDNESS TO BOOKS

I am a lover of books and I don't like to see them mistreated. I have watched people open a book and turn it upside down, or use a pair of shears, or something, as a book-mark.

I do not object to having a book neatly marked with comments, or in some manner, so that it can be referred to for conversation with a book is a healthy occupation. Often the mind of one reading a book and the silent author of the book meet, as in one of the books that I once had from W. H. Hudson's library. In a margin he had written, "This is all nonsense!"

One of America's early preachers was an early idol of mine. He wrote many books and loved them heartily that in our homes, new visiting several London book shops, and going back to his hotel with his pockets filled with small books, which he said he stroked and lovingly fondled all the way back.

Pappa Fourway Considered Best Sprinter in World

LONDON (CP)—A horse named Pappa Fourway is being hailed as the fastest sprinter in Britain, and perhaps in the world.

The three-year-old colt has won all his five races this year, at five and six furlongs, smothering his opponents with ease in fast times. He is being compared with such fleet-footed animals as Abernant and Careless Nora, of the post-war crop, and other past greats such as Mumtaz Mahal and Irish Elegance.

Owned by Mrs. Elaine Goldson, Pappa Fourway was a bargain yearling, costing only 150 guineas. He is also a breeding freak. His sire, Pappageno, usually produces horses which like long distances and sloppy going. Pappa Fourway favors sprint races and has won more often on firm than soft going. He probably gets his speed from his dam, Oola Hills, a daughter of Dentarius.

WANTS BIG PRICE

Mrs. Goldson nearly sold him to the United States during the winter. Now she says she might listen to an offer. "If it happens to be high enough."

Pappa Fourway is trained by Billie Dutton, who as a jockey once won the Grand National Steeplechase on the almost legendary outsider, "Boppy" Tim. "Pappa's" next race will probably be the King's Stand stakes at Ascot next week.

His latest victory was in the July Cup at Newmarket, in which he started a hot favorite at 1 to 6. His jockey, W.H. Carr, calls him "a horse and a half."

1,000 Japanese Wasps to Battle Wax Scale Pest

SYDNEY (CP)—Australian scientists are flying 1,000 Japanese wasps from Tokyo to combat the pink wax scale pest in Australian citrus orchards.

The head of the biological control section of the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research, F. Wilson, said the wasps, about the size of a pin-head, will be flown to Sydney in sealed glass tubes containing honey for them to feed on.

"The pink wax scale is a small insect about three-sixteenths of an inch long which has caused a lot of damage on Australian citrus orchards, especially in New South Wales and Queensland," he said. "It weakens the tree and reduces the fruit yield. The insect originally came from Japan, where it is also a serious pest. About five years ago the Japanese discovered that this wasp, which lives only in some outlying districts, lived on it. They then introduced the wasps to some other districts and found they were a very effective answer to pink wax scale. The wasps lay their eggs inside the pest and the young wasps feed on the insect and destroy it."

Wilson said there is no danger of the wasps themselves becoming a pest.

MARQUESS TO MARRY

LONDON (Reuters)—The Marquess of Salisbury, 82, on Saturday will marry a widow, also 82, and take her to Paris for a honeymoon. It was announced here Thursday. The wedding will be the third for the marquess. His first wife died in 1941 and his second last June.

Timber Area Is Tendered As Carefully as Garden

SECHLT, B.C. (CP)—A 2,581-acre farm along a peninsula 30 miles northwest of Vancouver grows a lush crop.

The crop, 140-foot Douglas fir, hemlock and cedar, is tended as carefully as a garden; deadfalls are weeded out, trees are thinned and pruned like a field of tomatoes. The 2,500 acres were dedicated recently as British Columbia's sixth tree farm, operated by the Canadian Forestry Association.

Tom Wright, chief forester for Canadian Forest Products, owners of the site, says the farm is being operated as a commercial success. Cedar: snags and windfalls, killed in a raging forest fire which swept the area 75 years ago, lie unburned where they died and some are recovered for either sawlog or cedar shakes and shingles.

A 40-acre tract of the second growth fir and hemlock has been laid out as a commercial thinning operation. Objective of the thinning is to open up the overcrowded forest by removing the smaller and poorer trees and some of the larger ones where necessary.

The thinned trees would have died anyway within 20 or 30 years because of competition from healthier mates, Mr. Wright says. Every 10 or 20 years, logging crews can move in and take out a crop. Special techniques of loading and yarding have been developed for the operation. Logs are sorted and bundled according to species and types. So careful are operators that metal shields are laid down as the trees are dragged out, so the bark will not be damaged. Artificial pruning also is being carried out on 350 trees as an experiment. The pruner climbs the trees with high-riggers' spurs and a heavy club, smashing off the tiny limbs as he climbs. Mr. Wright estimates pruning increases the value of each tree by $22 making them suitable for plywood production. The operation leaves the tree with a minimum of knots.

Pope Addresses Personal Cable To Juan Peron

VATICAN CITY (CP)—The Pope has told President Juan Peron of Argentina that he prays that God will "illumine and move your heart so that the loved people of Argentina may freely live their Catholic tradition."

The Pope's wish was expressed in a personal cable to the Argentine president. It was in reply to one Peron had sent to the pontiff on the occasion of the feast day of St. Peter and Paul last week. On June 16 the Vatican's sacred congregation of the consistory announced that all persons responsible for the expulsion of Bishop Manuel Tato of Buenos Aires had incurred excommunication. The expulsion had followed a long period of growing tension between church and state there.

While the congregation's declaration mentioned no names, Vatican authorities made it clear that the declaration included President Peron and members of his government.

Two Families Evicted, Spend Night on Street

OTTAWA (CP)—Two families, including a four-year-old girl who has had cerebral palsy since birth spent Wednesday night on the street after being evicted from their Wellington street tenement.

The city found them accommodation Thursday and a place to store their furniture. The two families comprise Mr. and Mrs. William Shepherd and their daughters, Georgette, 23, and Cecile, 14, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Scarbo, their handicapped daughter, Heather, and three-year-old Jimmy.

The two families, evicted to make way for demolition of their tenement, spent the night on the steps of their former home huddled under blankets. Heather slept on a couch under a tree at the edge of the sidewalk.

Mr. Shepherd told a reporter the group had been given monthly notices to vacate since March and had been given three extensions on the eviction date since June 1. The building is being torn down to make way for construction of a laundry plant.

Threat of Quick General Election Sets Ottawa Agog

OTTAWA (CP)—Future course of the Commons' long-distance defence production battle looked uncertain today amid strategic party jockeying and conflicting reports on compromises and the threat of a quick general election.

If no deal is worked out by Monday, informants said, the government plans to let the talk roll for the first three days of next week before bringing to a vote its bill to extend indefinitely some of Defence Production Minister Howe's emergency powers.

The bill is being fought by the Progressive Conservatives. In an interview Thursday, Progressive Conservative Leader Drew said no compromise amendment would be sponsored and offered to consider anything the government might put on the floor of the House.

One source said Prime Minister St. Laurent got in touch with Mr. Drew Wednesday night and offered to have the government majority in the house send the bill to the House banking and commerce committee, with the possibility of government-sponsored amendments there, if the Conservatives would call off the filibuster.

SOME TIME LIMITS

He said he had been informed the prime minister also told Mr. Drew that the government would consider placing time limits on some of the emergency powers.

Mr. Drew conceded in his interview that the prime minister telephoned him Wednesday night, but said it was only to clear up some points in a speech which the Opposition leader had made in the House Wednesday and on which Mr. St. Laurent did not have the stenographic record.

In the House Thursday, Mr. Howe indicated willingness to consider opposition proposals, but Mr. Drew said outside the chamber such changes in the bill should be initiated by the government.

RUMORS DENIED

Meanwhile, several cabinet members told reporters there is nothing to Parliament Hill rumors that the government is thinking of using the threat of an early election to pull heat on the Conservatives to call off the filibuster.

The corridor gossip has had it that the government might spring a fast election on the issue, but every available informant denied it.

The report—one of many that have blown up over the production issue—appeared to have ballooned from a jocular remark dropped by a cabinet minister in a chat with a group of Commons members including some from the opposition. He is reported to have said something like, "If you fellows don't end this filibuster soon, we'll settle it with an election."

According to all available information, he was kidding. But by the time his sentence had gone through the magnification of the parliamentary grapevine, it had taken on considerable substance.

Two Brothers Held

TORONTO (CP)—Two brothers were arrested Thursday night on charges of stealing and cashing cheques worth nearly $20,000 during the last four months.

Police booked John Newman, 21, and his 30-year-old brother, Albert, both of Toronto, on eight charges each of false pretences, eight of theft and eight of uttering.

The men were accused of stealing income tax rebate and old-age pension cheques from apartment houses.

BLOODS PREPARE FOR ANNUAL SUN DANCE CEREMONY

age-old tribal ceremony. As part of the ceremony, the Blood chiefs, above, will induct into the Kaini—an exclusive 35-member group of Blood chiefs—Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of defence production. (Central Press Canadian).

Police Chief Says Constables Punched and 'Jumped' Him

WHITBY (CP)—Police chief Lester Hill of nearby Pickering at a doctor's office Thursday said he was punched and "jumped" by four constables on his way to work.

Chief Hill said he went home but was called back to the police station at 3 a.m. by Morden who demanded his personal belongings. He said he went into his office to get Morden's belt, the only piece of private equipment confiscated. He then Morden held his arms and said Thompson hit him on the head.

Dr. W. W. Tomlinson of Pickering said in medical evidence that chief Hill suffered bruises on his face, chest and one of his legs and a broken nose.

At the conclusion of Thursday's hearing, magistrate Woodliff said he would adjourn the case for one week before permitting further evidence.

WAS COMMENDED

Speaking about Morden, Chief Hill said he had shown himself a good officer and won commendation from persons in the township. "But at all times he has shown me the other side of his disposition," the chief said.

The chief then gave his account of the circumstances surrounding the alleged assault. He said Morden came on for his shift 15 minutes early and took the cruiser to go on patrol before he was technically on duty. He said Morden smelled of liquor and was "very insolent" in his manner.

Chief Hill said he repeatedly called Morden to return the cruiser and at the same time asked him to state his location. He said that on each of these occasions Morden gave his location but refused to return, saying he was "on patrol."

The chief said he called crown attorney Alex C. Hall and received authorization from him to lay a charge against Morden for assault.

The losers used three pitchers in an effort to stop their opponents. Holloway, MacDonald and Latchford shared the hurling, allowing 11 hits while fanning four and passing 10. ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

GNG BACK HOME IS A WISE IDEA

Mr. Miss Fairfax:

I am fond of a man I have known for eight or nine years, and I say he has always been very kind to me. We live in the same city, but I'm in another town, and I'm thinking of going back there to be with him.

I asked this man if he would come up there to see me if I went back, but he doesn't seem to think of the idea. I think the reason is that one of his friends also likes me, and he doesn't want to let me go in to turn against him. Don't you think that if I'm willing to break up with the second man, the first one should be willing to come and see me if he cares enough for me? — C.

What I think is that your idea of going back to your home town is very wise one, as it will give you an opportunity to find out which of these men interests you the most and which one is really most interested in you. I rather doubt that the first man's son for not coming to see you, you move away, is because he thinks his friend is interested in you. As a rule, a man who really likes a certain woman for his wife, I try to outstrip any other suitors in the race for her hand. I go on back home and wait developments. The man who comes to see you will be the one who really wants you. On your side, if it's not the one you want, then he's best to tell him so. But you try to find out your feelings change when you get a perspective on him.

RE'S A GIRL WHO HAS WISE PARENTS

Mr. Miss Fairfax:

I am almost 16, and my mother is willing for me to go out on dates with the boys I am going with come to the house so that she and my father can meet them. The other day, at the skating rink, I met a boy who is in the air and is 17. He asked me to go on a show right after we got out of skating, and I told him I didn't think I could. Now I am wondering if I should ask him to come home so that my mother and step-father could meet him. I then go out with him from there, if it is okay with them. Or you think I might call my mother from the skating rink, and if I could bring him home with me, and if she said no, then tell the boy that I couldn't go with him, but would see him some other time?

If you were in my place, what would you do? — B.M.

Mr. B.M.: If I were in your place, I think I would be very frank with this friend and tell him that my parents did not allow me to go anywhere with a boy unless they met him beforehand. And I might add that you have very wise parents.

If this boy asks you to go out with him again, explain the situation to him, as I say: then if you are at the skating rink call your mother and ask if she would allow you to go on to the movies with a boy or if she would prefer that you invite him to the house first, you make things clear to the boy, and he is the right kind, he will understand and co-operate with you, and think all the more of you and your family for it.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMIESON

ARMS AND THE WOMAN

Most women give plenty of time to the care and arrangement of their hair, to their complexion and to manicures, but they frequently neglect their arms. Which is a great pity, since beautiful arms are a great asset.

If your arms are not in perfect condition, a little home treatment daily will do wonders for them. Here's the way to go about it.

Start with a rousing scrubbing with warm soap suds and a bath brush. Scour from finger tips to shoulders, fluffing up a rich lather. Rinse and dry.

Have at hand a tube of toilet lanolin, which is soothing to the skin. Start at your finger tips, frictioning the oily substance into the nails and surrounding tissue. Thumb the back of your hands, and your wrist bones. Give your elbows a few creamy wallows. The flesh is coarse there, often crinkly or dingy of color. Then, making a bracelet of fingers and thumb, go edging up from wrist to shoulder, moving your arm from side to side within the fingers of the other hand.

The next step is to put a good cosmetic meal into a large tin salt shaker. Sprinkle it over the lanolin to form a pack. Wring large Turkish towels out of steaming hot water and wrap them around your arms. The moist heat will force the pack into the flesh, smoothing and refining the texture of the skin.

After removing the towels, bathe arms again and have a talcum rub. And this is a good time to do arm swinging exercises for normalizing contour—especially if the upper arms are over-developed.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BECKMAN

ON SENDING ANNOUNCEMENTS TO CO-WORKERS

Dear Mrs. Beckman:

I am employed by a large company, and have quite an important position in one of its departments. I am to be married quite soon. Would it be correct for me to send announcements of my marriage to my co-workers in the department? In the case of the executives, do you think I should send the announcements to their respective homes, addressing to "Mr. and Mrs.," or should I address them to each executive at the office address? — W.A.

It is entirely correct, and certainly a polite gesture, to send the marriage announcements to all the members of your department whom you know, including the executives. If possible, all the workers and those to the executives, should be sent to their homes, addressed to "Mr. and Mrs.," a marriage announcement is a personal item, and therefore it is more logical that when possible and convenient, it should be sent to the home in preference to the office.

HOW TO RECKON NUMBER OF USHERS

Dear Mrs. Beckman:

We are to have a large, formal church wedding in late October. My fiancé has invited his brother to be best man. And he has made a list of "possibilities" for his ushers. How do we reckon the seating of the wedding guests? — Sallie B.

There should be one usher to every 25 to 30 guests. And it makes for smoother procedure if there are perhaps too many ushers rather than too few.

VISITOR BROUGHT ONE ITEM TOO MANY

Dear Mrs. Beckman:

I'm in disgrace with a friend of mine. I met this couple on a cruise last February, and a short time ago they invited me to visit them in their country house. I became very devoted to them, and I really thought I was. But now I've been told by a mutual friend of ours that my hostess considered it very rude for me to bring my own soap (a certain kind I really have to use), my own face cloth (a certain kind I like to use), and my own towel. Was I wrong in what I did? And if so, should I apologize or what? —Reader.

I doubt very much that your hostess really criticised your bringing your own soap and your own face cloth, as many guests do this,

Readers' Friday Column

As Conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION:

Our Ladies' Aid is to cater for a wedding dinner. We would like to serve a fruit salad using pineapple as the base. What proportions of fruit would we need to make enough to serve about 50 people. I have used many of your recipes and follow your column faithfully.—Signed Mrs. C. K.

ANSWER:

You do not mention whether you want molded or unmolded salad, so am giving you both.

MOLDED PINEAPPLE SALAD

(Make this up two or two and one half times the recipe.)
Four packages, lime gelatin, 1 1/2 cups hot water, 2 1/2 cups cold water, 2 pints cottage cheese, 1 20-ounce can crushed pineapple (drained). Crisp lettuce and mayonnaise mixed with whipped cream. Dissolve the gelatin in hot water, add cold water and cool. When it starts to set add cottage cheese and beat with beater. Fold in well-drained crushed pineapple. Pour into two-ling molds and chill. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise and whipped cream. This will make 20 average portions.

FRUIT SALAD (for 50)

Four No. 2 1-2 cans sliced pineapple, drained, 3 No. 2 1-2 cans pear halves, drained, 3 No. 2 1-2 cans peach halves, drained, 5 medium heads lettuce, 2 8-ounce and their personal choice is accepted quite naturally. But you really shouldn't have brought your own towel, for this certainly might have been considered a criticism of the linen of the household where you are visiting. However, I think if you apologized or even mentioned the criticism that was passed on to you, it would unnecessarily emphasize the really not-too-important incident. So don't worry... and "let bygones be bygones." Perhaps you might think of some extra gesture you could make to your hostess, to assure her again of your appreciation of her hospitality.

packages cottage cheese, 1 8-ounce bottle maraschino cherries, drained and cut into halves. Arrange the fruit on lettuce leaves on large platters. Drop teaspoonfuls of the cheese on fruits. Garnish with cherries.

QUESTION:

This is a little out of your bracket but if you can help me you will. That is the reason I am writing to you.

There are two cottages here, one is vacant and I live in one. We found bed bugs about ten days ago in one room but that's all so far. I have four rooms and been living here for two years. We found out that the other place has them. Could they come through the walls as they are not good?

My sister discovered it and it is the first time I have ever seen them. I got some D.D.T. and sprayed the room also some Aeroal Ridsect, a household insect killer. Will this send them through all the rooms and clothes? This place wouldn't take fumigating. I'm afraid as it is too dilapidated, I'd appreciate anything on this.—Signed Mrs. B. T.

ANSWER:

Fumigation is surest control method, so I would recommend: D.D.T. Spray for bed bugs. Use a five per cent spray of D.D.T. and apply with a sprayer or brush to the framework of beds and nearby walls, paying particular attention to crevices. Spray mattresses lightly on both sides. If the application is thorough, it should eliminate an infestation in a few days and give protection for two or three months. A ten per cent powder, applied preferably with a small puffer or dust gun is also effective.

In S. America
Topic at W.M.S.

MARSH HILL—The July meeting of Marsh Hill W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Alex Tanner with eight members, one visitor and one Mission Band member present.

The president, Mrs. Leslie Finkle, opened the meeting with the reading of a poem, "Out in the Fields With God," and prayer. One member contributed to the birthday box.

The members reported making three calls and sending five cards. Mrs. Bartindale, literature secretary, reminded the members about the "Book Shelf."

The president also reminded the members about the articles for the bazaar and layette.

Mrs. Bartindale presided over the worship service from the monthly.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. Walter Lindenfield introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. J. Haslam, of Claresholm, Alberta, who gave a talk about the missionary work in South America. Mrs. Haslam has two daughters as missionaries in South America, one in Colombia and one in Brazil, who is a nurse.

In Colombia the roads are poor, and they live in houses built of mud brick. The language used is Spanish. The missionaries have strong opposition there and find it hard to keep work going.

POOR ROADS

In Brazil the roads are poor; in fact, they are just trails. A great deal of travelling is done on horseback. The language used there is Portuguese.

The children are similar to Canadian children — loveable and very mischievous. Mrs. Haslam showed some snapshots of her daughters, who are expected home next summer. She also told about her own W.M.S. in Alberta.

Mrs. Bartindale thanked the speaker on behalf of the members. Mrs. Darke closed the meeting after which the hostess served refreshments.

Sunday School Lesson:

Man Who Talked Up to God

By ROY L. SMITH

Religion generally, and Christianity in particular, has long taught that man should take a reverent and submissive attitude toward God, and reverence is, of course, the first basic essential in good religion. There comes, however, when God seems to take pride in the man who talks up to Him.

IN THE IMAGE OF GOD

Having made man in His own image (Gen. 1:26, 2:7), the Almighty seems to expect man to act the part. On one occasion the patriarch Abraham is reported to have challenged God, saying, "Shall not the judge of all the earth do right?" (Gen. 18:25). If man is expected to be moral, then God must be moral. It took no little part of the image of God to enable even such a character as Abraham to speak frankly.

The Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July is "Hakku's Faith Tested," Hakku.

Hundreds of years afterward the Prophet Ezekiel reported that upon the occasion of his first interview with God he was commanded to stand up on his feet and look the Almighty squarely in the eye (Ezekiel 2:1).

HABAKKUK HAD QUESTION

The Prophet Habakkuk, in the year 600 B.C., (the date is subject to some debate), was wrestling with an extremely difficult problem. The Hebrew nation was suffering terribly at the hands of ruthless and rapacious neighbors. That the little nation had been guilty of serious sinning the prophet was quite willing to admit, but he could not understand why God was using other nations far more wicked as a means of inflicting punishment. And so far as Habakkuk could see, the brutal enemies were suffering in no way at the hands of God.

IVANHOE

Popular Young
Teacher Honored
By Gift

IVANHOE — A surprise party was held recently for Miss Shirley Douglas, popular school teacher, in Fuller school house, Wednesday. About 50 members of the community, parents, children and trustees gathered to honor Miss Douglas who hopes to attend Normal in the fall.

The first part of the evening was spent in games, crokinole and checkers.

ADDRESS READ

The gathering was called to order by Mrs. Wallace McTaggart who called Miss Douglas to a seat of honor. Following a sing-song and several readings, an address was read by Ruth Wilson, expressing the affection and esteem which Shirley holds in the hearts of Fuller community, also stating "We look back over the past year as one of the most successful in our school history, no serious accidents, no complaints, and splendid co-operation between teacher and pupils. You have worked with us and played with us and found your way into our hearts."

The presentation of a flash camera was made by Sharon McCumber and Bonnie Smith. Miss Douglas graciously thanked everyone for the lovely gift; the kind wishes, and for the co-operation during the past year.

The trustees all spoke very highly of Miss Douglas' work extending best wishes for a successful year at Normal.

FUTURE COURSE

Besides barring second reading now, it proposed that the Defence Production Act be split. Part of it, establishing the defence production department and giving certain powers, would be made permanent. Other powers necessary to meet world conditions would be put on a one-year renewable basis.

AFTER CCF APPEAL

Mr. Howe offered his compromise after an appeal by CCF Leader Coldwell that the debate be ended by government agreement to a time limit of three or five years on the act.

Mr. Howe said he could not accept that because it would not mean permanence for his department. And the government would "sit here until the snow flies" in opposing the Conservative motion. But he said the government will consider any reasonable proposal once the bill is given second reading and is in committee.

POSSIBLE COMPROMISE

Mr. Harris offered the same proposal for a compromise at the committee stage.

"We shall consider all the proposals that have been made with respect to the act and be prepared, perhaps, to suggest some amendments at that time," he said.

Mr. Fleming said those were vague and doubtful statements and that Prime Minister St. Laurent should make a precise statement of the government's intentions.

Donald Carrick (L. — Toronto Trinity) asked whether the filibuster is not simply "an attempt of the minority to coerce the majority by a trial of physical exhaustion."

Mr. Fleming said it is not a filibuster carried on for the purpose of delay. Heat and discomfort applied to all members. But the Conservative efforts were not in vain if the offer by Mr. Howe and Mr. Harris meant anything.

MANY SPEECHES

By adjournment Thursday night, 106 speeches had been made since the debate began, 77 by Conservatives.

The main Opposition theme has been that the present act has powers which are too sweeping to be held by any government without the check at least of a time limit under which they would have to be reviewed and renewed by parliament.

Mr. Howe has said the powers are necessary to carry out his job of procuring defence supplies and developing defence projects. He has opposed any time limit on the entire act as not giving permanence to his department.

ONTARIO SPEAKERS

Among Thursday's speakers, Sybil Bennett (PC—Huron) said defence production laws have kept industry under compulsion similar to dictatorship for 18 years. And C. W. Hodgson (PC — Victoria, Ont. — said the bill would give more power in that field to the prime minister.

But there were repeated appeals for a compromise which would end the debate.

Harry O. White (PC — Middle East) said: "For goodness sake let's get on with the business of the House and arrive at a reasonable compromise."

Michael Starr (PC—Ontario) said the Commons should forget personalities and get down to business.

Point Anne Edges Belleville Orfans; Homer Breaks Up Tight Mound Duel

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Bert Whalen's bases-empty homer, his third hit of the night, broke up the tight mound duel and gave the Point Anne Continentals a 3-2 victory over the Belleville Orfans in a thrilling Belleville and District softball game last evening.

Each club had scored one run in each of the first and second frames but from then on Pat Maracle and Bobby Hunter hurled airtight ball for their respective clubs. It was the second time in a week that these two pitchers have duelled in close games with the Pointers capturing both by one run. The Orfans gave Hunter excellent support turning in some great catches and fielding plays while the Pointers looked rather shaky at times, committing five errors.

The loss was the third for the Orfans in their last four games and leaves them with a 9 to 3 record while Point Anne have won their last five games and are losing in on the league leaders with seven victories and three losses.

Maracle scattered eight hits, all singles for his sixth personal victory of the year. He nipped three via the strike out system and walked the same number while signing his own cause with a single.

Hunter gave up six hits, with Whalen's homer the only extra-base blow, while whiffing seven and passing four, three of which were in the initial frame. He retired 19 men in order from the second inning to the eighth with Hull, Wardhaugh, Barclay and Jones leading the defensive crew. The visitors took advantage of errors for their first-inning marker, Wardhaugh safe on an error and Barclay also reaching first when Maracle booted his sacrifice bunt. Carr drew a base on balls to load the sacks with none out and John Batchelor lifted a fly to deep left for one run, and a hit. The Orfans pointed out that one back when Gilmour walked, took second on a wild pitch and rode home on a pair of passed balls. Jack Wardhaugh's single to centre played Hull who had previously singled for the Orfans second tally in the next frame but the homesters used hits by Whalen, Maracle and Elliott, the latter's driving in the run to knot the score at 2-2.

The city squad hit safely in five of the last six innings, while Loft's boys picked up one hit in each of the ninth and tenth but neither team could follow up until Whalen's homer. Wade came close to deciding the issue with a terrific liner to deep centre in the tenth and Goyer blasted a long which Jones hauled in after a good run in the eleventh. Whalen then sailed the win away by lining one of Hunter's slants between Barclay and Jones for the 3-2 score.

Besides his homer, Whalen also claimed two singles, both of which were line drives and scored their second run. Jack Elliott had two singles with Pat Maracle bouncing one off Hunter's leg for a base hit. Doug Hull, Don Barclay and Jack Wardhaugh carried the big lumber in defeat, each with two hits while Claude Carr and Bob Hunter also singled. The league's three top hitters, G. Goyer, Batchelor and Bennett all went hitless.

The line-up:
Orfans — J. Wardhaugh, Barclay, Carr, Batchelor, V. Goyer, D. Hull, Soule, Hunter.
Point Anne — Elliott, Gilmour, Wade, J. Green, G. Goyer, Bennett, Whalen, Lally, Horwood, Maracle.

Line score:
Orfans 110 000 000 00-2 8 1
Point Anne 110 000 000 01-3 6 5

St. Kitts Lose To Hamilton

HAMILTON (CP) — Paced by veteran Denny Peterson, Hamilton Burners Thursday night defeated St. Catharines Athletics 17-12 in an Ontario Lacrosse Association senior game.

Peterson, second highest scorer with Peterborough last year, veteran Jim Oks, playing his first game in three years, and four intermediate players from Burlington were called into action to help the short-handed Burners.

Peterson and Leo Teatro led the Hamilton attack with four goals each. Jim McIntyre, Don Barreghar, Al Ruse and Butch Guthrie collected two each. Art Barazer, an intermediate from Burlington, scored the other.

Al Prick was the big gun for the losers, scoring six goals. Doug Smith picked up two. Singles came from Norm Corcoran, Barney Welch, Les Howard and Bill Allan.

Calls Practice For Juveniles

Bill Brennan, manager of the juvenile baseball team, has called an important practice for this "week-end" at 10.30 a.m. at the Exhibition Park diamond.

Brennan and several other minor sports enthusiasts of the city have worked hard during the past two weeks in an effort to form a juvenile team for the OBA playdowns. Art Wright has been appointed coach and should be able to show the boys plenty.

All players in the city and district are asked to turn out as no positions have been assigned yet. The players will secure all the positions on ability and hustle, according to coach Wright.

Remark Raises Laugh

OTTAWA (CP) — Frank E. Leonard, Progressive Conservative who seldom speaks in Commons debates, gave a cryptic explanation Thursday when he entered the 10th day of a marathon debate on extension of Defence Production Minister Howe's powers.

"I'm not filibustering," the Wentworth member said. "The filibuster has caught up with me." The remark raised a big laugh from both sides of the chamber.

TICATS SIGN HALF
HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football Union Thursday announced the signing of another import half-back for the 1955 season. Jim Philbee, 24, of Peoria, Ill., two years ago was a draft choice of Green Bay Packers of the National Football League but entered the United States Army instead.

PLAY EXHIBITION

KITCHENER (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen of the Ontario Rugby Football Union have completed arrangements to play an exhibition series with Buffalo Bills, a New York state semi-professional team.

The first game will be played here Aug. 19. The return match will be in Buffalo on Canadian Thanksgiving Day weekend. One half of each game will be played under Canadian rules and the other under United States regulations.

Dodger Boss Sued For Half Million

BROOKLYN (AP) — Walter F. O'Malley, president of Brooklyn Dodgers, was slapped with a $500,000 suit Thursday by the doctor who operated on the hand of Roy Campanella, Dodger catcher, last October.

Dr. Sam Shenkman contends O'Malley damaged his reputation with alleged slanderous remarks to the press when the physician served Campanella with papers for collection of a $9,500 bill for the operation.

O'Malley came to the defence of Campanella, who claimed the $9,500 was much too steep. At the time O'Malley was quoted as saying: "It appears Dr. Shenkman thought he was operating on Roy's bankroll instead of his hand."

The Dodgers announced Thursday that Campanella definitely will not catch in the all-star game next Tuesday.

After an examination by doctors in New York Thursday, it was decided Campy would rest for at least another week. The National League all-star catcher since 1949, Campanella hurt his left knee June 21.

'Them As Has, Gits'

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Titus Haffa, wife of a millionaire appliance manufacturer, was revealed Thursday as the holder of the lone $100 ticket on the 140 to 1 shot winner of the fourth race at Arlington Park track Wednesday.

The win netted her $14,070. My Red Gefien, a six-year-old undersized mare, came from nowhere in the stretch to win the race. She paid $281.40, $99 and $32.80.

Why did she bet on the rank outsider?

"When she came out on the track," answered Mrs. Haffa, "I decided that the poor, skinny little thing didn't have a chance, but she was such a longshot that I had to back her."

Mrs. Haffa said the windfall makes her, "just about even for the season." The highest long-shot winner on record was Wishing Ring, which paid off at the rate of $941.75 to 1 at Latonia, Ky., in 1912.

Youth Sparks Amateur Golf Tourney; Art Bridge Edged in Third Round

KITCHENER (CP)—Youth held the upper hand today at the start of the fourth round of the match-play Ontario amateur golf championship.

Chief interest focussed on Gary Cowan, 16-year-old Kitchener Rockway, a amateur who Thursday blasted the best round of the tournament by defeating Tom Woodall, Weston, 4 and 3.

Woodall, who carded an approximate medal score of two-under-par 69, just wasn't good enough for his teen-aged opponent, who had six birdies and 12 par holes for a medal count of 63.

BEATS JACK NASH
Another youngster, 19-year-old Jack Lowery of St. Catharines, scored an upset when he knocked out Jack Nash, London Hunt, a triple winner of the Amateur, when Nash missed a four-foot putt on the 21st hole.

Two pre-tournament favorites, Moe Norman, Kitchener Rockway, and Jerry Magee, Toronto Lambton, worked their way into the next round at Kitchener's hilly Westmount course.

Norman turned back clubmate Tony Matlock 2 and 1 while Magee edged out Ted Tutton, Burlington, by the same score.

Nick Weslock, who plays out of Windsor Essex and has twice won the amateur and taken second spot several times, took a 7 and 6 victory over Vic Cronin of Sarnia.

Ernie Bentley, Weston, last year's runner-up, scored a 2 and 1 victory over Bill Harrison of Windsor Roseland. Bill Parks, Woodstock, knocked out Bill Morland, North Bay, one up.

CASSIDY PROGRESSES
In the early round Thursday, defending champion Grant Shirk of the host club was knocked out of the running when Al Cassidy, Toronto St. Georges, scored a rousing 6 and 4 win.

Later in the day, Cassidy beat out Dick Riordan of the Kitchener Rockway club, 2 and 1.

Dave Morland, playing out of North Bay, turned in 2 up victory over Art Bridge, Belleville, to advance to the fourth round.

Pester Back With Dubuque

TORONTO (CP)—Rudie Schaffer general manager of the International Baseball League's Toronto Maple Leafs, said today Charlie Pester, righthanded pitcher from Kingston, Ont., is back with the Dubuque, Ohio, ball team.

Pester, owned by Toronto and optioned to the class D team, suffered a badly broken cheekbone a month ago when he was hit by a line drive during a game.

A successful operation on the crushed bone of Pester's cheek was performed. However, the 19-year-old Canadian still has occasional dizzy spells, Schaffer said.

Schaffer said he was speaking to Ira Hutchinson, Dubuque's manager, two weeks ago and was told that Pester's condition is good. Pester joined Dubuque this spring and has won one and lost three games.

Barber Clips Par at St. Paul

ST. PAUL (AP)—Little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles emerged from the greatest scoring binge in the history of the St. Paul Open's first round Thursday with a nine-under-par 63 to take the lead in the $15,000 tournament.

Barber had five one-putt greens on his first nine putts ranging from two to 22 feet.

Barber nursed only a one-stroke lead over Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., and Art Wall Jr. of Pecono Manor, Pa., who shot 65.

Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener Ont., three under par at 69, had to settle for a 14-way tie for 11th place.

Big Field At Track Meet

TORONTO (CP)—More than 200 athletes, including some of Ontario's top milers, will begin their crack at the Ontario track and field championships here tonight.

The preliminaries will start at 6:30 p.m. topped by the final run in the quarter-mile hurdles. The 66-event program winds up Saturday.

Among mile competitors are Bruce Lockerie, Hamilton State University, and Harry Kennedy, a Toronto boy and schoolmate of Jones.

Lockerie also will be trying for the Canadian record in the half-mile. He ran a fast time of 1:51.9 two weeks ago in the American open championship. The Canadian record is 1:50.7.

Chiefs Scalp Toronto Leafs; Havana Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dick Farrell, 21-year-old right-hander with the Syracuse Chiefs, is making his bat as well as his pitching arm in the International League.

Farrell chalked up his sixth victory Thursday night by blasting a home run to send across the winning runs in the Chiefs' 3-1 verdict over the first-place Toronto Maple Leafs.

Farrell's blast came in the fifth inning and travelled approximately 475 feet. It broke a 1-1 tie.

In the only other game played, the Havana Sugar Kings knocked off Buffalo Bisons 6-1. Montreal Royals and Richmond Virginians, tied 0-0 after two innings, had their game postponed by rain. Rochester Red Wings and Columbus Jets' contest also was postponed.

IN ALL THE RUNS

Farrell and his battery mate, Joe Lonnett, had a hand in all 1-0 Chiefs' runs. Syracuse took a 1-0 lead in the third when Lonnett doubled and scored as Mike Goulet threw badly on Farrell's grounder.

The Leafs tied the score in the fourth when Sam Jethroe doubled and tallied on Lew Monton's single.

With two out in the fifth Lonnett's single was followed by Farrell's mighty drive. Jack Crimian, who gave up only four hits to the Chiefs, suffered his third defeat in 12 decisions.

The Havana victory knocked the Bisons into seventh place a half game behind Syracuse.

Jose Bracho held the Bisons to three hits as his mates banged out 13 safeties against three Buffalo hurlers. The Cubans jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first two innings.

The Herd escaped a shutout in the ninth on Paul Lepley's single, a walk, an infield out and a slow throw.

Sam Snead's Golf School

The dotted arms and hands show the area where you slowly begin to cock the wrist in the backswing. Until this hip-high point is reached, the club shaft should be simply a continuation of your straight left arm which is carrying the club back and, at the same time, winding up your hip and shoulder pivot. When you have reached the top of your backswing, as pictured in the solid line drawing at the left, your hands are in the fully cocked position. Keep them fully cocked until your hands reach the same place where you started to cock them (the hip-high dotted line position). From there on you start arm-and-club to uncock them. You finish this important hand action at impact. At the right is a short shot with a highly lofted iron. It should be an upright swing. Notice how the player is bent well over the ball which makes the perpendicular swing easier.

SEES RUSS INVITATION

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Sun said Thursday the Western Hockey League will soon be invited by Russia to send a team to Moscow next April for a series of exhibition games.

Sports editor Erwin Swangard said he received a letter Wednesday from N. Kropotkin, secretary of the Soviet hockey team, saying the invitation will be sent to the WHL, a professional league, within a few weeks.

A proposal to send an all-star team from the WHL was first made last spring but it was decided to wait one year. League president Al Leader said Thursday he is still in favor of sending a team.

Peter Thomson Leads Pack In British Open Championship

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—

A footsore field of 47 chased after Australian Peter Thomson, a Scot and a Welshman in the final 36 holes of the British open golf championship today with St. Andrews' Old Course herself ready to favor or crush any of them.

Thomson, the smooth-swinging defending champion, ranks as the big man now. All he has to do is keep on the rail and he'll be hard to keep away from the title again.

He went into the final two rounds tied for lead at 139 with P. F. Smalldon of Wales and silent Eric Brown, Scotland's greatest hope in years.

But this tournament still is wide open. One slip and any of the leaders could fall, as five U.S. challengers have done.

YANKS TRAIL

Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh with 145, Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., and Ed Furgol of Clayton, Mo., with 147, and amateurs Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., and big Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia with 148 are still in the race but just Furgol was the 1954 U.S. Open champion and Conrad won this year's British amateur title.

When the field was halved to 30 Thursday night, 148 was the cut-off point. Deep bunkers with frightening names threw Furgol and Conrad Thursday. Nelson and McHale left too many putts hanging on the edge.

Dodgers Had Better Remember 1951 And Giants' Miracle, Says Talbot

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It has been suggested that Brooklyn Dodgers can win the National League pennant merely by playing .500 ball the rest of the way. The answer is that they might provide the other clubs co-operate, but they had better not try.

In looking back over that fabled season of 1951, the one in which the Giants passed their "little miracle" it still comes as a mild surprise to realize that the Dodgers held a 1 1/2 game lead in the middle of a doubleheader on Aug. 11. Also that from that point on Charley Dressen's bunched athletes played better than .500 ball—27-25 to be exact—and did not get into the world series.

It all depends upon whether there is a team in the league, which is team in the next month, can put together a victory streak approximating the blazing 39-8 drive that carried the Giants into a tie on the final day and set the stage for Bobby Thomson's dream homer in the last inning of a three-game playoff.

MIGHT NOT DO IT

It is possible, of course, that even such a streak by, say, Milwaukee Braves would not turn the trick this time, for it is generally acknowledged that today's Dodgers are a sounder outfit than the '51 club. Barring a series of crippling injuries to key men, it is difficult to imagine them settling for an even break the rest of the way.

One of the main reasons the present Dodgers are not likely to give a repeat performance is the very fact that their key men went through the '51 ordeal and still suffer from the recollection. They say it will not happen again, and declare that if Milwaukee starts streaking they will match the Braves victory for victory.

Lacrosse Brass Changes Mind

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Lacrosse Association has agreed to transfer its decision refusing to send a four-experiment senior players who jumped to the west coast.

OLA and Canadian Lacrosse Association officials met Wednesday night and the OLA agreed to reconsider. It will take a poll of its teams to see what's what.

The OLA several weeks ago turned down transfer applications by Derry Davies and Peewee Bradshaw, forward with St. Catharines last year, and Jim McNulty, leading scorer last year and Bob Dobie of Hamilton.

The four went west early in the season and sent applications after they got there. The OLA turned them down saying they arrived too late.

WAS WITH PETERBROUGH
Another former OLA player, Don Ashbee of Nanaimo Timbermen, who played for Peterborough last year, has applied for a transfer and OLA officials said it likely will be given because Ashbee played hockey in the West.

When the OLA turned down the applications it warned the four players they would not be eligible to compete in Mann Cup playoffs. Davies, Bradshaw and Dobie are with Victoria Shamrocks and McNulty with Nanaimo, last year's Mann Cup finalists.

OLA officials indicated they were not too happy about the poll and further indicated that the teams might turn down the CLA request. OLA secretary Chuck Rowan said Thursday if the request is turned down the matter will have to be settled at a full-dress meeting of the CLA.

Cadets Outshoot British Teams

BISLEY, Eng. (Reuters) — A representative team of Canadian Army cadets, which is shooting at the Bisley meeting, would have won the Ashburton shield public schools rifle match Thursday, had they been eligible to compete.

Shooting alongside the 90 British school teams but not counting their score in the competition, the Canadians scored 515 out of a possible 560 — the same as Winchester which won. But the Canadians' 500-yard score was 263 against Winchester's 262, which under the rules for deciding ties, would have given them the decision. The longer range score decides the event.

Gad, Whatta Man!
Bats 5 1/2 Hours

MANCHESTER, Eng. (Reuters) A fighting innings of 155 not out by Denis Compton rescued England's cricketers after a poor start to the third of the five-match test series against South Africa here Thursday.

Thanks to Compton and a resolute knock by Trevor Bailey, England, at one stage tottering at 75 for four, ended the day with 264 for seven wickets.

Compton and Bailey put on 144 in three hours for the fifth wicket, but Bailey, though hitting six fours, contributed only 44.

Compton batted for 5 1/2 hours, during which he hit 22 boundaries.

Letter To Sports Editor

Rest in Peace

Deaths — Hockey, Senior B—At City Hall, Belleville, July 6th. Senior B hockey, only sporting son of the City of Belleville in his sixth year of City Owned Arena. Surviving him is the city owned arena itself, and between four and five hundred children who participated in organized hockey, supervised by a few very fine citizens who gave their time willingly and freely.

Now don't put your pencil away Mr. Sports Editor, because you have one more "Obituary" to write, and that is the complete closing down of the Belleville Memorial Arena—ah, what a memorial—to what?—those seven aldermen who opposed operating a senior hockey team?

Council admits themselves that to open the arena doors this year it will cost $35,000.00, and yet they well know that skating will not bring them more than $8,000.00 at the most, who is going to pay the other $27,000?

You are right, the taxpayer at large will have to pay the difference between that and $27,000.00. So would it not be wiser to operate Senior B hockey at a small loss, than just skating at a much larger loss. You may even get better attendance and make a little. It can be operated successfully you know, as the city did it for four years and Don McNevin did it for one.

When council originally purchased the Arena for $40,000.00 surely they realized then what was to be involved in the management and operation of such a project. Is it right for our present council to sit back and hope a gift horse will come along and run their business for nothing in the line of a sponsor—no other business does it.

It has been good to Belleville, it has put a new $10,000 floor in the arena along with a new ice plant and paid its way up to now on the debenture plan. It has raised a $40,000 investment to one of about $150,000, so maybe Belleville owes it to hockey to string along with them for one year at least, and not to abandon ship because a little water has slipped in over the side.

I agree with Alderman Grandame that the prices last year should not have been raised, because I honestly feel that the attendance per game would have been larger. I take to task Alderman Tice when he failed to give the mayor a better answer than he did, when asked "How much the arena would gain by having a senior team"—if Alderman Tice does not know, who should. I challenge Alderman Bram Humphreys to come up with a sponsor from sports-minded citizens, particularly when he himself wants to mix curling, hockey and figure skating—go to any one hockey game Mr. Humphreys and the answer is right on the ice.

Yours for bigger and better hockey, but for the present R.I.P.

Sincerely,
"Fall Bearer."

Richard Widmark Stars all Around

Richard Widmark, who rose to motion picture fame in his very first role as a psychopathic killer in "Kiss of Death" has had as varied a career in show business as anyone could have.

Widmark, whose latest is the suspenseful adventure - drama filmed in Berlin and London, Columbia Pictures' "A Prize of Gold," co-starring Mai Zetterling, Nigel Patrick, George Cole and Donald Wolfelt now at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre, in color by Technicolor, taught dramatics and speech at Lake Forest University in Illinois. After instructing others in the drama for two years, Widmark tackled it himself to become almost an overnight success in radio, on the stage and in film.

Radio came first, his perfect diction landing him several high profile programs. Broadway saw him in "Kiss and Tell" and producer George Abbott liked his work in this so well he gave him the lead in William Saroyan's "Get Away, Old Man." Widmark appeared in "Kiss Them for Me," and the Theatre Guild's production of the play, "Dunnigan's Daughter."

There were a dozen other plays which bore testimony to Widmark's versatility as an actor before he was tapped for the challenging part of the killer in "Kiss of Death," which paved the way to Hollywood stardom. In "A Prize of Gold," he plays a U.S. Army sergeant who initiates the most amazing adventure in the annals of European crime.

Note Book

Every time it started to stop raining today it started right in again, making it one of the bummed Saturdays in the world, and ma was sewing in her room and I was looking out the window, and I said, G. ma, it's stopped raining.
I can't imagine any information with less news in it, ma said. It's been stopping steadily all day, she said, and I said, Well, ma, I heard an insurance man on the radio, and he claimed more than a hundred per cent of accidents happen to people right in their own houses.

That shows people ought to be more careful, ma said, and I said,
Sure, but gosh, ma, if you spent all your life being careful, you o u wouldn't have any time for anything else.

I suppose not, ma said, and I said, You ought to hear all the different things that can happen to you right in your house, according to the man. People trip on the stairs and bump against doorways, and slip in the bath tub, and bang the top of their heads standing up too sudden without looking where they're standing, and skid on wax floors and break both legs or even just one, and that's not all, ma, I said.

It ought to be quite enough for you, you must be black and blue all over by any time, ma said, and I said, Well, ma, ma, even if it is still partly wet, if I went out a while I'd be out of the house and safe away from all those dangers.

I see what you mean, ma said, and I said, So how about it, ma?
If you mean you want to know my answer in a simple word of one syllable, it's No, ma said.

Being the sad end.

Trees Diseased

HAMILTON (CP)—A Dutch elm disease, that could threaten hundreds of stately elm trees scattered throughout Hamilton, has been found near the city's outskirts.
City arborist Gordon McNeil told the city's beautification committee Thursday, 30 young elm trees have been affected and must be destroyed. The disease is carried by a beetle formerly found only in the Windsor area, he said.

Little Headway Made to Get Proper Replies

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition members made little headway Thursday in attempts to get early replies to a series of pointed questions about Revenue Minister McCann's role in Ontario's Dempsey case.

The questions have gone unanswered since May 20 and May 27 and Opposition Leader Drew said that unless the government intends to default on making replies they should have been given long ago.

Prime Minister St. Laurent replied by referring to Dr. McCann's recent statement that the answers would be given before revenue department estimates are studied by the House.

Dr. McCann Thursday told Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) that "I'm ready at any time with my estimates."

Mr. Knowles suggested that if the minister is ready for his estimates, the answers also should be ready now.

Dr. McCann later said the answers "are being prepared."

Mr. Knowles put the questions at the height of the Dempsey controversy during the campaign for the June 9 Ontario election.

James Dempsey, Progressive Conservative member of the Ontario legislature for Renfrew South lost the support of Premier Frost after it was learned he had not reported campaign contributions of $6,800 in 1951. However, he retained his seat in the election.

The contributions were made by the late James Drohan, whose estate was handled by the Guaranty Trust Co. of which Dr. McCann is a director.

BRIDGE TO OPEN

TORONTO (CP)—A new bridge is scheduled to open early next week on No. 401 highway over the suburban Humber river, Highways Minister Allan said Thursday. The bridge, washed out in hurricane Hazel last fall, will help relieve traffic congestion in suburban Weston.

TORNADO KILLS BOY

MARSHALL, Minn. (AP)—A three-year-old boy was flung into a tree and killed Thursday by a tornado which raked a wide area west of here. At least 10 were injured, some seriously. Marshall is about 200 miles southwest of Minneapolis.

Melrose

MELROSE.—Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Weese and Shirley spent a recent week-end with friends in Hamilton.

Mrs. John English spent a few days with her daughter, in Oshawa. Her daughter's two boys are now holidaying at the English home.

Mrs. Lloyd Murray, with Linda and Judy, have spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Ken McMechan. They will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stewart in Belleville before returning to their home in Merriton.

Mrs. William Rodberg with Becky, Ruth Ann, and Ginny, of Cannifton, spent Tuesday with Mrs. Ken McMechan and her guests.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Badgley and Mrs. George Badgley spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Winters at their cottage near Deseronto.

Friends are hoping Mrs. Vernon Pascoe will soon be able to return home from the Belleville General Hospital after her serious illness. Jack McLaren has also been a patient there for the past week. A speedy recovery is desired for him, too.

Mrs. John Kimmitt, Robin, and Mrs. Violet Asseltine, Napanee, spent Thursday with Mrs. Ken McMechan.

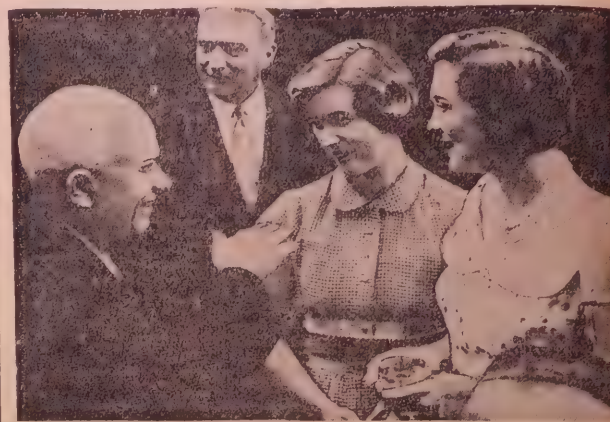

On Thursday evening of last week the new minister to the Shannonville Circuit was inducted into his charge at a ceremony in Melrose Church. This very impressive service was followed by the serving of refreshments and a friendly get-acquainted period.

Mrs. Jack McFarlane, Mrs. Newton Demille, Mrs. Ken McMechan and Mrs. Lloyd Murray attended a "Stork Shower" at the home of Mrs. Ralph Stewart, in Belleville, on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Lloyd Embury, with his wife and little daughter, flew here from Toronto for the long week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Embury. Lloyd told several of his friends on flights during his stay.

Mrs. N. Demille, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. K. McMechan, with their children, called on Mrs. Elwhiteman one afternoon, recently.

TOP RUSSIANS BECOME SOCIAL LIONS AT PARTY

For the first time since the end of World War II, the official Kremlin celebration, headed by Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Russian Communist party boss, Nikita Khrushchev—attended the U.S. embassy's Fourth of July party in Moscow. Here Khrushchev is joking with Mrs.

Charles Bohlen (right) wife of the U.S. ambassador, and their daughter, Avis. Looking on are Louis Joxe, French ambassador. Admission of foreign newsmen to the USSR is another indication of Russia's new friendliness to the West. (Central Press Canadian).

cently. Mrs. Grant McLaren had her three sisters for tea on Saturday evening: Mrs. B. Miller of Brantford; Mrs. P. Kilpatrick, Foxboro and Mrs. A. Fleming of Madoc.

PRESENTATION

Five schools of the Tyendinaga area held a picnic at Point Anne on Tuesday the 28th. A fine warm day made an outing at the water enjoyable. Races were held at the ball diamond.

Directly after the pot-luck dinner one of the teachers, Mrs. Elliott, who is leaving S. S. 14, was presented with a pair of fancy lamps by her pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sullivan and little girl have taken up residence in Belleville. Two families have moved into their lately vacated home. All welcome these

French Assembly Votes To Grant Tunisia Autonomy

'Time of Colonialism Over,' Plan Self-Rule by Stages

Violent Fighting Said Underway In Northern Laos

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Laotian government announced today that violent fighting was under way in mountainous northern Laos between government troops and units of the Communist-inspired Pathet Lao movement.

(Reports reaching Paris today from Vientiane, capital of the little Indochinese kingdom, said national forces in an all night battle succeeded in winning back "several" positions taken by the Laotian dissidents.)

(These reports, quoting highly placed sources, said the Pathet Lao units were withdrawing from Communist-ruled North Viet Nam, about 60 miles east.)

A Laotian communique, published by Vietnamese newspapers here, accused the Pathet Lao of defying the Geneva armistice ending the Indochina war and a declaration signed last March agreeing to end hostilities and provocations.

BRITAIN CONCERNED

LONDON (AP)—Britain voiced "deep concern" today over the attack launched Thursday by Communist Pathet Lao troops on government forces in northern Laos.

A foreign office spokesman told newspaper men that British information indicated three battalions of the Pathet Lao, allies of the Communist Vietnamese in neighboring Vietnam, attacked royal Laotian army positions.

He said the reports from British sources in Indochina indicated that the Pathet Lao had openly violated the 1954 Geneva accord ending the Indochina war.

Government Economists Have Great Expectations for 1955

OTTAWA (CP)—There are great expectations for 1955 in the minds of the government's economists and financial experts who watch the various gauges of the country's economy. Indeed, some forecasts made at the start of the year may be on the low side.

It was learned Friday the government's mid-year survey of capital investment likely will be for 1955, showing a record figure of $5,900,000,000.

If fulfilled, this will be an increase of $100,000,000 from the January forecast, and a rise of about $600,000,000 for the previous high in 1953.

The survey, covering private and public enterprise, likely will show more money put into housing and manufacturing than anticipated originally.

PROGRAM INCREASING

The capital investment program, embracing all levels of government, manufacturers, consumers, business men and primary producers, has been increasing for years until 1954. Last year it dropped to $5,498,000,000 from the record $5,841,000,000 in 1953.

PARIS (CP)—The National Assembly voted overwhelmingly today for agreements granting Tunisia self-government by gradual stages.

The assembly recorded its approval by a vote of 540 to 43 after Premier Edgar Faure warned that refusal to carry out France's repeated promises of Tunisian autonomy would lead to distrust of French motives throughout the Arab world and among Western nations as well.

"The time of colonialism is finished," Faure said.

Pierre Mendes-France, making his first appearance in debate since his ouster as premier last February, also urged approval of the agreements which grew out of negotiations he started during a trip to Tunisia last summer.

LOCAL AUTONOMY

At that time, Mendes-France offered local autonomy to the Tunisians in order to bring an end to years of guerrilla warfare by independence—seeking nationalists in the North African protectorate.

In recent months, violence in Tunisia has ceased almost altogether.

The agreements provide for a turnover of government functions to the Tunisians during the next 20 years. France will retain control over foreign affairs and defense, however, and will keep observers in some Tunisian departments such as the postal and telegraph.

In the overnight debate just before the vote, Faure said France is conducting an experiment in Tunisia and must "put aside an inferiority complex."

"In appearing to doubt others too much, we would appear to doubt ourselves."

Investors of all types have in the country's future.

Meanwhile, other estimates highlight the economic picture.

Agriculture experts say that if the weather continues Canada will produce perhaps 500,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, a better-than-average crop. This would be higher than last year's rust-ridden crop of 288,000,000 bushels but below the 1953 record of 668,000,000 bushels.

GNP MUCH HIGHER

Thus, economists, looking to higher farm income and stronger industrial development, now anticipate a record gross national product—value of all goods and services produced—of $25,500,000,000. This would be an increase of $250,000,000 over the estimate of $25,000,000,000 over the previous record in 1953.

First-quarter estimate: $25,000,000,000 over the estimate in Finance Minister Harris' budget April 5.

COMPANY OFFERS GUARANTEE TO BUILD PIPELINE

Say All-Canada Line Ready in Five Years

By JOHN LE BLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Stalled in the financing of its $350,000,000 cross-country natural gas pipeline, Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., has offered the federal government a guarantee to build an all-Canadian line within five years once it gets authorization for a temporary alternative plan.

Informants disclosed Trans-Canada's commitment as Prime Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Friday that the cabinet is considering three propositions involving the company, which wants to bring Alberta gas to central Canada.

FIVE-YEAR ASSURANCE

The company's five-year assurance for construction of the line across the Prairies and northern Ontario, it was learned, is linked to a proposal which would have Trans-Canada for the time being:

1. Sell Alberta gas to the United States midway by way of a pipeline running through Winnipeg and feeding that capital—and going on to Emerson, Man., on the Manitoba-Minnesota border.

2. Bring U.S. gas into eastern Canada at the Ontario-New York border to supply Ontario-Quebec customers temporarily and thereby set up an advance market for Alberta natural gas. The U.S. gas could be shut off when Alberta supplies were available.

The company's view, it was indicated, is that this arrangement could improve the financial outlook of the company and it could undertake the 2,200-mile, all-Canadian line without government assistance within the five-year period.

Friday, Prime Minister St. Laurent told the Commons the government is "carefully investigating" three alternatives, which he merely listed in order of cabinet preference as Nos. 1, 2 and 3.

Informants said No. 1 undoubtedly is the all-Canadian line from Alberta to Toronto and Montreal, with a feed into the U.S. from Emerson.

No. 2 appeared to be an idea of Mines Minister Trudeau—yet not transmitted to the company—which would call for the main sale of gas to the U.S. coming off the Toronto end of the pipe and going through a line running from Toronto to the New York state border.

HELP DEFEND COST

Mr. Prudham's thought, it is known, is that U.S. purchases in the East would help carry the cost of pumping gas from Alberta across some non-lucrative territory.

Informants said No. 3 is the one to build a Trans-Canada line to the U.S. Midwest and bring up U.S. gas in the East. This was initiated a few weeks ago by the big Tennessee Gas Transmission Company U.S., which has told Trans-Canada it will buy all available gas at the western outlet and sell Trans-Canada all it wants at the Ontario-New York border.

Trans-Canada, it was reported, put this up to the government as a Tennessee recommendation, taking a non-committal stand but saying it would go along with the making the five-year commitment in conjunction with it.

U.S. Appears to Have Modified Position on World Arms Race

By GEORGE KITCIEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP)—The United States appears to have modified its position of world disarmament and moved closer to the Soviet concept of limited—rather than complete—inspection.

Western diplomats here said privately today that this conclusion can be drawn from remarks made by President Eisenhower Wednesday at his weekly press conference—remarks which, in a way, sounded like an echo of what the Soviet Union has been saying.

Up to now, the United States, and Britain and France too, have set as a prerequisite for disarmament the condition that international inspection teams must be stationed in every big country with full freedom to check everywhere to see that nations comply with the agreed limitation on arms.

For years, the Russians said no to the inspection proposal. Then, May 10, they agreed, for the first time, to permit an international inspection team to be stationed in Russia on a limited basis—its functions to be restricted to airports, docks and rail centres.

The West turned this down. But, at Wednesday's press conference, Eisenhower did some thinking out loud about disarmament and said he wondered how much inspection the United States would permit within its own borders. He posed this question:

"What kind of inspection are we ready to accept? Are we ready to open up every one of our factories, every place where something might be going on that could be inimical to the interests of somebody else?"

He left the question unanswered, but one diplomat described the comment as significant and said it appeared to be a fairly new departure in the U.S. position. It gave an inkling of the possibility of some agreement at the summit meeting at Geneva later this month.

This source said it has been pretty well conceded privately among the Western powers that complete inspection is impossible under any disarmament plan. The significant thing is that this was the first public pronouncement on that point by a key U.S. figure.

GOVT. STUDYING INSTITUTIONAL CARE FOR ADDICTS

Justice Minister Gives Views to Parliament

OTTAWA (CP)—Putting all drug addicts in institutions may be the best way of stamping out Canada's illegal traffic in narcotics, Justice Minister Garson has told the Commons.

He said Friday the question is being studied, along with an alternate proposal to step up the strength of the RCMP's narcotics squads.

Mr. Garson said well-qualified persons feel the drug traffic can be beaten by putting addicts in institutions and thus removing the profitable illicit market.

That plan "might be a more potent method of stamping out the traffic than by adding to the number of the narcotics squads."

ASK COMBINES PROBE

Mr. Garson, during study of his department's estimates, also was asked by CCF Leader Coldwell to launch a combines inquiry into sugar marketing in Manitoba.

Mr. Coldwell said there seems to be a collusive working agreement among sugar companies selling in Manitoba. Their price lists, issued on the same day and almost at the same hour, were "the same all the way down."

The minister made no immediate reply.

The narcotics issue was raised by Harold E. Winch, CCF-Vancouver East, who said he wants the RCMP given more money to wage a major fight against illegal sale and importation of drugs.

Mr. Winch said Canada has 4,000 addicts getting at the drugs they need daily "and it must come in illegally." The RCMP and the police in his home city of Vancouver, Canada's biggest centre of addiction, were doing a good job. But the federal force, with the main responsibility for drug control, should be strengthened.

Wallace Nesbitt, PC-Oxford 4, said addicts getting at the drugs they need daily "and it must come in illegally." The RCMP and the police in his home city of Vancouver, Canada's biggest centre of addiction, were doing a good job. But the federal force, with the main responsibility for drug control, should be strengthened.

Mr. Winch said a "vicious, unjust and unwarranted attack" has been made on his city's police narcotics squad by the Senate committee.

9 World-Famous Scientists Join In Grave Warning

Einstein Signed Declaration Just Before Death in April

LONDON (CP)—Just before his death, Albert Einstein signed along with eight other eminent scientists an appeal to world rulers for an end of war lest mankind be destroyed by nuclear weapons.

Lord Russell, 83-year-old British philosopher—mathematician better known as Bertrand Russell, who drew up the manifesto, announced the Einstein appeal today before a large press conference of 200 persons.

The statement made no concrete proposals for outlawing war, leaving it to the governments to take action. Lord Russell suggested, however, that a world conference of scientists might study the group's declaration.

CANADA GETS COPY

Lord Russell said he forwarded the statement to the heads of government of the Big Four powers, Canada and Red China.

He also disclosed he had asked Prime Minister Nehru of India to approach the heads of government with the group's declaration "but Nehru decided it was better for him not to."

"No doubt in an H-bomb war great cities would be obliterated," the statement said.

"If everybody in London, New York and Moscow were exterminated the world might, in the course of a few centuries, recover from the blow."

But we now know, especially since the Bikini test, that nuclear bombs can gradually spread destruction of a very much wider area than had been supposed."

UNIVERSAL DEATH

The radioactivity from super hydrogen weapons used in a war, sinking gradually to the earth in the form of a deadly dust or rain—"might quite possibly put an end to the human race," it added.

Lord Russell said if many H-bombs are used there would be universal death—sudden for only a minority, but for the majority a slow torture of disease and disintegration.

Lord Russell said he received Einstein's signature to the statement a day before the proponent of the theory of relativity died in the United States April 18.

Lord Russell wrote to 21 scientists involved in nuclear work on both sides of the Iron Curtain seeking approval of his document. Nine signed; nine said no; three never answered.

NOBEL WINNER DECLINES
Lord Russell disclosed that Einstein had suggested Danish physicist Niels Bohr, Nobel prize winner and one of the key men behind the atom bomb, take a leading role in the development of the appeal.

Seven Persons Die Violently, Five of Victims Young Boys

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two brothers who were drowned while taking a short cut through a fast-running creek were among at least seven persons who died in lethal deaths in Ontario Friday. Five of the victims were young boys.

Ronald Rudick, 8, and his brother Paul, 9, were swept into a swirling water after they slipped while crossing a creek near Cobourg. Two companions were rescued by a man who heard their calls for help.

They were walking along the lakefront when they came to a 10-foot wide creek and decided to wade across rather than walk around the longer route by road.

Police said they were walking along the lakefront when they came to a 10-foot wide creek and decided to wade across rather than walk around the longer route by road.

OTTAWA (CP)—Appointment of three division engineers for the Lawrence Seaway Authority was announced Friday by Hon. Lionel Chevrier, authority president.

Seaman Admits Faked Ship SOS, Was Showing Pal How Radio Works

WOODMERE, N.Y. (AP)—Two youths were held early today as police unraveled the mystery of the fishing boat Blue Star.

An S O S signal purporting to come from the vessel, sent Coast Guard rescue craft on a $50,000 search of the Atlantic early Thursday morning.

Nassau county police said one of the youths, a 21-year-old former seaman on a commercial fishing boat, admitted that he beamed the false distress signal to show his 17-year-old pal how a "real radio works."

The older youth was identified as Thomas Maldona of East Rockaway, N.Y., laid off six weeks ago from the fishing boat St. Joseph. His companion was George Teen, of Oceanide, N.Y.

Police said the youths, who broke into a radio shack of the St. Joseph, were charged with a third-degree burglary. Under federal communications commission regulations, a hoaxer taking a disaster at sea faces a $10,000 fine, a year in prison or both.

The distress signal was a 40-foot fishing boat Blue Star was sinking with 21 persons aboard after striking a "strange object" 30 miles off Barnegat, N.J.

Stories of Famous Hymns

by
HORACE B. POWELL

"SHALL WE GATHER AT THE RIVER?"

Shall we gather at the river,
Where bright angel feet have trod;
With its crystal tide forever
Flowing by the throne of God?

On the bosom of the river,
Where the Saviour King we own,
We shall meet and sorrow never,
Neath the glory of the throne.

Ere we reach the shining river,
Lay we every burden down;
Grace our spirits will deliver
And provide a robe and crown.

Soon we'll reach the shining river,
Soon our pilgrimage will cease;
Soon our happy hearts will quiver
With the melody of peace.

Chorus:
Yes, we'll gather at the river,
The beautiful, the beautiful river,
Gather with the saints at the river,
That flows by the throne of God.

The Rev. Robert Lowry is known best for the sacred music which he composed and for the wings of song that he gave to the hymn-poems of many contemporaries. But sometimes he wrote his own verses and then made tunes for them.

It was in a little Brooklyn (N.Y.) study one mid-summer afternoon in 1864 that Lowry found the inspiration for "Shall We Gather At The River?" The words came first—and they came quickly. Line by line, verse by verse, the minister-composer wrote them down. Then, going to his organ—the same organ which a little later produced the music for Anna Warner's "One More Day's Work For Jesus" and for Mrs. Hawke's "I Need Thee Every Hour"—he wrote the hymn tune which will go on singing through the ages as long as Christians gather for worship and song. Ever since it was written, "Shall We Gather At The River?" has been a favorite in churches and Sunday schools, in young people's assemblies and conventions and in prayer-meetings. The year after it was written it was sung at a remarkable Sunday school convention in Brooklyn by thousands of youngsters gathered in from church schools of all religious denominations of the city.

A Lift For Living

Fingerprints or Footprints

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

Fingerprints are a means by which we track our criminals. Footprints are marks by which we follow our heroes. It is thought sentimental by many to quote the old-fashioned lines of Longfellow: "Lives of great men all remind us. We can make our lives sublime, And departing, leave behind us, Footprints on the sands of time."

On the other hand it is considered clever to detect the fingerprints of evil around us. We have talked so much about the badness of men, that we expect to find the sordid rather than the noble. And it is the law of life that we see the traits for which we look.

It was against this natural tendency that Saint Paul warned: "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." At that dark time the lives of many were depressed to the point of making things worse than they were or needed to be. They, like ourselves, needed to lift their eyes from the fingerprints of evil to the footprints of good.

For one thing, we should look from the fingerprints to the footprints in order to keep us from getting a falsely exaggerated idea of the forces of evil. In a struggle, if one opponent can get the other downright afraid of him, he has begun the process of overcoming. And one of the best ways of creating this fear is by repeated suggestions of his own strength.

HITLER USED IT

This was the principle on which Hitler worked to intimidate and soften the Nazis' neighbors. This same method of propaganda has been used by the Soviet Union to impress its satellites and others with Russia's resources.

And today we in America are prone to see some of our domestic dangers too darkly. We talk so much about juvenile delinquency that we may come to think all boys are bad. The cleverness of criminals is so played up that organized crime seems to be more powerful than the law.

While there is much to make us think that evil wins over good, a wider reading of history reveals that footprints of goodness give evidence of progress and purpose. My old teacher, Charles A. Beard, a great historian of Columbia University, when asked what lessons he had learned from history, said that he had learned four.

FOUR LESSONS

These lessons were: First, Although the mills of the gods grind slowly, yet they grind exceeding small. Second, Those whom the gods are about to destroy they first make mad. Third, When it gets dark enough, you can see stars. Fourth, The bee fertilizes the flower that it robs. Ponder these four conclusions of the renowned historian the slow but inevitable working of divine justice, the suicide futility of anger, the emergence of stars in the night, and the fertilization of life through the stings of sacrifice. Do these not point to footprints which lead from pessimism to hope?

Let's be realistic in our view of good and evil. There is popular gollywog preaching today which asserts that if we just think things are all right, so they will be. This will be. This makes religion too easy. On the other hand, we can also fool ourselves by seeing things too darkly. Let's face the facts, but try to see all the facts. And when we do, we discover what Saint Paul learned, "Where sin increased, grace abounded all the more."

One of the most fascinating departments of the Federal Bureau of Investigation contains the fingerprints of more than a million criminals. It was organized primarily for the purpose of identifying men and women whose contempt for our laws resulted in their arrest. Fingerprints were regarded as a stigma.

Now there is another department of fingerprints in the offices of the F.B.I. These fingerprints represent thousands of honest citizens who voluntarily submitted themselves to the process. In event of death or disability, they may be readily identified by their families or friends. What began as a system for trailing evil-doers led to protective measures for law-abiding people.

So often evil has inspired the good to overcome it. Without ravishing fires we might never have improved the old hand-pump of our forefathers. The best way to overcome evil is to make goodness more attractive. Evil is driven out as darkness is driven out, for evil is the absence of goodness as darkness is the absence of light. We cannot dispel darkness with a fan or sword. We turn on the light and the shadows flee away. Likewise we turn on our goodness and evil disappears.

Who Was This?

By A. A. M.

Where did the woman come from who besought Jesus to heal her child, in these words, "Have mercy upon me, O Lord, Son of David; my daughter is severely possessed by a demon?"

At first Jesus made no reply to her entreaty. But His disciples were disturbed by her presence. They said to Jesus, "Do send her away for she is crying after us."

Perhaps to try her faith, Jesus remarked, "I was sent to the lost sheep of the house of David."

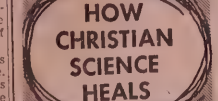

But this mother would not be turned away. She ran and knelt before Jesus saying, "Lord, help me." Then, using the picturesque language of the east, Jesus said, "It is not fair to take the children's bread and throw it to the dogs."

The mother's despair had sharpened her will for she answered at once, "Yes Lord, yet even the dogs eat the crumbs that fall from their master's table."

This reply called forth the warm praise of the Master. He exclaimed, "O woman, great is your faith! Be it done for you as you desire."

The daughter was healed instantly. Jesus passed on from the district of Tyre and Sidon, where this took place, and went along the Sea of Galilee.

Read where this woman came from and this story in Matthew, Chapter 15, verses 21 to 28.

For Parents Only

Your Library, Source of Fun

By NANCY CLEAVER

Do you appreciate the service of the public library, not only for yourself, but for your children? Public libraries are not just for city and town families—many country people visit the library on their shopping day trips into town or on market day! A borrowed book is no substitute for a child owning his own books. But a library serves boys and girls in a very special way.

Even before a child starts to school he may begin his "library adventure" by a trip to the library with mother. While she is choosing her books he can look at a picture book. Gradually he gets to know "The Library Lady." She is another friendly adult in his small world and the more people he knows and likes the easier it is for him to learn to "stand on his own feet" and not lean too much on his parents.

To the school age boy or girl, a trained librarian gives direction in the choice of books. A child discovers new and interesting volumes which are just right for his age and interests.

GREAT HELP

A good librarian is a great help in encouraging a real love for reading. What a marvelous thing is this test for books! A child who tastes the fun of reading at an early age need never know the loneliness, the sense of having nothing to do, the boredom of idleness which a person with no love for books often experiences.

Humor is rare enough and books with a little nonsense in them are relished by the best of men. Younger boys and girls chuckle over the adventures of Alice in Wonderland, Winnie the Pooh, and Babar, the Elephant. Booth Tarkington's tales of Period are in a class of their own. Stephen Leacock's "Nonsense Novels" lend themselves to dramatization.

Books of poetry appeal to the imagination and the sense of rhythm. A parent does well as casually to include such a book as "When We Were Very Young" by A.A. Milne to read aloud to a little child. An older boy or girl will enjoy an anthology such as "Silver Pennies" chosen especially for children who are reading for themselves.

SOURCE BOOKS

A library is also a source of reference books. A child should receive encouragement at home to discover if the library has information on any special topic which appeals to him. Often this is in the field of leisure-time interests or hobbies. Books on "How to Make" are popular with all ages. There are many such non-fiction books written especially for young readers.

Three other interesting divisions in reading are books about other lands, books of other days and biography. Travel and history are both dealt with in a fascinating way with beautiful illustrations in modern children's volumes.

But whatever kind of good book a child reads—his life is enriched by the new doors opened to him in the pages of a book. Someone has said "To be young without poetry is to be indoors in Spring," and to go through life without a love of books would be to be poor indeed—encourage your child in his library adventures! Radio, TV, movies—no other leisure-time activity can take the place of reading in a child's education. Use your library!

Grenfell Medical Mission

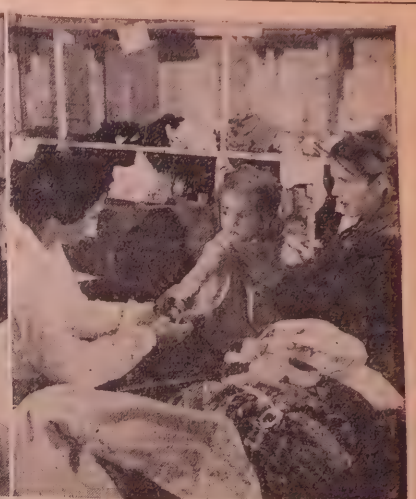

Founded by English medical-missionary Sir Wilfred Grenfell in 1892, the International Grenfell Association, for over 60 years, has waged a bitter, seldom-spectacular war against the inroads of disease and hardship which go with life in northern Newfoundland and Labrador.

Today, the mission staffs and maintains hospitals and nursing stations extending from Newfoundland's northern tip to as far north on the Labrador coast as Northwest River. During routine medical visit, Dr. Gordon Thomas gives quick dental examination to 94-year-old resident of St. Anthony Bight.

Self-contained St. Anthony is almost completely isolated except for occasional aircraft and fortnightly coastal boats. Major link with outside world is radio-telephone, which also brings word of sudden illness and emergency to Dr. Gordon Thomas and fellow mission worker Mrs. Dorothy Erb.

Medical care is only part of the mission's aim. Better health is fostered through program designed to raise standards of living. In clothing store, Grenfell worker Fran Winters helps outfit two-year-old Linda May Richards, of nearby outpost of St. Carol's, with winter clothing.

Main outpost in the Grenfell Association's far-flung chain of battle stations is at St. Anthony, a tiny village 320 miles north of St. John's, Newfoundland. From here, each summer, the mission sends out the 70-foot hospital schooner, MARAVAL, to bring doctor and medicines to outposts on the Labrador.

Though the MARAVAL is equipped to handle emergency surgery, most major operations are performed in the mission headquarter's 75-bed hospital. Children's home, industrial workshop, and clothing store belonging to Grenfell Mission are also located at St. Anthony.

National Film Board Photos by Chris Lund

Proximity of Grenfell mission has helped boost living standards of St. Anthony villagers. During off-season, fishermen supplement their incomes repairing vessels in mission's marine railway. High and dry, fishing schooner EVALYN EVANS, out of St. John's, has repairs made to her keel.

Ivory carvings, hooked rugs and other handicrafts made in Grenfell Industries shop, and in the modest homes of the villagers, are sold through mission outlets. With their earnings, home craftsmen like Eli Canning (above) purchase winter clothing in mission store.

Former War Correspondent, Lionel Shapiro, Canada's Most Successful Living Novelist

By RUSSEL ELMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP) — A lonely, round-shouldered former war correspondent is probably Canada's most successful living novelist—financially.

This fabulous bachelor, who at 47 has produced three novels without a rejection, is known to few Canadians outside the newspaper world or show business. In Hollywood, which has bought two of his books and accounted for most of his earnings, he is a personal friend of scores of stars and many producers.

He is Lionel Shapiro who has grossed $350,000 on the three novels based on his three years in England, Sicily, Italy and on the western front as a Canadian war correspondent in the Second World War.

SOLD TO MOVIES

His third novel, "The Sixth of June," to be published next month, has been chosen by the Book-of-the-Month Club as its August selection. A love story of wartime London culminating in the Normandy invasion, it was only half completed when 20th Century Fox bought the film rights with an advance of $75,000.

A tall, slightly stooped figure with dark mustache and brown hair beginning to thin and grey, Shapiro says he "eats, sleeps and lives with his work." Once started on a novel, he shuts himself off from the world, working at his mother's, Montreal home or in a New York hotel room. A restless urge keeps him moving between the two cities every three weeks or so.

His work pattern is painstaking research, then rapid transition of story from mind to typewriter. Rarely are more than two drafts necessary. Early in his novel-writing career, he found he worked best late at night. Now he favors the forenoon as his most productive hours.

"I have no particular plan when I work," he said in an interview as he breakfasted on a soft-boiled egg and numerous cups of coffee. "I write almost directly from my thoughts. Style doesn't bother me."

He finds he becomes so enveloped in his characters that in the end they "dictate the story line."

COMB IS FIXTURE

Shapiro dresses neatly but comfortably — navy blue lightweight suit, air force-blue shirt and suede shoes are a favored summer combination. A fixture is a comb in his breast pocket. He normally does not wear glasses, but carries two pairs tucked away in an inside pocket.

In New York, he makes his headquarters at the St. Moritz Hotel overlooking Central Park, takes little exercise, eats many of his meals in fashionable Rumpelmayer's, not because it is a famous eating place but because it's handy to where he works.

Often he is asked why it is that a Canadian writer, all of whose novels have European backgrounds, has been able to hit the jackpot in British, American and continental markets. Says Shapiro:

"I feel it is an essentially Canadian literary function that a Canadian writer can look at both the United States and Britain and write about them accurately and dispassionately."

WRITES COLUMN

This theory goes back to before the war when he wrote "Lights and Shadows of Manhattan," the first column ever printed in the Montreal Gazette, for which he worked for a dozen years as a sports writer and New York and Hollywood columnist before going overseas.

"One of the reasons for the column's success was that although writing about American affairs, I was able to link these events to the distant Canadian mind."

More important, however, is that Shapiro is a good storyteller with a flair of suspense. This was demonstrated in his first book, "Sealed Verdict," a story of an American war crimes prosecutor in Germany which was later made into a film starring Ray Milland.

Shapiro's second novel, "Torch For a Dark Journey," is the only one not made into a movie. But he did adapt it for the stage and as "The Bridge" it was well received when presented in Bristol, England.

A lucky break speeded Shapiro's transformation from reporter to novelist. After the windup of the Sicilian campaign, which he covered for The Gazette, and the start of the Eighth Army's push northward from the toe of the Italian boot, the Fifth Army was poised for its landing at Salerno. There was a place for one Canadian reporter. Lots were drawn and Shapiro drew the assignment.

MEETS BOOK EDITOR

A widely distributed series he wrote on the Salerno battle was so well regarded by the North American Newspaper Alliance that it offered him a highly paid job. Later, through his work for the syndicate, he met the executive editor of a leading publishing house who urged him to write a novel based on his war experiences.

"Sealed Verdict" was the result. At McGill University, Shapiro had intended to become a psychologist but headed into newspaper work after he became sports editor of the McGill Daily. The byline L.S.B. Shapiro (for Lionel Sebastian Berk) soon became familiar to Montrealers first as a sports writer travelling with Canadians of the National Hockey League and later as a columnist.

Shapiro recalls that when he broached the idea of a daily Manhattan column to The Gazette, at that time extremely conservative in its makeup, it was an idea "as revolutionary as putting pictures on page one." But he packed himself off to New York for a vacation and sent a sample column daily to the managing editor "to prove I could do it." July 1, 1934, the first "Lights and Shadows of Manhattan" appeared in The Gazette.

Looking back on his career, Shapiro says: "The war changed me and matured me. It was a great emotional experience I knew then that some day I would have to write."

New Concepts Of Aviation Are Predicted

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Lawrence D. Bell, the U. S. aircraft industry's senior top executive in point of service, predicted Friday that aircraft would operate at speeds of 7,000 to 14,000 miles an hour at altitudes up to 50 miles within the next 20 years.

"Every phase of aviation as we know it is on the threshold of entirely new concepts," Bell said in a statement issued in connection with the 20th anniversary Sunday of the company he founded.

"As an indication of the revolution now going on in aeronautics," Bell said, "the industry is already working with such radical principles as vertical rising aircraft, completely automatic controls, nuclear fuels, electronic all-weather guidance and other problems almost beyond the scope of imagination."

Bell, who entered the aircraft industry 43 years ago with Glenn L. Martin, founded the Bell Aircraft Corp. here in 1935.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMIESON

REDUCING BY SAFE METHODS

When the overweight desire for a figure of normal weight and pleasing contour is greater than her desire for rich food, half the battle is won. It takes will power to climb up on the diet wagon. And it takes still more to remain there. The reducer must not expect results too soon. She cannot expect to lose fat that has been accumulating for years in a few months or so. She mustn't have to starve. She can dine, and dine well, if she dines wisely. Starches, sweets and oils that form fat are enemies. They must be cut down, but not eliminated entirely. They are energy producing elements and the body needs them—especially if the reducer lives an active life. The usual food intake should be cut down one half. And no raiding the refrigerator between meals.

Reducing the calorie intake below the amount actually required for energy helps one to lose weight because, to make up the difference, some of the fat stored in the body will be burnt up. The reducer then is living on her own fat to a certain extent. To aid and abet this campaign for restoring slenderness, fifteen minutes a day should be devoted to exercises. In reducing salons this period is extended to a full hour. Here is an easy one: Stand tall, hands on the hips. Stretch the torso, bend to one side, then rotate the body, pivoting at the waistline. Keeping the legs rigid. By stretching the muscles, they will gain strength, will cast off the fat cells that burden them. Half a dozen twists to the right, half a dozen to the left. Relax, take several deep breaths, then at it again. For reducing waist, hips and thighs: Extend the spinal column full length. Arms out from the shoulders for balance. Lower the torso until the buttocks rest on the heels. Up on the toes slowly. Down again and repeat. You may do a tumbler now and then, but what is that in the grand and glorious cause of beauty?

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

IS IT SAFE TO TRUST A WOMAN?

"Does it pay, Miss Fairfax, to place confidence in women?" You probably think this question comes from a disillusioned and bitter woman who has been treated badly by some woman and so has had his confidence shaken in the entire sex. Well, you're wrong. It's the question of a woman—one who wants to know what makes women "so catty": why "they seem to build you up to an awful letdown"; why they're "so deceitful with each other"; if there is "such a thing as sincerity among women."

"What's the matter with women anyway?" She demands. Do they hate each other? I have tried my darndest to keep my women friends, but somehow or other I lose confidence in them. Either I don't wear well, or they don't, and I'm getting so I don't trust my own sex any more. "Maybe I'm bitter because I have received some pretty mean blows from women friends. At first I made excuses for them. Now I treat them as I find them."

"Maybe I'm wrong. Maybe there really are true friendships among women. If I find I'm wrong, I'll write and let you know. In the meantime, I'll try to rise above it." Other things this woman complains about are that if you confide in a woman friend, she betrays your confidence; that a wife will get jealous if her best friend kids a little with her husband; that a wife is likely to see her husband "snatched away right beneath her eyes by a so-called friend"; that beautiful friendships are broken up because one woman gossiped about another.

"I have yet, among women friends, to see a friendship last. The declares, and goes on to assert that she now "makes haste slowly" in her friendships. "Give me the person who is hard to know, a little aloof," she concludes, "but the saints deliver me from the woman who poses as a friendly soul, the bubbling personality, the friend to all, all the time she is knifing you behind your back."

In the beginning of her letter, this woman tells me that she reads my column in her local newspaper every day and that she enjoys my "intelligent replies." Will she, I wonder, keep on thinking my replies are intelligent, or will she also lose confidence in me as a woman. If I come right out and say flatly that I believe she herself is at fault if she has really become as cynical as she sounds.

"My cynicism," distinct and a wholesale disillusionment are realities of the immature. The mature person knows very well that no one group of people, whether one or the other of the sexes, or a nation, can be all good or all bad. The mature person is fully aware that there are good people and people who are not so good; wise people and foolish people; people who refuse to learn from life and people who do. He therefore bases his opinions, convictions, and indeed, his whole philosophy on this knowledge. He chooses his friends with care and good judgment. He does not confide in an acquaintance until and unless he has come to know that person as someone possessing loyalty, integrity and good commonsense. He accepts the fact that not everyone, by any means, lives up to the right standards, but that because one woman steals a husband, or a man steals another's wife, or a superficial person repeats a confidence, or someone is an inveterate gossip, it is no reason for believing that everybody does these things.

To fall back on an old saying, would this woman toss out a whole barrel of apples because she happened to find a rotten one among the others? Or would she sort out apples, relying on her own good judgment to tell her which were not?

This is enough, at this time, to give our correspondent something to think about. She has promised to write and let me know if she comes to believe that her sweeping condemnation of women might be wrong.

SAVE TWO CHILDREN

GODERICH, Ont. (CP)—A father and his 12-year-old son Tuesday night saved two children who fell into 12-foot-deep water here. Police said Arnold Summers and his son Lloyd pulled out Lois, 12, and Eleanor Summers, 6, after they were reportedly swept off a pier by two youths engaged in horseplay.

In The Swim

By ALICE ALDEN

Swim suits are smarter than ever, with a delightful model for every figure type and every preference. There's real flattery in this "pretty girl" suit that is as practical as it is becoming. In floral cotton, the elasticized bodice carries out some beautiful curves above a wonderfully full skirt set on a lowered waistline in proper high fashion line. It can be worn strapped for active duty, bare for sunning.

Readers' Saturday Column

As Conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION:

There are a few problems I hope that you can help me with. (1) My canned cherries are always too soft. I pressure cook them eight minutes for pinks and ten minutes for quarts at five pounds pressure. I pack them cold, put hot syrup (1 cup sugar to 3 cups water) over them, seal them and put into almost boiling water in the cooker. Then I let the steam flow freely for seven minutes, then close petcock and bring to five pounds pressure. I do all my canning with the pressure cooker so hope I can find some way to do cherries that are at least a little firmer than those I've done. This is my biggest problem, now a smaller one.

Some day if you have the space and time, I'd like to know if I can freeze canned pumpkin. I always have a half tin of it left over after making a pie and find it doesn't keep too long in the refrigerator, so I wonder if I could freeze it in a carton and keep it for perhaps a month.

Something else I have wondered about, when I've baked frozen apple pie, it always leaks out the side and is a mess, never does it when I bake it fresh. Hope you find time to answer these in the not too distant future.—Signed Mrs. M. P.

ANSWER:

Your pressure time is correct but your timing to allow steam to flow freely is too long. One minute steam flow is long enough. Although paradoxically in cherry canning plants the cans are filled and stood "to exhaust" unsealed in a shallow bath (2 inches below the top of the cans) for ten minutes at 180 deg. This allows sugar to "equalize" and toughen skin—then cans are sealed and processed at five pounds pressure.

Yes you can freeze the left-over pumpkin. When ready to use pie in about one month's time defrost and then use it just as you did when it was first opened. Freezing expands the seams at the edge of the pie and causes the leak. Try making a double overlapped edge to your pie—so that when it expands on freezing, the extra heavy edge crust may not break open.

QUESTION:

I have never written asking for information before but I have hope that you can help me. My mother, age 79, has been put on a fat-free diet and our doctor has not been too helpful as to what she should have to eat. I thought you might be able to give me an idea for some menus she could have, also a list of fat-free foods. I enjoy your column very much and is always the first thing I look for in the paper.—Signed Edith C.

ANSWER:

There is a special Diet Cookbook by Marvin Small published by the Greystone Press, New York 13, that would be of inestimable help to you. A fat-free diet excludes, yolk of eggs, cheese (except cottage cheese), any canned meats or fish, nuts, all milk and cream but skim milk and skim milk powder, fat on meats, any chopped meat such as hamburger, sausages, bacon, chocolate or chocolate products or drinks, butter, mayonnaise, and other dressings, baked goods with any fats, and sauces and gravies.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY GIFTS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman: Our problem is about the gifts that might be brought to the celebration of the Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary of our parents. As this is the Silver Anniversary, guests quite naturally might plan to bring silver presents. But our mother has a lot of silver, more than she can ever use. So she really doesn't want any more! Should something to that effect be mentioned in the invitations, or should we tell the guests, if they ask us about gift-giving, that a mother would prefer not to have any gifts?—M.

From the way your question is worded I'm not sure whether your mother and father wish to have no presents, or whether they just don't want to have silver presents. If it is their wish not to have any presents, it is considered acceptable today to write "No presents, please" in the lower corner of the invitation, either the right or the left corner, whichever is more convenient.

If the idea is to have guests bring presents if they wish to, but not presents of silver, it is quite proper, and very wise and practical, to explain this to the guests if they ask you about gift-giving. Or, relatives and very intimate friends would, I am sure, be glad to be informed about this, even if they don't happen to inquire. The same can be done verbally or by telephone. I realize now your mother would feel being deluged by more silver when she already has too much. . . . and I feel that you should face this problem wisely and practically.

WHAT TO EAT AT JULY EVENING WEDDING

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

(1) It is to be a church wedding in the evening in July. Reception following the ceremony. What would be suitable for me to wear? (I am a middle-aged woman.) (2) Would you think that a small hat or a large hat would be more appropriate? (3) Does a guest keep on her gloves at the reception?—Woman Guest

To an evening wedding in July in your part of the country, wear a cool and cool-looking dress. . . . street length or a slightly longer length, if you prefer, but today it is not necessary to wear a floor length dress even to a formal evening wedding. The dress might be of a simple afternoon type or informal dinner type if you know that the wedding is to be of some formality. For an evening wedding I suggest a plain color (rather than a print, particularly if you are not slim) and a color not too light. You might choose a rich shade of blue if this is becoming to you, or a rich maroon or green. Have your accessories (hat, gloves, evening bag) on the light shade.

(2) Don't wear a large hat to the evening wedding. Wear a smart evening-type hat of the smallest size that is becoming to you. (3) The woman guest wears her gloves as she goes down the receiving line (because "the mothers," the bride and her attendants wear their gloves while they are receiving). Then the gloves may be removed, should be before she begins to "partake" of the refreshments, either beverages or foods.

Bethel W. A. invited the Mission Band members to take charge of their August program.

A piano solo was rendered by Woodward Avenue, Detroit 3, Michigan, expects to have his history completed about July 15th.

It will be a genealogy and history of "The Sine and Allied Families" of Rawdon. Dr. Mack started his search for material several years ago and he hoped to complete it about 1954, however, owing to series of heart seizures, he was unable to carry on the work he had started. His brother came to his assistance and has gone ahead with publishing.

The most prominent libraries of Canada and the United States will receive a copy and the nominal price to others, who are interested, will be $2.

The book will contain important data re Rosebush, Chard, White and Hubbell families; several of whom are now living; early Rawdon history, a section relating to Sine, Searles, Searles, Wright, Hagerman, Green, Weese and other allied families. There are several pages of pictures of the early settlers, one of which is that of Philo White, the Rawdon journalist, with his mother, brothers and sisters. Several folk in this area have assisted Dr. Mack with his lengthy preparations and have sent him all the available material they had. Many folks in Rawdon will be delighted to know that the book is nearing completion and they send their grateful thanks to Dr. Mack for this labor of love in providing authentic information for his close relatives. The books in the library will be available to any one wishing to do some research work.

Stirling

STIRLING—District Scout Master Joe Irish, Stirling, was in charge of a Scout camp at Crowe Bay the last week of June. Several boys from the village attended the camp.

Born—At General Hospital, Belleville, on Monday, July 4, 1935, to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bastedo, Front Street, Stirling, a daughter.

The late Mrs. Charles Conley recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. Woodley, Lindsay, Ontario.

Mrs. Harriett Cobb, Jacksonville, Florida, is holidaying with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kerr.

Dilys Lay Has Made Good On Roughest Street in U.S.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—She is just a young girl far from home trying to make good in a strange country. And Dilys Lay has made good on the roughest street in America—Broadway. But not in the way she wanted to.

"All my life I've wanted to be glamorous and languid—and above the Welsh lass, digging into a plate of luncheon eggs with the hearty sorrow of youth."

Called Cute. "And what do people call me? Cute—well, if it's cute they want me to be, it's cute I'll be. But I'd like just once to be taken seriously. Even my friends call me Dilly."

Dilys made an instantaneous hit last fall as a giddy young flapper in "The Boy Friend," a musical which kids the skirts of life in the gay and memorable 1920s. Playgoers found a Peter Pan quality in the vibrant little visitor, who can sing, dance or play comedy, just compared her skilled drolery to that of Beatrice Lillie.

But the hazel-eyed little actress, who had appeared in 10 plays before coming here, now is 21 and would like the world to realize that she is more than just a mad-cap.

GIVEN A KEY "In England it is a wonderful and important day—the day a girl turns 21," she said. "You are given a key to the house. You are a woman at last—at last."

"You are free to marry anyone, even without your parents' consent. Not that I would ever consider doing that myself. I don't think I could bring myself to do it even if I were 25."

Dilys wanted her mother, a former actress who became an accountant, to accompany her here, but mother turned her down. "Mum told me I was on my own," she said. "She doesn't want to try to live her own career over in her children's lives, and she doesn't want to become a typical stage mother, always hovering over her daughter.

SHARE ROOMS

So Dilys and Julia Anderson, the pale and lovely ingenue of "The Boy Friend," moved into an east side apartment together. They have shared the fun and excitement of exploring Manhattan, a new world to both of them. "But you know you can be lonely in the middle of thousands of people," said Dilys, "and sometimes, just walking along the streets, I'd find myself suddenly lonesome for London—the deep quiet of London."

SAVES BOY'S LIFE

ORILLIA (CP) — The quick thinking of a 15-year-old boy saved the life of Ronnie McInnis, 7, Thursday, at Lake Couchiching. Don Courvoisier was swimming when he saw the boy floating face-down just under the surface of the water. He pulled Ronnie's face out of the water and carried him to shore. Artificial respiration revived the boy.

Old Lady on Moira Put Out Welcome Mat for 1910 Reunion

Sun, songs and sentiment dominated Belleville's "Old Boys' Reunion" in 1910.

The Old Lady on the Moira rolled out her welcome mat for returning sons and daughters with special issues of the newspaper, a photograph album, and a memento schedule of events that included parades, speeches, church services, ball games, speeches, boat races, fireworks displays, organ recitals and speeches.

The July 33rd edition of The Daily Ontario, 1910, greeted old boys and girls with a four-column reprint of "Home Sweet Home" on the front page. Most of the other 11 pages were filled with poems of poetic praise for Belleville, its residents, its trees, its boyhood days, its iceboat racing and its progressive civic outlook.

Nostalgic verse dominated the issue, which also contained an hourly schedule of reunion attractions, program highlights, and letters of regret from prominent citizens who pined away the holiday in such far-flung suburbs as Albuquerque, New Mexico, Cleveland and Calgary.

Well-dressed Bellevillians revolved in $5 two-piece suits from Ritchie's men's store, $3.50 "shoe specialties" from W. H. Adams and "stylish" $1 shirts from Chas. J. Symons.

Driving to the festivities came in a 1950 Flanders auto from Greenleaf and Son (back seat $50 extra).

Practical businessmen splurged on advertising for such services as "D. and L. Menholl Plasters for stiffness," and "Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy made from the tender leaves of a single mountain shrub and so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babes."

W. A. Roubon advertised "DANGER! The public is in serious danger of losing money when they disregard the sign to STOP at the 'Uptown Liquor Store' and LOOK over the goods so that they may LISTEN to the single of the coin saved by so doing."

Weather forecasts were for ideal weather, light winds, fine and warm.

News, views and reviews of people, places and things in Belleville in 1910 were forwarded to the Intelligencer by H. J. Donnelly, of the Pittsburgh and Ohio Coal Company of Cleveland.

Mr. Donnelly's parents, an uncle, a brother-in-law, and a sister-in-law, who is referred to in L. W. Clement's poem about races on the ice in Belleville harbor in 1905, died in Rochester in 1921.

The personal column noted the recent arrival of Mr. C. S. Larkin, of Oswego, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke, of Toledo, Ohio; Ernest, Perry and Mildred Hamm, of Toronto; George Hannell, former of the Yukon and now of Vancouver; Frank Foster, of Erie, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sagar, of Rochester, E. V. Davy, of Chicago; W. J. W. Frechette, of Pontiac, Mich.; Mark B. Dulmage of Guelph; Mrs. E. Cheesborough and Mrs. E. G. Taylor of Durham, N.H. Carolina.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Hould, of New York; Rev. A. W. Bain, and wife, of New York, and Samuel MacDonald, of Philadelphia, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Haight.

John Robinson of New York, with his wife and daughters, arrived after a journey in their own automobile. Ernest Schmidt, of Toronto, his brother and his wife, were visiting about their yacht.

In an editorial entitled "Past and Present," J. Owen Kelly, editor-in-chief of The Daily Ontario, noted that "quite pronounced Kasey (hospitality) passed into a proverb generations ago, and the incomers all find that kindly spirit from which it emanated has not been changed by the years."

In a more misty vein he went on: "The strangers who never before visited Belleville will find it, speaking in a general sense, one of the most beautiful places they have ever seen. In a chief business street—where there are no equal in any place of about similar size in the province—scattered in the valley of the river and its residence, which rises on either hand, Nature has done much for Belleville by bestowing upon it a charming site."

ADDED BEAUTIES
"And that is not bestowed by nature is evidenced by the tasteful residences, the trim well-kept lawns, and the streets bordered by soft maples, all well grown and neatly trimmed which afford a grateful shade when summer heat is at its height."

view of the city from the city hall. Cottages, tents and the hotel at Massawassa Park, were included among the six pictures taken "along pleasant drives and shady nooks."

Taking pictures of Belleville streets and residences was easy in 1910 and an apology was included in the album. It read: "Owing to the density of the foliage on many of the residential streets which forms one of the most notable beauties of 'Beautiful Belleville' it has been found almost impossible to get satisfactory photographs of the buildings, which it was desired to picture in these pages and accounts for what may appear a trifle imperfect in some of the pictures included."

Bulletins From Birdland

The sense of smell is strong in animals. This is their chief mode of communication. When we are quite helpless in finding an object, dogs can detect it by scent; and everybody is aware that it is thus they recognize people.

Sound also seems to be important to them—at least the tone of voice. No matter what you say, your dog will respond to that; but "You dog" will bring a wagging tail if your tone is cheerful.

Cats specialize in sight, the trick being to open the pupils very wide in the dark; and sight is supposed to be the most important sense of birds. According to scientists, their brains lack that portion which in mammals is given over to "thought". Nevertheless, however they do it, a number of us are quite certain that birds are able to distinguish friends from foes, and that individuals know us.

There are people who believe they do this by smell. Possibly they have some sense still undiscovered.

One male red-winged blackbird came daily to be fed at the back door of a suburban home. The second summer he brought his wife and a young son.

MALES RETURNED

For a number of years two males returned every spring, and were tame enough to take bread from the hand of the mistress of the house, but would not permit any closer to approach them. Then, one spring came when only one male returned to that back door. Had the old father died, and was this the son? Presumably so.

A bird watcher unintentionally nearly stepped on the nest of a white-throated sparrow that yearly built on the ground under dogwood bushes amidst thick vegetation on his property. The bird was immensely cone-shaped (P.G. type). The blooms are white changing to pink, then bronze. It too will thrive in sun, or partial shade. There is also a tree form of the P.G. type.

Rose of Sharon has hollyhock-like blooms, either single or double forms. The color range is wide here white, red, pink, blue and purple. Coelestial blue is one of the most attractive. This is most adaptable and will tolerate almost any soil, or position. It forms a compact small tree, suitable for accent points, or specimen planting, on the lawn.

Going back to roses again, there is a wide range of hardy shrub roses. Some of them bloom continuously throughout the summer.

Male white-throats always got back from their holidays early early in May, and about two weeks later their wives followed. Great was the excitement of the householders this mid-May when they spied dear, little Mrs. White-throat sitting on the feeding tray, mooning and eating by turns. She recognized them as friends.

HAD SIDE VERANDAH

Victoria Avenue Baptist church in 1910 had a semi-circular roof and resembled an arena; the present Moose Hall was the Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal church. City Mission sat alone in the centre of a large field.

The Quinte Hotel, "the finest between Toronto and Montreal" had three stories; street railway tracks passed in front of the city hall which looked just as it does today except that in 1910 it had a side verandah on McAnany Street no longer, and the clock face was clear and readable.

Belleville rolling mills where Houston Lumber now stands, and the Canada cement works at Point Anne, the first brick cement mill in Canada, were the only industries pictured.

Under the title "Our Offering of the Sportsman" were three pictures. One showed five men and a string of 20 monstrous bass. Two sharpshooters were burdened down with nearly 40 ducks and 14 deer slung on a rack formed the background for a picture of seven hunters and their dogs.

Queen Victoria Park in 1910 was a tree-lined garden spot, whose six foot retaining wall provided magnificent docking facilities for fleets of sailboats in the harbor and on the river. Pictures included views of the residence of Capt. John Meyers, built in 1793 and the first brick house in Upper Canada; Front Street in the 1800's; Moira Street showing the original Christ church and a

Garden Notes

Shrubs Suited to Easy Gardening

By FLORA M. SAVILLE

If you want flowers but have little time for gardening, plant flowering shrubs.

Since shrubs are relatively large plants they can be arranged according to height, to form a complete garden.

There are many shrubs which will supply blooms throughout the summer season. From early spring you can begin with Forsythia, and carry on into late fall with rose of Sharon and hydrangea.

The popular floribunda group of roses should be classed in the low growing shrub group. These plants produce clusters of small roses throughout the summer. They make fine cutting material and a good display of color.

Fashion roses which have coral pink blooms put on a continuous performance. Other good varieties are goldlocks, summer snow and pinocchio. Of course, you must feed and water these roses faithfully to get good results.

TOLERABLE SHADE

Hydrangea Hills of snow will tolerate shade and produce large flower heads of white bloom from late June to August. It is compact and very hardy. The famous P.Q. hydrangea (paniculata grandiflora) have immense cone-shaped flower heads which bloom in August. The blooms are white changing to pink, then bronze. It too will thrive in sun, or partial shade. There is also a tree form of the P.Q. type.

Rose of Sharon has hollyhock-like blooms, either single or double forms. The color range is wide here white, red, pink, blue and purple. Coelestial blue is one of the most attractive. This is most adaptable and will tolerate almost any soil, or position. It forms a compact small tree, suitable for accent points, or specimen planting, on the lawn.

Along Canadian Trails Trading With The Indians

In our early history books, Canadian boys and girls often read about the early fur traders measuring beaver pelts against the barrel of a rifle or giving the redmen beads and bits of colored cloth in exchange for their furs. Perhaps they think that in this atomic age, all that Indian trading is over. Furs, they say, come from department stores and fur shops and Indians drive cars and listen to television just like everybody else.

In a way, they are right. At the Caughnawaga reservation just outside Montreal, for instance, Chief White Eagle, of the Iroquois tribe, has a television aerial on top of his teepee and inside his nearby house, he sits and watches cowboys and Indians, on his opera and ballet dancers, on his 21-inch screen. But for some of the old-time Indian trading, still going on today, you need only visit Winnipeg and drop in at Hudson's Bay House.

The Hudson's Bay Company is not only the oldest company in Canada, it is one of the oldest in the world. It began as a company of gentlemen adventurers seeking furs from the Indians. And today, much of its business is concerned with trading with the redmen in lonely and isolated outposts. At the Winnipeg trading centre, are some of the "trade goods. And they would look familiar to an old time trader if he could come back to life after a hundred years.

There are many modern things, of course, Indians have learned to use outboard motors as well as birch bark canoes. They have also adopted the white man's pots and pans. But they still look for skinning knives, snow knives and fish nets. And they still ask for babish, the mouse hide things for sewing.

Prominent among the trade goods and still in demand today are the beads and silks similar to those traded by the early white men in Canada. For the Indians have not lost their love of color, and they make good use of beads and silk for embroidery. And there are two other familiar links with the past. One is the bright red cloth which the Indians love in their clothing and which has been traded since away back in 1660. It is still manufactured in England, for trading with the Indians, and it is still popular in Canada's north.

The other familiar product, which is known to white men, too, is the famous "point" blanket. In the early days, each "point" on the blanket represented one beaver skin so that a blanket was like a coin, four "points" being worth four beavers. Today, the blankets are sold at so many dollars and beaver skins are bought for so much money, too. But however it is done, when the Indian brings his furs to the trading post, the things he still wants are "point" blankets, beads, silk and red cloth. That part of Canada's history still remains.

Your Car

Faulty Choke Is Cause Of Stalling

By EUGENE MILMOE

When your car starts up promptly but, after a brief run, stalls and refuses to start again, check up on the automatic choke. You may find that the valve is stuck or is opening too slowly. If so, it means that a too-rich fuel mixture is flooding your engine, causing it to stall, and of course making it almost impossible to restart.

As you have probably heard, there are many possible reasons for this. One is that the choke is not idle properly. Often overlooked is air leakage at the intake manifold, a condition which results in a fuel mixture that is much too rich.

Loose bolts or faulty gaskets in the manifold connections to the block and carburetor are often the source of such leakage.

J.D. writes: I just noticed that it seems to be making a kind of singing noise. What causes this? (A) Apparently, this is due to new brushes riding over a rough commutator. Smoothing the commutator should eliminate the noise.

STUCK WITH LEMON?

From J.J.: While I was breaking my new car, it always seemed to be good on gas mileage. After 3000 or 4000 miles however, gas mileage became quite unsatisfactory. I took the car back to the dealer but his mechanics cannot locate anything wrong or out of adjustment. If they are right, does that mean I am stuck with a lemon?

(A) Not necessarily. When your car was brand new, you probably avoided excessive speeds, jack-rabbit starts, sudden stops and forcing the car in lower speeds. Perhaps you are not too careful about these gas-eating habits now that the car is broken in.

W.M. asks: I've had a problem with external oil leakage for some time. According to the tests that I have made, I feel sure that the oil pan is the source of trouble. New pan gaskets and drain plugs were tried but did not stop the leak. Is there anything I have overlooked? (A) Although it's an unusual condition, pan and block surfaces can be so uneven that gaskets will not effectively seal against leakage. In such cases, the addition of gasket compounds will generally do the trick.

R.S. writes: Recently, I had my engine completely overhauled. The crankshaft was checked, and new main bearings and all new connecting rods were installed. Now when I start the car I can hear a slight noise (not a valve click), but as soon as the engine is warmed up, it is as smooth and quiet as can be. Do you think it is a rod knocking? (A) Possibly, but I would be more inclined to suspect piston slap which will often occur in a cold engine, then disappear when it is warmed up.

Thomas Will Attempt To Beat Juan De Fuca From The Canadian Side

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

THE REAL REASON

Sports press despatches of the past week have been carrying stories of the possible removal of its International Baseball League franchise from Syracuse, long the home of the famous Chiefs. They stated that the owner had lost some $100,000 last season and did not feel like parting with another large wad of the green lettuce.

According to Dink (Montreal Gazette) Carroll "The real cause was the alleged slugging of a sports writer by two of the Chiefs' pitchers. The sports writer is Norm Hannon, of the Syracuse Post-Standard, and the ball players are Seih Moorhead and Dick Farrell.

"The alleged assault took place a few weeks ago in a bar around two o'clock in the morning and, as a result, the writer was taken to a hospital to have his broken nose reset and five stitches taken in a cut near his eye. The ball players were arrested, spent the rest of the night in the cells and were allowed out on stiff bail the next day.

"The incident turned the whole city against the ball club," Harry Simmons, secretary of the International League, said. "The managing editor of The Post-Standard had a conference with Haske and advised him to suspend the players and get them out of town, which Haske refused to do. The Chiefs weren't drawing very well before, but now nobody goes to see them.

"The two players came up for trial on a charge of third degree assault on August 16th. They have elected to be tried by a jury."

"Harry added that the decision to move the franchise must be made by Owner Haske, but a majority vote of the league directors must approve any transfer. It looks as though Haske is in a position where he can't do anything except move the franchise, since to keep it Syracuse would be financially disastrous.

"Ball players can slug each other and escape with nothing more than a fine, as was the case when Harry (The Hat) Walker, manager of the Cardinals and Birdie Tebbets, pilot of the Redlegs, battled each other in the ninth inning of a game a few days ago. They were fined $100 each by League President Warren Giles. But, assaulting citizens, especially newsmen, is something else again."

Will Swim 'The Other Way' If It Takes Me Five Years' Plans Attempt July 15-17

VICTORIA (CP)—Bert Thomas, who mastered the Strait of Juan de Fuca when he changed the direction of his attack, today began preparing for a new assault on the route that has repulsed him four times.

The tenacious, 270-pound logger from Tacoma, Wash., swam the 18.3-mile stretch of water from Port Angeles, Wash., to Victoria in 11 hours and 10 minutes Friday. It was his fifth attempt to beat the bone-chilling strait, but his first from the U.S. side.

"It takes me five years," said the former Marine frogman, "I'm going to swim the other way, from Victoria to Port Angeles."

WILL TRY LATER

He plans his sixth onslaught between July 15 and 17. Heading the Thomas boosters in Victoria is Mayor Claude Harrison, who has started a mayor's fund for "Big Bert" and will name him a freeman of the city, the third in Victoria's history.

Besides the $1,000 cheque the champion swimmer was handed by Victoria Times publisher Stu Koste right after he came ashore, Victorians have contributed more than $1,400 in cash and the prizes are still rolling in for the first man to swim the strait.

At Port Angeles, he collected another $1,800 donated by his U.S. admirers Thomas has been invited to take part in the 32-mile Lake Ontario swim during the Canadian National Exhibition.

Majors Defeat Terriers In Weird Game

GALT (CP)—In a weird exhibition London Majors Friday night defeated Galt Terriers 11-8 with only four of their runs earned.

The Terriers were guilty of seven miscues, five of them coming in the sixth when the Majors scored four times on two hits. Big Bob Simpson was the winning pitcher. The game contained a little bit of everything. Pete Karpuk, ex Terrier, led the Majors at bat with two singles and a circuit blow in the eighth while Dale Creighton, first man to face Jeep Jessup in the fifth, lifted his second pitch over the right field fence.

Galt's Ralph Branner hit a two-run homer in the seventh. A threatened Galt rally in the fifth ended abruptly when Jeep Jessup drove a long one to left centre for two runs but was called out for not touching second base.

Meet in Finals Northern Tennis

BIGWIN INN, Ont. (CP)—Raymond Summers of Toronto tennis club and Ben Westhaver of Cleveland, Ohio, will meet in the northern Ontario tennis tournament men's singles final today.

Summers played near-perfect tennis as he quickly disposed of Dr. George Lukk of Sarnia without the loss of a game. He won 6-0, 6-0.

Mrs. Helen Boyd of Toronto Club and Kay George of Toronto Boulevard advanced into the ladies' singles.

Thelma Hoey of Toronto Bixie Club and Bob O'Neill of Milton won a quarter-final mixed doubles match over Miss Gamble and Don Rope of Sault Ste. Marie, 9-7, 11-8.

Sam Snead's Golf School

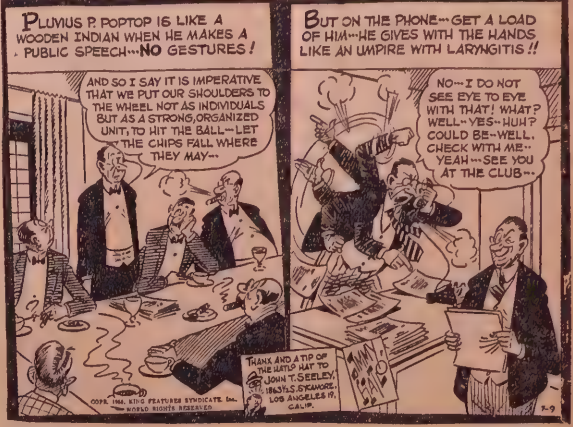

When I say down, I mean down. I don't mean out and around. It is important to think of swinging the hands rather straight down, almost toward your right-hand pocket, because this will help the high-handicap golfer maintain the swing groove that will bring the clubhead to the ball in the slightly inside-out, across-the-clubhead position. Beginners have a feeling when they start down that they must swing the club-head out to get it back to the ball. No! That will produce a slice or a shot to the left. The hip and shoulder pivots furnish the correct outward motion to the clubhead. And did you notice the flaw in this picture? That's right—the ball is positioned too far forward of centre.

Solunar Notes

Fly Fishing in the Good Old Days

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT.

(Noted Sportsman, Author and Creator of Solunar Tables.)

Hanging on the wall of the old club rooms of The Anglers' Club of New York was a reproduction of a painting of the late President Grover Cleveland.

Mr. Cleveland was portrayed standing on a rock beside a turbulent little stream, playing on a fly rod a sturdy small-mouth bass. The fish was shown in the foreground, leaping clear of the water, and in the corner of its mouth was a bass fly, a coachman.

Since the Anglers' Club has taken new quarters in Faunce's Tavern on Hanover Street, that old picture, which was not too well done, has been relegated to storage, with me. Bass, both large-mouth and smallmouth, do take old-fashioned bass flies just about as well as any lure that has been devised in the past 50 years.

Two years ago when my son and I made our annual pilgrimage to the headwaters of the Delaware River to fish for smallmouth bass, we found the river to be unusually low, gin-clear, and the fish as shy as brook trout.

TOOK FLIES SAVAGELY

When drag was unavoidable, the retrieve was enlivened by stripping in line, from six to 10 inches at a time, in short, decisive jerks.

TOP WATER BUGS

Usually our fly-rod lures for those waters are top-water bass bugs or large bass streamers. Enlivened by small brass spinners. To our dismay we found that these lures, generally quite effective, served only to alarm the bass under those abnormal conditions.

After repeated failures in what almost always are dependable bass pools, I sat down on the bank to have a smoke and think things over. It was then that I remembered the picture of President Grover Cleveland playing a large bass that had taken an old-fashioned bass fly.

Having reached the point where I was ready to try any expedient, I searched through my tackle kit and, sure enough, came up with an old fly box in which were perhaps a dozen bass and salmon flies. Pick and I re-rigged our terminal tackle, using fairly light leaders that had 2 orthodox bass flies on the stretcher and 6 streamers on the dropper. That was about ten o'clock in the morning.

By the time twilight had faded into darkness, our two fly rod had accounted for more than one hundred smallmouth bass, some of them topping the two-pound mark. We returned all but a few of them to the river, saving only those that we wished to eat that evening.

Our method for fishing these flies was the one indicated by conditions. As I said, the fish were shy and wary, not feeding. Thus, it was a case of casting "fine and far off." The flies would be cast across and slightly upstream from our positions. Then they were allowed to drift "dead" until drag set in. Drifting them in this manner let them sink fairly close to the stream bottom.

Now I like to fish surface lures. The strike of a large bass to a top-water bass bug never fails to send chills up and down my spine. Also, I like to catch fish. When the topwaters fail I turn to the old-fashioned wet flies and the change usually pays off.

So I am grateful to President Cleveland and to the artist who painted his picture. They remind me that some of the old-timers used methods that can very well hold their own when compared with modern techniques.

Brooks Smother 6-0 Deficit To Whip Giants 11-8; Yankees, Tribe Win

Newk 'Shelled' from Mound But Homers Retrieve Victory; Lemon First to Win Twelve

(By The Associated Press)

Not only the National League on its way to another season home run record but it looks like it plans to club the poor old American League to death come Tuesday's all-star game in Milwaukee.

The senior circuit clubs swatted 14 Friday night giving them 66 for the last five days in the tuneup for next week's classic. With the season little more than half completed the National now has 701. That puts the major league record of 1,197, set only two years ago by the N.L., in considerable jeopardy.

Chicago's Cubs led the way Friday night, pounding four while beating St. Louis 6-4 in 11 innings. Brooklyn hammered three in its come-from-behind 12-8 triumph over New York. And Milwaukee hit three in sweeping a two-inning game from Cincinnati 4-2 and 5-3.

Only Pittsburgh and Philadelphia failed to connect. The Phils defeated the Bucs 5-1 after the Pirates had wrapped up a suspended game of May 29 11-5.

AL HIT EIGHT

The American League, figuring to better its 1950 record of 973 homers hit eight for a current total of 534. Two of them came as Baltimore ended Brooks' seven-game winning streak 3-2. And Earl Torgeson swung for two three-run hits as Detroit best Kansas City 11-8 in 11 innings.

First-place New York beat Washington 3-0 and runnerup Cleveland defeated third-place Chicago 1-0.

Ernie Banks had two of the 'club' homers his second coming with one on to win the game. They were his 22nd and 23rd of the season to give the all-star choice a league record for shortstops.

Zimmerman Don Hook and G. Hodges poked homers for the Brooks who were down 6-0 after three innings when the Giants' Shelled Don Newcombe. The Dodgers scored six runs in the last three innings to win it after the Giants had resorted to seven pitchers.

MORE HOME RUNS

The Braves' Ed Mathews hit his 22nd with a man on as Warren Spahn won his seventh in the game. Hank Aaron and Bobby Thompson each homered in the nightcap as Lew Burdette hung on to win despite 11 Cincinnati hits.

Baltimore also ended Frank Sullivan's seven-game winning string with Dave Philley driving in three runs with a homer and two doubles. Gus Triandos added a two-run homer. Ted Williams doubled, singled and walked twice, boosting his batting average to .413.

Bob Lemon was back in form for the Indians and became the first American League pitcher to win in this season. Al Rosen's top double scored the big run off loser Billy Pierce in the first inning. The victory left the Tribe four games behind the Yankees and two up on the Van Sox.

HAD RALLY GOING
The Yankees won behind Tommy Byrne, although the Senators had a rally in the works in the seventh when rain halted the game as an official six-inning contest. An infield out and sacrifice fly by Elston Howard and Yogi Berra scored the New York runs.

Torgeson's second big blow won the game at Detroit. Al Kaline took the league lead earlier with his No. 19 homer. Joe Mauer had six consecutive singles for the A's, who had beaten the Tigers six straight.

The Philles took the Bucs with three runs in the fifth while Hern Wehmeier allowed six hits.

Marlene Ties Course Record At Rochester

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., tied the women's amateur course record with a two-under-par 35-37-72 to take a five-stroke lead in the sixth annual Country Club of Rochester women's invitation tournament.

Miss Stewart scored a 76 Thursday and now has a total of 148 in the 54-hole medal play which ends today.

Ruth Woodward Finch of New Canaan, Conn., set the record on the 9,185-yard course in the first round of 1954. She was followed by Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., who scored a 76 in the second round.

Letter To Sports Editor 'One Good Turn...'

I fully expected to see your sport page draped in black in commemoration of the passing of senior B hockey. Personally I liked senior B hockey when he was alive. Not only did he afford hockey fans a most interesting winter pastime, but he made it possible for between four and five hundred children to participate in organized hockey under the supervision of many fine time-willing and free in support of the deceased. Maybe this fact alone, will make the city's loss look very small, because you can't measure the good that such a project accomplishes in the terms of dollars and cents.

Don't put your pencil away so soon Mr. Sports Editor because you will now have one more "obituary" to write before the final chapter is closed on hockey in Belleville and that will be the complete closing down of the Belleville Memorial Arena, this winter—a memorial, to what? Failure—and if so—whose? Council stated in their last meeting, that although they are giving up Senior hockey, they are going to keep open the arena, this winter for skating. Please—let's not fool ourselves, without hockey the arena is dead. Just how does Council intend to keep the arena doors open, surely not from the revenue they hope to obtain from skating, which might bring them $6,000. That part is fine, but who is going to pay the other $25,000 to keep the arena open—the tax payers?

I am suggesting to you, that the operational expenses alone will come close to $35,000 of which course includes your debt service payment, and which of course is so very much more than the $4,100 loss you claim you incurred this year, through senior B hockey.

When council purchased the arena for $40,000 they must have been aware of what was involved in such an operation and why should they, any more than in any other business, sit back and expect a gift horse to come along and run their business for them.

In six years hockey has given the city—and to mention a few—a $10,000 floor, a new ice plant, and paid its way on the debt service until last year—which was the first year you last money. So now they want to sell it, after hockey has taken an original $40,000 investment and increased it to a present $150,000 investment. So you see, sir, hockey has given Belleville something, now let's see Belleville return it.

With kind "hockey" regards—
Yours very truly
"Mortimer"

Records Broken At Ontario Track Meet

TORONTO (CP)—Two Canadian records were broken in the first day events of the two-day Ontario track and field championships Friday.

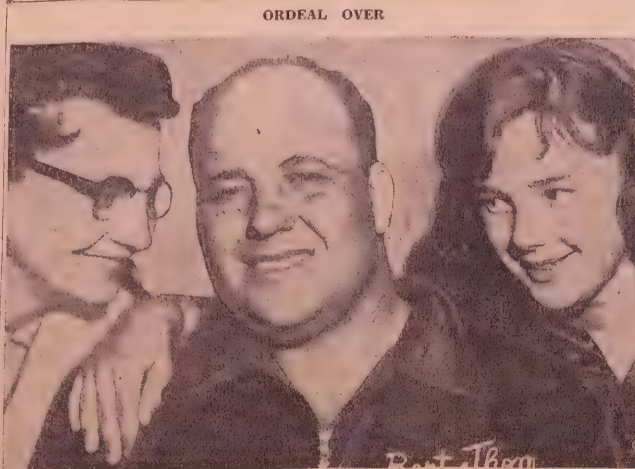

Twenty-seven events were run off and the remaining 38 will be completed today. Hans Moks of the suburban East York Track Club cracked his own Canadian record in the senior men's javelin throw with a heave of 238 feet, 9 1/2 inches. The old mark, which Moks set in Montreal two weeks ago, was 235 feet.

Another mark to battle the late British Empire Games record set in 1954, of 224 feet, 9 1/2 inches. The Olympic record is 242 feet, 0.79 inches, set in 1952.

BY ONE SECOND
Chuck Hardy of Toronto eclipsed the 17-year-old 220-yard sprint record with a time of 22.2 seconds. The old mark of 22.3 seconds was set in 1938 by Jack Hobbs of Windsor Assumption College.

Hardy also won the 100-yard dash with an even 10-second run. He was the same as for the senior 100-yard dash won by Joe Ferguson of Toronto.

Branton's Jimmy Irons won the juvenile mile in 3:42. The Ontario record is 3:43.8. Hamilton's Selma Jones, who has been attending Michigan State, won the 100-yard dash with a time of 16.2 seconds.

Wary but happy, Bert Thomas is greeted by his wife Marion (left) and 11-year-old daughter Sharon at Victoria after he became the first to swim the 18.3 mile Strait of Juan de Fuca, separating Canada and the United States. The 270-pound United States marine spent 11 hours in the water after starting across the icy strait from Port Angeles, Wash. (CP Photo.)

Young Kitchener Golf Sensation Knocked Out of Amateur Tourney

By CLYDE BATTEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

KITCHENER (CP)—It was a heart-breaking fifth round Friday for the loose-limbed youngster from Kitchener, Rockway who has had the gallery agog with his phenomenal golfing at the Ontario Amateur golf championship here.

The 16-year-old golfer, Gary Cowan, was knocked out of the running when Nick Westlock, Windsor Essex, edged out a 1 up victory in the match-play competition.

Westlock birdied the long 13th and went one up. On the 16th Cowan's tee-shot was about nine feet from the pin and Westlock was 15 feet out. Westlock's putt missed by inches and Cowan dropped his hole to go even.

On the final hole, Cowan teed off far into the trees lining the fairway. His second was on to the clubhouse lawn and he needed three to get on. Westlock was on two and two-putted.

FRANKFORD Merchants Rally In Late Innings, Down Madoc 8-6

FRANKFORD — Exploding for four runs in the top of the eighth, the Frankford Merchants tightened their grip on third place in the Belleville and District softball standing by downing Madoc 8-6 here last night.

The visitors held a 4-1 lead in the fifth frame but the Austin-coached crew scored one in the sixth, another pole in the seventh and finally overhauled Madoc in the eighth. The losers registered singletons in the eighth and ninth.

Doug Radner, the Merchants' ace, racked up his fifth victory by stopping the Madoc boys on 11 hits, fanning four and walking three.

Wayne Shaw took the loss in 7 1/3 frames, allowing 11 hits for all the Merchants' runs. Pigden mopped up without giving up a hit.

The homesters opened the scoring in the second, Appleby driving in a run with a double to right field, but Madoc came right back in the third to tie the score on Nickle's double and a single by Harry Brown. A walk, Nickle's single, Wayne Brown's triple and an error shot the visitors out front with three in the fifth.

Carwell and Hagerman combined to plate another in the eighth while singles by Schofield and Nickle completed their scoring.

Cosgrove followed Cooke's double with a run-scoring single for Frankford in the sixth while Radner contributed to the cause with a two-run triple in the next stanza. They sent 10 men to the plate in the eighth with three walks and hits off the bats of Dave Gilmour and Murphy.

The latter's double, telling the tale, gave Gilmour and Murphy a triple, while Brown's triple and an error shot the visitors out front with three in the fifth.

Royals Sweep Twin Bill From Richmond

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Montreal's persevering Royals, who played tag with Toronto Maple Leafs earlier in the season for the leadership of the International Baseball League, are threatening again.

The Royals swept a twin bill from Richmond Virginians Friday night 5-3 and 2-1 to gain half a game on the league-leading Leafs, who meanwhile were beating Columbus 4-1 in a melee-punctuated contest.

Royals now are only 3 1/2 games behind the league leaders. Another three games back are the Havana Sugar Kings, who shut out Buffalo 4-0. In a double slugfest Syracuse walloped Rochester 18-6 and the Red Wings came right back to drub the Chiefs 13-5.

TWO-BAGGER HELPED
A two-bagger by Gino Cimoli was two out in the ninth that chased in two runs gave Montreal its first game triumph. Montreal's Ken Lehman and Richmond's Bob Habenicht each hurled goose eggs for seven innings in the nightcap before two unearned runs on three errors in the eighth gave the Royals another triumph. Vic Marasoc, whose wild throw at the winning run tally, saved the Virginians from a shutout with a homer in the 9th.

Julian Ladera's 4-hit twirling sparked Havana to its shutout over Buffalo. He fanned nine and walked one. Joe Montalvo scored Havana's first run in the fifth and doubled home two more in the sixth.

Syracuse blasted 20 hits for 38 bases and scored 11 runs in the third inning in swamping Rochester in the opener of their double-header. But in the second game Rochester scored six runs in the first inning.

THE LINE-UP:
Point Anne—Elliott, Gilmour, Wade, Green, Goyer, Bennett, Whalen, Horwood, Lally, Burshaw.

BOBATS — Dracup, Duesbury, Woods, Lockyer, Temple, Empey, Creagran, Hurst, Day, Holmes and Adams.

CALL ALY KHAN
LONDON (AP)—Prince Aly Khan was called to the Jockey Club Friday to explain the sudden show of form which enabled his three-year-old horse Cobetto to win its first race—a $7,500 stake at the Newmarket track.

The colt came from France, where it failed in three previous races. The stewards interviewed the jockey and Cobetto's trainer, referred the matter to the Jockey Club, the high court of British racing. No accusations were made.

The most recent listing of the 20 leading money winning sires in the United States is headed, in order, by Nashua (Nashua's pappy), Khalid and Alibhai. More remarkable, all three were bred at the same farm, the Aga Khan's Sheshoon Stud in Ireland.

Not only that, but Citation's first stakes winner, the filly Carmel, which romped home at Hollywood Stakes last month at Hollywood Park, is out of the mare Astrida, another Sheshoon alumna.

Home in Tenth Gives Pt. Anne Win Over Bobcats

By GARRY ALEXANDER

For the second time in as many nights, the Point Anne Cement-men used a home run in extra innings to defeat their opponents, Jack Elliott clouting the circuit blow with one on in the top of the tenth to edge the Bobcats 7-5, in a B. and D. League game last night.

The Bobcats held a 5-2 lead going into the seventh frame when Point Anne rallied for two. They knotted the score in the eighth at 5-5 and when neither team scored in the ninth the game went into extra innings.

Bert Whalen, responsible for Thursday night's victory, opened the tenth with a single but Lally fanned and Burshaw went down pitcher to first, sending Whalen to second. Jack Elliott, already with two hits to his credit, then met one of Adams' slams for a game-winning line drive home between the centre and left fielders. The win pulled the Cement-men to within half a game of the first place Chiefs.

Buck Burshaw sweated the distance for the winners in his second victory, allowing the city squad 13 hits, but coming thru in the clutch. He got five Bobcats on strikes with three walks charged against him while helping at the plate with a single.

Al Adams took the loss in a relief role, hurling 5 1/2 innings, giving up five runs on seven hits, fanning two and handing out free passes to nary a batter. Jack Holmes started for the bats but left in the fifth with the bases loaded. He gave up three hits, whiffed two and walked three.

Point Anne took a short-lived lead with single runs in the second and third frames, two walks, an error and a wild pitch plating the first one. Elliott got the second when he doubled and came home after Skip Dracup fell into the water ditch while catching Wade's foul fly.

Temple's boys got to Burshaw in the third for three runs on five hits and a walk. Hurst started the rally with a base hit and after Holmes walked, Dracup, Woods, Lockyer and Temple punched singles, Woods' hit scoring two. The Pointers stopped the uprising with a double play but Creagran's triple and an error and another while single by Temple and Empey, plus Creagran's fly made it 5-2 in the fifth.

The Ox Pointers picked up a pair in the seventh, Elliott again starting the matter with a single and after Wade added a single, Gerry Goyer pulled a triple down the right field line. They notched the tying marker when Lally was hit by a pitch. Burshaw singled and Elliott was safe on Empey's error, plating Lally.

Elliott pounded out a homer, double and single, while Gerry Goyer tripled and singled. The Pointers' lead was 7-5 when Whalen had a brace of singles each and Burshaw claimed one. All the Bobcats hit safely with the exception of Holmes and Day, neither playing the whole game, while Adams and Burshaw had a double and single each while Skip Dracup and Bob Temple singled twice and Creagran tripled. Hurst, Woods and Lockyer had one-base blows.

Cannot Underestimate Power Of TV Says Groucho Marx

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "You can't underestimate the power of television," says Groucho Marx, and he's got the potato salad to prove it.

Recently Groucho happened to remark on his NBC quiz show that you can't hardly get good old-fashioned German potato salad anymore.

"I got over 3,000 pieces of mail about it," he remarked. "I've been flooded with cook books and jars of potato salad that I had to send most of it to orphanages and hospitals. Three people even came to my house in Cadillac and delivered the salad."

This avalanche of potato salad has served to impress Groucho with not only the power but the responsibility of TV.

QUICK REACTION
"People react quickly to even the most casual remark. Perhaps it's because you're coming into their homes and they are very sensitive to what is said there," he reflected.

He recalled a recent guesting with Horace Heidt. He asked about the duties of the talent searcher, who compared his work to that of a baseball scout.

"Now supposing the Yankees needed some players," Heidt suggested.

"The Yankees don't need any players," Groucho countered. "Now if you said the Boston Red Sox, that would make sense."

Marx received a storm of protest from Bostonians. He was amused by one 22-year-old girl who cited players and averages and said, "What do you know about baseball?"

LOST-ONE LAUGH

Such incidents make Groucho especially sensitive to public opinion. Recently he had a woman contestant who was an unconscious comedienne. Groucho asked about her second husband.

"He's dead," she replied. "Oh, he's not dead," he said, "he's just hiding."

The audience roared and so did the woman. It was the show's biggest laugh, but Groucho ordered it edited out.

"If there's any doubt about offending someone, I don't take a chance," he said. "I never pick on people who are poor or underprivileged. But when I have a chief of police or an admiral, I can have fun with them. The public likes to see dignity deflated."

Mai Zetterling New 'Prize of Gold' Star

Mai Zetterling, who came from Sweden's Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts to follow in the illustrious footsteps of Greta Garbo, Ingrid Bergman, Signe Hasso and Marta Toren, turned down the Audrey Hepburn stage role in "Online" so that she might appear with Richard Widmark in Columbia Pictures' "A Prize of Gold," closing tonight at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre in color by Technicolor.

In the film, Miss Zetterling desperately tries to raise money to finance a group of war-orphan in her care, the strongest role of her career. Co-starring with Miss Zetterling in "A Prize of Gold" are Nigel Patrick, George Cole and Donald Wolfelt. The screen play was written by Robert Buckner and John Paxton from the novel by Max Catto. Irving Allen and Albert R. Broccoli produced the Warwick Production and Mark Robson directed.

After completing her role in Columbia Pictures' swiftly-paced action drama, "A Prize of Gold," Miss Zetterling made a hasty retreat to her Scandinavian-styled apartment in London's Kensington district to work out plans to film motion pictures in Denmark, Norway and Sweden. Miss Zetterling plans to film these productions independently.

"War Arrow"

Jeff Chandler, a cavalry major, is sent to a Texas garrison to put down a Kiowa Indian uprising.

Against the wishes of the fort's commander, Chandler enlists peaceful Seminoles to fight the Kiowas by promising them rifles, land grants and money. While training the Seminoles, Chandler falls in love with Maureen O'Hara, who has been living at the fort since her husband was reported missing on a scouting party ambushed by the warring redskins. Later Chandler and the Seminoles trail a Kiowa raiding party and learn that their leader is Maureen's husband, turned renegade, and about to lead an assault on the fort. When Chandler forms a rear-action counter-attack, the raid is repulsed and the renegade white man is slain. With victory over the Kiowas accomplished, Chandler departs, with Maureen at his side.

Walt Disney's New True-Life Adventure Picture, "The Vanishing Prairie"

Following on the heels of his recent Academy-Award-winning production, "The Living Desert," Walt Disney presents his second True-Life Adventure Feature, "The Vanishing Prairie," showing today for the last times at the air conditioned Belle Theatre in Belleville.

Set in the western plains which stretch from the Mississippi to the Rockies, from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border, the film searches out Nature's most engrossing secrets and brings to the screen a brilliant, rollicking account of wildlife in its most dramatic moments.

Quail, grouse, crane, hawk, owl and reptiles share screen honors with such personalities as the major and minor lords of the prairie domain.

Creatures such as the American buffalo and the elk are practically extinct now, being saved by the gigantic efforts of various wildlife conservation agencies who have established preserves and state parks.

Presented in Technicolor, the film ranges in emotion from the hilarious to the moment of breath-taking suspense as a devastating prairie fire threatens to engulf everything.

The entire drama took the camera crew of naturalists over two years in the field to gather suitable authentic material. More months in the studio followed as the film was carefully edited and narration inserted.

An unwise bridge bid may be impressive enough to leave its imprint on your brain. Some remember better if they know reasons for it. Listen, then, to why an overall in opponent suit.

of modern picture-making technique, is characteristically Disney. It presents a fascinating saga, set in a highly dramatic background. Composer Paul Smith, whose symphonic tone-poems in "The Living Desert," won plaudits, has highlighted "The Vanishing Prairie" with a musical score comparable only to the scope of the film itself.

In addition to Walt Disney's wonderful new film, today at the Belle Theatre are Walt's "Willie, The Operatic Whale," a cartoon novelty featuring the talents of Nelson Eddy, the Latest World News, "Rodeo Round Up," presenting the Calgary Stampede in color, and "Devil Take Us," a timely topic film of unusual interest.

When an opponent bids a suit it could be when your own hand holds length and strength in it. This would be silly time to tell partner your side should make it your own trump suit.

In its natural state, therefore, a defence bid in opponent suit is just about as useful as a sore thumb. Lazy bid is too good a name for it. Even indolent is almost a compliment.

Bridge scientists like to put lazy bids to work. This they do by injecting them with artificial meanings; conventions. This was what happened to the bid in an opponent suit.

There was no natural defensive bid low enough to describe the whopper defensive hand with a void suit. So, overall in opponent suit was put to work in that spot and is now a fixture there.

At first its use was confined to the first defensive man of the pair. But this was extended to the hand of partner of a player who had already indicated the kind of holding he has.

Typical is the east hand you see here:

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Many opportunities today for wholesome pleasure, social gatherings, some of which could be used for children's benefit, for old folks, the ill. Help them and you will be blessed.

You born today have an engaging, likeable personality; are devoted to family and family traditions, fond of learning and can do a thorough job at whatever you seriously undertake. You may have to curb restlessness lest it keep you "on the go" and thwart the fine success that can be yours if you persistently pursue your occupation, profession or vocation. You have diversified talents, can entertain and win others' respect and affection. Never give way to gloominess or other hampering traits. Birthdate James A. Whistler, famed artist; Sir William Blackstone, legal expert. (Copyright, 1955, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

'No Contest' Verdict Nearly Turns 'Rassling' Into Riot

(Sports Editor)

Coconut Willie, literally "drummed" a victory out of the hands of his Samoan Highness, Prince Malaiava and Lord Athol Layton at Memorial Arena last night.

The bluebloods from the South Sea Islands and Mayfair had the victory in their hands and the Canadian tag team championship in their grasp when "Willie," manager, confidante and drummer boy of the Prince, committed his faux pas.

As a result, the championship still rests with the wily, wicked Russkys, the Kalmikoff Brothers, Karol and Ivan, and the bout was dubbed "No Contest" by roly-poly Bert Maxwell, who assumed, besides various judo chops and kicks in the official push, the role of referee.

The foursome had split the decisions of the first two falls. Karol rendered Athol hors de combat in the opener with his Cossack Crush, while the Prince had made Ivanovitch yelp the Russian equivalent of "uncle" with his Samoan surfboard in the second flurry.

The Prince, whose ring antics would make a leaping grasshopper look like a sphinx, had the third fall well under way. As a matter of fact he had Karol strapped across his back and was administering the lethal "surfboard" while Layton stood outside the ropes visioning the championship. Then Willie hopped into the picture. He gave the Samoan version of "Yankee Doodle" on his skin-instrument and gaily leaped into the ring.

Referee Maxwell got out the book of rules, counted heads and decided that the Princeling's hired help was supernumerary. He immediately waved his arms like a baseball umpire giving the "safe" signal—and the war was on.

Layton roared into the ring like an angry bull. The Prince did a cross between a South Sea mambo, the Highland fling and a juiced-up Zulu executing a war dance. The crowd milled about the ring.

The angry procession started for the dressing room. The smug Russkys, beards curling in delight at the closeness of escape and the Prince strode happily along. Grim-faced Layton and the Prince were alongside waving fists.

In the dressing room laneway, Layton clobbered Karol. The Prince hopped in. Ivan, thinking discretion the better part of valor, hurriedly opened the dressing room door, dragged in his wobbly brother and slammed it shut. Infuriated, Layton and the Prince using their shoulders as battering rams, repeatedly charged the door.

It creaked and cracked and nearly crashed before the gentlemen put an end to the antics. Sammy Berg and George Scott put on an excellent exhibition in the semi-final, battling to a 30-minute draw in an outstanding performance.

In the opener, Sandy Scott gave Chico Perez, a crowd-baiting villainous type, his come-uppance after eighteen minutes of wild and woolly milling.

Report Does Not Enthuse Atomic Energy Chief

OTTAWA (CP)—W. J. Bennett, Canada's atomic energy chief, suggested Friday there may be some "eyewash" in reports of a productive uranium discovery near Bancroft, Ont.

The president of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. was commenting on an Akron, Ohio, dispatch Thursday night quoting Mrs. Dorothy Madigan as saying she and other persons made the discovery in an abandoned feldspar mine at Indian Lake, near Bon Echo.

She said samples of the ore were described by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission as the "second best assay they have found in the world so far." An assay is an analysis of ore to determine its contents.

"Bancroft is probably the greatest area to find fancy samples," said Mr. Bennett. "It has that peculiar pegmatite kind of geological formation. But that doesn't prove very much."

There are some uranium mines working in that area but you really have to get underground to find out what you've got."

Nuclear Attack May Mean Death To 'Millions'

9 WORLD-FAMOUS

the solemn warning against the perils of nuclear war "to the notice of all the powerful governments of the world."

The statement said: "In view of the fact that in any future war nuclear weapons will certainly be employed, and that such weapons threaten the continued existence of mankind, we urge the governments of the world to realize, and to acknowledge publicly, that their purposes cannot be achieved by a world war, and we urge them, consequently, to find peaceful means for settlement of all matters of dispute between them."

CHOICE FOR MANKIND

The Einstein-sponsored document asked: "Shall we choose continual progress in happiness, knowledge and wisdom or death because we cannot forget our quarrels?" "Here then," said the statement, "is the problem which we present to you, stark and dreadful, and inescapable—shall we put an end to the human race, or shall mankind renounce war?"

"People," said the document, "will not face this alternative because it is so difficult to abolish war."

"We appeal, as human beings, to human beings: remember you are human, and forget the rest. If you can do so, the way lies open to a new paradise; if you cannot, there lies before you the risk of universal death."

EXISTENCE IN DOUBT

Lord Russell, who was one of the signers, released the statement at a press conference. "We are speaking on this occasion not as members of this or that nation, continent or creed, but as human beings, members of the species man, whose continued existence is in doubt."

"The world is full of conflicts, and overshadowing all minor conflicts, the titanic struggle between communism and anti-communism."

Lord Russell, in issuing the statement, said:

"It makes clear that neither side can hope for victory in such a nuclear war and that there is a very real danger of the extermination of the human race by dust and rain from radioactive clouds."

Lord Russell made the document public just nine days before the leaders of the United States, Britain, Russia and France meet at Geneva to discuss ways of easing world tension in the H-bomb age.

REGRETTED HIS WORK

The dramatic statement, although prepared three months ago, had been withheld from publication until it could make a maximum impact on world opinion. Shortly before his death, Einstein made it known that he regretted his initiative toward the production of nuclear weapons.

Speaking during consideration of his departmental estimates in the Commons, he said the reduction in convictions in the United Kingdom in recent years has been due largely to the U.K. probation system. He did not see why the same results could not be obtained in Canada if the provinces, who have jurisdiction over their own jails, would agree to a uniform system. Ontario already had an excellent system of probation with 78 full-time probation officers.

Mr. Garson told J. M. Macdonnell (PC—Toronto-Greenwood), who brought up the subject, that a special committee of experts now is making an investigation of the whole matter. The government planned to lay its proposals before the provinces once the committee had reported.

Boy Released From Institution

OTTAWA (CP)—A 12-year-old boy, sent last year to St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary at Montreal for committing an assault on his grandmother, has been released, Justice Minister Garson told the Commons Friday night.

He said the lad, a bright youngster, had attended school regularly at the training institution attached to the penitentiary and had made fine progress. He was released into the hands of a charitable organization.

The report was given by the minister in reply to questions about the boy by Erhart Regier (CCF—Burnaby-Coquitlam) whose party aired the boy's case in the Commons last year.

Mr. Regier asked whether any progress had been made in appeals to provincial and municipal authorities not to send teenagers to penitentiaries.

Mr. Garson said some progress had been made. But the difficulty was that in some cases a penitentiary offered the only training facilities deemed necessary for such young lads. Until such facilities became available elsewhere, more cases of teenagers going to penitentiaries could be expected.

SEDUCED 70

SEOUL (AP)—Some 3,000 Koreans smashed windows and fought police for an hour Friday, trying to join into the trial of a young Korean who brags he seduced 70 women in 12 months. The trial was postponed indefinitely because of the riot. The defendant, 27-year-old Son, 25, is charged with seduction through false promises of marriage.

Little Benny's Notebook

I was talking to pop about different subjects, and I said, Hay pop, did you ever sail a boat?

No, but I've frequently wondered what I was doing on board one with a green face and a whirling stumstick while somebody else was sailing it, pop said, and I said, Well when I grow up, my first ambition is to buy a big sailing boat. I may even sail around the world in it with some friends, I I have any friends I like that much, I said.

Do you realize that's an expensive ambition? pop said, and I said, Yes sir, that's the only trouble with it.

There's nothing more frustrating than an unattainable ambition, pop said. You must find it very disappointing, just when you're dreaming you're the owner of a beautiful yacht, to wake up and see nothing but your baseball bat and hockey stick and other comparatively ordinary possessions.

G, that's what actually happens, I said, and pop said, Then I'll tell you a little psychological fact of life. If you resolutely give up an impossible ambition, the feeling of relief is practically as satisfying as realizing the ambition, he said.

Do you mean if I decide I don't want a yacht, I'll feel better instead of worse? I said, and pop said, That's a proven scientific fact. Then that's what I'll decide from now on, I said, and pop said, Congratulations on your philosophical understanding.

Yes sir, from now on my ambition is to be a passenger on the first space ship that goes to the moon, I said, and pop said, Yee gods.

Meaning the end of the subject.

SEES "ENDURABLE" PEACE

Alligator Seen In Lagoon

DETROIT (CP)—How do you go about capturing a three-foot alligator?

A score of policemen, reporters and photographers who have spent the last two days poking and padding through a swampy area in nearby Bloomfield township would like to know. They say it's too hot for such activities.

The search started Wednesday, after housewives decided to keep their children out of a nearby lagoon following reports that a large alligator had been seen swimming there. A news photographer, who didn't have his camera, reduced the alligator to a three-foot variety.

Einstein Took Too Long To Make Up Mind

NEW YORK (AP)—The Herald Tribune says Dr. Albert Einstein had a 50-50 chance of living if he had submitted to a surgeon's knife—but he took too long to make up his mind. Too long in this case was 24 hours.

The renowned physicist, according to The Herald Tribune, suffered from a ballooning of the abdominal aorta, called an aneurysm, caused by hardening of the arteries. The newspaper's account goes on:

When the condition was discovered by an exploratory operation 6½ years ago, medical science knew of no way to replace the blood cell section involved. The patient could only hope that the balloon would not blow out.

Since then French, English and American doctors have found a technique for cutting out the aneurysm and grafting a blood vessel taken from a dead person.

GIVES NEW CHANCE

The operative death rate has gone down to 20 per cent or less in some institutions and specialists are said to believe patients get a 30-year lease on life.

For five days before Einstein died last April 18 at the age of 76, specialists tried to convince him that he could be saved.

Then the aneurysm began to leak blood, meaning action was necessary within 24 hours. With this condition, the chances of success are 50-50, but a leaking aneurysm means inevitable death.

For some reason, Einstein took too long in deciding.

The Herald Tribune does not disclose the source of its information for the story.

Two 12-Year-Old Boys Arrested

TORONTO (CP)—Gardens, garages and sheds were checked by police Sunday in a search for firearms stolen from a valuable collection.

The weapons belonged to Charles Sile of suburban Scarborough and were stolen June 14 in a break-in of the Sile home.

Detectives arrested two 12-year-old boys Saturday. An automatic pistol and shotgun were found Saturday and at least seven others still are missing.

Police said they have the names of several teenagers believed in possession of the missing weapons. Some of the youths are at summer camps and officers think they may have some firearms with them.

PEARSON PLANS TO VISIT MOSCOW EARLY THIS FALL

Invited to Make Trip by Molotov

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson plans to visit Moscow this fall, he told the Commons today.

He made the announcement after opposition leader Drew and CCF leader Coldwell urged that he make such a trip.

Mr. Pearson was invited to Russia last month by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov during the 10th anniversary celebrations of the founding of the United Nations in San Francisco.

Mr. Pearson said it would not be possible to go to Russia this summer but that he has informed the Soviet embassy here that he plans to go in the autumn if a mutually-satisfactory time can be arranged.

Mr. Pearson's surprise statement grew out of a discussion initiated by Mr. Drew on the statement issued Saturday by nine prominent scientists, including the late Albert Einstein, on the dangers of nuclear war.

Mr. Pearson said the scientists' statement warrants the most careful consideration.

It drew attention in compelling terms to the fact that, if nuclear war is to be avoided, all war must be avoided.

It was to be hoped that the "summit" meeting of the Big Four could make some constructive accomplishments toward banning war.

As long as the world was divided by deep discord, the prospect of mutual nuclear destruction was one of the important deterrents to war.

But, Mr. Pearson added, some more stable and enduring basis for respect for curtains, iron or otherwise. There must be a co-ordinated study of the problem regardless of the Iron Curtain.

He first started his collection as a hobby in 1940 when he was forced to retire from farming, due to a tractor accident.

Former POW's Blame Youth, Stupidity and Propaganda

By FORREST EDWARDS
HONG KONG (AP)—Three former American soldiers who changed their minds about living under Chinese communism prepared for a midnight sailing tonight for home.

The three men—William A. Cowart, 23, of Dalton, Ga.; Otto G. Bell, 24, of Hillsboro, Miss.; and Lewis W. Griggs, 22, of Jacksonville, Tex.—said they expect to be prosecuted but are ready to face the consequences in order to tell the world the truth.

Life with the Reds was "hell," they all agreed.

Captured in Korea, they and 20 other Americans refused repatriation. Four months ago, Cowart said, the trio and two Belgian deserters began demanding that the Reds let them go. The Chinese announced in June that all five would be released.

The Americans crossed the border into Hong Kong territory Sunday afternoon. British immigration officials turned them over to U.S. consular authorities, who said they expected to have retained their U.S. citizenship. The authorities prepared travel documents permitting their direct return to the United States.

Denies Charges of Monopoly In Sugar Market

VANCOUVER (CP)—Charges of a working agreement among Manitoba sugar manufacturers were described here Saturday as "entirely unfounded" by a director of the Manitoba Sugar Co.

The denial was made by A. M. Robertson, vice-president and secretary of the B.C. Sugar Refining Co. Ltd., who was named this week as a director of the Manitoba company.

The charges were made in the House of Commons Friday by C. J. Lester, M.P., who said the Manitoba sugar business, and urged an inquiry by Justice Minister Garson.

"I certainly don't know of any combine," said Mr. Robertson. "If one company drops its price the others pretty well have to follow. The charge is entirely unfounded."

Mr. Robertson, who returned from Winnipeg the day the charges were made, would not say whether the B.C. company has taken over control of the Manitoba plant, but admitted "we have bought a very substantial interest."

FIREMEN, POLICE BREAK UP RIOT IN ARGENTINA

Uneasy Church-State Truce Badly Jarred

By SAM SUMMERLIN

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's uneasy church-state truce was jarred Sunday as police and firemen routed Roman Catholic rioters staging their second anti-Pope demonstration in 24 hours.

The riot landed 13 policemen and firemen in hospitals and brought condemnation of the demonstrators from Santiago Cardinal Copello, archbishop of Buenos Aires who has urged a peaceful course in the dispute.

Sixty persons were arrested but many were released after questioning.

In the first violence since the bloody June 16 revolt against President Juan Peron, more than 500 demonstrators milled through the Plaza de Mayo near the Metropolitan cathedral. Police trying to disperse the crowd were stoned.

JEERED POLICE, PERON

Defying church appeals for peace and Peron's own call for "pacification," the demonstrators jeered police and shouted "He must go!" in apparent reference to the president.

One man screamed at police: "Why didn't you come when they were burning the churches?"

Firemen quickly moved in, spraying the rioters with chemical foam and brown-tinted water as police wagons rushed to the square.

Most of the crowd fled from the plaza, but some gathered a few blocks away and marched toward the Naval Club building, singing the national anthem. Four fire trucks moved up to scatter the marchers again with water sprays.

Police loudspeakers warned more defiance would be dealt with strongly.

HASTILY REMOVE DYNAMITE

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—An Argentine refugee gave President Peron of Argentina's former interior minister, Angel Borlenghi, a few nervous moments Sunday.

Borlenghi was holding a press conference when the refugee placed a stick of dynamite, inside a wrapped package, in front of him "as a memento and as a warning."

Police hastily removed the dynamite and the refugee, who was identified as a member of the Socialist party to which Borlenghi once belonged.

Borlenghi told reporters that ill health and not political pressure caused him to quit and get out of Argentina shortly after the June revolt.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Koch, lost track of the children among the crowd about 75-100 yards from shore at Marquette Park here.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Using an ingenious new blood-saving tool, surgeons at University of Maryland Hospital here have relieved a man of a deadly condition in which the body's main artery balloons next to the heart like a defective inner tube.

Dr. R. Adams Cowley, who performed the rare operation, reported today the patient was discharged from the hospital two weeks later.

Fighters Battle Forest Fires In Three Provinces

One Blaze Within 2 Miles Of Town of Gravenhurst

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Firefighters today battled forest fires covering thousands of rain-starved acres in Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia.

In Ontario, a major outbreak was being fought in the Muskoka area and in the Blind River region, 130 miles northeast of Sault Ste. Marie.

A forest fire was stopped by 500 firefighters and fire-breaks only half a mile short of the Quebec Hydro town of Labrieville, 250 miles northeast of Quebec City.

A blaze 15 miles north of Baie Comeau, Que., destroyed at least 30 square miles of black spruce.

Two barns and some machinery were lost in a Nova Scotia blaze on the outskirts of Amherst.

In Ontario, the biggest bush fire in the Gravenhurst area of Muskoka in 20 years was out of control early today, and had crept within two miles of Gravenhurst's southern outskirts.

HEAT AN ENEMY

Westerners predict the wind will rise again today with possible gusts of 20 m. p. h.

"With the wind against it it's a pretty tough proposition trying to hold it back," Mr. Flynn said. "We're having difficulties getting volunteers. A man can get beat out pretty quick fighting a fire in heat like it's been all these days."

Civil defence and lands and forests officials Sunday considered consideration of fire-fighters under the emergency powers. A loudspeaker cruiser patrolled vacation-thronged streets calling for volunteers but only 25 answered and officials said few of them spent much time at the fire.

"I understand forest officials would have no hesitation in making a compulsory conscription if they thought they needed it," Mr. Flynn said. "But we do feel that we will get better response from volunteers than forced men. We can't afford a bunch of unwilling soldiers, messing matters up out there."

HARD TO REACH

Big trouble for the fire-fighters is the inaccessibility of the fire, which can be reached only by water. The only boat available is a 12-foot launch dinged with space for seven men.

Five more pumps and 10,000 feet of hose are being taken in from North Bay today.

Ed Davis, 19, on leave from the RCAF station, Aylmer, was cut on the face Sunday by a high pressure hose.

Police Capt. John Ripollé said today.

Mr. and Mrs. James Davis reported the kidnapping Sunday night while her parents watched television in another room, police said today.

GRAVENHURST (CP)—A forest fire, described by foresters as "baffling, dangerous and unpredictable," Sunday night sent fire-fighters into retreat as it crept to within two miles of this town of 3,500 persons.

For four days and nights crews of 60 have battled to hold the fire, which officials say "creeps through ground moss and leaps bare ridges of solid rock."

Between 600 and 900 acres of bushland have been covered by the flames, Mel Flynn, chief of the Gravenhurst civil defence system, said today. Mr. Flynn was evacuated from the fire early Sunday after suffering burns to face and arms.

Sunday's 15 m. p. h. winds from the northwest sent the fire racing at more than 100 feet an hour over a front two miles wide, Mr. Flynn said. During the night the wind dropped and fighters held the advance.

Accused Man Arrested By Mimico Police

Fast police work during the week-end resulted in the arrest at Mimico, Saturday, of a man wanted by city police here for breaking and entering.

Arrested by Mimico police, acting on a tip from headquarters here, was Kenneth McNeil, 34 Bridge St. East.

McNeil was held in Mimico until an escort arrived from Belleville to take him back to face charges. He was brought back by Constables J. Kent and T. Schneider.

McNeil was reported wanted for break-ins Friday night at the Superior Cleaners on North Front Street, and College Motors, Moira St. East.

Elsewhere on the beat: Police were kept on the go over the week-end with a rash of minor accidents and disturbances. Little damage arose out of the accidents.

Few motorists have had a policeman on the scene of an accident as fast as Bruce Fleming, 5 Beavell St.

Fleming bumped the rear of an automobile on Front Street last night and within seconds was speaking to P.C. Elmer Minaker. The reason: The car he knocked was a police cruiser. Damage to the department's automobile was light.

Police early this morning were called to the premises of the Belleville Metal and Waste Company on Church Street, where someone had forced an entry over the week-end. Investigations are afoot.

Elsewhere, provincial police had six minor accidents on their hands. Damage in all cases was less than $100.

Toronto Boy Being Returned To His Home

A 13-year-old Toronto boy today is being returned to his home from here after he had been missing since Thursday.

The boy, Peter Ward Hieman, was picked up on the Canniford Road by city police Sunday. When found he was in a dazed condition and was uncertain of his home address.

Taken to headquarters he fell asleep while being questioned by officers. A hurried message to Toronto police sparked investigations there and eventually the boy's parents were contacted.

The lad was given in care of county jail warden Robert Scott and placed in the juvenile detention room in the warden's house until arrangements were made for his return home.

Supervisor Warns All Housewives Against Impostors

Mrs. J. A. Buchanan, supervisor of the Belleville Red Cross Home Makers Service, said today that it has been brought to her attention that a number of women in the city are posing as home makers and are collecting fees from unsuspecting citizens.

Mrs. Buchanan requests that all people desirous of securing the services of a Red Cross home maker get in touch with her at her home, 172 Dufferin Avenue, where the proper arrangements will be made.

She said that all bona fide home makers wear an official uniform with badges, and report to the various households on receipt of her instructions.

"On one occasion," Mrs. Buchanan said, "one of the impostors," refused to hang out washing stating that Mrs. Buchanan did not approve of doing such work."

"Instances of impostors have occurred several times this year," she said.

Nineteen Orange Lodges Join At Frankford to Celebrate 12th

With spirited fife and drum Orangermen from South Hastings and Northumberland, Saturday, piped the spirit of King Billy through another Glorious Twelfth in Frankford.

Some nineteen lodges rallied beneath their banners in brilliant sunshiny day to give a grand and splendid a plethora of speeches from prominent Orangermen carrying the centuries-old battle cries that started 265 years ago on the banks of Ireland's Boyne.

In particular they heard A. Armstrong, Toronto, editor of The Sentinel, condemn the government's immigration policy as being influenced by Quebec Roman Catholics and warn that that province's Catholics are scheming to take control of Canada by the end of the century.

The parade started out from the town's Tourist Park shortly after 1:30 p.m., to wind its way through sun-washed streets. Led by the town band it was controlled by parade marshals Earl Blakely and Wesley Elliott, of the Frankford Lodge.

Immediately behind the marching band came the traditional white steeds, came county marshals Percy Downs, clad in the regalia of the lodge and bearing his sword of office. Then, interspersed with piped fife and drum, came the various lodges.

The town itself signified the event in the usual fashion, while over the bridges across the Trent Canal and Trent River banners bearing the words "Welcome," and the familiar "No Surrender" stirred in the occasional breeze.

It took over an hour for the parade to run its course and return to the Tourist Park. Awaiting their return, veterans of the order, and those unable to take part in the procession sat, sprawled or stood around in the shade of automobiles and refreshment stalls set up by the local LOBA. Younger children took advantage of the nearby Trent River for a quick cool-off before the parade returned.

POLICY SCORED

Back at base once more the visiting residents lodges mingled in groups, while the various bands relaxed after their drumming of the parade by rallying off in various parts of the park.

Then, directed by W. H. Rose, the speaking got under way. First main speaker was Mr. Armstrong.

He scored the government's immigration policy, regarding the quota of British immigrants admitted to this country.

In Ontario House in London, England, last year, Mr. Armstrong said he had been told there were 27,000 British people ready to come to Canada with their families if given encouragement and transport.

He said if he were given three months and power to charter steamers he would pack them "to the funnels" with British people, prepared to come to Canada.

"We see boats chartered to bring Polish and Italian immigrants and every other race to Canada but never the British," he said.

He recalled that some time ago Immigration Minister Pickersgill refused to give figures of the number of Roman Catholic immigrants as not being in the public interest.

In his immigration policy the government is "obeying the whip from Quebec," he said.

"They (Quebec's Roman Catholics) have a great design that ultimately to have the world for the Catholics will be in the majority and by the end of the century the French Roman Catholics will be in control of this country."

He also warned "our position in the Empire is very precarious at the moment," and that "snip by snip" the government is cutting Canada away from the Empire.

Although the British people are not as powerful as before, "because they had stood on the bridge to save the world for mankind in the world wars . . . they are the conscience of the civilized world today and it won't be very long before the old land, old Britain will be as strong again as she was."

Other speakers included Elmer Sandrock, MLA, West Hastings, who congratulated Frankford Lodge on its turn of duty and preparations for the parade. Referring to Mr. Armstrong's remarks he said: "It is true; every word he said, and a lot of the things he had said I had in my mind to say."

ASSEMBLY WELCOMED

Dave McConnell, master of Frankford Lodge, welcomed the assembly and thanked them for taking part in the parade, while a civic welcome was accorded by Reeve George Montgomery. Other speakers were J. Bentley, Belleville, county master, H. C. Secker, Stirling; Fred Bateman, past Grand Master, Ontario East; Grand Robertson, Ottawa, present; Grand Master, Ontario East; Rev. C. E. Clarke, Frankford United Church; Ernie Tilton, past Grand Master, Ontario East.

Lodges taking part were: Frankford LOD 240; Frankford JOL 56; Trenton LOBA 604; Trenton JOL 168; Trenton LOL 206; Allisonville LOD 176; Tyendinaga LIS 285; Tyendinaga Mohavay LOD 92; Shannonville LOL 242; Welcome LOBA 1230; Point Anne LOL 2599; Belleville Benjamin LOL 274; Belleville Benefit JOL 231; Belleville LOBA 350; Belleville LOL 233; Foxboro LOL 3; Canniford LOL 2320; Flinton LOL 907; Brighton LOL 186.

Tomorrow, July 12th, lodges of Centre and North Hastings will parade at Madoc.

Sailing Race In Upper Bay Much Enjoyed

Eight keel boats and a single Y-flyer participated in Sunday's sailing race in the upper bay over a six-mile course.

George Haggis in "Pauv'ie" finished first on corrected time to top the keel boat class. He finished in an elapsed time of 1:24:59 to beat his handicap by 31.21.

Freeman Burrows, in "Viking," finished second on corrected time. His elapsed time of 1:26:52 was 27.38 ahead of his handicap.

Other boats in order of finish on corrected time, with elapsed time in brackets, were: Windward II, sailed by Jack Sills, (1:24:40); Rutta II, sailed by Jim Jenkins, (1:15:00); Windrift I, sailed by George Graham, (1:22:48); Halcyon, sailed by Harold Seldon, (1:20:50); Cygnets, sailed by Elwood Wickerson, (1:18:02); and Nalad, sailed by Frank Foley, (1:23:59).

Kenneth Ross, in his Y-flyer, sailed the course in an elapsed time of 1:16:00.

Haggis' win was all the more surprising in view of the fact that a member of the crew jumped overboard to rescue a foresail and the boat had to put about during the race to pick him up.

The course lay from George Graham's dock to a point just southeast of Nigger Island, to the Redfernville dock and back to Graham's.

Following the race Mr. and Mrs. Graham entertained the crews of the boats at a buffet luncheon.

The committee boat was manned by Frank Leach and J. G. Caldwell.

Bowling News

Everything is in readiness for the C.L. Hyde and Son mixed doubles tournament to be played at the local greens on Wednesday afternoon. The draw will be two draws with the first set of bowlers getting away at 1:30 p.m. and from that time till midnight it will be a mad scramble for the several valuable prizes that have been donated along with the trophy for the winners. An entry list of over 48 rinks from the district is expected and Percy Graham, chairman of the tournament committee has scoured the various clubs. Wednesday afternoon being a holiday for most places should allow the bowlers to get here in plenty of time.

Three Belleville rinks, Bruce Miller, L. E. McLean and Walter Elliott, John Smith, Gordon Watkins and Austin Watkins and Jack Davidson, Jack Johnstone and Claude D. Tice, journeyed to Trenton on Saturday for the Benedict - Proctor tournament. There were twenty rinks in the two draws, drawn from Campbellford, Brighton, Kingston, Belleville and Trenton. The greens were keen and fast and some excellent bowling was witnessed. The Trenton club as usual proved to be outstanding hosts and all the bowlers reported a good time. The rink skipped by Walter Elliott won the one-game high score, while the other winners were: three-game high, P. A. Tilton of Kingston, Lloyd Smith of Kingston and Webb Kingston of Campbellford. The two-game high winner was Jim Duncan and his rink from Kingston.

On Tuesday night, the doubles game of the season will be played at the local greens when Bruce Miller and Gordon Watkins, in Gordon Edwards and Jerry Hyde for the right to represent the club at the district play-downs at Trenton on Friday afternoon. It is likely that Gordon Edwards, James Harnan and A. E. Wonnacott will represent the club in the rinks competition, Ernie Jones in the singles and Greg Davis and Bruce Miller in the junior doubles. The winners in this competition move into the zone finals to be played in Oshawa, the latter part of the month.

2,000 Applaud First Program Of Stratford Music Festival

(By ROBERT TANNER)

With close to 2,000 people a night filling the theatre tent organizers of the Stratford Music Festival must have had many quibbles on the question of whether they could find yet another thousand to fill their newly-concocted concert hall.

However, if the opening night last Saturday is anything to go by, this junior festival appears to be set to follow the successful lead of its elder brother.

On the hottest night of the year so far, under conditions of ventilation which were not improved by the closing of doors and windows during the broadcast portion of the concert, the Hart House orchestra conducted by Dr. Boyd Neel, the Festival Chorus, directed by Elmer Iseler, and a quartet of Canadian soloists headed by Toronto.

Marshall presented a well-chosen program in praise of music and its patron, Saint Cecilia. Canadian composition was represented by a specially commissioned "Song of Welcome" by Healey Willan to words by Nathaniel Benson, of Toronto.

ROSE TO HEIGHTS

Owing to the climatic conditions it is doubtful whether any of the performers were able to give of their very best. Of the soloists, only Lois Marshall seemed able to rise to the heights, as she did in Bach's Cantata No. 51. But, in spite of this, the general effect of the first half of the program, most of which employed the concerted efforts of orchestra, chorus and soloists, was one of very great credit on all concerned.

Some of this promise was, in fact, fulfilled during the second half of the concert when first Mrs. Mary Frances Bindley, 97 Catharine Street, died at home, on Saturday, July 9th, after having been in ill health for some time. She was in her 78th year.

The deceased was born in England, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. Burrows, and lived in Toronto prior to taking up residence in Belleville two years ago.

Quinte Players Will Present 'Angel Street'

Dull, nineteenth-century gaslight may well result in a theatrical highlight of the year here, when Quinte Players present "Angel Street" next week.

A favorite of theatre audiences and a classic of its kind, "Angel Street," by Patrick Hamilton, is the second presentation of the group's summer theatre season. Set in gaslit London, late in the last century, the play unfolds the story of a woman tormented by fear of insanity, her pitiful husband whose background is cloaked in mystery and the attempts of an old detective to find the culprit of a 15-year-old murder.

New sets for the production will be designed by Philippa Faulkner.

Playing lead roles will be Vera Thompson, making her return to the Belleville stage as the terrified wife, while opposite her will be Syl Quinn as the husband, Nicky Thomas will appear as the housekeeper of the strange household while Doris Chippis will be the maid. Playing the retired police inspector will be Harry Muhal.

Another aspect of this music festival was inaugurated on Sunday when the concert hall again filled nearly to capacity for the first of a series of recitals of sacred music presented by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews. In these four concerts eight well-known church and synagogue choirs from Toronto, Windsor and Kingston take part in programs drawn up to include representative music of the various denominations.

Sunday's concert was given by the choir of St. Simon the Apostle and St. John Evangelical Lutheran church, both of Toronto. While neither group could be expected to approach the perfection of the Festival Chorus, both sang well indeed and together produced a most attractive hour and a half of music.

Altogether, Stratford is becoming more and more a very pleasant place to visit these fine summer days.

wards and Jerry Hyde, who won their two-game high at the tournament played at Peterborough last Wednesday afternoon. This is one of the biggest tournaments in the eastern part of the Province and some of the best doubles pairs from all sections of the Province take a crack at the prize list. Winning at Peterborough only proves that the local club has bowlers that can compete with any in the Province.

On Thursday afternoon, the women's section of the club held their weekly party and Mrs. Hazel Boyle, Mrs. Grace Clapp, and Mrs. George Watkins were high. Mrs. Helen Buchanan, Miss Winnie Smith and Mrs. Blanche O'Connor were second with Mrs. Ruby Bulford, Mrs. Millie Smith and Mrs. Edith Jackman in third position. The winners at bridge were Mrs. C. R. Clapp, Mrs. D. L. Storey, Mrs. H. Elvidge, Mrs. E. Wootton and Mrs. M. McDougall. The hostesses for the afternoon tea which concluded the afternoon party were Mrs. C. R. Clapp, Mrs. George A. TORONTO (CP) — The stock market moved confidently ahead in early afternoon trading today after an uncertain start.

Industrials and base metals led the upward movement but price changes were relatively small and rarely exceeded a point.

Sherritt Gordon posted the biggest individual gain in an advancing base metal group. It shot ahead $1.10 to a high of $9.90 on 25,000 shares. Noranda, International Nickel and Golden Mantou showed smaller gains among other senior issues.

Watson's led most industrials to higher ground, moving up $2. Canadian Dredge advanced $1.25 to $19.75 and Aluminum gained $1.50.

Alum climbed 1 1/2 among lead-int uranium but gains balanced by losses among other senior issues.

Bank of Montreal, Bank of Nova Scotia and Bank of Toronto were also up.

Swims Two Miles With Wrists Handcuffed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Strong man Jack Lallane of Oakland, Calif., Sunday swam two miles from a point off Alcatraz island prison to the San Francisco shore with his wrists handcuffed to his ankles.

The warden of Alcatraz still insists, however, that no prisoner could make it through the cold currents.

As he scrambled dripping to shore, Lallane said:

"I'm not tired at all—just cold. I could have gone farther."

He did 30 pushups to prove it.

Lallane, a physical culture proponent, used a modified sidestroke with a strong scissors leg kick. At each downward thrust of his manacled arms, his head was well submerged.

FROM A BOAT

Lallane started from a boat, since warden Paul J. Madigan of Alcatraz federal prison had refused him permission to leave from the steep shore of the rocky island.

Madigan said the feat, performed at the end of an eight-mile swim, did not shake his conviction that Alcatraz is virtually escape proof for swimming prisoners.

"He must be in very fine physical condition," the warden commented. "But I'm not worried about any prisoner who's been here a year or two doing it. The water is too cold—and the current's too swift."

Chinese Reds Assemble Fleet

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — An official Nationalist Chinese news agency said today the Chinese Communists are concentrating a naval fleet off the Chusan islands, southeast of Shanghai.

Taipei agency charged also that Soviet Russia turned over 30 more MIG 15 fighters to North Korea in June, increasing the number there to 350.

The agency said 12 light destroyers, a 7,000-ton supply ship, about 50 gunboats, some landing ships and other assorted Communist craft had assembled at the Chusan of 77 and Aluminum gained $1.50.

Alum climbed 1 1/2 among lead-int uranium but gains balanced by losses among other senior issues.

British Papers Comment on View Of 9 Scientists

LONDON (Reuters) — British newspapers took a long, searching look during the week-end at the "scientists' declaration" that hydrogen bombs might put an end to the human race, and splashed their conclusions in today's editions.

The declaration was signed by nine eminent scientists, including the late Dr. Albert Einstein. It was disclosed by British philosopher Lord (Bertrand) Russell, one of the signers, at a press conference Saturday.

The declaration said that wars must be banned, and warned of the disastrous consequences of future H-bomb warfare.

The newspapers, almost as one, acknowledged the importance of the declaration. Many noted that the problems which it raised must be faced by the Big Four leaders at next week's Geneva conference.

MAKING RESERVATIONS

But while many sections of the press rallied to the support of the declaration, they made significant reservations.

The influential Times of London said that the manifesto deserves respect, but added:

"We cannot be renounced while policies which bring wars about go unrenounced, and powers seek to impose their will by force or by threat."

"Dreadful weapons are made ready to deter others from using them—if only as instruments of blackmail. Self-defence cannot be renounced."

The Manchester Guardian said the scientists' appeal deserves wide support, but submitted that the existence of Western bombs has contributed to making the Russian government more cautious and conciliatory. The Guardian continued:

"The appeal should not be read as implying that the Western powers would accept Communist rule rather than risk universal death."

Rolling Village Visits Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal and a rolling village inspected each other during the weekend as more than 200 persons in a trailer caravan arrived for a brief visit.

Saturday morning, 94 trailers set up camp on St. Helen's island to enjoy a breather from their continental meanderings. The group, known as Wally Byam's Caravan, is made up chiefly of retired men from all walks of life.

The group includes doctors, lawyers, real estate men, electricians, plumbers, professors—and a retired law officer. Most of the members are from California and Florida although there are some mid-west and Canadian representatives.

Wally Byam, a trailer manufacturer, dreamed up the idea and now the group, which has numbered 1,300 on one jaunt, tours the continent like a tribe of motorized nomads.

Child Suffers Fractured Skull In Heavy Fall

TRENTON. — Two Ontario Provincial Police cruisers and an ambulance brought an injured three-year-old boy to hospital in Trenton today.

Arthur Edward Pybus, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pybus, Niagara Falls, Ont., suffered a fractured skull when he fell outside the family cottage near Trenton.

Officials at the Hospital for Sick Children said early today the boy's condition was satisfactory.

A doctor in Trenton advised he be sent to Toronto and a police car took Arthur and his parents to Port Hope where they were transferred to a waiting ambulance.

The ambulance broke down near Toronto and the three continued the trip in another O.P.P. car.

Michigan 'Gator Causes Concern

PONTIAC, Mich. (CP) — The alligator first "shot" with a pogo by five-year-old Danny Singleton nearly two weeks ago has residents of the lake country southwest of Pontiac worried.

No one believed Danny when he told his mother he saw an alligator, but soon afterwards grownups reported seeing something that looked like one in Lower Long Lake.

The stories grew livelier as the weather got hotter.

Today, even with the heat wave abating, they're still searching. Reports on the size of the "gator vary from three to seven feet.

During the weekend an alligator named Agnes was brought in from Canada in an attempt to lure the phantom "gator out of the reedy lake waters. "Tuffy" Truesdell, of Sarnia, who calls himself "the world's greatest alligator wrestler," staked Agnes to the bank and waited. But nothing happened.

The latest on the alligator was a report that a pair of small glaucous orbs was seen cruising at dusk on Island lake, adjacent to Lower Long Lake.

Truesdell said he was the moonlight reflected from the critter's eyes. He said, "It's a sight that once you see, you'll never forget."

A bullfrog chorus only a few days ago croaked in crescendo. Now the chorus is missing. The chorus gave way to ominous "thrashing" sounds in the lake, a lake resident reported.

BRITISH TO TRY CLIMBS

KATMANDU, Nepal (Reuters) — The Nepal government announced Saturday it has given a British expedition permission to try to climb 29,386-foot Mt. Annapurna and 23,079-foot Mt. Saipal this fall.

An Italian team topped Mt. Annapurna last year, but all three members of the expedition died in the effort.

FROG CHORUS MISSING

Nehru Repeats His Optimistic View About Talks

CAIRO (Reuters) — Jawaharlal Nehru expressed further optimism about world peace prospects and the success of the Geneva Big Four meeting when he arrived here today for a 24-hour visit to Egypt.

The Indian prime minister, leading intermediary between East and West, said there was anticipation of the summit parley on both sides of the Iron Curtain and the conference that begins a week from today might produce a new atmosphere in international affairs.

"I think leaders in Russia, the United Kingdom and elsewhere should share the people's desire for peace," he asserted. "But they are cautious because of the difficulties they face."

EXPRESSIONS OF CONFIDENCE

Nehru will stay overnight at the stately Kubla palace of ex-king Farouk. He leaves Tuesday for India at the end of a tour that has taken him to Moscow, Warsaw, Belgrade, Rome and London.

After two days of talks with Premier Eden, Nehru said Sunday night in London that he was confident the Geneva meeting would produce "certain steps in the direction of peaceful settlement of disputes."

He conveyed the same feeling of optimism during a brief stopover in Dusseldorf, West Germany, where he said the great powers were closer to agreement on disarmament than ever before.

His Car Purrs, Finds Kitten Beneath Hood

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — When Jack O. Jones of Greensboro arrived here Sunday after an 180-mile drive from Conway, S.C., he remarked that his motor purred like a kitten.

Then he looked under the hood and discovered a furry kitten. Jones said it must have hopped aboard at Conway where a family of cats slept under the car. The kitten was unharmed.

SALT FROM THE SEA

A slab of salt harvested from the sea is held by a workman at Araure, Venezuela. Having no domestic salt deposits, Venezuela developed a method of mining the ocean for the basic commodity. Ocean water is drained into low flats below the level of the sea, and salt precipitates to the bottom as the water evaporates. Workers break up the crystallized layers of salt, two to three inches thick, with their feet and float them ashore in barges to dry in the sun.

Three Memorials To Canadians Are Unveiled

YPRES, Belgium (Reuters) — Three memorials to Canadians who fell in the bitter fighting around Ypres during the First World War were dedicated at a ceremony here Sunday night.

More than 200 persons, including Charles Horbert, Canadian ambassador to Belgium, attended the service in St. George's Memorial church, which is dedicated to the thousands of British and Commonwealth soldiers who were killed here.

A group of nine Canadian First World War veterans who came here from Canada especially for the ceremonies were present along with the Venerable Archbishop of Ottawa, Cardinal C. H. H. O'Connell, Very Rev. A. T. A. Naylor and Rev. Canon Wilker.

The main memorial is a modern healing system for the church, donated from funds raised by the National Council of Veterans Associations in Canada, to replace the old heating system which was damaged in the Second World War.

BRONZE PLAQUES

Two bronze plaques, one in honor of Canadian machine-gunners who died in the defence of Ypres, and the other bearing a maple leaf marking the gift of the new heating system, were also dedicated.

A group of 34 members of the Kingston Canadian Veterans' Association from London also attended. Sunday night the veterans marched to the city gate where the last post was sounded.

Roy Paine, 66-year-old veteran from Vancouver, who served with the Royal Canadian Field Artillery here, said the veterans had been over old battlefields and the Vimy ridge memorial and cemeteries around the Ypres salient.

"All the cemeteries are beautifully kept and we owe this to the Canadian war graves commission," he said.

QUIET MIRACLES

There would appear to be little drama in an empty hospital bed.

The tense, hushed silence of an operating theatre, the deliberate speed of an emergency department, or the subdued gaiety of a maternity ward all seem to be more dramatic than an empty hospital bed.

But the empty hospital bed is mute witness to concluded drama. The hospital bed which has never been filled is the monument to preventive medicine.

Dr. R. D. Defries, 66, retired two weeks ago from the directorship of the School of Hygiene, University of Toronto. On September 30th he will retire from the directorship of the Connaught Medical Research Laboratories. He held both posts for 15 years.

Public health specialists are not medicine's glamor boys. They do not restore sanity by removing brain tumors nor do they juggle blood vessels to give new life to "blue babies." But they do have their moments.

The procession of outstretched arms that have been inoculated with diphtheria and tetanus toxoid may seem endless and monotonous but diphtheria is no longer a scourge and tetanus no longer strangles children's muscles until they die exhausted and gasping for life. Hospital beds and coffins are empty because of toxoids and vaccines.

Mass chest X-ray surveys, in front of X-ray machines, are less spectacular than an afternoon at the beach. As drama, holding one's breath for a few seconds is anti-climatic. But thousands owe their lives to chest X-rays and hospital sheets, that would have been shrouds for tubercular patients, have never covered a TB sufferer.

Pasteurization of milk is a process that leaves no mark, or stain or odor in milk to tell the public it is safe to drink. Legislation enforced by public health authorities guards the public health without their awareness of it.

The Salk polio vaccine, latest medical wonder, is the most recent triumph of preventive medicine.

Dr. Defries, whose retirement is crowned by the splendid and steadily improving health record of the province he served so well, had a great deal to do with the success of the Salk vaccine. The medium on which polio virus was grown so that it could be studied, and later processed for vaccine, was developed by the Connaught Medical Research Laboratories which Dr. Defries directed.

Preventive medicine is a dynamic. Diseases already subdued but wages relentless warfare against ailments and afflictions that currently rage unchecked.

Preventive medicine has its monuments among the empty beds in every hospital ward. Dr. Defries has been a valiant champion of preventive medicine's drive to empty every possible hospital bed in the province. His administrative ability and scientific aggressiveness personify the dedicated determination of those workers of quiet miracles in the field of public health and preventive medicine.

TRUCK NUISANCE

The truck nuisance is an old story—but it gains strength with the telling.

There was a time when the main complaint against trucks used to be the noise they made.

Some improvement may have been made by the automotive engineers in the design of truck engines and mufflers—but there are more trucks on the road and more of them are finding their way off the main highways onto residential streets, so that the noise nuisance has not been abated.

To this nuisance has been added a new one, and possibly a more serious one.

The increased use of diesel engines in large trucks has brought a new aroma to the countryside. Where houses are few and far between, and where they stand well back from the road, this may not be of major importance. But on crowded city streets, especially on hills where a succession of heavily-laden diesel trucks labor up the grade, a most disagreeable smell hangs in the air.

This is not only annoying to passers-by and doubly annoying to those whose homes border the highway, but it may be actually dangerous to health.

Recent research into the possible causes of cancer has been followed by suggestions that air pollution may be a factor, and that such fumes as those emitted by diesel engines may be particularly dangerous.

Surely the engineering brains which can devise cars that can skim over the road at high speed, that can shift gears for themselves, that can assist the driver to apply brakes or to steer, can devise some method of reducing the amount of fumes from a diesel engine, or at least some method of making them less nauseating?

WRONG TURN

Judge M. D. Elston of Louisville, Kentucky, will pay the fine of a woman taxi driver who made an illegal left turn.

The most it can cost him in cash is $5. It is too little for the judge's offence. He instructed the taxi driver to make the illegal turn because he was in a hurry to get to traffic court, where he presides.

In other words he ordered his taxi driver to break the law and the reason why he ordered the law broken is exactly the same reason which prompts most of the offenders who appear before him—the urge to hurry.

A traffic court judge ought to know better than that!

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

JULY 11th, 1935

Miss Aletha Chapman, teacher on the staff of Windsor public schools, is spending her vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chapman, Victoria Ave.

Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Gibson are spending a vacation in the Province of Quebec.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Baker and small son, Dickie, of Flint, Mich., are guests of Mrs. Baker's aunt, Mrs. T. S. Brenton, Alexander St.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fisher and young son, Stanley, of Oshawa, are guests of Mrs. Fisher's mother, Mrs. S. Modeland, at her summer cottage at Roblin Lake, Prince Edward County.

Mr. Harry E. Green of the Canadian Department Stores staff here, has returned to the city after spending a vacation of two weeks at Port Bolster, Lake Simcoe.

Canada's next Governor General, who as John Buchan, sat in the British House of Commons for some years, has been elevated to the Peerage and as Lord Tweedsmuir was introduced into the House of Lords yesterday.

Mr. Jerry O'Connor and son Jack are visiting friends in Lindsay.

Dr. Lily B. Mathieson, of Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. Farrell, Green Street.

Miss Gertrude Nightingale, of Rome, N.Y., formerly of this city, is the guest of Mrs. Anderson, Trent Road.

Mr. Thomas Ryan, who resides with his niece, Mrs. J. P. Clavagh, West Main Street, celebrated the 85th anniversary of his birth yesterday, and received the congratulations of many friends. He enjoys good health; he has never required glasses and reads a great deal and takes a keen interest in civic affairs.

Recent research into the possible causes of cancer has been followed by suggestions that air pollution may be a factor, and that such fumes as those emitted by diesel engines may be particularly dangerous.

Surely the engineering brains which can devise cars that can skim over the road at high speed, that can shift gears for themselves, that can assist the driver to apply brakes or to steer, can devise some method of reducing the amount of fumes from a diesel engine, or at least some method of making them less nauseating?

A traffic court judge ought to know better than that!

The increased use of diesel engines in large trucks has brought a new aroma to the countryside. Where houses are few and far between, and where they stand well back from the road, this may not be of major importance. But on crowded city streets, especially on hills where a succession of heavily-laden diesel trucks labor up the grade, a most disagreeable smell hangs in the air.

This is not only annoying to passers-by and doubly annoying to those whose homes border the highway, but it may be actually dangerous to health.

40 YEARS AGO

JULY 11th, 1915

The Lehigh Portland Cement Company's plant at Point Anne will soon be ready to operate mill No. 5.

Up to date there have been 243 dogs registered in this city; last year the total registration was 395 dogs. Evidently there are many dogs hiding under the back stoops and the police are out to find them and trace their owners.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abraham, formerly of this city, have returned to Montreal after visiting relatives here.

Mr. James Hudgins' class of young men in Holloway Street Methodist Church Sunday School held an ice cream social on the church lawn last evening. The grounds were nicely decorated and lighted and over three hundred persons were in attendance. The affair was most enjoyable and successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fisher and young son, Stanley, of Oshawa, are guests of Mrs. Fisher's mother, Mrs. S. Modeland, at her summer cottage at Roblin Lake, Prince Edward County.

Mr. Harry E. Green of the Canadian Department Stores staff here, has returned to the city after spending a vacation of two weeks at Port Bolster, Lake Simcoe.

Canada's next Governor General, who as John Buchan, sat in the British House of Commons for some years, has been elevated to the Peerage and as Lord Tweedsmuir was introduced into the House of Lords yesterday.

Mr. Jerry O'Connor and son Jack are visiting friends in Lindsay.

Dr. Lily B. Mathieson, of Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. Farrell, Green Street.

Miss Gertrude Nightingale, of Rome, N.Y., formerly of this city, is the guest of Mrs. Anderson, Trent Road.

Mr. Thomas Ryan, who resides with his niece, Mrs. J. P. Clavagh, West Main Street, celebrated the 85th anniversary of his birth yesterday, and received the congratulations of many friends. He enjoys good health; he has never required glasses and reads a great deal and takes a keen interest in civic affairs.

Curious Facts About Camels

(International Science Press Service)

The camel does not store water in its hump. How, then, does it survive for days without water? We know its strength and endurance are remarkable. It can carry a 500-lb. load 25 miles a day for three days without drinking. For this reason, this oldest of domesticated animals is particularly prized in desert regions. The camel is tough. It eats thorny bitter melons which other animals would find unpalatable and does not object to brackish water.

Though the camel has been the subject of popular curiosity for centuries, the scientific investigation of this fascinating beast has long been neglected. Recently, a group of scientists have begun to take a closer look at the "ship of the desert." And though the project is not yet complete, it has already yielded many interesting findings.

LITTLE PERSPIRATION
The researchers, who have spent almost a year in the Sahara desert, report that the camel does not store water in its hump, nor in any other special structure. It is stingy with the water it consumes. One of the animals under study went for 17 days on nothing but dried dates and hay. During this period it was kept in the sun where the temperature often rose to more than 100 degrees Fahrenheit.

The scientists headed by Dr. R. N. Schmidt-Nielsen of the United States, learned that the camel's heat regulating mechanism is different from that of most animals. It does not begin to perspire until its body temperature has gone up considerably, and even then so only at a negligible rate thus saving precious water. In human beings and animals, perspiration is a vital function, since the evaporation of moisture from the skin cools the body and keeps the internal temperature from rising beyond the safe limits. The camel apparently can dispose of this type of "refrigeration." It can stand increases in body temperature of as much as 11 degrees Fahrenheit, a rise that would be fatal to man.

In another remarkable display, a camel which had gone for 12 days without water drank almost 20 gallons when confronted with an unlimited supply.

STUPID ANIMAL
As subjects for scientific study, the camel proved co-operative. Expert opinion seems to be that the animals are docile through stupidity, not because they become friendly or really tamed. They readily submitted to various research procedures, such as weighing means of a huge scale and chemical analysis. Scientific interests in the camel stems largely from possible applications of the knowledge obtained to human medicine, particularly in respect to heat regulation and the function of the kidneys in controlling the body's fluids. Also, by studying animals such as the camel, we learn to understand the many ways by which Nature enables its creatures to adapt to a variety of adverse conditions.

In Defence Of Fat Folk

(David Brock in The Victorian Times)

A week or two ago there was a news item from Manchester about a buxom Englishwoman of 47 who was told she could not enter Canada as an immigrant, until she got her weight down from 178 pounds to 164. She is 5 feet 7 inches tall, and a woman of that height who weighs 178 is considered unhealthy and therefore a bad risk as a citizen. Now, I am all for excluding persons who are apt to bring various diseases into the country, to the peril of myself or of their own children. Similarly, I am not especially eager to have Canada importing new chums from the immigration wharf to a mental hospital or a home for incurables. But as for mere weight and its probable consequences, I am by no means certain.

I hope we are not going to exclude fat chefs and fat landlords. If we breed a race of emaciated chefs and innkeepers, we are going to increase the bad health of their victims, that's what. It will be the worst day in the history of the Minister of Health to a department with some bad days behind it and some bad days ahead of it, civilization and progress being the sickly stuff they are. And there are a lot of other fat people we should welcome besides those who feed us.

Whenever I die, because of being too thin, there will flash through the worn channels of my brain a million thoughts. And not least of these will be my sorrow at never having been able to ask the late G. K. Chesterton if he considered himself a bad and useless citizen for being fat. And in my mind, perhaps I can ask him in heaven. And together we can ask the same question of the enormous shade of Dr. Samuel Johnson, who can now look alone at one of the hugest ghosts in the whole place, the titanic and spherical shadow of Thomas Aquinas—Thomas, who was one of the most useful citizens in his time, and who was so grotesquely fat that he could not reach a straight-sided altar with a bay or harbor let into it, like the U-shaped slips made for round immigration boats. How he and an immigration officer, would enjoy chatting with each other! It would surprise each other a lot.

Thus on any clear night when we stand upon a hill and view the heavens above us, we can behold few or many of these sudden flames of stone pencilled on the screen, though as harmless as if they were but the blossoms of some fiery flowers."

Levi, among other little "courtiers," bought 600 pounds of smoked sausage and distributed the delicacy to friends of his who worked for the government. It was a coincidence, apparently, that Levi had to do with buying headwear for the government.

But, Levi hastened to assure the senators, the smoked sausage wasn't a gift. It was just some "gift" food. A "gift" food, Levi said seriously, "is something you wear." It isn't a bribe unless you can put it on!

Somewhere Levi was missing the freshest of notes. For several years there have been people in Washington stylishly clad in free trips to $10 to $20 bills, hams, cuts of meat, and four percent commissions on government contracts, and free apartments, plane trips and liquor.

Some people like the things Levi was offering and more than Levi been minting money making milk-milk coats.

Most Emigrants Go to Australia

LONDON (Reuters) — Canada's popularity with British emigrants fell off sharply in the first quarter of 1955, figures published in the Board of Trade Journal indicated.

Canada received only 3,900 British emigrants—3,000 fewer than in the same period the year before, and 1,800 fewer than in the first quarter of 1953.

Most emigrants, 10,200, went to Australia, registering a 16-per-cent increase over the same period of 1954.

Figures for other Commonwealth countries, with the 1954 figure in brackets: New Zealand, 3,100 (1,500); South Africa, 1,300 (1,400). A total of 2,600 Britons went to the United States.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

The Jamboree Scouts were given a workout recently. A week-end scheme planned to train them for the big event in August.

The camp chief was D.S.M. Ken Moore, assisted by A.D.E. Don Allan and Scouts Bill Taylor, Norman Gerow and Gerald Putman.

Scouts who attended were: Larry Gerow, Richard Fuke, Glenn Stewart, Dale Burley, Alex Goodman, Richard Clarke, Lowell York, John Plumptre, Fred Furdmidge and Troop Leader Richard Rowbotham.

Miss Betty Smith, Mr. Ralph Plumptre, Mr. C. Moore and S.M. Ron Lane were the volunteer car drivers for the party. They left the Scouts' Parish House at 7:30 a.m. Saturday, and at Foxboro, the Scouts, each completely self-contained and packing his own equipment, hiked the remaining two miles to the camp site.

On arrival, they set up camp, built a camp fire and had their bedtime. The mosquitoes also had their jamboree, but a few million mosquitoes couldn't stem the enthusiasm of the boys.

Sunday dawned, and at 7:30 a.m. outdoor signalling was practiced using the Semaphore code. Morning prayers at 9:30 a.m. P.T. workout and estimation practice for the next hour. Later, the mighty Moira claimed their attention for swimming.

After luncheon, a lashing and pioneering project, building a Chippewa camp table using rope and poles only. This was followed by a pack race, signalling relay practice, swimming practice, watermelon feed, clean up and break camp.

PACK RACE PRIZE
Scout Fred Furdmidge won first prize in the pack race finishing in 20 minutes; Larry Gerow came second in 43 minutes, and Richard Fuke third in 57 minutes. They had to follow a rough trail for two miles, carrying a 25-lb. pack. The prize was one Coke.

S.M. Ralph Knowlton, of the 1st Avondale Pack, visited the camp on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Betty Smith provided candy which was enjoyed at the camp fire.

Comments by the camp chief stated that "the Jamboree Scouts are shaping up very well in their training, but there is a long way to go yet."

The Scouting spirit was exceptionally high on this scheme.

Bermuda Shorts Getting Good Sales in All Exclusive Shops

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Time was when summer's harbinger was the sudden return of the straw hat to the head of man.

Today, no matter how one feels on the subject, the harbinger is the sudden shocking glimpse of bare male knees on the golf course, in the backyard and even on Fifth Avenue.

Leading haberdashers, custom tailors, fashion-plates and rugged individualists inform us that from here in we can expect to see more and more business and professional men looking for all the world like fugitive boy scouts.

At the moment, one of the most exclusive, expensive and fashionable men's shops in New York is selling as many pairs of bobbed-legged pants (called variously Bermuda shorts, walking shorts or walk shorts) as slacks.

DRAW LESS NOTICE NOW
Last year some brave or exhibitionist males started wearing walk shorts on the city's asphalt. They drew stares, comment and assorted whistles. This year the volume of attention is reduced.

One of Los Angeles' most conservative golf clubs, which bans shorts for men and slacks, pedal pushers and shorts for women currently is studying a proposal to relax its ban to permit long shorts.

RAWDON
Salem Church, on Shannonville charge, is being given a special clean-up of all debris and the church grounds where the church stood will be turned back to the original owner.

Century church on Bayville charge, was granted permission to tear down their dining hall and church shed at the rear of the church.

College Hill church of the Belleville suburban charge, has received a gift of $1,000 and permission was granted to purchase a lot 100 feet deep and a 60-foot frontage.

TO BORROW $2,000
Ameliasburg pastoral charge asked permission to borrow up to $2,000 on a new parsonage building.

At the second session, the Rev. R. W. T. Middleton offered prayer. Appreciation and good wishes were expressed by the Rev. E. J. Kersey, Plainfield, who is leaving for a charge in Toronto East Presbytery.

The Rev. Kenneth J. Crawford, who has served as secretary of the Belleville Presbytery for a few years, was deeply thanked for all his work in this department.

NEW SECRETARY
The Rev. Stephen Spurrell, of Bloomfield, was duly elected secretary of Belleville Presbytery, with his duties to commence July 1st, 1955. Each charge is asked to have their lay roll up to date and to keep the new secretary properly informed.

INDUCTION SERVICES
The Presbytery induction and reception services are as follows: The Rev. R. A. Rowley conducted a service of welcome for the student, Mr. R. J. McCrae at Cannifton United Church on Friday evening.

The Rev. George Murray conducted the induction service of the Rev. Roy Speer at Odessa United Church on Friday evening.

The Rev. H. M. Davis was in charge of the induction of the Rev. T. Hogerwaard at Melrose United Church on Tuesday evening, June 30, for Shannonville pastoral charge.

The Rev. A. F. Binnington and Rev. C. W. Neelands will be in charge of the induction of the Rev. David J. Harris at Bath United Church on Thursday evening, July 14th.

The Rev. J. F. Lane was in charge of the induction of the Rev. Stanley E. Snowden at Bancroft United Church on Thursday, June 30th.

A communication from Mr. J. Hark of the Consecration pastoral charge, applying to be received as a candidate for the ministry was forwarded to the colleges and students' committee.

A vote of appreciation was extended to the chairman, the Rev. G. J. Minelly for his year's work. The ministers were all welcomed into their new charges and the Rev. K. J. Crawford completed his duties as secretary on Tuesday, June 28th.

HE HAS TO LOOK HIS VERY BEST

Springbrook
The Springbrook Women's Institute met recently at the home of Mrs. G. Campney, with an attendance of 39.

Mrs. Charles Gordanier, president, was in charge of the meeting. Plans were made to hold the annual picnic early in August at Mrs. W. J. Barlow's cottage, Grove Lake.

"Sandwiches for all Occasions" was chosen as the short course to be held for one afternoon with neighboring branches to be invited.

After the business period was completed, five of the older and long standing members, Mrs. Thomas Webb, Mrs. L. Munby, Mrs. A. P. Williams, Mrs. W. S. Stiles and Mrs. Jason Baker, were given seats of honor and presented with corsages. The secretary, Mrs. W. J. Barlow, made the presentation of the Life membership certificates and Medals of Merit.

Mrs. Fred McKeown was in charge of the program. A fine reading of the motto, "Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you," was given by Mrs. George Mumby.

The roll call was well answered with "Why I like to live in Canada". Mrs. Clarence McKeown gave a splendid talk on the topic "My Duty as a Citizen".

Mrs. Cyril McKeown gave a humorous reading. This was followed with a "Cloth" contest, conducted by Mrs. F. McKeown. Refreshments, including ice cream and lunch committee and a social time was enjoyed.

CLAREMONT, Ont. (CP)—A bolt of lightning killed 19 sheep and a horse Saturday as they stood under a tree to escape a scorching sun. The animals were owned by Arthur Derusha who farms near this community about 30 miles northeast of Toronto.

How to Entertain Red Ambassador His Big Worry
CALGARY (CP)—The friendly westerner figures he can't just say "hello, plunk a white cowboy hat on the Soviet ambassador's head and leave it at that."

But he asks, "how in blazes do you entertain an ambassador?" The ambassador, Dmitri Chukhin, and Nikolai Ostrovsky, a member of the embassy secretariat in Ottawa, arrived Sunday to attend the Calgary Stampede.

Their schedule is free. They are travelling unofficially and no diplomatic or civic receptions have been planned. All of which leaves their host up something of a tree.

INVITATION ACCEPTED
The Calgary businessman, who asked to receive an anonymous, was in Toronto in June for the Queen's Plate race. He met the Russian ambassador at a private dinner party.

He urged Mr. Chukhin to attend the stampede, the wild west show that all true Canadians boast in their travels through the land. The ambassador expressed interest. So, when he and his wife returned to Calgary, the businessman sent off an invitation for two to Mr. Chukhin.

"I just about passed out when he wrote back to accept," the nervous host said Friday night.

AFRICANS LEAD MANCHESTER, Eng. (Reuters)

Bushel as Unit of Measure May Go Way of the Horse
By LAWRENCE ELDRED
CHICAGO (AP)—Just maybe the bushel as a unit of measure may go the way of the horse. At least it will if important leaders in the U. S. grain industry have anything to say about it.

Seems there's a drive on now to switch over to measuring grain and similar products in 100-pound units instead of bushels. Proponents claim the changeover could save millions of dollars by eliminating conversion calisthenics.

Here's an example of what they mean: Farmer Brown takes a truckload of grain to the local elevator and is quoted the current price on a bushel basis.

But his loaded truck is weighed in pounds, emptied and weighed again. The difference is the net weight of the grain. This is divided by a fixed ratio of pounds per bushel, depending on the kind of grain. The result is multiplied by the price per bushel to find out how much Brown gets.

COST IN MILLIONS
Says Earl M. Ellis, general manager of Hales and Hunter Co., a Chicago feed manufacturing firm, "the extra time and labor in converting bushels to hundredweight and back again, in marketing grain off the farm and until its final use, annually costs the government, grain exchanges, mills and feed mixers millions of dollars."

"These unnecessary costs of marketing are, of course, finally borne by either the producer or the consumer, or both."

Bushel troubles go deeper than that, though, Ellis emphasizes. Supporting farmer Brown is selling oats. Standard weight is 32 pounds a bushel. Yet, heavier varieties commonly weigh 37 to 42 pounds a bushel. The differential on millions of bushels is stupendous.

On the west coast, trading of grain and feedstuffs by the hundredweight has been in effect for many years.

H. C. Eagles, assistant general manager of the Poultry Producers of Central California, notes that grain firms in California who report to midwest and eastern offices must convert their figures from hundredweight to bushels.

TIME WASTED
In addition to the conversions themselves, Eagles says it is necessary to carry on an elaborate system of checking. He added: "We would conservatively estimate that if the entire nation were to go on a strictly hundredweight basis, approximately one-half to two-thirds the time would be saved and auditing and other clerical work, tied to the U.S."

The three also pleaded youth, stupidity and the appeal of clever Communist propaganda. "A child decided not to go home—a man decided to go home," said Cowart, who earlier had been reported anxious to return to Japan rather than to the United States.

Cowart generally was the spokesman for the trio.

"I had communism placed before me," he declared, "but never accepted communism. I decided not to come home because of fear of political persecution, but I'm not afraid of that any more. I would sooner have Hitler come back than

The Rev. C. E. Clarke, pastor of the church, officiated. The bride looked radiant in a white lace gown and silk illusion veil, with a nosegay of red roses. The bride's attendant, Miss Beverly Patrick, wore a open blue lace gown and carried a nosegay of yellow carnations.

For the wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Wasaga Beach, the bride chose a red tulle dress with white accessories and a nosegay of white carnations. Guests attended from Belleville, Toronto, Batavia, Trenton, Frankford, and Carrying Place. The young couple will take up residence in Frankford.

JONES-BAILEY

A lovely wedding was solemnized in the Frankford United church on Saturday, July 2, 1955, when Helen Ruth, daughter of Mr. James Bailey of Frankford, and the late Harry Bailey, was united in marriage to Arnold Robert Jones, son of Mrs. James Hay of Wooler, and the late Vernon Jones. The Rev. Charles Clarke, pastor of the church, officiated.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. G. S. Martin and Mrs. Walter Morrow, soloist, sang "O Promise Me" before the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You," during the signing of the register. The church was tastefully decorated with baskets of roses, delphiniums, white and red lilies, gillardsia and baby's breath. Guest pews were marked with white bows and lily-of-the-valley.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Kenneth Lawrence, of Frankford, the bride was charming in a ballerina-length dress of tiered nylon net over strapless tulle with a nylon lace bodice and matching lace jacket with long, pointed sleeves and roll collar with mother of pearl and rhinestones. She wore a matching headpiece of cascading nylon net bordered with lace and carried a nosegay bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was an heirloom bracelet of pearls and rhinestones.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Jack Marshall (nee Donna Brinklow) looked lovely in a ballerina-length dress of nylon net over blue tulle with matching mitts and headpiece. She carried a nosegay bouquet of pink roses.

The flower girl, Judy Lawrence, cousin of the bride, was demure in a dress of pink nylon, with matching hat and a nosegay of pink roses and yellow 'mums.

The bridegroom was attended by Jack Bailey, of Oshawa, brother of the bride. The ushers were Messrs. Charles Jones of London, and Jack Marshall of Trenton.

For the reception, held in the bride's home the bride's mother chose a dress of navy blue with navy and white tulle with white and red carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue flowered nylon dress with white accessories and a nosegay of pink roses.

The home was attractively decorated with pink and white streamers and pink balls. The bride's table had a bouquet of yellow and red roses and the other tables bouquets were of snapdragons.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose a navy dress with white accessories and a nosegay of deep pink roses, and a green and white check topcoat.

Over 100 guests attended from Santa, London, Toronto, Bowmanville, Bancroft, Madoc, Norwood, Napanee, Belleville, Wood, Trenton, Picton and Frankford.

Following their honeymoon in the United States and Western Ontario, the couple will reside in Frankford.

WRIGHTMAN-NEWELL
Havelock United church was replete with baskets of summer blooms on Wednesday, July 6, when the Rev. G. R. Newman officiated at a pretty wedding ceremony when Audrey Vivian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Newell, Havelock, R.R. 3, became the bride of Francis Albert Wrightman son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Wrightman, Stirling, R.R. 3.

Miss Shirley Ann Bennett presided at appropriate wedding music. The soloist Mr. Fred Bennett, sang "I Love You Truly" previous to the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer," during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a radiant picture in a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace and pleated net over satin fashioned with crinoline skirt and fitted bodice. Her veil of illusion was caught with a headpiece of seed pearls in coronet shape and fell into a slight train. She carried a white Bible crested with Sweetheart roses arranged in medallion style with satin streamers.

Miss Joan Graham was maid of honor in a floor length gown of yellow lace and net over tulle with matching headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of coral gladioli.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church hall. The bride's mother received her guests in a gown of navy blue with white accessories and a nosegay of Sweetheart roses. She

Young Women Of The Bible Topic at W.I.

The regular meeting of the Quinte Women's Institute took the form of a pot-luck supper at the Front Road church hall on Tuesday evening.

Members and families and friends met at seven o'clock and found their places at the long tables which were well-filled with good things.

Later, the president, Mrs. C. Reid, opened the meeting.

The next meeting on August 10, will take the form of a picnic at the summer cottage at Frankford of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sanderoock.

Mrs. J. Parrott took charge of the program. This was the girls' meeting and they helped wonderfully to make the evening a success.

The Quinte Garden club girls sang their own song, "We are Happy Gardeners", which was much enjoyed also a cute little number, "When You Were a Sun-burn".

The club girls, Lola Emerson, June Reid, Elizabeth Craig, Donna McCormack were assisted by Barbara Howard, Mabel Craig and Geraldine Toms.

Joan Clazie and Jane Thomson each favored with piano solos, and also with a duet.

Mrs. J. Parrott joined with Donna Robinson and also with Joan Clazie in duets. Mabel Craig delighted all with a solo "Bless This House", and June Reid and Geraldine Toms sang together "So Let the Sunshine in".

GUEST SPEAKER

The guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. John Craig who gave an interesting address on the progress of some of the girls showing what they have accomplished in different lines of endeavor.

After mentioning the loyalty and goodness of a few women in the Bible, Mrs. Craig spoke of the greatness of such women as Florence Nightingale, Elizabeth Blackwell, Jane Addams and Helen Keller.

This was an outstanding talk and was inspiring to all who heard it. Mrs. Parrott thanked all and closed the meeting.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. C. Mitchell, Mrs. Geddes Bradshaw, Mrs. C. Grass and Mrs. F. E. Roluf.

was assisted by the bridegroom's mother wearing a gown of royal blue crepe, white accessories and corsage of Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Wrightman chose for travelling to Toronto, Algonquin Park, and other points, a navy crepe ensemble with delphinium blue accessories and a corsage of Tallman roses.

On their return they will reside in the Mount Pleasant community, Stirling R.R. 3.

The bride has taught at the Allan school in Rawdon township for the past two years.

158 Boys, Girls Attend DVBS At Christ Church

The closing session of the Vacation Bible School at Christ Church was held on Friday morning with a record attendance of 158 boys and girls. Following the procession to the church, the children and their leaders posed for pictures on the lawn.

The Rev. W. J. Robinson of St. Thomas' church, was in charge of the service in the church and told a story of the missionaries and the Little Helpers.

During the week, The Venerable Archdeacon J. B. Creegan has taken charge of the service and his stories included the "Baptismal service," "The Wise Men," and the story of "Joel and Dorcas." Mr. J. C. Withers accompanied the singing and played for the processional and recessional.

HANDICRAFTS

Handicrafts included models of the Holy Family which the children painted, coloring projects and scrap-books which will be given to the hospital children's ward and to children in India.

Outdoor games were enjoyed each day and a happy break when cookies were served. As a special treat on Friday everyone enjoyed ice cream.

Beautifully illustrated stories were told on Monday by Mrs. Laura Fisher, who told of Jesus and the little children; Tuesday, the story of the vision of the Shepherds at Christ's Birth, by Joan Watkin; Wednesday, the story of Jesus' Journey to Jerusalem on Palm Sunday" by Mrs. Earl Hickey; Thursday The Little Girl who tried hard to please Jesus, by Marilyn Elliot.

BANNER CARRIERS
Banner carriers included: Joan Sherry, Karen Boley, Stephen Findall, Richard Cherry, Linda Cooke, Maribeth Clarke, Jeffrey Roulet, David McCormick, Arthur Martin, Ronald Rushnell, Cathy Mossman, Marlene Crawford, Heather Mills, Brenda Law and Gerald Bull.

Those who read the Scripture lessons were: Barton Durrant, Jacqueline Bull, Neil Miles, Dorothy Adams, Jim Fisher, Bill Gibson and Joyce White.

In addition to the more than 20 leaders mentioned earlier, who worked with the children each day there were a number of behind-the-scenes helpers who gave much time preparing programs for each day's program.

Some of these include Helen McCormick, Catherine Roulet, Diane Settle, Carol Bongard, Gertrude Button, and Hazel Bateman.

At the close of Friday's session, each child was given a souvenir hat with its attendance marked with pretty stickers and a book of the various stories which had been learned during the week. It was a week well-spent and one which both children and those who helped found most rewarding.

Mrs. Bongard and Mrs. Blaker wish to thank all those who helped in any way to make the school so successful.

HIGH GUN WINS

MISSIONARY'S HEROISM TOLD BY PEG WRITER

Anna Gaudin, right, a former Methodist missionary, lived and died in her church's service without fame. Recognition comes now, 16 years after her death, in the form of a book written by Mrs. Nan Shipley, above left, a Winnipeg author. In her book, "Anna and the Indians," Mrs. Shipley tells of the 39 years Mrs. Gaudin, a nurse, and her doctor husband spent in the wilds of northern Manitoba, travelling incredible distances by foot and dog team to bring medical assistance to the Cree Indians.

WHAT SHOULD I DO ABOUT

THE TORONTO-DOMINION BANK

THE BEST IN BANKING SERVICE

A. J. WOLFENDEN, Manager

selecting the best type of bank account?

You can choose from several kinds of bank accounts at the Toronto-Dominion and it is important to open the type of account that you will find most useful to you. If you wish to save money, for example, and don't intend to pay too many bills by cheque a Savings Account will probably be best for you. On the other hand, if you like to pay everything by cheque, a Current Account is excellent because a complete monthly statement is given to you each month along with your cancelled cheques. Nearly all businesses use Current Accounts and so do a lot of private individuals. There are Joint Accounts and Household Accounts as well. All of them have been designed to fill a specific need... and if you drop in at any branch of the Toronto-Dominion you will find our staff anxious to help you, and they won't expect you to know all the various types of accounts... they're there to help you.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

THIS IS NOT YOUR BUSINESS, RUTH

Dear Miss Fairfax:
Over three years ago, a friend of mine died and her husband has since married again.

He has not yet put a tombstone on her grave, although he can well afford it. Also, my friend had some money coming to her, and after she died her husband got the money.

Don't you think it would look nice if he would take part of that money and get her a tombstone? I just think if he was the man he should be, he would buy one and, besides, it would stop people from talking about this matter as they are doing now.

What do you think? — Ruth K. Dear Ruth:

Frankly, I can't see that this is any of your business. It is natural for you to wish to have your friend's memory treated with respect by her husband, and I agree that it would seem very appropriate if he were to use the money that was intended for his wife for the purpose you specify.

However, since there is nothing at all that you can or should do about it, why not help to silence the gossips by refusing to discuss it? At least you can do that.

A LITTLE INDEPENDENCE IS NEEDED HERE

Dear Miss Fairfax:
I am a girl 16, and have been going with a boy 18, for four months. He doesn't like the idea of when I go out with other boys. But I'm not supposed to get mad when he goes out with other girls.

My parents get mad at me, and we have fights about this boy, but I like him very much and would hate to lose him to another girl.

How can I be sure he likes me as much as I like him? He used to call me up every night, but now he only calls me up once or twice a week. Could it be that we were seeing too much of each other? — M.H.

Dear M.H.:
If you stop to think, I am sure you will realize that if this boy liked you as much as you like him, he would be just as eager to be with you as you are to be with him.

When a boy who used to call a girl up every night stops doing that, and calls up much less often, she had better be honest with herself and admit that it doesn't look as though he had quite the same interest in her.

If this chap goes out with other girls, why shouldn't you claim the same right and go out with other boys whether he likes it or not? Are you going to let him be your boss, and do exactly what he says, while he does as he pleases? My advice to you is to show a little independence and have other dates. If your boy friend doesn't like it, refuse to quarrel with him about it. Just tell him pleasantly and quietly that you feel you have the same right as he does to go out with others, and then say no more about it.

No matter how much you like him and would hate to lose him, if he can't be reasonable you're better off without him. If this is what you are disagreeing with your parents about, they're right and you're wrong.

BEAUTY

BOY MEETS GIRL

It would seem as if the average small boy liked to be dirty. Walking in mud puddles is one of his favorite diversions. He rebels against washing his hands, and shows a deep affection for his old, dirtiest clothes. Getting him dressed for Sunday school is an ordeal for his mother. He looks up at her as a sort of punishment. He has to be dragged to the barber shop for a hair cut. For he has so much "important business" of his own that he hates to spare the time.

Then, along about ten or eleven years of age, he may suddenly discover that there are girls in the world. Perhaps some pretty, designing young gawker makes eyes at him. He is flattered. He falls in love. And, all of a sudden, comes a surprising change in his attitude toward his appearance. He develops an over-powering desire to look handsome. This emotion is so strong that he may amiably agree to have his neck and ears washed without becoming suspicious of the barber. His mother may even find him gazing thoughtfully in a mirror at times. But, if she is wise, she will not notice these strange antics. She will prefer not to see them.

Selecting the items of his wardrobe becomes a major production at this period. Whereas before he had not cared, now everything must be "just so". A shopping trip with him will send his mother into a state of mild collapse and drive the attending clerk half out of her mind.

The boy, anxious to impress his Sweetheart, is almost pathetic in his effort to look attractive. How early in life does man fall under the spell of women!

TURTLE WAR MAY PROVE PROFITABLE

Exercising a turtle instead of a dog may be just the thing for hot days when you are supposed to take things slowly. But in Mitchell, Ont., where Barbara Curtis and Marjorie Homuth have doted up their turtle with a ribbon, the animals have become a marketable commodity. Roscoe Mullenix, a florist, captures them by the dozen, and intends to transport them south of the border, where they are regarded as a delicacy. Main reason for the sudden interest in removing turtles is that they have ruined fishing in the area.

Salad Days

Guest column for Mary Moore by Agnes M. Anderson

Dear Mary: Here I am again—for the last time this summer unless you invite me back. I'm still on the salad theme: Another favorite salad dish of mine involves lettuce, onion, celery, green pepper, green peas (try them ray for a change), hard-boiled egg and lots of tinned salmon, mixed with mayonnaise and for garnish, ripe olives.

And then there's the salad a young Hungarian friend of mine makes. She uses cooked vegetables—carrots, peas, corn, string beans, potatoes and of all things, sweet gherkins. It's the dressing which delights me—she makes a thin white sauce and when it's cooked and chilled, she adds an equal quantity of sour cream. Poured over the vegetables, it makes a very "soupy" salad, and one with an exciting taste. With this salad, my friend serves open-face sandwiches made of very thin dark rye bread and Hungarian sausage and a sort of delicious Hungarian ham which is cured with paprika.

My family likes apples (unpeeled), combined with walnuts in the lettuce-onion-celery foundation. Often, I tell you, I use silver slivers and add paper-thin slices of orange: on one memorable occasion, I added extra garlic sweet boiled dressing and the result, surprisingly, was most successful. You must dare to mix boldly, add a generous pinch of imagination and be prepared for anything. I often add cubes of Canadian cheddar or thin triangles sliced from wedges of Swiss cheese; shavings of raw cauliflower, mushroom or asparagus; carrot curls and all the leftovers—cooked vegetables, cold meat and fruit.

I've got a quick and easy French dressing you might like to know about. In a big jar, put a can of tomato soup, 1-2 cup vinegar, 1-2 cup blend oil, 1-4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and a teaspoon each of salt, paprika, and dry mustard. Mix and shake well. I also add a corn of garlic. If you're timid, leave it in the dressing for only an hour. If you have stronger Latin tastes, leave it in longer. That's all. It's delicious dressing and it goes well with any tossed salad.

Comes now the ritual of "tossing." Only your own good taste can tell you whether to use a boiled dressing, mayonnaise or French dressing and I'm usually ready with all three, to decide which, after the salad has assembled itself. Having made the momentous decision, dressing is added sparingly and the salad is tossed with spoon and fork, gently, until every particle is lightly coated, and this just seconds before the salad is served in the old butter bowl. (If I prepare the salad in advance, it stays crisp in the refrigerator until just before serving time when the dressing is added. Add the dressing too soon and your salad gets very sad and soggy indeed.)

One last thought, Mary, and I'll go. This is a salad garnish for any

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

HOW TO WELCOME A NEWCOMER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A friend of mine who lives here is planning to give a tea next month for a friend of hers who was married recently and then came here to live. (Formerly they both lived in the same city and now will be together here. I would love to go to this tea, but I am hesitant to assume any social obligations about entertaining this newcomer, because my husband and I are living in "temporary quarters" that are so cramped that entertaining here is absolutely impossible. Just what would my obligation be, in case I do accept this invitation? — M.B.

Please let me urge you to go to the tea and so show your kind welcome to this new comer. Then later, whenever convenient for you make any gesture of welcoming a new friend. Don't be held back by the fact that for the time being you aren't able to entertain in your own home. How about inviting the hostess and her friend to have luncheon or tea with you at some attractive place you know about? Or invite them to the movies with you some afternoon and have tea afterward? Some such simple gesture is all that is needed to show your hospitable inclination.

SHARING EXPENSES OF MOTOR TRIPS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Not too long ago we bought our first car, and so we have had very little experience in being able to invite friends (or relatives) to drive with us. I guess we just took it for granted that these people we would invite would share the expense of a trip—just as we shared the expenses when friends or relatives invited us before we had our car. But this hasn't been the case in our three invitations. We've had to pay all the expenses of a trip: gasoline, garage or parking expenses. We can't afford this, and so now we are faced with the decision as to inviting friends. Are salad plate. I fill green peppers with processed Canadian cheese which has been mixed with mayonnaise and lots of walnuts. Chill until firm, slice thin and use for decoration. Good for hors d'oeuvres, too!

Thanks for having me in your corner, Mary. Come back soon, just bursting with ideas!—Andy.

Thanks Andy, you are one grand gal, who will never grow out of her salad days.

we in the wrong about our way of doing? — Reader

There are some people who, like you and your husband, charmingly, graciously, generously take it for granted that they always should contribute their share to any occasion. If they are invited on a motor trip they see to it that they share the expenses, perhaps not the actual car expenses, but they invite the car-holders to their guests at luncheon or dinner. They just don't sit back and accept everything. Then there are other people who take a k e and a k e and take; with nary a thought to make a gesture of contribution of any kind.

Your mistake is, I am sure, that you don't make it clear when you give your invitation whether you wish your guests to be your guests for all the expenses, or whether some of the expenses are to be shared. At the beginning of your car hospitality, you must learn to be straightforward about this.

SEATING CHILDREN AT LUNCHEON

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

We've recently moved into the new house we built in a suburb near the city where we've always lived. Instead of giving a housewarming, my husband and I are planning to give a series of Sunday afternoon parties this summer, if possible in our garden. Also I would like to give a series of very informal luncheons—inviting to each one a friend and her child or children. I have three children. Will you please tell me what would be the correct way to seat these guests at luncheon? — Mother

You, the hostess, sit at the head of the table, your customary place. Your three children sit in a row at your left, your youngest child nearest you. Your guest's children sit between their mother and you.

De Havilland Workers Strike

TORONTO (CP) — About 1,700 workers at the de Havilland aircraft plant at suburban Downsview walked out on strike today.

The strikers, members of the United Automobile Workers' Union (CIO-CU), are demanding a 10-cent hourly wage increase above the rate in their last contract, which expired last Aug. 31.

The company is offering from two to four cents hourly, recommended by an Ontario department of labor three-man conciliation board. Hourly wage rates at the plant range from $1.44 to $1.98.

The average is $1.72.

De Havilland, founded in 1927, is the oldest aircraft firm in Canada. Production affected by the strike will be on two types of light transport aircraft, the Beaver and the Otter.

Others were being produced for the RCAF, the United States Air Force and the U. S. Navy, while the Beavers were for civilian use, the U. S. Army and the USAF.

White Sox, Tigers' Pennant Chances Slip; Yankees Hold 5-Game Margin

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

BEST OF LUCK, TOMMY!

On August 1 a number of swimmers will dive into the Atlantic Ocean off Atlantic City. Ahead of them will be a 26-mile grind and the honor and glory that goes with the winning of the Atlantic City Annual Swim Marathon.

Carrying Belleville's colors and possibly those of Canada, will be Tommy Pedder, former weight-lifting champion and a distance swimmer in his own right. Tommy recently completed the annual Bay of Quinte swim of some 14 miles in a little over seven hours.

The 42-year-old husky has swum the Atlantic City marathon before and is no stranger to its quirks and quassms. He completed the course two years ago and is confident he will be among the front finishers at the August 1 grind.

The course is more or less of a circular one, Tommy said. The swimmers tackle a straight nine-mile jaunt down the ocean front after taking off from the Atlantic City steel pier. They turn at a right angle at Longport to the back stretch, thence in a sweeping route back to the starting point. Tommy said he expects over 100 will take part in the event.

He had no ill-effects from his bay swim. "In fact," he said, "I felt fine and could have swum a much longer distance."

Tommy will be under the management and training of Bill McMurter and Eddie Roach, father of Winnie Roach, the well-known Canadian swimmer. He leaves for Atlantic City on July 26 and hopes to get in some strenuous training prior to the August 1 event.

Tommy again expressed his appreciation of the generous gesture of the city in donating $100 towards his Atlantic City expenses. Small funds are springing up all over the city. Jim ("Snipe") Mathews started one of his own in his snack bar on Saturday. He left a jar on the counter and by nightfall he had over three dollars. Any one desirous of contributing can leave their donations with Jimmy or with this department. Official receipts will be issued as well as personal appreciation from Tommy.

AN OPEN LETTER TO DON LEE, EXECUTIVE MEMBER OF THE ONTARIO AMATEUR SOFTBALL ASSOCIATION

Dear Sir:

WE BELIEVE—

That you are attending a meeting of the OASA executive in the near future.

That the OASA will hold a tournament later in the season for pee-wee and bantam classifications zone winners at which champions will be decided.

That Belleville would be an ideal location in which to hold the aforesaid tournament.

That it would be an excellent idea for you to present Belleville's "bid" for this tournament at the executive meeting.

That Secretary Frank Feaver of the OASA, is fully aware of the tremendous strides being made here in minor softball, and although not yet the home of champions, Belleville is one of the best "boosting" centres for the softball-chasing moppets.

That we in Belleville have the facilities necessary to make the tournament a success.

That it would be a success if played in this city.

That we would have the fullest co-operation of Fire Chief Gerald Vance, who has already given his approval to the suggestion. Deputy Chief "Warry" O'Brien and Leo Culhane, not to mention the merry men of the blue and brass.

That we have four good fields that would meet with OASA approval on which tournament games could be played.

That it would be an added incentive to minor softball in this city.

That the suggestion has the full approval and co-operation of the Belleville District Softball League, its president Cy Barriage, his executive, advisory committee and all concerned.

That the citizens of Belleville would go all out to make the stay of the visiting youngsters as pleasant as possible.

That Lloyd "Red" Doran, recreational director of the city, would place the facilities of his organization to the committee in charge.

That OASA president John Brady, of Oshawa, would approve of the tournament being held in this part of Ontario.

That, since there has been no report to the effect that the four playing fields mentioned showed a financial loss last season, the city council will not offer them for sale before the date of the tournament.

TRIBUTE TO CHAMPIONS

Hockey, a bit out of season in temperatures of nearly 90 degrees, was revived at Point Anne Saturday night when the champion Ox Pointers puckists, who annexed two championships last season, and thereby set some kind of a district record, were feasted by the management who received the tangible honors due to champions.

The squad demolished succulent steaks prior to the ceremonies while special guests sent quantities of roast chicken home to abdominal roasts.

Lorne Cook, OHA vice-president, was one of the special guests paying verbal tribute to the two-time champs, presented them with the official trophy emblematic of the intermediate "C" championship, and the OHA medals that go with it.

Vice-president Lee Bradshaw, of the Trent Valley Hockey League, presented the Pointers with the Thomas Bata trophy in the absence of loop prexy Arthur Duncan. The Bata trophy is symbolic of the Trent Valley crown and remains at Point Anne for the second year in a row.

Appreciation of the players of the fine efforts expended by Manager Eddie Anderson was evidenced in the presentation of a suitably engraved trophy.

Hold Third, Fifth Positions After Disastrous Ten Days; Giants Nip 'Bums' for Rubber

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No one won the American League pennant in the last 10 days, but it could be that the Chicago White Sox and Detroit Tigers lost it.

With the all-star game break at hand, the New York Yankees held a five-game lead over the Cleveland Indians, who are a length in front of the White Sox. Ten days ago, the Yanks were 5½ games to the good with the White Sox second—1½ up on the Indians.

Detroit, fourth 10 days ago and 9½ games behind, now is fifth, victim of the onrushing Boston Red Sox. The Sox, with the incomparable Ted Williams, had a 9-1 record for the 10 days, taking over fourth place seven games behind the Yanks and 5½ ahead of the Tigers.

The Yanks played 500 ball, meeting mostly second division clubs for the 10 days. Cleveland won eight of 12. The White Sox won Tigers, who faded at the same time last season, lost six of 11 and nine of 12, respectively.

BEAT SENATORS

New York played at the same 50-50 pace Sunday, beating Washington 8-3 after losing the first game of the twin bill 6-4. Cleveland defeated Chicago 5-2, but lost the nightcap 4-2. Boston beat Baltimore 10-7 before rain washed out the second game. Detroit whipped Kansas City 10-1 after the A's had won 8-5.

In the National, Brooklyn's lead was trimmed to 1½ games in a 2-1 defeat by New York as second-place Milwaukee split with Cincinnati. The Braves won 7-4, then lost 7-4. St. Louis whipped Chicago 7-2 and Philadelphia trimmed Pittsburgh 4-1 before losing 3-1.

The Yankees were beaten in a six-run fifth by the Nats that chased Whitey Ford. Carlos Paula homered to open the rally. In the nightcap, Mickey Mantle—whose two homers had gone to waste in the first game—whacked his 21st with a man on in the fourth as New York walked off to a 7-1 lead.

Virgil Trucks saved the day for Chicago, giving Cleveland four hits in eight innings of the second game. Bob Nieman's two-run homer off loser Herb Score wiped out an early 1-0 Indian lead on Larry Doby's solo home run. Bobby Avila's bases-loaded triple wrapped up the opener.

SUBDUED BIRDS

The Red Sox collected a three-run homer from Williams, yet needed a five-run eighth to subdue the Orioles. A bases-loaded walk by Harry Dorish and two-run singles by Billy Goodman and Norm Sautch did it. Triandos homered twice for Baltimore.

The Giants won the rubber game of their three-game set with the Dodgers as Willie Mays' single drove in the winning marker in a two-run ninth inning. The consecutive singles and Duke Snider's first error of the season had sent home the tying run.

Milwaukee won its sixth straight in the opener before Cincinnati ended its own six-game losing streak. Ted Kluszewski belted his 29th homer in the first game, but two unearned runs in the sixth won for the Braves. It was Gene Conley's 11th victory. The Redlegs enjoyed four unearned runs and Wally Post's two-run homer to take the nightcap from Warren Spahn.

SWITCH HITTING

Luis Arroyo made his third try for No. 10 and won for the Cards. Switch-hitting Red Schoendienst slapped two doubles right-handed and a lefthanded triple in support of the rookie southpaw. Stan Musial added his 19th homer as St. Louis ran up a 5-0 lead off old Cardinal Howie Pollock in the first two innings.

Red Garver panned the A's on four hits in the nightcap after Kansas City had clipped the Tigers for 18 safeties in the first game. Ray Boone doubled and hit two singles for five runs in the second game. Vic Power homered and hit two singles, and Elmer Valo bashed a two-run homer in the A's triumph.

Curt Simmons six-hit the Bucs in the Phillies' victory with Max Blaylock driving home two runs. Pittsburgh scored three times in the third, with Jerry Lynch's single good for two runs, as Vern Law pitched six-hit ball in the nightcap.

Yesterday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitching—Luis Arroyo, Cardinals southpaw rookie, scattered seven hits, keeping Cubs hitters for five innings, for 7-2 decision and 10th victory.

Hitting—Mickey Mantle, Yankees, regained American League home run lead with three, tied in first game, as Yanks beat Washington 8-3 after losing 6-4.

Harry Schaeffer Wins Six For Oshawa

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Everyone in the senior Inter county Baseball League except Oshawa Merchants would be happy to see Harry Schaeffer get another crack at pitching in the International League.

Schaeffer, with Toronto Maple Leafs in the International League a couple of seasons ago, this year has chalked up six wins against one loss in Intercounty action.

Saturday night the lefthander threw a fine two-hitter at one club he has had much success against as Merchants defeated London Majors 4-1.

PANTHERS IN SECOND

Kitchener Panthers moved back into second place by beating St. Thomas Elgins 5-3 and Galt Terriers handed Brantford Red Sox their 18th loss in 26 games by defeating Red Sox 5-3 in other Saturday games.

Marlene Wins Womens' Title At Rochester

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., Canadian women's amateur champ last year, carded a 40-36-76 Saturday to win the sixth annual Country Club of Rochester women's invitation golf tournament with a total 224.

The 21-year-old Rollins College (Fla.) senior scored a 6 and 72 in her first two rounds of the three-day, 54-hole medal tournament.

Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C., holder of both the North Carolina and the Carolinas women's amateur titles, scored 79 to finish second with 232.

A field of 88 competed on the par 35-37-72, 6,185-yard course.

Mrs. Cecil Redstrom of Buffalo shot a 79 to finish in third place with 240.

Jerry Magee Defeats Norman For Ontario Amateur Crown

KITCHENER (CP)—The Ontario

amateur golf crown was won with a great pressure putt, Young Jerry Magee.

Magee, a tall bull-shouldered star from Toronto Lambton, took the works Saturday with a 21-foot putt that defeated Moe Norman of Kitchener Rockway in sudden-death play at the Kitchener Westmount Golf Club. Norman just missed a 20-footer.

The victory gave Jerry his first amateur title in three attempts and automatically put him on Ontario's Willingdon Cup team for interprovincial play.

"It was a tremendous break," he said. "Moe missed. Mine could well have gone past, too. But it decided to fall in."

Although Magee figured he may have been a bit lucky at times, there was one fellow who didn't see it that way. He was venerable Willie Lamb, pro at Toronto Lambton who has brought along Magee for years. He said Jerry "used his head."

"His driving ability put Moe on the spot and the two had both outdrive Jerry," Lamb said. "Moe's shot into the woods on the 11th and over near the road on the 19th were all the edge Jerry needed."

Magee, a 21-year-old insurance salesman, reached the match-play final with a one-up victory over veteran Nick Westlock of Windsor Essex in the semi-final. Norman, a pre-tournament favorite with Magee ousted Al Cassidy of Toronto St. George's two up.

In victory, Magee joined the Willingdon cup team that goes into action in Calgary July 30. Actually, he had already made the team on test scores. The other members are Norman, Westlock and Dave Morland of North Bay.

Magee, first Toronto player to win the amateur since Scarborough's Phil Farley did it in 1948, never was more than two up on the 25-year-old Norman. And when he was down on the count, it wasn't by more than one hole.

Despite the heat—which hit 100 degrees on the open fairways—a big gallery of 900 or so followed the finalists over the 6,444-yard layout. Both Magee and Norman fired sub-par rounds. Their approximate medal scores were 69 for the par-71 course.

Magee went one up on the first hole with a birdie three. He rammed home a 25-foot putt for a birdie three on the fifth to go two ahead. Norman cut the margin by one and brought cheers from the gallery when he sank a 45-foot chip shot on the 192-yard sixth for a birdie two.

Moe was one ahead going into the 17th. The match was tied when Magee's putter sank a 30-footer on the 17th green. They halved the 18th in par fours. Norman conceded Magee a 10-inn putt and holed out with a two-footer.

Magee had to come from behind to beat the 38-year-old Westlock, always a tough man in a tournament. He was two down after the 15th and then took the next two. With the match square, Magee sank an eight-foot putt for a birdie three on the 18th.

Norman was trailing Cassidy by one hole after 14 but won the following three. Norman ended the match on the 17th green, by sinking an 18-footer for a birdie three.

Jets, Leafs Still at Loggerheads Over 40-Man Diamond Free-For-All

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The feud between the Toronto Maple Leafs and Columbus Jets of the International League.

The clubs participated in a 40-man free-for-all Friday night, a 17-minute brawl before 4,355 fans halted by 11 carloads of police and sheriff's deputies.

Al Dutchy, pitcher, Columbus, was in his pitching arm as he hit Toronto first baseman Lou Limmer. Limmer flied three times—once by manager Nick Cullip of the Jets in the first blow of the fracas—had bruises and lacerations but x-rays showed no broken bones.

Romberger will be out about six weeks.

Limmer, base-running in the sixth inning, took out Jet second sacker Forrest (Spook) Jacobs with a double play, breaking up a prospective double play Jacobs came up swinging and that's when the cops had to be called.

CULLIP FINED

International League president Frank Shaughnessy in Montreal fined Cullip $50 Saturday, declaring:

"A manager... is expected to take every measure necessary to maintain order on the field. I am taking no action on any other player because the umpires stated they could not single out one player more than another."

Luke Sewell, Toronto manager, didn't care for Shaughnessy's decision.

"You may quote me," Sewell said, "as saying this was the worst thing I've ever seen in 35 years of baseball, and that Mr. Shaughnessy's disposition of the case is the biggest joke of the baseball season."

MAIN FAVORED

For Court Title

QUEBEC (CP)—Lorne Main of Toronto, Canada's top-ranked tennis player, ruled as the favorite again today as some 80 players prepared to take to the courts in the opening round of the Canadian championships.

Main and other seeded players were expected to breeze through their opening-round matches without trouble. Most were pitted against local players who had little hope of advancing beyond the first round.

Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., fresh from victory in the provincial championships at Montreal last week, was second-seeded.

Behind Bedard in the seedings came Paul Wiley and Larry Barclay of Vancouver, Don Fontana of Toronto and Henri Rochon of Montreal.

Hanna Sladek of Montreal was ranked at the top of the women's bracket. Yola Ramirez of Mexico, the favorite in pre-tournament predictions, withdrew from the matches during the weekend.

This is the Hillsborough bridge across the river of the same name near Charlottetown, P.E.I. now the centre of controversy between P.E.I. government and the federal transport department. Provincial government sources said they expect the federal government to appeal a P.E.I. Supreme Court injunction that re-opened the span after it had been barricaded to pedestrians and vehicular traffic. The transport department declared the bridge unsafe. It is a vital link with the eastern end of the province. (CP PHOTO)

Well good night, when you were 3 months old is that all your mother know about you? I said, Any guy that don't know what kind of a dog is, I pity him, I said, and Shorty said, Well, I've got certain ideas. He's giving aines already, he said.
Aw, what kind of aines? Puds said, and Shorty said, Well, when over it's time to feed him, he always runs to the kitchen ahead of me.
What of it, what's that prove? I said, and Shorty said, Well I might prove he's a bludhound pointing out the trail.
Aw, that only proves he's hungry, Puds said, and Shorty said, He gives other aines, too. He always sits down to scratch. I never saw him scratch standing up once. So maybe he's a sitter dog, he said.

Go on, there is no such of a kind, I said. You're thinking of a setter dog, I said, and Shorty said, Well, then maybe that's what he's thinking of, too.
And he quick walked away pulling Junior after him his leash before we had time to keep up the argument.

The parade first stopped at the Trenton Memorial Hospital grounds when the Rev. Canon A. S. McConnell, M.B.E., branch chaplain, conducted a service of dedication of the memorial erected by Henry Burton, Middle street, in memory of his wife, Juliette Burton, a wartime and civilian nurse, who died in 1922 of cancer, and dedicated her body to the cancer research branch of Queen's University, at Kingston. The memorial contains Mrs. Burton's names and her last will and testament.

At the reviewing stand downtown Group Captain G. G. Diamond, A.F.C., commanding Trenton RCAF Station, took the salute.

At the memorial gates Mayor Ross Burt, M.M., welcomed the paraders on behalf of the citizens. Branch president, W. E. Donaldson delivered a brief message. The memorial service was conducted by the Rev. Canon A. S. McConnell.

FIGHT GRASS FIRE

TRENTON. (Special) — Firemen took two trucks to Glen Mills for this morning to fight a grass fire threatening houses in the village. Flames from a fire heating a pot of tar, broke away and got in the grass before they could be stopped.

The results could have been serious because grass in this district is dry as tinder from shortage of rain.

Cash's Staff Enjoys Picnic

The members of J. & J. Cash's Social Club held their annual picnic at Cedarvale on Sunday last. A fine program outlined the day's festivities. Races, tug-of-war, games featured the sporting events.

The winners are as follows:

Tiny Tots, 2-5 years—Wendy Mills, Peter Mills. Girls, 5-8 years—Heather Mills, Judith Thirner. Boys, 5-8 years—Bill Shored, Tom Hood. Girls 8-10 years, Heather Mills, Judy Gill. Boys, 8-10 years—Wilfred Hood, Don Lee. Girls, 10-12 years—Gerry Gill, Judy Gill. Boys, 10-12 years—Roger Orell, Wilfred Hood. Girls, 12-14 years—Mary Don, Mary Lee. Married women's race—Doreen Mills, Lee Latchford.

The tug-of-war between the married men (title holders) and the single men ended abruptly. Both teams dug in and as the rope went taut there was a sudden snap and the contestants found themselves sprawling to the ground. After a brief discussion by the judges a decision of no contest was reached and the married men retained the "title."

In the twilight ball game, "Shore's Sharpies" and "Kerr's Crackers" battled till dark in a see-saw struggle that ended in both teams claiming the win. After enjoying a basket lunch entertaining music was supplied by a five piece orchestra made up by those in attendance. At 9 p.m. a tired but happy group boarded the buses provided and departed, ending a fine day's outing.

Warning Device At CPR Crossing Broken by Car

A warning device at the C.P.R. crossing on Highway No. 2, near the Bakelite plant stopped a car Saturday night when no train was in sight. This service cost approximately $800.

The car crashed into the wig-wag signal standard after careening more than 400 feet down the boulevard of the four-lane highway, bowling over "Keep off the Boulevard" signs.

The car hit the standard so hard that it broke it in two places. The whole thing snapped off at the base and the top broke off as well. The car careened off the standard and came to rest against a fence bordering the highway.

No one was in the car when the police investigated, and no one is believed to have been injured. The driver of the car has not yet been identified.

Damage to the wig-wag was estimated at $500 and damage to the car was set at $300.

CPR repairmen were working to restore the warning device this morning.

OPP Constable G. A. Oliver investigated.

Bulgarian Shows No Intention Of Resting on His Laurels

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Nikita S. Khrushchev, Bulgarian ambassador last fall, "I'm just an old soldier ready to retire on my pension."

But he spoke with a smile; and those who heard him took the characterization no more seriously than the handsome, white-haired marshal apparently meant it.
Bulgarian was the Soviet Union's defence minister then.

His subsequent career shows he has no intention of resting on his laurels.
He has taken over the premiership from Georgi Malenkov, shaken up the government, spearheaded formation of the Communist bloc's answer to NATO, negotiated in Belgrade with Yugoslav President Tito and now appears set to parley at the summit with President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure.

Which brings up the questions: How can you be sure who is the summit in the Soviet Union? Is Bulgarian or the chief of the ruling Communist party, Nikita S. Khrushchev, really the fountainhead of authority?
It seems to Moscow observers that for practical purposes—and the Russians certainly assume the Geneva conference has a practical purpose—the Soviet summit is any man the top leaders in the Kremlin say it is. And they have left no doubt they want Bulgarian regarded as the real head and the voice of authority.

Khrushchev himself threw the Communist party's prestige behind Bulgarian when he nominated the marshal for the premiership last Feb. 8. The party chieftain has since laughed off questions from reporters as to whether he is a power behind the throne. "Let's have another drink," Khrushchev says. "Ask me another time."
Asked whether he thought he too should attend the Big Four conference, Khrushchev replied: "I trust Bulgarian. I haven't got to sit at his elbow."

Bulgarian has worked closely with Khrushchev and the three other top figures of the Soviet hierarchy—Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, first deputy premier Lazar Kaganovich and first deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan—for a quarter century.

Presumably, all are intimately acquainted with each other's views, Bulgarian, Khrushchev and the other top figures of the Soviet hierarchy—Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, first deputy premier Lazar Kaganovich and first deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan—for a quarter century.

Moreover, according to published Russian stories on the conference, Molotov will be on hand for consultations.
Bulgarian, 60, picked up part of his political, military and economic experience as an early member of the Communist party, a quasi-military group that dealt with enemies of the revolution.

He moved up by stages under Stalin's eyes to the supreme council of the economy, boss of Moscow, premier of the Russian federated republic, vice-premier of the U. S. S. R., political adviser to military commanders on the Western front, and defence minister.

If Bulgarian acts in Geneva as he does in Moscow, the Western Big Three will find he can be dignified, impressive and jovial all at the same time.

The premier is a man of immense self-assurance; portly, a sort of everybody's grandfather. He has a tremendous personal charm. He smokes mild Russian cigarettes. Offered American cigars or cigars, he refuses good-naturedly.
"They're too strong," he says.

Counterfeit Postal Money Scheme Smashed

MONTREAL (CP) — A budding racket in counterfeit postal money has been smashed here by post office and city police, but a man, believed to be the mastermind behind the easy money scheme, is still being sought.

Authorities have issued a country-wide warning to postmasters, banks and merchants to watch for the clever imitations.
About 20 of the bogus money orders—17 of which had been cashed—were in police hands Monday. Officers believe the mastermind netted only about $2,000 before his work was discovered.

Police said the wanted man hired women unfamiliar with business, through advertisements asking for girls for "special interesting work." The work was to go into stores and ask proprietors what brands of cigarettes and drinks sold best.

OPENED ACCOUNTS
This was merely to find out which applicants were naïve enough for the man's purpose, said one officer.
The next step was to have the women open bank accounts under fictitious names and make a couple of deposits with fake cheques or money orders. Then they would withdraw the money.

So far police have traced six of the women who had worked for the man at salaries ranging from $30 to $40 a week.
Gardeners Cast Expert Eyes On Toronto
TORONTO (CP) — High-priced gardeners who have beautified many cities of the United States have cast expert eyes over Toronto. They said the city has possibilities. "All cities have their grey spots," one said kindly. "Toronto's pretty bad in the downtown business section, but it has more than its share of refreshing green spots too."

The knowledgeable visitors are more than 1,000 nurserymen from Canada and the U.S., here for the first convention in Canada of the American Association of Nurserymen.
John F. Syer, Jr., of Concordville, Fla., said in an interview that Ontario's Queen City has "a beautiful location and is a fine city but it's got to invest in open spaces."

"Grass and trees are cheap, yet they make a surprising difference to people's lives."
Most cities, when they start growing at the rate Toronto has in the last 10 years, forget about saving green spaces for their children and their children's children, Mr. Syer said.

LIVELY WHILE SHOW LASTED
LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Television viewers here had considerable unscheduled entertainment Monday night. Blue and red flames flashed from many sets. Viewers were awed by the brilliant show while it lasted, but were saddened when they discovered their sets had blown out, along with all their fuses. Two 11,000-volt power lines had been shorted by a bulldozer.

Minor Softball

In a slugger's battle at the Fireman's Park last night, the Rotary Club peewees scored in every inning to defeat Lee Grills' team 21-14.

Woods went all the way on the mound for Rotary, giving up 14 hits; Tenhoop doing the receiving. Sager also lasted the route in a losing cause, giving up 19 safe blows with Boyce catching.

The fourth inning was a nightmare for both clubs as Grills plated seven tales in the top of the frame, while the winners came back with eight.
Denard was top man with the wood, slamming four hits for the victors, while Woods, Tenhoop, Wallbridge and Butcher each had three. Luppitt was best in the Grills' batting order, with a trio of singles, as O'Brien doubled, twice and two singles each went to Ross and Clapp.

Metro Plans To Spend Billion In Next 10 Years
TORONTO (CP) — Metropolitan Toronto and its 13 area municipalities plan to spend nearly $1,000,000,000 during the next 10 years. A budget of $84,119,826 was announced Monday when the council made its figures public. The program is based on the present tax structure with 1958 set as the year of peak municipal capital expenditure.

The 10-year plan will be financed through $749,977,946 in property taxation and other sources. Ontario government grants for roads and welfare will make up the estimated balance of $134,142,580.
Largest outlay will be for area roads with $259,454,178 scheduled for use. Education requirements are budgeted for $120,000,000 while expansion of water and sewage facilities accounts for $98,721,770 and $86,182,28 respectively.

The program is based on an analysis of metropolitan area requirements by city heads and metro treasurer G. Arthur Lascelles.
MONTREAL (CP) — No rain is likely to douse Quebec province's forest fires and sun-parched farmlands today or Wednesday.

Two Quebec agricultural officials said Monday a combination of too much sun and not enough rain may mean disaster for many farmers in the province. The officials—Victor Lafond of the provincial agricultural department, and Edward St. Marie, head of the Assumption experimental station—said if there is not a concentrated rainfall before the end of the week vegetable crops, pastures, hay and grain fields will suffer considerable damage.

Quebec watching for incidents by the underground Irish Republican Army, which seeks to overthrow the local British government and set up an all-Ireland republic, took special precautions at the fishing village of Annalong, a few miles from the Republican border.
Three mystery explosions shook the village early Monday, damaging a bridge and two culverts along the route which the local procession was due to take.

Shot in Head
TORONTO (CP) — A man identified by police as James Hugh Kennedy, 32, of suburban Scarborough, today was found shot through the head in an east-end city park. A 22-calibre rifle was found nearby. He was taken to a city hospital where efforts were made to remove the bullet in a delicate brain operation. His condition was described as critical.

Police Alert When Belfast Celebrates '12th'

BELFAST (Reuters) — Police were out in full force throughout Northern Ireland today to prevent political clashes as members of the Orange Order celebrated the 26th anniversary of the battle which established British rule in the area.
Some 20,000 men, women and children carrying flags and banners proclaiming loyalty to the Queen and union with Britain marched to the screaming of bagpipes through central Belfast. The marchers, including thousands of children in gaily colored dresses, were played along five miles of the city streets by more than 100 bands on their way to a monster "Orange Day" rally at Finaghy on the outskirts.

Police watching for incidents by the underground Irish Republican Army, which seeks to overthrow the local British government and set up an all-Ireland republic, took special precautions at the fishing village of Annalong, a few miles from the Republican border.
Three mystery explosions shook the village early Monday, damaging a bridge and two culverts along the route which the local procession was due to take.

Fifty Bills Given Assent

OTTAWA (CP) — Fifty bills, including one revising the Unemployment Insurance Act, were given royal assent Monday night by Mr. Justice J. W. Estey, acting as deputy of Governor-General Massey. The measures included 41 divorce bills.

The Senate, which was adjourned until tonight, was called into session earlier this evening to give assent to the bills, increasing judges' salaries $2,500 a year, so that it could be given royal assent.

Information said the government was anxious to have the measure made law as soon as possible because of its effect on judges' pensions.
Also made law was one bill extending the scope of federal grants to municipalities in lieu of taxes on crown property, and another providing government guarantees of loans to fishermen.

Car Is Rammed By Another Auto, Damage $200

A car driven by Douglas Beedell of Youngstown, N.Y., sustained $200 damage to its rear end Monday when it was rammed by a car driven by Ray Coniglio, of R.R. 2, Halfway.

The accident took place on Highway No. 2 about 1 1/2 miles south of Marysville, at 3:15 p.m. Apparently Coniglio failed to see a construction flagman slowing traffic at the site of road repairs and ran into the rear of the Beedell car. Damage to the Coniglio car was slight and the driver drove on after leaving his name and address with Beedell. There were no injuries.

OPP Constable G. A. Oliver investigated.

Boost in Price Of British Coal Splits Tories

LONDON (Reuters) — A $1.75-a-ton increase in the price of coal has presented Prime Minister Eden's Conservatives with their first political crisis since their success in the May general election.

Unlike the recent railroad, dock and seamen's strikes, the coal problem has created a split in Eden's own party. And it has brought demands from the Labor opposition that the fuel and power minister, Geoffrey Lloyd, resign.

The revolt by private Tory MPs was vividly demonstrated in the House of Commons Monday in a noisy debate over policy for the state-run coal industry. The price boost in coal is to come into effect next Monday, and is expected to produce a chain reaction of price boosts in other industries dependent upon Britain's major source of power.

Coupled with the imminent price boost is a shortage of output which will force Britain to import more coal than she is able to export.

Some Conservatives are also deeply critical of the way the national coal board functions, and of its direction of the state-run mines.

CAMEL TROUBLE

"Keep to the right" is the rule of the road in Canada, and in many other nations.

But it is not an universal rule. In Britain, for instance, the rule is to keep to the left. This causes some confusion when motorists from "a right side" country visit a "left side" country. First reaction is that it would be well if uniformity was established. Second thoughts may suggest that the change-over period would be extremely hazardous.

In one country, though, they have decided to run the risk. Starting on January 1 of next year, Pakistan will switch from "keep to the left" to "keep to the right."

An ideal place to try the experiment, you say? Not so many autos there as in Britain?

Well, perhaps the Pakistan government had that idea, but if it thought the change-over was going to be easy it reckoned without the country's camels.

Camels draw carts to Karachi, carts laden with cotton, rice and wheat from the railhead or with produce from garden suburbs. The trip from the suburbs is a long one, for a camel, 18 miles. Tired peasants sleep as their camels travel during the night. The unguided camels travel by their way safely to the city markets. For the camels have been trained to keep to the left. Motorists know that a toot of the horn will bring a straying camel back to the left side of the road.

But after January 1, 1956, motorists will be scared to let a peep out of their horns. They will have no way of knowing whether the camel is an old left-hand drive unguided model, or a new retrained right-hand rule-of-the-road—or a left-hand model with a wide-awake right-hand peasant at the controls.

Camel-drivers' language is said to be highly expressive. There should be some rare opportunities for them to exhibit their talents next year. At that, though, we would bet on the motorists. "They will have more raw material with which to work."

NOT ON SPEAKING TERMS?

On June 10 U.S. State Secretary John Foster Dulles told the House of Representatives appropriations committee that the Russian economic system "is on the point of collapsing."

The world did not learn about that statement until July 7, when Dulles' testimony before the committee was made public.

We have no quarrel with that. There is no particular reason why the Secretary of State cannot give some information to the electors' representatives of the U. S. people without the whole world sharing in the news.

It does seem to us, though, that Mr. Dulles, or the House of Representatives, or both, might let President Dwight D. Eisenhower on state secrets of this nature.

Apparently they did not. For on Wednesday, the day before Dulles' testimony was made public but almost a month after it was given, President Eisenhower said that "so far as I know, there is no individual in this government that has ever said that the Russians, the Soviets, are coming to any conference, weak."

Dulles had said exactly that—unless one likes to argue that a country whose economic system "is on the point of collapsing" is not "coming to any conference, weak."

If one advances that argument it still remains true that somebody is dumb, but the meaning of the word is altered from being silent to being stupid.

QUIT CHAUVIN AND LEAD

Girls have it all over boys when it comes to leadership. So states Clifford Chauvin, councillor of Riverside, near Windsor.

This municipal father came out in favor of girls when attempts to hire leaders for five municipal parks turned up four winsome winners and a lone boy.

Alas, and alack for councillor Chauvin and his theory—the boy is to supervise the four girls.

If trying to supervise four teen-age girls who are trying to supervise dozens of moppets aspiring to be teenagers does not require leadership then councillor Chauvin needs his values checked.

The unlucky lad should be cautioned however, that successful leadership of teen-age girls, like successful leadership of their mothers, consists in discovering, quietly, where they wish to be led and then leading that way with determination.

Thinking that any other course is possible is likely to turn a man into a chauvinist.

EXPENSIVE PLAYGROUND

The Ontario Government is considering construction of another four-lane highway.

This one, however, has one distinct difference from those already built or under construction.

All existing four-lane roads are trunk highways—between the Niagara Peninsula and Toronto, for example, from Toronto north to Orillia or to the north to Northern Ontario, from Toronto east to Newcastle.

The proposed new four-lane highway, instead of being part of a trunk highway, will link Toronto with the favorite holiday playground of many Toronto residents, the Lake Simcoe area. It will run from Toronto to Sutton, near the south-west tip of the lake.

Like all four-lane highways it will be expensive. The cost is estimated at $750,000 a mile, or $35,000,000 for the fifty miles.

That seems like a lot of money to spend hurrying to picnics or summer cottages.

SPENDTHRIFT

A grandpa has a fearful time
Endeavouring to have a dime.
Since down the years for it he slaved

He knows that money should be saved.
But, it takes courage not to stop
With children at a candy shop.

He knows four quarters stored away
Will make a dollar any day.
And if he doesn't let them go,
His bank account will taper grow.

But, nothing in a bank book shown Seems better than an ice cream cone.

A miser's fortune, when he dies,
Depends on pleasures he denies.
To children who desire them now

No lollipops will be allowed.
But, grandpa is a spendthrift lot.
They'd rather buy ice cream than not.

Tell a Spaniard bull-fighting is cruel, and he will reply: "Maybe—but we don't need a society in Spain to protect our children from cruelty."

It's a standing joke that elderly splinters leave their money to cats' homes.

You never hear of them leaving it to children's homes.

Mr. John Lovick and daughter, Edna, of Kingston are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Warham, West Bridge Street.

The glorious Twelfth of July is being celebrated in Belleville today and there is a tremendous crowd in the city. Bright and early this morning the visitors began to arrive and soon brass bands and fife and drum bands were making joyous music. Flags and banners are much in evidence and the parade, which was exceedingly long, would have broken all records for a parade here had it not been for rain.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

The past few days, I have been, trying TCA and by private plane over large expanses of central and western Canada. And as you cruise, at this lovely season of the year, over the swift flowing miles of farflung countryside, you see passing under you not dozens but hundreds of cities, towns and villages, not one of which offers you its name.

Stewardess and enquire from it the name of any particular community. She knows the more prominent ones, but has to go and ask up front of it the pilot, for the lesser ones. And no doubt he has to check his charts.

Apart from wanting merely to know where you are, there is usually a good deal of more profitable curiosity aroused in you by many of the nameless towns you see wandering slowly by. Many of them are extremely pretty, or beautifully situated by stream or lake. Others are set in a country of obvious wealth and comfort, you can judge by the well-kept farms and fertile fields. It is possible from the air to get a better idea of the prosperity and character of a city or town than from driving through it or passing through by train. Indeed, even visiting many a town will afford a less generous impression of it than a pilot, for the lesser ones. And no doubt he has to check his charts.

Animal Adulators

(By Thomas Allen in The London, Eng., Daily Herald)

Some people are dog-draft and cat-crazy — completely animal crackers.

Take one woman, fined 35 pounds the other day for kidnapping her pooch from quarantine. She sobbed to police: "I have nothing to live for if you take her from me."

"Her" being a wire-haired terrier which was brought from Australia and should have been left in quarantine for six months.

And take the other woman who wrote to a Sunday paper: "I have been married for 22 years to an unromantic man. I find all the love I need in my mongrel dog."

It's wonderful what some people can get out of a 70-and-a-half-year-old dog.

And I don't mean a marriage licence...

There are others who don't even pay that for their pampered pets. Cat lovers can command all the love adoration they want for nothing...

What is wrong with them, these animal adulators?

Aren't human beings good enough for them? Do dogs count more than kids?

I have nothing particular against dogs, and I understand what a pity it is that man should have chosen the dirtiest, noisiest brute in the animal kingdom for his best friend.

There are women who wouldn't shake hands with a navvy, but who will kiss and cuddle a dog I wouldn't touch with a barge pole, knowing its habits.

There are people, many of them, who rate animals about children.

Remember—the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children is only "National," while the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is "Royal."

Tell a Spaniard bull-fighting is cruel, and he will reply: "Maybe—but we don't need a society in Spain to protect our children from cruelty."

It's a standing joke that elderly splinters leave their money to cats' homes.

You never hear of them leaving it to children's homes.

Latest figures show that in one year the RSPCA, the animal society — received £407,300 in income and legacies.

Last financial year the NSPCC—the children's society—had a deficit of $7,603 over income.

Something wrong there, surely? Parliament isn't much better.

One session, when motions on the adjournment were put down, more than 30 concerned the welfare of animals. Only one had to do with protecting children.

This crazy love of animals seems to be a phenomenon confined to Britain — and also mostly to women.

They will tell you seriously that their pet is a human intelligence when any scientist will inform them that only the higher primates — the finest of the apes — has anything approaching man's power of reason.

And even the smartest apes don't get beyond the intelligence of a child of three...

I discussed the subject with a psychologist friend and he explained it in scientific terms.

"Human beings, particularly women, long to be loved," he said. "They want attention paid to them, and something to love."

"By buying an animal they get all the unquestioning adoration they want."

"It flatters them when a dog sits at their feet, paws on lap, and gazes longingly into their eyes. What it really sees in your eyes is the shadow of a bone."

"People love this soppy attachment of the dog. Ask them what they like least about cats, and they will say: 'They're so damned independent. They act as if they couldn't care a fig for us.'"

They don't like their pets to be independent. They want them to be slaves, beseeching every bite, fawning for affection, squirming with gratitude for human condescension.

"If the character of a dog was translated into the personality of a man, nobody would speak to him. He would be regarded as a lick-spittle sycophant."

Bet Your Life, Sign Petition
Fame at Last To Be Hanged

We presume the bosoms of thousands of Canadians fluttered with the pride of recognition — as our did — when a contestant on Groucho Marx's You Bet Your Life program correctly identified Ottawa as the capital city of Canada.

With television at its present state of popularity, perhaps this hitherto little-known contestant — incidentally, a woman; or more properly, a true "lady" — has done more to cement amicable relations than any other personage in or out of the capital (Ottawa) with the possible exception of the lion, Lester B. Pearson himself.

This lady who identified Ottawa for the masses was employed by a circus — in an administrative capacity — but otherwise could be called an "average" American, whatever that term may entail. Her knowledge is a happy commentary on the growing importance of Canada in international affairs, the U.S. educational system, or the marvel of modern communications — perhaps a little bit of all three.

But even if she just happened to read it in an almanac, it is a welcome milestone.

We can remember well those dark days of international ignorance when nine out of ten U.S. citizens believed Montreal to be the capital of Canada. But that was in the heyday of former Mayor or Houde. The tenth wasn't sure whether it was Toronto or Niagara Falls, the former of course being a mere provincial capital and the latter a capital in the bridal rather than in the political sense.

And by the way, for the benefit of Canadians who may find themselves involved in panels of the quiz type, and thus confronted by a situation fraught with possible international significance, Washington, D.C. is still the capital of the United States of America.

'Ask the Weatherman' Show Conducted by Rube Hornstein

By GERALD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
HALIFAX (CP) — Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody in Canada talks about it more often than Rube Hornstein.

At least he tells more people about it.

The radio-minded meteorologist in charge of the Halifax Dominion public weather bureau is the only weatherman in Canada who discusses the background of our climate on a coast-to-coast hook-up.

His "Ask the Weatherman" show carried Sunday nights by the CBC's trans-Canada network runs year around.

STARTS 10TH YEAR

Mr. Hornstein's Sunday afternoon CBC program for Maritime listeners, "Meet Your Weatherman," begins its 10th year this fall. It runs from September to June.

He also appears five nights a week on television station CBHT to discuss last-minute changes on a weather map during Max Ferguson's "Gazette" program.

The radio talks provided the source of a series of three booklets he has written on the weather. The latest is "Weather and Why." Nova Scotians greet each change of weather with a knowing "Hornstein was right," or "Hornstein was wrong." A few hold him personally responsible.

"The weather report" and "Hornstein's" are almost interchangeable terms in the Maritimes.

WELL-KNOWN ON TV

The likeable meteorologist says he never gets away from his job since his face became known to television viewers. "People are always coming up to me on the street and asking me questions such as 'what's it going to be like next Thursday?'"

This summer he plans one of his frequent vacations. "Even if I get credit for."

have to wear dark glasses and a beard," he says, "I'm going to get away from making predictions."

"I might add I have no idea what the weather will be. I want to soak up lots of sunlight, but I'm taking my chances like the next guy."

Between office and television studio the lanky Mr. Hornstein works a 12-hour day. "Writing two radio scripts a week takes up an awful lot of spare time. I have no time for hobbies."

But he does his own cooking, and admits passable skill.

FROM LONDON, ONT.

Mr. Hornstein, born in London, Ont., in 1912, claims the depression of the 1930s made him a weatherman. He says after he left the University of Western Ontario in 1934 meteorology was the only course open to graduates in mathematics and physics.

It is understood that only a fraction of the present vacancies will be filled this year by Mr. St. Laurent. Liberals currently fill 73 seats and Progressive Conservatives seven.

Recognized as dean of the Commons is Mr. Powell. His 38 continuous years put him seven ahead of Mr. Pouliot, next in length of service.

Soon after that he began his radio work. His programs were at first based on questions asked by listeners. They still draw 5,000 letters a year, but most of the questions by now are repeats.

So Mr. Hornstein draws on a seemingly bottomless supply of weather lore that interests him, and it turns out, his listeners as well.

He and his staff of 34 are occasionally charged with incompetence by irate picnicers dampened by unforeseen showers, but he says they're right more often than they get credit for.

Pouliot May Be Appointed To Senate

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent is expected to announce soon appointments to fill some of the Senate's 22 vacant seats.

Among them, it was learned Monday, is to be Jean-Francois Pouliot, 65-year-old Liberal from Temiscouata, Que., and one of his province's spunkiest warriors during 17 years in the Commons.

The prime minister likely will announce the appointments at the end of the current session of Parliament, perhaps in a week or two. Others who may then find themselves in the 102-seat upper chamber include:

Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, 66-year-old retired president of the National Research Council; Hor C. A. (Chubby) Power (L.—Quebec South), wartime air minister, and Dr. Wilder Penfield, 63-year-old Montreal neurosurgeon.

It is understood that only a fraction of the present vacancies will be filled this year by Mr. St. Laurent. Liberals currently fill 73 seats and Progressive Conservatives seven.

Recognized as dean of the Commons is Mr. Powell. His 38 continuous years put him seven ahead of Mr. Pouliot, next in length of service.

Grandma Still Keeping Mum About Plans

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer headed for New York with her Bible today, still keeping mum about her money plans.

And big money it is, too. The 54-year-old grandmother from nearby Camp Hill, Pa., has won $32,000 on a television program.

Tonight, she'll tell viewers whether she'll keep her $32,000 or try for the $64,000 question, which is the name of the program.

The jackpot question, as have all other questions answered by the woman on the program, will be based on the Bible.

"I have always turned to it for guidance," Mrs. Kreitzer said, and she'll do the same tonight, she said, when she must make the big decision. She added she won't make that decision until she steps out on the stage.

Her own cheering section headed for New York with her fourteen persons—friends and relatives—accompanied her.

Should she try for the jackpot tonight and lose, Mrs. Kreitzer said she has no intention of learning to drive the $7,500 automobile which would be her consolation prize.

"I have never driven and I'm not going to start at my age," she added.

Dr. Thomas L. Coriden, Woodbury county coroner, said the girl was killed by a severe blow on the head and confirmed she had been sexually assaulted. She had been dead 10 to 12 hours when found.

Whether Papers Use Police Calls Is Up to Police

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Marler said Monday night the government has no intention of curbing newspapers' practice of listening to police radio calls, provided police have no objection.

He replied in the Commons to suggestions by Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto-Eglinton) that amendments to the Radio Act would make it illegal for newspapers to use such police broadcasts as tips on crimes and accidents.

The amendments provide penalties of six months in jail and/or a $500 fine for making unauthorized use of radio communications transmitted by stations other than commercial radio stations.

The amendments were given Commons approval.

Mr. Fleming said that the amendments, approved earlier by the Senate, would interfere with newspapers listening to radio calls. In many cities police tolerated the practice and co-operated with newspapers in making their calls available to them.

Mr. Marler said the amendments which implement Canadian commitments to an international telecommunications agreement signed in 1952 by Canada and 71 other countries, are partly the result of complaints to his department by police that unauthorized persons listen to police calls.

However, he said that if police departments have no objection to newspapers listening to their short-wave transmissions, then newspapers could obtain a commercial receiving station licence for a fee of $2.

Area Rocked As Pilot Breaks Sound Barrier

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An F-86D Sabre jet cracked the sound barrier over Lake Ontario Monday and created an explosion that rocked the Niagara frontier area.

Startled residents swamped newspaper and radio station switchboards as police tried to track down the source of the ear-shattering blast.

The Erie county sheriff's office first reported that a plane had crashed on Cayuga island in the Niagara river.

Capt. Lester T. Hansen, public information officer of the 59th Air Defence Group at Niagara Falls air force base, confirmed that one of the group's speedy jet fighters had smashed the sound barrier.

Hansen said it was presumed that the pilot did so by mistake. The officer said the plane's speed was probably in excess of 700 miles an hour. He did not identify the pilot.

It was most unusual, he said, for the blast to have been heard over such a wide area. There were no immediate reports of ground damage caused from the explosion.

Child Plucked From Crib Found Raped and Slain

SIoux CITY, Iowa (AP)—A chubby two-year-old girl, plucked from her crib by an apparent sex degenerate, was found raped and slain in a farm field Monday.

Police said they were without clues in the abduction-slaying of curly-haired Donna Sue Davis, described by neighbors as "the darling of the neighborhood."

The pyjama-clad daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis was lifted from her crib within minutes after her mother had tucked her in for the night Sunday.

About this time neighbors reported seeing a young man prowling about the Davis' modest duplex home.

The crumpled body, savagely beaten about the head, was found alongside a ditch at the edge of the farm near South Sioux City, Neb., just across the Missouri river from here.

FOUND CLOTHING

The child's pink pyjama tops were wound around her neck. Her diaper, rubber pants and pyjama bottoms were picked up by Oehlerling three-quarters of a mile down the country road.

Police said her clothing was bloodstained and she "definitely had been raped."

Dr. Thomas L. Coriden, Woodbury county coroner, said the girl was killed by a severe blow on the head and confirmed she had been sexually assaulted. She had been dead 10 to 12 hours when found.

Police picked up one man for questioning Monday but emphasized it was only a "routine arrest" in connection with the investigation.

Until the body was found, police called Donna's disappearance a "motivated kidnapping" since Davis, a railroad clerk, is of modest means.

Authorities have been seeking a slender man who was seen running with a bundle from the Davis house at the time Donna vanished.

Gas Company Allowed to Alter Rate Structure

TORONTO (CP)—A. R. Crozier, chairman of the Ontario fuel board, said Monday the board has agreed to allow Dominion Natural Gas Company to alter its rate structure.

The board's decision had been reached after "a long and careful" consideration of arguments by southwestern Ontario municipalities which attacked the company's application in June.

Dominion asked permission to link its standard and supplementary charge rates in a single-rate system. It said its application did not involve increases to customers but would facilitate its own book-keeping.

The company has a standard rate of $1.09 plus a supplementary rate of 21 cents a thousand cubic feet. The new combined rate is $1.30 a thousand.

The board's permit will be issued during the first week of August, Mr. Crozier said, retroactive to July 13.

It would contain details of its reasons for over-riding the municipalities' opposition.

Russian Writer Permitted To Attend Festival

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP)—Shakespeare comes to Stratford tonight and a Russian newspaperman and his wife have state department permission to attend the festivities.

State Secretary Dulles, in a formal note to the Soviet embassy, Monday made an exception to the ban on Soviet travel in restricted areas of the United States including all of Connecticut.

He permitted Eugene Litoshko, New York correspondent for the official Soviet Communist party newspaper, Pravda, and his wife to spend "several days" at the celebration of the American Shakespeare Festival Theatre and Academy.

Tonight the festival dedicates its striking $1,000,000 octagonal playhouse and follows with a first night performance of "Julius Caesar."

Dulles responded to a Soviet embassy request that he waive travel restrictions imposed last January. He expressed hope that Soviet officials would use "equal liberality" in meeting requests of American newspapermen to visit Russian areas which are closed to them.

60-MILE TRIP

"I am pleased to cover this event and write about it," said Litoshko, who was permitted to travel 60 miles by train from New York to Stratford today and return several days later by the same means.

The weekly Bridgeport Sunday Herald touched off the chain of events by inviting Pravda to send a correspondent to cover the festival.

Pravda, which replied that the invitation arrived too late to send a drama critic from Russia, said it had instructed Litoshko to attend.

Theatrical producer Lawrence Langner, who conceived the idea of an American Shakespeare festival to vie with festivals in England and Canada, said his organization was pleased that the Litoshkos will be among the international press invited to the opening.

SEND PRIEST TO PRISON

PRAGUE (Reuters)—A Roman Catholic priest, Father Stefan Simko, has been imprisoned for four years for allegedly appropriating parish money during the last 25 years by falsifying church records. The Slovak Communist party newspaper Pravda reported. During that time, the paper said, he had a book of 11 apartments built for himself.

It would contain details of its reasons for over-riding the municipalities' opposition.

MILLION REFUGEES

TRIESTE (Reuters)—Western European countries still harbor more than 1,000,000 refugees of which 650,000 are "in process of assimilation" and 350,000 booked to emigrate. G. J. van Heuven Goedhart, United Nations high commissioner for refugees, told a press conference here Monday night.

Police picked up one man for questioning Monday but emphasized it was only a "routine arrest" in connection with the investigation.

Until the body was found, police called Donna's disappearance a "motivated kidnapping" since Davis, a railroad clerk, is of modest means.

Authorities have been seeking a slender man who was seen running with a bundle from the Davis house at the time Donna vanished.

Gift Trust Fund Of $7,500,000 Is Contested

TORONTO (CP)—The State of Illinois today contests the $7,500,000 gift trust fund formed by the late James D. Norris, Sr., a Canadian millionaire who died in 1952.

The attorney-general's department of Illinois claims the millionaire, a native of Montreal, whose interests ranged from professional hockey to Great Lakes steamers, created the fund to escape Illinois death duties.

In a hearing before a Canadian commissioner, Charles P. McTague, the state will seek to find out from three Toronto heart specialists whether Mr. Norris had been warned a heart ailment would prove fatal.

The state contends Mr. Norris knew he was facing death. If testimony supports this, the state will move in Illinois courts to collect a 14-per-cent death duty on the gift. The state earlier collected $136,338.

Mr. Norris' son, James D. G. Norris, Jr., president of the International Boxing Club and of Madison Square Garden, was principal beneficiary under the trust.

He has indicated he will oppose any demands for additional taxes that may be made by Illinois or the U.S. internal revenue board, which also is expected to re-examine the status of the gift trust if Illinois wins its case.

James Norris, Sr., a graduate of Montreal's McGill University, owned Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League and had interests in numerous sports arenas. He also was a director of many business concerns.

Screen Veteran, Clark Gable, Weds For Fifth Time

MINDEN, Nev. (AP)—Clark Gable, 54-year-old screen veteran, and Kay Williams Spreckels, 37, actress and former wife of California sugar heir Adolph Spreckels II, were honeymooning today—but no one seemed to know where.

They were married in this small seat of Douglas county Monday in a surprise double ring ceremony in the yellow stucco home of Justice G. Walter Fisher. It was Gable's fifth marriage, Miss Williams' third.

The ceremony climaxed a romance that has linked their names in gossip columns for about 10 years.

Gable, appearing in a dark blue suit, and his bride, wearing a white suit, were uncommunicative before and after the ceremony. Fisher said the actor said only "I do," and both were unusually quiet.

"Afterwards, Mr. Gable took her in his arms and kissed her," he said. "I don't know for how long, but pretty long. Maybe two or three seconds. A good kiss."

WED CAROLE LOMBARD

Gable was first married in 1924 to Josephine Dillon, "P. Hollywood" drama coach. They were divorced after six years. By that time Gable was a box office hit.

His next wife was Rita Langham, 11 years his senior. They were divorced in 1939. Shortly thereafter he and movie actress Carole Lombard were wed. Three years later she was killed in a plane crash while returning home from a war bond selling campaign.

In 1949, he married Lady Sylvia Ashley, widow of movie star Douglas Fairbanks Sr. She divorced him April 21, 1952, after

1955 Version Of Hobble Skirt Is Sensation

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—A 1955 version of the hobble skirt, designed by Ceil Chapman and named the castle walk, is a sensation of New York's current week of fall fashion showings.

Ceil, known for cocktail and evening gowns beloved by all female television stars, dramatized his return to the modes of the First World War in spectacular fuchsia, lemon, mauve and gold lame satins and brocades. The skirt is draped, peg-top fashion about the hips, hugs the ankles in back and is slit to the knee in front. This makes it possible to walk or dance with ease, and yet preserves the hobble skirt look.

Gasps and applause greeted these sensational styles when they were presented to members of the visiting fashion press, plunging into a week of hectic fall showings by New York designers.

You'll be seeing the castle walk hobble skirts all over this fall, since these were the pets of buyers who already have placed their orders, figuring women are yearning for a change from the multi-peticoat evening silhouette. It's doubtful if you will wear any petticoat at all with the new castle walk gowns.

Another star of the opening day of showings was Claire McCordell, who always can be depended upon to make fashion headlines.

In direct contrast to the polished and sophisticated gowns shown by Ceil Chapman, the casual Claire outdoes even herself in immortalizing the fashionably careless look with a costume that might have been designed for space travel and certainly should provide insulation at sub-zero temperatures. In bulky black, beige and brown checked tweed, it consists of a loose fingertip length coat lined in fur, fastened with leather straps, plus a matching jumper dress. The coat has a huge cape collar which can be worn as a parka, and the whole should have wide appeal for college girls and Eskimos.

72 Foot-Weary Newswomen Board Airliner for Canada

By RON EVANS Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Seventy-two foot-weary Canadian newspaper women Monday night filed through London airport, crowded aboard a British airliner and took off for Montreal after a European tour.

The women, all members or associates of the Canadian Women's Press Club, hopped the Atlantic and scattered across the continent a month ago to celebrate the club's 50th anniversary. Monday night they flew in from Zurich, bristling with bulging notebooks, souvenir hats, handbags and perfumes, and two hours later they left for home.

Most excited members of the party were the 11 who toured Russia for 11 days.

"We covered 6,000 miles," said Reta Myers, Vancouver Red Cross publicist and leader of the party, "from the Gulf of Finland to the Black sea and back and forth in between."

Most of the travellers were reluctant to discuss their journey—they planned to write or broadcast their own stories later—but they chattered happily about some fleeting impressions. They recalled memories.

morning tour of the Kremlin and a meeting with former premier Georgi Malenkov; an evening of ballet at Moscow's Bolshoi Theatre; tea served in bed aboard a crack express-train to Leningrad; and two hours "victorian" meals served at 10 p.m.

"I guess we were really guinea pigs," said Miss Myers. "We were the first Canadian women to travel in Russia as individuals paying our own way—not as a delegation."

Two members of the Russian party—Marjorie McEneaney of the CBC Toronto and Angela Burke of the Toronto Star—took along movie cameras and three more carried still cameras. They said they were allowed to take any photos they chose but Miss Myers declined to state the number of pictures shot.

Angela Burke stayed behind in Moscow. Her companion said she hoped to visit Siberia.

Some other club members were not as excited by their travels. Said Isabelle Melville-Ness, a freelance broadcaster from Saskatoon who travelled to southern France, Italy and Switzerland with 37 others: "To give you an honest answer, it was an endurance test. But we'll go home with some happy impressions. They recalled memories."

TRINITY UNITED W.M.S.

MADOC — The members of Trinity United W.M.S. enjoyed a pleasant outing on Wednesday evening when they were entertained at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dafeo, Moira Lake.

A pleasant visiting hour was spent on the lawn overlooking the lake and later moving into the cottage for the meeting. Mrs. Delbert Carmen, the president, voiced the appreciation of the members for the invitation and expressed words of welcome to visitors and members.

With a short meditation period the business was conducted with the minutes and correspondence being received. Reports from the conveners of "Community Friendship," "Literature and Supply" committee were given. A letter was read by Miss Holmes which she received from the secretary of supplies voicing their appreciation for the fine table that had been forwarded by Madoc W.M.S. Plans were made for the annual July bazaar to be held on the 10th and ladies to take charge were appointed for the program under the leadership of Mrs. Nayler and Mrs. Burnside.

Mrs. Nayler gave an enjoyable and informal talk on her visit south last winter, emphasizing the many churches and the services she had been privileged to attend. Mrs. Burnside, who had also spent sometime in the south during the winter, spoke on the beautiful flowers of the state and passed along pictures of them. After the meeting was closed, a short social time was enjoyed with tea and sandwiches being served.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

PROPER INVITATIONS TO RECEPTION

Dear Mrs. Beekman: I am a groom-to-be, and will be married next month. I would very much like to invite a group of former school friends of mine to the reception without sending them a wedding invitation. I do not wish to convey the idea that my bride-to-be or I expect a gift, but we would very much like to have them with us. How may I properly invite them? I have been out of school for two years, and have not had any recent contact with them.

Robert B. Since, I judge, wedding invitations are to be sent in the usual way to other friends, I think that you should ask your bride-to-be and her mother if it would be possible to send wedding invitations to these friends whom you both would so much like to come to your wedding. I think these friends should be given the compliment of receiving proper invitations. If they wish to accept, fine! If for any reason they find it inconvenient to accept, this you will understand. Whether or not they send a gift depends entirely on their choice and inclination. At least you will know that you have made the proper gesture of friendship.

If, at this late date, there are not enough invitations left to send to these friends, I suggest that you have the bride's mother (she is the hostess, and invitations are supposed to be expected by her) write notes of invitation to these school friends of yours, saying "How very much we all would like to have you with us at the reception, and afterward at the honeymoon." If you do the inviting, by note or telephone or verbally, it would certainly give the impression that the invitation was an afterthought.

CORRECT NAME FOR WIDOW

Dear Mrs. Beekman: 1. When a woman's husband dies, should she go by the name "Mrs. Frank Smith" or "Mrs. Mary Smith"? 2. Are both forms correct? — D. 3. Mrs. Frank Smith is her correct name, as a widow. When her husband dies, she should not change the form of her name. No. In all her social contacts, she never correct for a woman to use the form "Mrs. Mary Smith." The exception is a business use: that is, if a married woman or a widow is in business or in a profession and she considers that the form "Mrs. Mary Smith" is a convenient and useful form, it is, of course, proper for her to use this. However, in this circumstance, she may be "Mrs. Mary Smith" in business, but in all other contacts, she is "Mrs. Frank Smith." Soberly, "Mrs. Mary Smith" is taboo.

MEANING OF "BLACK TIE"

Dear Mrs. Beekman: My husband and I just received an invitation to a dinner party and dance to be given later this month at the Country Club here. We haven't lived here very long and aren't members of this Country Club (though we hope to be soon!). The invitation says "Black Tie." Would my husband wear his white dinner jacket with his black tuxedo trousers? I'd like to wear a pink dance dress I have, ballerina-length, rather simple design. Please guide us. — Dee C. Your husband would, correctly, wear his dinner jacket, black tuxedo trousers, black bow tie, and your ballerina-length pink dance dress would be, I should say, "just perfect!"

SHOULD YOUNG GIRL WEAR HAT?

Dear Mrs. Beekman: When a 15-year-old girl attends an afternoon church wedding is it required that she wear a hat? — E.B. A 15-year-old girl should wear a hat or some appropriate head covering when she attends a church ceremony.

Quick Tricks for Summer Meals

By Mary Moore

Summer's gift to the cook is easier living. If she is a gal that takes well to a hint, that is, she's rounded up a short cut or two (or three) for you that you might like to tuck away for a sultry day.

For an open-face sandwich that's almost a meal in itself—cool, saucy, split and arrange two to a toast-slice. Spoon applesauce over this and top the whole with a half-slice of cheese. Pop under the broiler for five minutes and serve with a crisp salad.

Give beet a taste lift. Cream butter and season it with a tablespoon of grated yellow orange peel and a sprinkle of nutmeg. Add to the hot cooked beets.

The Fins do it this way. Serve poached eggs on boiled rice with tomato sauce. Delish!

Chicken livers are a favorite quick-and-easy at our house. Saute them in butter and serve on hot toast. Crisp celery hearts go good with this.

Or would you serve spinach a la Italienne? Then mix chopped, drained spinach with grated cheese and season it with salt and pepper. Cover with highly seasoned tomato sauce.

A cup of almost any kind of fruit diced and well drained makes a fruit gelatin. Soak 1 tablespoon gelatin in 2 tablespoons cold water. Add 1 cup boiling water and 1-3 cup sugar. Cool, and when partly set add fruit. Turn into molds and chill. Good plain or with cream—the pouring kind, or whipped. Iced tea is as showy and so refreshing! Pour strong tea, while still hot over a large tumblerful of crushed ice. Serve with sugar and a slice of orange or lemon.

Another easy lunch or supper dish comes from the double boiler. You melt 2 tablespoons butter, add 1-3 cup milk and four beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon salt and a little paprika. Beat well and cook over hot water, stirring until it thickens. Then add a cup of strong cheese, grated and a tablespoon of chopped parsley. Tastes grand on a toasted bun and garnished with crumbled bacon.

Ever try celery and limas combined? You wash the celery and cut into diagonal 1-4 inch slices until you have a cupful. Put in a saucepan with a package of frozen limas and a cup of boiling water. Cover, boil about 12 minutes, until just tender. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons liquid and add 1-4 cup chopped parsley, a tablespoon butter, salt and pepper to taste. And eat!

For six servings of a delicious and hearty chef's salad, break a medium-sized head of lettuce into small pieces in a salad bowl. Add 1 cup water cross, one 12-ounce can of tongue cut into strips, 1-2 cup each of julienne beets and sliced celery, 3 hard-cooked eggs, cut in eighths, a teaspoon grated onion, 1 small package of cream cheese cut into 1-2 inch cubes and a half-cup French dressing. Toss well and serve with hot biscuits from the oven. Um-m-m-m good!

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

SEE, TOO, "PICKS UP" AFTER

Dear Miss Fairfax: I'd like to add my comments to the discussion in your column on whether or not a wife should pick up after her husband.

Although I haven't been married as long as Mrs. H.W., who wrote you the letter saying that she was glad to pick up after her husband, I firmly agree with her that it is mighty nice to have a man around the house. What's a little picking up—the exercise never hurt anyone—compared with the satisfaction and feeling of luxury a husband gets from his little fob?

I have four children all under school age, an eleven room house, I believe, for myself, and a brother-in-law living with us for whom I also do a certain amount of picking up. I am sure friends wouldn't call me a sloppy housekeeper, either. But I get a real pleasure from creating order out of the clutter my husband and children make, no matter how many times a day I have to do it. I believe that my giving in to my husband on a few pet luxuries, makes him more determined to see to it that I have every possible convenience to make the rest of my work lighter, and he has done just that, bless his heart! He shies away from helping with the housework, but well makes up for it in his help with the children. Believe it or not, I have spare time to spend with them, too.

So for my part, I'm all for pampering husbands, and I hope to be doing the same 50 years from now. Mrs. R.G.S.

It is certainly a very fine thing to hear from wives who keep themselves and their homes happy by being willing to take on the chore of picking up after their husbands. Oddly enough, perhaps, the only wives who have written me about this matter since the original letter was published here have been this type I am sure there must be some who resent having this chore added to their other household duties, but if so, they have not felt deeply enough to write letters about it. I hope that the letters from the happy wives may be helpful to them.

My own feeling, however, continues to be that it is really only fair for husbands to pick up their own things and not leave them lying around for their wives to put in order. But if a husband won't co-operate in this way, then it is certainly better for the wives to put up with it cheerfully than to make it a constant source of bickering.

TALKING ALONE WILL PROBABLY NOT GET YOU FAR

Dear Miss Fairfax: I have been married six years, and have five children.

My problem is that my husband has begun to associate with people who are not the right kind. He finds them in the place where they all go to drink, and the men run around with other men's wives. He

ABOUT the most versatile and least expensive toy for all ages is an assortment of balloons. The tiniest tot will like them tied to his carriage or playpen, with short strings. Small balloons are good bath-tub companions, too.

see if you cannot arrive at some understanding that will keep you from quarrelling over his behavior. But since you apparently have already told him that you didn't think he should associate with these people, and he wouldn't stop, I rather doubt that you would get very far.

There are two things I might suggest that you do. One is that, occasionally, you get a baby-sitter for the children yourself and go out with your friends on some of the nights he is away. Just tell him that, once he feels it is all right for him to go off with his friends, you are sure he will have no objection to your seeing your own. If you can do this without getting into arguments and quarrels with him about it, I may make him realize that you have a right to some recreation, too, and perhaps he may suggest that go out together sometimes.

The other thing you might do is to go to the family welfare service in the big city near you and discuss your problem there. This organization is called the Children and Family Service Association, and you will find it in the city telephone directory. Just call the number, or write a letter, asking if you could have an appointment to discuss a distressing family problem, and I am sure you will find them anxious to help you.

Let me know how things go, won't you?

NO SET RULE There is no set rule for the time when a child starts to walk; it will begin when the legs are strong enough.

Scottish Mother, Six Children, Niece Drowned

NAIRN, Scotland (AP)—A Scottish mother, her six young children and a niece were swept to death near here Sunday night by a surging tide as they paddled in the surf off a picnic beach.

Six bodies were recovered by police today.

The dead are Mrs. Isabella McIntosh, 33, of Birch Cottage, near Nairn; her six children Isabel, 12, George, 9, Rose, 8, Donald, 5, Shena, 4, Anne, 2, and her 18-year-old niece, Shena MacDonald.

Festival Runs 90 PC Capacity

STRATFORD (CP)—Stratford's Shakespearean festival ran at 90-per-cent capacity last week with about 13,500 attending eight performances.

Total attendance for two weeks of the festival stands at 26,500—about 425 more than last year's figure of 26,075. The biggest house of the week was for a Saturday performance of the "Merchant of Venice." About 1,900 persons attended.

With the start of the festival's inaugural musical season, the attendances are expected to rise to nearly 18,000 a week. Nearly 900 persons attended Saturday's opening concert.

The festival opened June 27 and runs to Aug. 27.

Confidence Man Dies a Pauper

LISBON (Reuters)—A Portuguese confidence man who became a millionaire overnight in the most daring bank fraud of the century died a pauper with old newspapers serving as his bedclothes.

Arthur Virgilio Alves Reis, 58, became a headline figure in 1925 in the "Portuguese banknotes case." He headed a gang which tricked a London firm into printing about $5,000,000 worth of Portuguese bills allegedly for a bank in a Portuguese colony.

The gang pocketed the money and went on a spending spree. Reis' extravagant life as a millionaire aroused police suspicions and in 1930 he was convicted with four other men of the fabulous fraud. He was given 28 years in prison but his sentence was reduced because of good behavior.

He died Friday but his family kept the death secret until after his funeral.

India Will Not Use Submarines

NEW DELHI (AP)—India, whose leaders are disciples of Gandhian non-violent teachings, plans to keep its navy without submarines because underwater craft represent offensive rather than defensive weapons.

Admiral Sir Mark Pizey, retiring chief of the Indian naval staff, announced this at a farewell press conference Mon., adding that submarines are also too expensive for the Indian fleet.

Pizey, on loan from the British Royal Navy, will be replaced by another British officer who is scheduled to be India's last non-Indian naval commander.

The Indian army and air force have already replaced British commanders but retain a handful of British officers.

A-Bomb Might Turn City's Site Into Lake

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson says it's "entirely possible" that some American cities, once subjected to nuclear attack, could never be entered again.

In testimony released Sunday by a House of Representatives subcommittee, Peterson cited New Orleans as one city that might literally disappear if attacked from the air.

Because New Orleans is "built on only two or three feet of dirt resting on water," Peterson said, the crater caused by a nuclear bomb might transform the city into a lake.

HONOR AIRLIFT DEAD

BERLIN (AP)—Western and German officials Sunday honored 51 British and American fliers who lost their lives in the airlift which fed West Berlin during the Soviet blockade of 1948-49. The airlift's American commander, Lt. Gen. William H. Tunner, the city commandant, Mayor Otto Suhr and other dignitaries laid wreaths at the airlift monument in front of Tempelhof airport.

Set Rigid Rules For Protection From Radiation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has proposed rigid rules to safeguard workers and the American public from radiation dangers as private industry steps up its activities in the nuclear field.

The rules, detailing the amount of radiation individuals can safely be exposed to in various circumstances, were announced Sunday by the Atomic Energy Commission.

They won't become final until the public has had a chance to comment on them.

Specified in the rules are protective clothing and other safety devices, proper ways to dispose of atomic wastes and provisions for warning signs around contaminated areas.

Niagara Frontier Bus Strike Over

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Thousands of commuters piled aboard Niagara Frontier Transit System buses Mon. as striking bus drivers and mechanics went to work for the first time in 10 days.

The first bus started rolling at 4:30 a. m. EDT and company spokesmen said a full schedule was expected to be in effect later in the day.

The company's 1,650 employees voted 439 to 24 Sunday to accept wage increases amounting to seven cents an hour for drivers and 6½ to 7½ cents for mechanics. The new scale brings the drivers' pay to an even $2 an hour. The mechanics will get $2.17 to $2.18 an hour.

The union, Division 1342 of the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, originally demanded a straight seven-cent increase.

Hangar Gossip From Canadian Base in Europe

By RON EVANS

Canadian Press Staff Writer
METZ, France (CP)—Hangar gossip from the RCAF's 1st Air Division in Europe:

Anxious bird-watching is keeping members of No. 430 (the Silver Falcon) Squadron busy at Gros Tenquin, France. Henry the hawk, the squadron's feathered mascot, is failing fast.

Henry was presented to the squadron as a fledgling by the citizens of nearby Hemmering and nursed to maturity by the Canadians. Lately he is ailing, perhaps he's lost three toes when he wandered too close to a heavy aircraft tractor or because he has been gorging himself on hot dogs.

Canadian jet pilots look apprehensively to the advent of the guided missile. This, they say, will mean the end of the fighter pilot.

that special breed immortalized in the Battle of Britain. Many pilots know no other career and most would choose no other.

"It will have to come eventually," said Group Capt. Bill Wiers of Ottawa, American-born commanding officer of No. 2 Fighter Wing, "but we don't have to like it. I can imagine now how the knights felt when gun-powder was developed."

Jacob Limius, 42-year-old former German storm trooper, now cuts the grass around the Chateau Mercy-Metz, air division headquarters. He can look back on a harrowing time.

Conscripted into the German army in 1939, he served in the Czechoslovakian campaign and in 1944 was drafted into the S.S. Limius immediately deserted, was picked up, court-martialed, sentenced to 10 years labor (which was to have been followed by execution) and sent to a prison near the Dachau concentration camp.

As the Allied offensive rolled close to the camp, Limius and 28 other prisoners battered their way out. He and three more escaped. Acquired by a French war crimes court, Limius found it impossible to obtain employment in France until he approached the RCAF.

"He's an expert scytheman—that's all that matters to us," said a Canadian officer.

Several Canadian airmen have adopted orphans in Europe and one of the first to do so was Flt. Lt. Stanley Parkhouse of Fergus, Ont. He and his wife, the former Jean Brandon of Fenton Falls, Ont., took in a five-month-old German child.

But the ladies' auxiliary at No. 2 wing has gone one better and adopted a whole orphanage, St. Michael's near Metz. They recently held a giant party at Gros Tenquin to raise funds, converting a huge hangar into a country fair, and more than 2,000 Canadians from all four RCAF bases in Europe attended.

WHITE'S DISTRICT

Joint Picnic Enjoyed By Church Groups

WHITE'S DISTRICT—On Wednesday afternoon the children and grown-ups went to the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hockaday for a joint meeting of the Bay-side W.M.S., Sunbeam Mission Band, Baby Band and Sunday School. Mrs. Leonard Young, leader of the Mission Band, opened the meeting with the Members' Purpose, then all joined in singing.

Mrs. Clifton Rush, president of the Bay-side W.M.S., gave a story especially for the children, which all enjoyed. Two chapters of the Study Book, "Going to the Fair," and "Holes in the Road," were read. This is a story of India with the customs of the Hindus and Christians and the missionary Abraham.

There were races for the Baby Band members, directed by Mrs. Yatsman, Mrs. Blong, Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Hockaday. All the Mission Band members also joined in races, according to age, and all received candy. A relay game was given by Mrs. Rush and a ball game by Mrs. Young.

AWARD PRIZES

The grandmother with the most grandchildren present was Mrs. W. Yatsman, who received a cup and saucer. The youngest grandmother was Mrs. Walter Jones, who received a flower pot. The youngest person present was Valerie Hodgen, who received a mug. The person with the nearest birthday was Nancy Hockaday, who won a fancy birthday card.

A pair of rayon and nylon blankets were presented to the Blong family, who are leaving the community. Mrs. Blong, although taken by surprise, thanked all for their kindness. A pot-luck luncheon was served in the children filling the tables. Mrs. Hockaday was thanked for her kind hospitality.

COOK CHARGED

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—A Japanese cook was committed for trial on a manslaughter charge Monday in connection with the death of a 66-year-old Chinese. Morris Tamura, 28, of Toronto was committed after a preliminary hearing before magistrate Johnston Roberts. He was charged after Joseph Chong, 60, of Fort Erie died June 22. Eyewitnesses gave evidence of seeing the men engage in a fight June 19.

COMPROMISE ENDS

Conservatives evidently viewed passage of the amended bill as a party victory. They pounded their desks, cheered and threw papers in the air.

The official opposition had made 77 of the 106 speeches in the marathon debate. Two of them by Mr. Drew totalled about eight hours.

The three-year time limit is applied to nine sections of the Defence Production Act, which the Conservatives were most strongly opposed to making permanent. They include power for the minister to force defence contracts on suppliers and manufacturers, requisition supplies, appoint controllers to operate defence industries, allocate essential defence materials and fix their maximum prices.

ONE PERMANENT

One section attacked by the opposition is made permanent. It empowers the minister to acquire or manufacture defence supplies and do anything he considers necessary to carry out that purpose.

Settlement was a departure from the government's earlier position, taken a week earlier when Mr. St. Laurent offered a compromise that after three years the government would provide opportunity for prompt debate of any opposition move to amend the act. Throughout, the government had opposed any blanket time limit on the entire act.

The compromise did not fulfill the Conservative demand for a rewriting of the act to provide a one-year renewable time limit on all powers which should not be of a continuing nature.

Social Credit leader Lowe said the government had shown courage in facing up to opposition demands and finding a commonsense solution to a difficult impasse.

CCF leader Coldwell said he was "very happy indeed." His party had supported the principle of the bill but felt there should be a time limit on some of the powers.

'The Greatest Collection Of Stars Ever Assembled,' Say Rival Managers

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

MEET THE WILSONS!

A cool breeze swept across the spacious lawns of Larry Egger's well-appointed summer cottage at Rossmore Saturday night. The surface of the bay rippled gently. Majordomo Mike Phillips sat at a table gently scraping an ancient walnut table in a rehabilitation job.

Presently the folks started to drift in. Mr. and Mrs. Truman Cullen and their lovely family from Windsor were on hand. Mr. Egger will arrive from Detroit. It is expected, at the end of the week.

Presently a car drove up and a husky young giant with a beautiful young lady joined the lawn party. They were Johnny Wilson, former Detroit Red Wing, star and now the property of the Chicago Black Hawks, and his lovely wife, Pat.

Suffice it to say, at the moment, that Johnny is a young man with plenty of hockey experience behind him, who looks back with pleasure upon a three-year stint with the Red Wings and hopeful expectancy to a sojourn with the Chicago team.

It doesn't matter so much that Johnny, who is only five pounds overweight, juries huge beer casks in a Windsor brewery to keep in shape. No sedentary job for Johnny. Pencil-pushing is not a biceps-builder, nor a leg strengthener. And just to keep his shooting eye in shape he rips pucks off a large piece of wet plate glass to marked spots. It is good for accuracy, even if tough on the wall paper.

Now take Pat. This lovely young matron from Windsor, met Johnny at the wedding of team-mate Gordy Howe nearly two years ago. It was, shall we say, practically love at first sight—and it wasn't long before the wedding chimes rang for this good-looking young couple.

Pat was a dyed-in-the-wool Red Wing fan before she met Johnny. Now we doubt if there is a more loyal supporter of Jolly Jawn's crew between the Detroit River and Toledo.

Right or wrong, it's the Red Wings for Pat every time. She backs up from no one in argumentative fray, especially if the opposition dares to criticize her beloved Wings collectively or individually. The entire hockey world may be against hubby Johnny for a fleeting second, but he is always sure of one faithful adherent.
